FILIPINO LEGISLATORS DEBATE IN ENGLISH.

The English language recently was used for the first time in the debates of the Filipino House of Representatives.

The fact was cabled to the United States Insular Affairs Bureau. The principal speakers were Messrs. Benitez, De Guzman and Virata. These members are graduates from the University of the Philippines.

English is taught exclusively in the public schools of the Philippines, and it is announced, will continue to be if independence is granted. According to an estimate based on the census just completed, seventy per cent of the inhabitants of the Philippines over 10 years of age are literate. This is a higher percentage of literacy than that of any South American country.

Killing Power!

Anything that kills — from firearms to poison—is dangerous. The safety factor is an important consideration in manufacture.

The minute you detract from the killing power of Paris Green you are not getting what you pay for. Consequently —the first consideration in the making of Ansbacher's Paris Green has been quick, certain death to the insects. At the same time the amount of free arsenic has been so minimized that it won't injure a leaf of the most delicate foliage. It is death to bugs and harmless to plants. It's a safe insecticide.

It stays in suspension in the spray and does more without costing more.

The Ansbacher name is your guarantee of quality and under this brand comes an exceptionally effective Arsenate of Lead (Dry and Paste) and Bordeaux Mixture.

Hastings—Police of the twin cities have been asked to aid in the search for the brace of thugs who assaulted and held up former Mayor J. G. Sieben at Hastings. Mr. Sieben is able to be around, but is still weak from the effects of the beating he received.

Hibbing—A jury in district court returned a verdict for $2,375 for the plaintiff in the case of Dominic Albini vs. W. J. Ryder. The plaintiff sued for $7,500 for the death of his son who, he alleged, was killed last summer by a truck owned by Mr. Ryder. The jury was out two hours.

Little Falls—A man, believed to be B. E. Hurd of Pine River, is in a critical condition at the hospital here as a result of having slashed his throat on a Northern Pacific train. He was a passenger on No. 9 and when a short distance south of here stuck a pocket knife in his throat making a gash of about two inches.

Crookston—A campaign to improve the streets and residence property in Crookston has been launched by the Crookston Association of Public Affairs. A general committee to supervise the entire city has been named as well as committees for each ward. Awards will be made in each section of the city at the end of the summer season.

Redwood Falls—Bud West, 14 year old son of W. H. West, was drowned in a swimming hole near here. Hartford Anderson, caught in the current with young West, was rescued by Barnard Crane, who plunged into the water when he realized the predicament the two boys were in. The body of young West was recovered in 12 feet of water.

Winona—Winona housewives who put empty milk bottles, with enough money in them to pay for the next day's supply on the back perth, at night wondered why no milk was left and the money gone. The driver, when questioned, said he found no money and his firm's rule was "no money, no milk." The police caught a man on the rounds just ahead of the milkwagon extracting the money from the bottles. In court he pleaded guilty, saying he was out of work and hard up.

Ellendale—Seven school districts in the vicinity of this village will hold meetings during the week of July 8 to 16, to determine the sentiment of each towards the consolidation with the local district. The Ellendale district and one other have already voted their approval of consolidation, and at least four of the others are expected to approve. The consolidation will mean an enlargement of the present local school, and the addition of a full high school course to replace the present two years' course.

St. Paul—Changes in three important state offices, made by Governor J. A. A. Burnquist, following the resignation of James T. Hale, state tax commissioner, has placed Gustaf Lindquist, secretary to the governor, in a position in which he may hold over under the next administration. The date of the conference has not been definitely set, but probably will be next week. Several towns in the Northwest are reported to be without any coal and the supply on hand at the Duluth-Superior docks on Lake Superior is said to be comparatively small. Means of speeding up coal shipments to this section of the country will be discussed by the governors.

COX OF OHIO IS NOMINATED

Named as Democratic Presidential Candidate at Early Morning Session.

44 BALLOTS REQUIRED

Lead Is Gained by Slow Fight, Two Ballots Being Required After Nominee Had Won Virtual Majority.

Auditorium, San Francisco.—James M. Cox, governor of Ohio, was nominated for president of the United States in the Democratic national convention at 1:40 o'clock Tuesday morning. The nomination came at the conclusion of a forty-four ballot struggle in which he had steadily beaten down the forces of William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, and President Wilson's son-in-law.

Attorney General Palmer had withdrawn at the completion of the thirty-sixth vote, and the strength of William G. McAdoo had steadily dwindled in the succeeding ballots.

Governor Cox was within 7½ votes of a majority on forty-second ballot, and passed the majority on the forty-third ballot.

The convention then adjourned until noon when it will ballot on a vice president nominee. Cox had 702 on the forty-fourth ballot, and it was made practically unanimous. By a long-standing rule of Democratic procedure a two-thirds majority is required to nominate a candidate for presidential or vice presidential offices.

Palmer Releases Delegates.

At the end of the second ballot after the recess, when the Palmer vote had touched 211 and it was apparent that it could be driven no higher, former Representative Carlin of Virginia, Mr. Palmer's manager, took the platform and announced the withdrawal of the attorney general from the race.

"'It ought to be,' said the second professor. 'It cost him $30 to get it published.'"

Burglary Is Not Profitable.

When one reads in the paper an account of a burglary where the thief succeeded in securing $5,000 to $10,000 worth of jewelry, one is apt to think that the spoils were probably worth the risk, but investigation has shown that thieves never realize anything like the full value of their plunder. In England it was discovered that out of 468 burglaries reported in various parts of the kingdom the proceeds netted the principals an average of about $75 each. The value of the plunder was many times that figure. In addition to this, each one of the number had been sent to jail for his crime.

BEANS MADE HIT WITH HIM

Confirmed Woman Hater Finally Succumbed to Culinary Ability That Reminded Him of Home.

When I worked on a cattle ranch in Wyoming I chummed with a cowboy named Hank, who was a genuine woman hater, writes a correspondent. His mother died when he was a child, and a stepmother, stepsisters and stepaunts had treated the boy so unkindly that he learned to distrust and dislike all women. If by chance any woman stopped at the ranch house Hank would seek other quarters.

He often deplored the fact that western cooking did not measure up to eastern standards. Well, Hank became foreman and I was fairly stunned when he announced that he was to marry a girl who cooked in a boarding house in town.

"However did it happen?" I asked in amazement.

"Simple enough," he made answer. "I discovered that she cooks baked beans just like they do in Boston."

That Egg Episode.

"This egg," said Columbus, "illustrates the fact that the world is round."

"Yes," put in King Ferdinand captiously, "but how about the egg which dropped awhile ago and smashed?"

"That illustrates what is liable to happen to the world if some of you autocratic rulers don't show a little more prudence and foresight."

SCORE ONE FOR MRS. JONES

Neat Retort That Certainly Should Have Made Her Better Half Do Some Thinking.

How he ever happened to do it, heaven only knows, but Jones really brought home a small box of candy and gave it to his wife with a lordly and gracious air. Mrs. Jones managed to overcome her astonishment sufficiently to thank him, but evidently Jones did not regard her expressions of appreciation as adequate to the occasion, for he observed:

"I happened to be with Smith when he gave his wife a present yesterday. Now, there's a woman who can really show a man that she appreciates a thing! Her expressions of thanks were really charming."

"Doubtless, but consider how much practice she has," Mrs. Jones responded sweetly.

The Rage.

"What's the matter, dearie?" asked her friends.

"I want to get a divorce," replied the teary one, "but my husband is so good to me that I cannot find any grounds."—Film Fun.

"Did you ever try working the ouija board?"

"Yep."

"Ever get anything out of it?"

"Once. Got a family row. Ma accused me of influencing it and I swore she was making the thing move."

N. D. GOVERNOR IS RENOMINATED

Belated Returns, Nearing Completion, Show Uudoubted Frazier Victory.

LADD DEFEATS GRONNA

Congressional Fight Split, League Winning Third, and Antis the First and Second Districts.

Fargo, N. D.—Latest returns from last Wednesday's primary election in this state show Governor Frazier leading over William Langer, his opponent, by approximately 5,000 majority, with additional precincts still to be heard from, which will probably still further increase that number. Other members of the Nonpartisan league ticket are very generally, if not universally, nominated with him, though the final and official ballot will be required to indicate the size of majorities for the several candidates. The race is said to be particularly close, however, between Thomas Hall and Senator Cahill for secretary of state, and between Miss Minnie Nielson and Miss Ruth Johnson for superintendent of public instruction, and the results are not yet wholly conceded. Returns are not yet sufficient, either, to decisively indicate the result on justice of the supreme court, for which Seth Richardson, Fargo attorney, was contending against Chief Justice A. M. Christiansen. All four of the judicial and school candidates' names will appear on the ballot again at the fall election.

For the United States senate, however, it appears that Dr. E. F. Ladd, the Nonpartisan candidate, has won by a margin probably somewhat exceeding that which will be realized by the governor.

In the congressional race, O. M. Burtness in the First and George M. Young in the Second district, both anti-league candidates, have won over their opponents, Congressman John M. Baer and Thomas Pendray. The majority for Burtness is claimed to be about 3,000. In the Third district, Congressman J. H. Sinclair of Kenmare, has won over his opponent, former Congressman P. D. Norton of Hettinger.

The legislative nominations in many districts, and the result of the fight over initiated and referred measures, have not yet been fully reported.

Only meagerest returns have yet been received from the Democratic primaries, and the vote so far as reported is unusually light.

Following is the tabulated vote on the governorship so far as reported up to a late hour Monday afternoon:

City Vote Is Heavy.

Municipal voting was said to be much heavier than in the primary of two years ago, and in Fargo and at other larger points it is claimed that both candidates received a share of the increased number. Fargo gave Langer 3,470; Frazier 1,459.

The anti-League headquarters reports a turnover in results in favor of their ticket as against two years ago in the following counties: Traill, Foster, Logan, McIntosh and Emmons. League representatives also claim gains in various localities.

False Claims.

WE hope there is no Mother who thinks she can treat her sick baby without calling in a Physician, or with remedies that she uses for herself.

Most Mothers know that Baby requires remedies especially prepared for babies, yet there are some who think that what is good enough for them is good enough for Baby, and it is to these Mothers we appeal to give nothing to their babies that is not specially prepared for babies or recommended by their Physician.

False claims may kill, but false claims can never restore your child.

CASTORIA

Mothers Must Use Care.

Why do we so often call your attention to imitations of Fletcher's Castoria? Because it is a baby's medicine and imitations are always dangerous, particularly imitations of a remedy for infants.

Your druggist may not keep an imitation but they are to be found on drug-store shelves. Reliable druggists think only of the welfare of their customers. The other kind only of the greater profit to be made on imitations.

Your own judgment tells you that Fletcher's Castoria having for over thirty years at great expense held up its reputation, must jealously guard it. Then, it follows that this company must use the very best of material. Must employ experts in the selection of the herbs. Must retain skilled chemists in its manufacture.

Your same good judgment must tell you that these irresponsible imitators are trading on your credulity and the reputation built up by Mr. Fletcher, during all these years, for his Castoria.

"Yer don't appear very 'appy about it, do yer?" asked Bill. "Ain't yer foreman a decent cove, then?"

"Oh! E's a mean, low-minded feller!" cried the outraged 'Enery. "'E's a dirty dorg 'e is. Got 'Un-like notions as 'ow gents like me should be treated. A Calculating Nature.

"Why did you refuse to take summer boarders this year?"

"I've been to town quite several times," answered Farmer Corntossel. "I've about decided those city folks can't afford to eat very hearty all winter and I don't want to take 'em on when they've spent so much time savin' up their appetites."

Music's Charms.

"I like plenty of music at a political gathering," remarked Senator Sorghum.

"You think it has a calming influence?"

ANIMALS END THEIR LIVES

Collie Dogs Said to Become Despondent and Weary of Existence When Usefulness Is Over.

Some animals really commit suicide, says a writer in London Answers.

A dog either from old age or suffering from an incurable malady, will leap into the sea. Especially is this true of collie dogs. A kind of melancholy seems to take possesion of them when their activities and usefulness are impaired.

The writer has known a Scotch collie to take, as it were, a farewell look at the old herding hills one day and then to plunge into the sea with a whining cry, and thus end its misery.

Hunters have known the elk buck and other big game to leap over precipices deliberately and mangle themselves when the man-enemy was within steady range of his prey.

A stork has been known to perish in a conflagration rather than desert her little helpless brood.

A swallow was seen flying back and forth to its nest after a wicked wrecking of her nest by some mischievous urchins. She was running the same risk as her birdlings, and seemingly faced the prospect of their fate unflinchingly.

Peril of Growing Pains.

Little John had put in a very hard day of playing and that night he said "Mother, oh, how my knee aches!"

"That is just a growing pain and will be all right in the morning," replied his mother.

At that John exclaimed: "But the pain is in just one knee, and is one of my legs going to be longer than the other?"

No Wonder.

Otis—You say that something at the banquet last night disgusted you?

Chester—Yes; had too much climate. Sat between a California native son and a man from Florida!—New York Evening Post.

Ma Was a Widow.

"Would your mother get angry if I stole a kiss?" "From her or from me?" asked the girl.

Are You Waiting for Prices to Come Down?

CURTIS
WOODWORK
"The Permanent Furniture for Your Home"

About 320,000 houses are built each normal year in this country.

The year before that and the year before that, home-building was below normal because "prices were too high." As a result, there is a shortage in this country of about 700,000 houses!

Consequently, there is a "hungry market" for building materials. General Demand is about to launch a campaign for home-building. What will General Supply do? What effect will a big demand have on prices? You can draw your own conclusions.

You can decide now whether you want to take advantage of the present favorable prices of materials and build now, or whether you want to wait three, five, ten or fifteen years until "prices are right" and then build, in the meantime, doing without the comfort, convenience, and satisfaction of a home of your own.

Think it over. Our advice is, Build Now! not because the Government asks you to, but because HOLT MERC. CO.

Holt, Minn.

Here are advantages obtainable only in the new De Laval Cream Separator:

GREATER CAPACITY: New capacities have been increased 10%.

CLOSER SKIMMING: The improved bowl design, together with the patented milk distributor, gives still greater skimming efficiency.

A BELL SPEED-INDICATOR on every new De Laval.

EASIER TO TURN: Low speed, short crank, and automatic oiling throughout, make it the easiest and least tiring to the operator.

WEARS LONGER: Due to its much lower bowl speed, high grade of materials used, and careful and exacting workmanship, the De Laval outlasts and outwears other makes from 5 to 15 years.

We're here every day to explain the De Laval to you—to go into all the details. Come in and talk it over.

Try This Experiment

Note knee-low supply tank.

Turn your separator a few revolutions below speed. Take a sample of your skim-milk and cream. Have your creamery test it. Note your loss.

Now make a trip to my store—try the same experiment with a Sharples Suction-feed Cream Separator. Turn even as low as 35 turns per minute. Have your creamery test that too. You'll find that you're getting all the cream, in spite of the low speed. That's what places the head and shoulders above all other makes—it gets all the cream at widely varying speeds. Every separator (bar Sharples) has a fixed milk feed — below speed much of the milk goes through without perfect separation. The "Sharples" milk feed varies with the operating speed—drinks up no more milk than it can perfectly separate. Saves 7 to 13 lbs. of butter per cow per year over any other separator. 4,000 actual tests show that 19 out of 20 people turn below speed most of the time. Trade in your old separator for a "Sharples."

SHARPLES SUCTION-FEED CREAM SEPARATOR

Grasshopper Dope.

Four lbs of paris green, 100 lbs of bran, two gallons of molasses, 12 lemons, four lbs of salt, sixteen gallons of water. Mix paris green and bran dry on a floor. After mixing molasses, lemons, salt and water, add slowly to paris green and bran and mix with a shovel until all bran is moist. This should be mixed in the morning and covered with a blanket until five o'clock in the afternoon so that the poison may soak into the bran. Then spread the mixture on the field broadcast by hand where the hoppers are the worst. It is not necessary to cover the entire field as the lemons and molasses attract the hopper to any part of the lot. One hundred pounds will cover twenty acres of grain.—Thief River Times.

Killing Power!

Anything that kills — from firearms to poison—is dangerous. The safety factor is an important consideration in manufacture.

The minute you detract from the killing power of Paris Green you are not getting what you pay for. Consequently —the first consideration in the making of Ansbacher's Paris Green has been quick, certain death to the insects. At the same time the amount of free arsenic has been so minimized that it won't injure a leaf of the most delicate foliage. It is death to bugs and harmless to plants. It's a safe insecticide.

It stays in suspension in the spray and does more without costing more.

The Ansbacher name is your guarantee of quality and under this brand comes an exceptionally effective Arsenate of Lead (Dry and Paste) and Bordeaux Mixture.

"PLENTY NEXT DOOR"

Record Harvest Predicted for Canada.

After having made a careful survey of the wheat producing area of the United States, experts whose business it is to keep the people informed on the acreage sown to foodstuffs state that this year there will be a falling off in the wheat production in the States, due to a considerably less area cultivated. The opinion of these experts is that the decrease will be several hundred million bushels of wheat less than in previous years, which according to past experience will be scarcely sufficient to meet the requirements of the demands of the people of this country.

In Canada, however, the situation is different. Reliable reports on the crop situation throughout Western Canada are such as to create the most substantial optimism. Never before were the prospects so encouraging for a bumper harvest. It is predicted that the yield this year will be even greater than in 1915, the year of the record harvest in Canada, when the total production was 393,542,600 bushels. Not only is the wheat looking excellent, but the same is true of oats, barley and flax, of which a greatly increased acreage has been sown in the great grain producing provinces of Canada.

The rains that have fallen recently have come at the right time to stimulate growth and there is now considerable moisture in the ground. With the world generally facing a shortage of wheat and a continued heavy demand for it, the price is likely to be maintained at the present high figure.

In many districts corn has been more extensively planted than in previous years and it is looking remarkably well. Many settlers from the United States who came to Western Canada and bought improved farms in the early spring have every prospect of a crop yield that will give them a return sufficiently large, after paying all current expenses, to pay off a large part of their capital investment.

In an Indianapolis barber shop a man got a shave, haircut and tonic and gave the boss barber a dollar bill, which the latter rang up as he said, "Just right."

After about a minute the customer exclaimed: "The only difference between you and Jesse James is that Jesse had a horse."

"There is a bigger difference than that," replied the boss barber; "Jesse was a piker. Why, I've got a seven-passenger car."—Indianapolis News.

COAL MEN FAIL TO ADOPT PLAN

Declare Fuel Problem Hinges Upon Car Supply--Oppose Zone Rules.

ORDERS ARE DISOBEYED

Operators Claim That Railroads Have Not Obeyed the Interstate Commerce Commission's Orders in Assignment of Cars.

Washington.—Bituminous coal mine operators meeting here failed to work out any plan to bring about immediate shipment of next winter's coal to the northwest, although agreeing that the problem of obtaining 4,000 carloads daily at lake ports for movement to that territory hinged entirely on car supply.

There was no indication that any plan would be worked out for the joint conference of the operators and railroad executives at New York Wednesday. The operators' conference, however, will continue but its discussion is expected to be devoted largely to questions that the operators will present to the railroad men.

General complaint was made by the operators that the railroads were not strictly obeying the interstate commerce commission's 30-day priority order giving preference to the mines in the assignment of open cars. Apparently the operators interpreted the order as requiring the assignment of all open top equipment to the mines, but some charged "willful violations" on the part of the carrier. Ohio operators were understood to have declared that 200 coal cars in their territory had been allocated to ship pipe to Texas oil fields since the commission's order.

Two proposals rejected by the operators were suggested by a committee named by the general conference. Establishment of a zone system, restricting the sales territory of the operators with a view to shortening the haul, was rejected after the operators had complained that such a plan would cause them to break contracts. The other proposal for a division of the coal supply for the northwest among mines in Ohio, western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Illinois and Indiana also was rejected after the meeting was informed that contracts have been made for all of the northwest's supply.

RIDE OVER FALLS IS FATAL

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—Charles G. Stephens of Bristol, England, was killed Sunday when he went over the Horse Shoe falls in a barrel. The cask in which he made the trip, though built of stout Russian oak staves and bound with steel hoops, was smashed like an eggshell on the jagged rocks at the base of the cataract. Pieces of the barrel were picked up near the bank on the Canadian side, but Stephen's body has not been recovered.

Stephens was 58 years old and has a wife and 11 children in Bristol, where he was a barber. He served three years in France with the British army. He had planned to make a lecture tour of England if his trip was successful.

Bobby Leach, who went over the Horse Shoe falls in 1911, told Stephens before he started that his trip would be a failure. Leach predicted that the barrel would not withstand the drop of 158 feet, but Stephens refused to be dissuaded from the venture. Leach was among the spectators who watched the start of Stephens' fatal trip.

Few knew that Stephens was to make the trip Sunday, and when the barrel was towed out into the river on the Canadian side, two miles above the falls, there were only a dozen on hand to watch it.

ALLIES WILL AID POLAND

Must Retire Army Within Natural Frontiers, Is Proposal

Spa, Belgium.—If the Poles consent to retire within the natural frontiers of Poland, the allies will give them all possible assistance in the event of their being attacked by the Bolsheviki. This announcement was made here Monday.

The allies have sent a proposal to the Russian soviet government for an armistice with Poland on condition that the Poles retire within their natural Polish frontier. It is set forth that the armistice will be followed by a conference of representatives of all the countries on the Russian border and that if the Bolsheviki attack the Poles within those frontiers, the allies will come to the aid of Poland.

Ulster Volunteers Revived.

Belfast, Ireland.—The Ulster Volunteers have been revived as a result of the recent activity of the Sinn Fein in the north of Ireland, and for several days the town of Rathfryland, county Down, has been patrolled by the Ulster forces, following destruction of property. All persons suspected of Sinn Fein tendencies have been prohibited from entering Lisbellan, Fermanagh county, scene of recent fighting although seven Catholic families in the district have not been molested.

Exclusive Agencies
Cost You Money

Probably you are a man who believes in getting full value for every dollar. If so, you want to know some of the facts about exclusive agencies.

Exclusive dealers have no competition on the brands of roofing they sell, and some of them charge any price the purchaser will stand. Then, too, they generally charge more for the roofing they sell, because they usually have to ship their roofing from a long distance and therefore buy under greater handicaps.

Now you know that unnecessary stocks boost the cost of doing business. Figure it out for yourself—interest on the money invested—storage cost—insurance against loss by fire, theft and other causes.

It all costs money. And naturally you, the buyer, pay this added cost.

Certain-teed cannot see this way of doing business. Any responsible dealer can sell Certain-teed.

Certain-teed Way Saves Money

He carries only the stock he needs and keeps it filled by frequent orders from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse or jobber.

He pays the same price per roll whether he buys one roll or a thousand.

This saves him money. And naturally you benefit as well as he.

In Certain-teed you get the highest quality roofing. It has never been known to wear out on the roof. It is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to weight. It is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof.

Any reliable dealer can get Certain-teed for you quickly from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse or jobber. He gets it when he wants it and he gets what he wants. He can afford to sell you at a fair price.

Certain-teed

Beware of the dealer who tells you he has Certain-teed, but tries to sell you a private brand. He probably wants a bigger profit.

THAT BROUGHT HIM TO TIME

Really Little He Could Do After Such a Declaration From His Adored One.

In the hush of the twilight they lingered by the gate. He was full of hope, but fearful to try his luck, while she—well, her fair face was lined and drawn with determination.

Presently, after a silence long and deep, she began:

"I will never—"

Her eyes met his pleading orbs with an intensity of purpose which made his heart quail.

"Wed any man!"

His bronzed face paled and he felt as if he stood on the brink of a chasm of despair. Then, with a politely cold smile on her curved lips, she continued:

"Present company—"

Again she paused and he waited in feverish anxiety for her next words."

"Always accepted!"

And soon the wedding bells will be ringing for him and his girl.

Burglars Helped Him Out.

For a year D. T. McRoberts, a business man at New Castle, Pa., had not been able to open his safe on account of the combination being lost, and so had been unable to get at papers and other property inside the safe. One night recently burglars broke it open, found no money, left the papers and other property, and Mr. McRoberts felt very much obliged.

GOT HIS SEATS, ALL RIGHT

Under the Circumstances, Many Will Think Bell-Ringer Was Moderate in His Demands.

One of the annoyances of the manager of a show is the "free list" in small towns, and it is his duty to look over the list when he arrives and do the necessary cutting. Edward Arnold of "The Storm" company tells of a manager of his company in the middle West, who found two seats allotted to the "bell-ringer," asked the house manager why, and was introduced to the man. "Why two seats?" he said.

"There's a curfew in this town," he said. "I am the bell-ringer. If I get the seats the bell gets a couple of light taps. If I don't it rings an hour."

"Where is the bell?"

"Next door." He got the seats.—New York Post.

Sorry He Spoke.

Hub—The preacher said this morning, you'll remember, that the finest garment a woman can wear is the mantle of charity.

Wife—Yes, and judging from the fuss they make over the bills, it's about the only garment some husbands want their wives to wear.—Boston Transcript.

The first papermaker was the wasp, which always coats its nest with a thin film of white paper.

"There's a Reason"

Was Discouraged

Lost 65 Pounds in Weight and Had to Give Up Work. Has Been Well Since Using Doan's

"Being exposed to extreme heat when working as an engineer, and then going outdoors to cool off, caused my kidney trouble," says Karl Goering, 8513 N. Orkney St., Philadelphia, Pa. "In cold weather and when it was damp, my joints and muscles would swell and ache, and often my limbs were so badly affected it was only with great misery I was able to get around. For a week I was laid up in bed, hardly able to move hand or foot.

"Another trouble was from irregular and scanty passages of the kidney secretions. I became dull and weak and had to give up my work. Headaches and dizzy spells nearly blinded me and I went from 265 to 200 in weight. Nothing helped me and I felt I was doomed to suffer.

"At last I had the good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills and began taking them. I soon got back my strength and weight and all the rheumatic pains and other kidney troubles left. I have remained cured."

Pete Johnson, carpenter on the farm, was on the meadows of Hoboken looking for game. He walked around a half day and, finding nothing, he started for hime, meeting a cow which he shot at and missed. It was his last shot, so Pete was out of luck when he met a bear, which chased him a half mile to a friendly oak tree. The bear and Pete circled the tree until both were becoming exhausted. Then Pete grabbed the bear's paws and held them around the tree until the bear died of starvation. They had bear meat at the farm and the skin of Bruno adorns the farm gates. Note—The recent storm prevented us from verifying this item. We hope it is true.—Unidentified.

After disposing of a sufficient amount of whisky he purchased a new supply of gas and started for Moorhead, Minn., reports said. Fergus Falls—Crops in this vicinity look better at this stage of the season than they have for years. Dry weather from now on would be the most favorable. Small grain, grass and corn all show a heavy growth, but the low pockets in the fields are filled with water and haying is being delayed by the rains. Alfalfa should have been cut two weeks ago, but is still standing as there has not been dry weather long enough to warrant cutting it.

Nearly all the latter sum now is available for paying soldiers bonuses, George La Fond, chief treasury accountant, said. Piscatorial Labor Saver.

Uncle Eph Johnson, aged negro, native of Scott county, Kentucky, has invented a machine that reduces to the minimum the labor of fishermen. 'Tis simple, this invention of Uncle Eph's. It is not patented. On the contrary, its inventor offers it to any and all devotees of the rod and reel. Stick an umbrella rib perpendicularly in the mud on the bank, fasten a sleigh bell near the top, and connect the line with this "invention" and you are ready to fish—and sleep. "It ain't nothin' more'n a labor saver," said Uncle Eph. "You see, every time I get a bite the fish bends the umbrella rib and the bell rings. Den I wakes up an' hauls him in."—Exchange.

FRECKLES

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from your druggist, and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than one ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

Something Unusual.

"He must have a wonderful father and mother."

"Why?"

"He's only nineteen and he insists on getting married."

"But what is there about that to show superior parentage?"

"Don't you see? He's lived with them for nineteen years and hasn't even the slightest suspicion that marraige is filled with difficulties and responsibilities. He thinks it's all love and roses."

Will Build Homes for Employees.

One of the largest London dry-goods merchants, with a view of doing his bit toward overcoming the housing shortage and also to enable his own employees to secure houses at reasonable rates, and with no desire to make even a penny profit, recently acquired a large tract of land with the intention of building thereon several hundred dwelling houses which could be let at reasonable rates.

The Plain Truth.

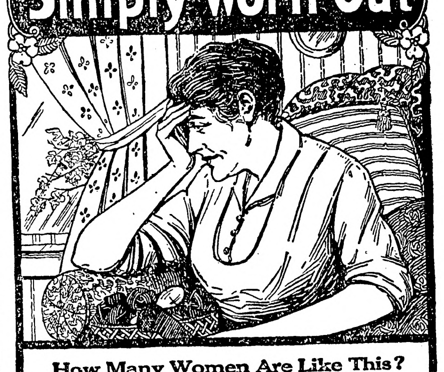
Passing It Along.

"What is meant by 'an embarrassment of riches?'" inquired the man who always wants to know something.

"I couldn't say, offhand," replied the delegate. "Ask some delegate whose campaign fund has been over-subscribed."



Simply Worn Out

How Many Women Are Like This?

Can anything be more wearing for women than the ceaseless round of household duties? Oh! the monotony of it all—work and drudge; no time to be sick; tired, ailing, yet cannot stop. There comes a time when something "snaps" and they find themselves "simply worn out," and to make matters worse, have contracted serious feminine disorder which almost always follows the constant overtaxing of a woman's strength.

Then they should remember that there is no remedy like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—the experience of these two women establishes that fact:

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—"After the birth of my last child I had such painful spells that would unfit me entirely for my housework. I suffered for months and the doctor said that my trouble was organic ulcers and I would have to have an operation. That was an awful thing to me, with a young baby and four other children, so one day I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how it had helped me years before and I decided to try it again. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and since then I have been a well woman, able to take care of my house and family without any trouble or a day's pain. I am ready and thankful to swear by your medicine any time. I am forty-four years old and have not had a day's illness of any kind for three years."—Mrs. H. Koenig, 617 Ellis Blvd, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Sandusky, Ohio.—"After the birth of my baby I had organic trouble. My doctor said it was caused by too heavy lifting and I would have to have an operation. I would not consent to an operation and let it go for over a year, having my sister do my work for me as I was not able to walk. One day my aunt came to see me and told me about your medicine—said it cured her of the same thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and they have cured me. Now I do my own housework, washing and ironing and sewing for my family and also do sewing for other people. I still take a bottle of Vegetable Compound every spring for a tonic. I recommend your medicine to others who have troubles similar to mine and you can use my letter if you wish."—Mrs. Paul Papenfuss, 1323 Stone St., Sandusky, Ohio.

and Requires Vigorous Treatment

Do Not Neglect It.

When you use sprays, atomizers and douches for your Catarrh you may succeed in unstopping the choked-up air passages for the time being, but this annoying condition returns, and you have to do the same thing over and over again.

Catarrh has never yet been cured by these local applications. Have you ever experienced any real benefit from such treatment?

Throw these makeshift remedies to the winds, and get on the right treatment. Get a bottle of S S S, and begin a treatment that has been praised by sufferers for half a century.

EATONIC Users
—Do This—Get the Greatest Benefits

Chicago, Ill.—Thousands of reports from people all over the U. S. who have tested Eatonic, show the greatest benefits are obtained by using it for a few weeks, taking one or two tablets after each meal.

Eatonic users know that it stops Belching, Bloating, Heartburn, and Stomach Miseries quickly, but the really lasting benefits are obtained by using Eatonic long enough to take the harmful excess acids and gases entirely out of the system. This requires a little time, for Eatonic takes up the excess acidity and poisons and carries them out of the body and of course, when it is all removed, the sufferer gets well, feels fine—full of life and pep.

If you have been taking an Eatonic now and then, be sure and take it regularly for a time and obtain all of these wonderful benefits. Please speak to your druggist about this, so that he can tell others that need this help. Adv.

Are You Waiting for Prices to Come Down?

CURTIS
WOODWORK
"The Permanent Furniture for Your Home"

ABOUT 320,000 houses are built each normal year in this country.

The year before that and the year before that, home-building was below normal because "prices were too high." As a result, there is a shortage in this country of about 700,000 houses!

Consequently, there is a "hungry market" for building materials. General Demand is about to launch a campaign for home-building. What will General Supply do? What effect will a big demand have on prices? You can draw your own conclusions.

You can decide now whether you want to take advantage of the present favorable prices of materials and build now, or whether you want to wait three, five, ten or fifteen years until "prices are right" and then build, in the meantime, doing without the comfort, convenience, and satisfaction of a home of your own.

Think it over. Our advice is, Build Now! not because the Government asks you to, but because

It Is Wise to Build Now

It tried hard to both rain and hail here Sunday afternoon, but it did'nt do much of either. It is reported that in the neighborhood of Grygla that cattle were killed by the hail and it also did considerable damage in the Gatzke district. Near the latter place the wind was a virtual cyclone. The large barn and other outbuildings of Lars Aas were completely destroyed and his best team killed, and some of the neighbors had buildings damaged.

A glance at the program of amusement attractions for the Pennington county fair which will be held in Thief River Falls, on August 4, 5 and 6, indicates that an unusal number of the stunts will take place in the air. Sec'y Smith has completed the bookings and they are by far the most interesting and unusual ever offered at a fair in this section of the country.

Heading the list is Al. Williams, perhaps the most sensational of all air pilots. He performs unbelievable acrobatic stunts while his machine is in the air, walks out on the wings and makes a drop of 5,000 feet by the aid of a parachute.

Arrangements have been made with The Minneapolis Daily News for the exhibition here of the flying circus staged as an advertising feature by that publication. The circus is different from anything ever seen before and is attracting a great deal of attention. Among the features to be offered by Lieut. Wilbur Larrabee, formerly of the U. S. Aircraft company, and an army aviator, who is with the circus, are barrel rolls, spirals, tail spins, vertical eights, loops and the latest and the latest and greatest of all aeronautical performances, "The Falling Leaf," in which Lieut. Larrabee will make a sheer drop of 5,000 feet, stopping and righting his machine when only 800 feet from the earth.

The fair association secures this circus by agreeing to see that 100 subscribers to the Minneapolis News are secured at $5 each. A popularity contest, the details of which will appear later, will enter into the arrangements for this wonderful show.

A ski-jumping performance in mid-summer is sufficiently novel to excite the interest of everyone. Siegfred, the champion ski-jumper of Sweden and also the holder of the Canadian cross-country championship, will ride down a greased incline and land in a net. This is a hair-raising performance and brings out great crowds when offered as a lone attraction.

Blondin and his dog will prove the great attraction for the kiddies. Blondin is a slack wire performer and the dog is also an artist in this line.

The continuous performance division will be in charge of the Little Giant company, reputed to be one of the best in the business. This concern guarantees, under penalty of being ejected from the grounds if the agreement is not carried out, to under no circumstances permit anything in the nature of a "forty-nine" show, immodest dances or other exhibitions to which objections have been raised in the past.

There will be the usual ferris wheel, merry-go-round and a new devise known as an airplane carousal. The coming fair is going to be the greatest ever staged in this county which means the greatest in the Northwest.

A full and complete program of events will be put on both afternoons and evenings in front of the Grand Stand at the Pennington County Fair, Thief River Falls Aug. 4-5-6th.

Killing Power!

Anything that kills — from firearms to poison—is dangerous. The safety factor is an important consideration in manufacture.

The minute you detract from the killing power of Paris Green you are not getting what you pay for. Consequently —the first consideration in the making of Ansbacher's Paris Green has been quick, certain death to the insects. At the same time the amount of free arsenic has been so minimized that it won't injure a leaf of the most delicate foliage. It is death to bugs and harmless to plants. It's a safe insecticide.

It stays in suspension in the spray and does more without costing more.

The Ansbacher name is your guarantee of quality and under this brand comes an exceptionally effective Arsenate of Lead (Dry and Paste) and Bordeaux Mixture.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Webster, S. D.—Prairie chickens will be more plentiful this fall in northern South Dakota than in many years, according to game wardens. The spring was ideal for hatching of the chickens. The shooting season opens Sept. 15.

Winnipeg, Man.—The Canadian wheat board has decided to make an interim payment of 30 cents per bushel, as soon as possible after July 15, against the wheat represented by its participation certificates, according to an official announcement made public here.

Livingston, Mont.—Shipment of buffalo to municipal parks has been resumed by officials of Yellowstone Park. In recent periods, small herds have gone to Hibbing, Minn., to Milwaukee, Wis., and to Thermopolis, Wyo. There are about 600 in the park herd and the spring calf yield is about 50.

Bowdle, S. D.—Grasshoppers have made their appearance in this part of Edmunds county in great numbers and farmers are organizing to stage a hard fight on them. In some parts of the county, it is said, the hoppers have already done considerable damage, but it is the belief that they can be checked.

Mitchell, S. D.—The annual convention of the South Dakota Osteopathetic association was held here. Nearly 100 osteopaths attended. One of the features of the session was a demonstration by Dr. T. J. Ruddy, Los Angeles, of the removal of the tons ls without the aid of surgical instruments or anesthetics.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—Paul Eugene Tommeraasen, 3 years old, whose parents live on a lake county farm, was crushed to death by a door of a garage falling on him. It is supposed he pushed the heavy door too far, causing it to jump the track and fall on him. His mother discovered the body, after a search.

Mitchell, S. D.—The board of county commissioners has decided to abolish the office of county nurse. Although the nurse, who has been employed by the county for the last year, has been extremely busy, the board does not believe there is need for such services to warrant the further expenditure of money for the maintenance of the office.

Helena, Mont.—Crop reports from the section affected in previous years by drought continue favorable and judging from the rural press, farmers generally consider prospects for a big yield good. With a few exceptions, all areas have had ample rain, and nowhere is anything like a drought reported. Range grass is luxuriant and cattle are pouring into the state.

Manning, N. D.—The voters of Dunn county refused to change the county seat from this place to Dunn Center by a majority vote expected to reach 250. Considerable agitation preceded the election and several towns earlier in the game entered the race.

The Hague—One real stumbling block in the creation of a high court of nations was passed when the jurists' commission voted to adopt in principle the Root-Phillimore plan for the make up of the court. Though there will probably be a number of minor changes in the Anglo-Saxon plan, the jurists, by a vote of eight to one, accepted Mr. Root's most important principle—his method for the election of the judges by the council and assembly of the League of Nations voting separately on lists submitted by the league tribunal.

ALLIES WILL AID GERMANS

Nations Sign Agreement Binding Them to Give Financial Aid.

FRENCH ARE GLOOMY

Results of the Allied Conference Has Failed to Satisfy the Newspapers of Paris According to Comments Printed.

Spa, Belgium.—Allied governments will take appropriate measures to assist Germany in floating loans intended to meet her internal requirements and to assist her in the prompt discharge of her debt to the allies, according to the agreement signed here by representatives of Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium and Portugal, settling problems relative to reparations. The distribution of indemnity received from Austria-Hungary and Bulgaria was also provided for in the agreement.

Belgium is given priority in the payment of 2,500 million gold francs. The allies also arranged for a method of valuing the ships surrendered by Germany and her allies under the various treaties, as well as the allocation of these vessels.

One of the articles of the agreement, fixing the cost of the occupation armies on a uniform basis, was not concluded, it being desired to discuss this matter with the United States before final adjustment of the problem.

Papers Are Gloomy.

Paris.—Results of the allied German conference at Spa seem to have failed to satisfy the newspapers of Paris, according to comments printed here.

"The conference," remarks St. Brice in the Journal, "wandered from the path to quick results, which is not the least of the regrets which it leaves behind it."

"Notwithstanding its evasion, the conference seems to contain more possibilities favorable to France than the results we have recorded seem to indicate."

"The least that can be said is that the situation remains confused and disquieting. The allies exhausted all means, both of conciliation and coercion, to which the Germans opposed the force of inertia."

ARMY MOVES ON DAMASCUS

French Have Begun Operations in Syria, Moving Toward Aleppo.

London.—The French have begun operations in Syria, moving toward Aleppo and Damascus, according to a report printed in the London Times.

Advices have been received in London, the London Times says, that the French, on Wednesday, sent a twenty-four-hour ultimatum to Feisal, king of Syria, demanding his acquiescence in the French mandate for Syria, and also in the adoption of French as the official language and French currency as the currency of Syria.

At the expiration of the twenty four hours, the Times says, the French opened hostilities in two columns, one directed against Aleppo, and the other against Damascus.

The Arabs were reported to have offered no resistance. The French were said to be using eighty battalions, including both French and Senegalese troops. The forces are equipped with tanks and airplanes.

KAISER'S SON ENDS LIFE

Financial Embarrassments Said to Be Cause of Suicide.

London.—Former Kaiser Wilhelm's youngest son, Prince Joachim, has ended his life. Advices received from Berlin say the prince, who was known to have been brooding over money embarrassments, shot himself in Potsdam. The prince's wife left him recently. Prince Joachim, sixth son of the kaiser, has been in the world limelight during the last six years almost as much as his older brothers. During the latter days of the war he distinguished himself on several occasions. He was wounded during the summer of 1914 while fighting in East Prussia. At that time a shell fragment tore away part of his thigh and he was laid up for many weeks, returning to the front against the advice of attending surgeons. He was awarded the iron cross soon after receiving the wound.

Form Buying Concern.

Paris.—A new plan for buying abroad for American department stores, has just begun operations here on a large scale. Department stores in Los Angeles, Minneapolis, San Francisco, Boston, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Toledo, Dallas, St. Louis, Cleveland and Sacramento have formed a buying company for doing foreign shopping in bulk. The design of the company is to deal directly with manufacturers and to cut out all the commissions and charges of intermediaries.

POLICE CHIEF'S COW INTRUDES

Breaks Up Rehearsal of Masque of Seasons on College Campus.

REFUSES TO BE LED

Chief Hitches Bossy to Front of Flivver and in Six Hours They Negotiate Distance of Three Miles.

Chicago.—In River Forest, where nature is wonderful, the Sabbath calm was most pervasive.

At the police station, Chief F. W. Laatz, doffing dignity for shirtsleeves comfort, was ministering to the alimentary weal of his pet guinea pigs. Viola Lorenzen, only woman desk sergeant in the United States, was petting the Belgian hare that the station spaniel had just mistaken for Sergeant Lorenzen's maltese cat.

The telephone bell rang. The sergeant dropped the hare, seized the receiver, and heard:

Just a Smattering of Clew.

"On the campus—O, please hur—"

That was all. The connection ceased abruptly. There was nothing to guide the chief.

Suddenly his police instinct functioned. There was Rosary college, the Catholic institution for girls. Being a college it had a campus. Cranking his flivver he leaped in, coaxed the accelerator, and was off.

Before he arrives, let us explain that his deduction was correct. The Rosary girls were rehearsing for their annual masque of seasons. Garlanded in dandelions, daisies, violets and other flowers, they were skipping daintily about the greensward when the chief's cow—a Hereford—obtruded.

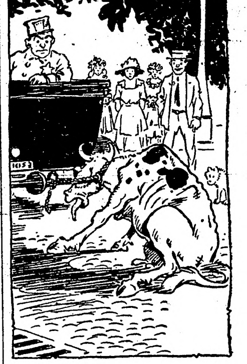
She began lunching on the garlands. The girls screamed. Some of the braver cried "Shoo," it is alleged. She was loping after a couple of dancers whose costumes had not been denuded when the chief appeared.

"Soo, Lucy! Soo, Lucy!" he cried coaxingly, maneuvering the flivver alongside her. She stopped. The chief extracted a sturdy rope from his tool kit, tied it about her neck, and attached the other end to the rear axle of the flivver. Lucy wagged her tail contentedly.

Lucy Sat Down.

Then he cranked the flivver, leaped in, coaxed the accelerator, and was off—for a few feet only. Lucy had sat down.

The chief eased into low speed and moved forward with an imperceptible but twenty-two horse-power motion. Lucy declined to second the motion.



Lucy Had Sat Down.

He cut a switch from a campus maple. He flicked Lucy lightly on the withers. She arose. Another flick. She walked in front of the car. The chief transferred the rope from the rear to the front axle. He shortened it just sufficiently for Lucy's rear feet to clear the car.

Then, without starting the engine, he climbed aboard, flicked Lucy snappily and commanded:

"Hi, boss! Hi!"

Their progress was slow but sure. From the campus to the station is three miles. They started at noon and got there at 6—six hours flat.

Percival was enjoying a Sunday ride, and as he had only recently learned the names and characteristics of a few trees, he observed closely all the trees he passed. A peach tree in blossom caught his eye, next a honey locust with its many thorns, and then suddenly he straightened up and stared with astonished eyes at a gigantic tree trunk whose entire top was missing. "Oh, mother, see," he cried excitedly, "there's a tree with no head on its neck."

BRACE UP!

The man or woman with weak kidneys is half crippled. A lame, stiff back, with its constant, dull ache and sharp, shooting twinges, makes the simplest task a burden. A Montana Case

Every Picture Tells a Story

Mrs. Evender Doyle, 944 Third Ave., W. Kalispell, Mont., says: "Last summer I had a great deal of trouble with my kidneys. It first came on with a dull, constant ache through the small of my back and my back got so sore and lame I could scarcely keep up and about. My kidneys were inactive, which caused annoyance. I was dizzy and black spots blurred my sight. As others of the family had used Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box. They helped me and I used them until entirely cured."

RAIL MEN TO GET LARGE INCREASE

Award Will Average From 50 to 60 Per Cent of the Amount Asked.

WILL NOT CALL STRIKE

Pennsylvania Railroad Plans 10 Per Cent Reduction in Working Force —12,000 Workers Will Be Laid Off in the East.

Chicago.—The railway labor board, created under the Esch-Cummins Transportation act, handed down Tuesday morning its first award, increasing the pay of virtually all the 2,000,000 railroad employes of the country.

On the eve of the decision, reports from reliable quarters indicated the award would average from 50 to 60 per cent of the amount asked by the men, or between $500,000,000 and $600,000,000 of the billion dollar total they sought.

Whether an award on the basis reported would be acceptable to the men, no union officer was prepared to say. Nearly 1,000 brotherhood chairmen and executives held an all-day session to discuss union affairs.

Referendum on Award.

A feeling of pessimism was evident when the union leaders met, and privately they did not hesitate to declare that a general strike was a possibility. However, it was virtually certain that the union chiefs themselves would not call a strike, but would submit the question of accepting or rejecting the board's award to a referendum.

While an air of doubt hung over the railroad situation here, it was announced from Philadelphia that the Pennsylvania railroad planned a 10 per cent reduction in the working force of the road. The road's announcement said that in the eastern region alone between 11,000 and 12,000 workers would be laid off.

GETS PLACE ON BALLOT

Attorney General Langer Gives Opinion Favoring Democratic Candidate.

Bismarck, N. D.—J. F. T. O'Connor, Democratic candidate for governor, is the nominee of his party regardless of the number of votes he obtained in the primary election, in the opinion of William Langer, attorney general. In a reply to H. A. Hanson, state's attorney of Burke county, Mr. Langer sets out the decision of the supreme court in the case of Ed. Allen, state's attorney of Burleigh county, against T. E. Flaherty, county auditor.

"If the total vote cast for any party candidate or candidates for any office for which nominations are herein provided for shall equal less than 25 per cent of the average total number of votes cast for governor, secretary of state and attorney general of the political party he or they represented at the last general election, then no nomination shall be made in that party for such offices."

Mr. Langer quotes the supreme court decision that this section "is unconstitutional, in that its provisions are arbitrary, unnatural and lack uniformity in the different counties of the state and does not provide a standard for determining the basis for classification which is staple and constant throughout."

STREET FIGHTING IN CORK

More Than 100 Casualties in Night of Terror.

Cork.—Two military lorries loaded with soldiers which passed through the streets of Cork at 3 o'clock Monday morning were attacked by civilians with bombs and blown up. Between 60 and 70 soldiers were injured. The civilians threw 29 bombs.

This attack followed a night of terror into which the city was plunged as a result of street fighting in which Sinn Feiners and the military participated. Two men were killed and some forty wounded in the gun fighting, which brought the total of casualties well over the one hundred mark.

The Sinn Feiners used the guerilla tactics which had been outlined in the plan of campaign of the republican army.

The fighting broke out as a result of a bayonetting incident in the street, in which a former soldier was killed. About 10 p. m. indiscriminate firing started in virtually all sections of the city. The casualties reported up to Tuesday morning were one dead and 14 wounded.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

SIMPLY COULDN'T LOCATE IT

At That, Marine Showed Praiseworthy Willingness to Obey Orders Captain Had Given Him.

Army water carts differ from one another about the same as, say, one egg differs from another egg—namely, in size. The number of gallons which each car can contain is, therefore, stencilled on the top of it.

The captain of a marine supply company in France was inventorying his carts and totaling the figures.

"Wilkins," he called to an idle private who hadn't had the sense to get out of the way, "get me the capacity of this cart."

The captain ran his pencil down the column of figures for several seconds, keeping one ear open for the result of Wilkins' research.

But no reply came from Wilkins. The captain glanced up to find all of Wilkins except the head protruding from the hole in top of the water cart. A desperate struggle with some unseen monster seemed to be going on inside the cart. Finally Wilkins' baffled head emerged.

"I felt all around the blamed thing, captain," he explained, "and I'll be hanged if I can locate that capacity anywhere."—Home Sector.

TRULY AN AWFUL THOUGHT

Small Girl Feared She Had Somewhat Overdone Matter of Praying for Baby Brother.

The little girl came home to her mamma very much disturbed because little Susie, her neighbor, had a new baby brother to play with, while she, herself, was very lonely. Her mother comforted her and told her to ask God to send her a little brother, too. So the child began to pray for a little brother, and occasionally got impatient; but her mother told her to keep on praying and perhaps her prayer would be answered some day.

One day she was called into the mother's room, and her delight knew no bounds when the nurse took a wee thing up from the mother's side and laid it in her arms. But a moment later, when the nurse picked up another bit of humanity, the child almost dropped the one she was holding, and a startled expression came into her face as she said:

"Oh, mama! Is God going to answer all those prayers that I prayed?"

Because of its close skimming the De Laval produces more cream, which means more butter.

Lightning Strikes Buildings

Lightning struck the farm house of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Steinhauer early Wednesday morning and did considerable damage. Mr. Steinhauer was slightly stunned tho' he soon recovered but the whole family had a narrow escape. The chimney was torn down, the roof partly torn off and the whole house more or less damaged.

Lars Chenil's barn was struck by lightning about five o'clock Wednesday morning and was completely destroyed. Mr. Chenil had recently put a large metal cupola or ventilator on the barn and put in a ventilating system. The lightning struck the cupola and the whole roof was soon a mass of flames and there was no hope of saving the building. The lightning killed one of his work horses, but the other one was gotten safely out, as was also the harness and machinery. Mr. Chenil had finished filling the barn with hay the night before the fire. He also lost some oats that were in the barn. He had some insurance on live stock and $500.00 on the barn which will cover only about a third of his loss.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

BIG INCREASE IN NATION'S TAXES

North and South Dakota Paid $9,541,683 for Fiscal Period Just Ending.

NEW YORK STATE LEADS

Revenues Derived From Income and Excess Profits Taxes Are $1,250,000,000 Larger Than During the Past Two Years.

Washington.—The nation's greatest tax bill—$5,410,284,874—was collected during the fiscal year ending June 30.

The official figures showed that the tax paid in the last 12 months had exceeded all estimates by approximately $300,000,000 and was nearly 75 per cent larger than the total of taxes paid in either of the years of 1918 or 1919. The 1918 tax levy yielded $3,694,619,638 and the taxes in 1919 aggregated $3,839,950,612.

Collection of this record-breaking assessment cost the government $29,750,000, or about 55 cents for each $100.

Revenues derived from income and excess profits taxes alone were $3,844,555,737 for the 12 months, which is nearly $1,250,000,000 larger than collections from the same sources in either of the last two years. An increase for this year also was shown in the receipts from miscellaneous taxes which brought in $1,465,729,136. These taxes totalled $1,243,041,909, and $855,591,700 for 1919 and 1918 respectively.

New York Leads Nation.

New York state continued to maintain its record of leading the nation as a taxpayer. Its tax burden amounted to $1,416,939,276. Of this $1,135,097,403 came from the financial heart of America—the Wall street district.

Pennsylvania was the second state in amount of tax paid, with $555,725,086.

The Chicago district paid all but $40,315,758 of the total Illinois taxes of $442,233,070. Next following Illinois was Ohio with taxes of $372,319,548 and Massachusetts with $350,928,233.

North and South Dakota, both in one collection district, were called upon to pay $9,541,683 from their combined areas and with the exception of the Philippine Islands, were at the foot of the list.

WANT MEETING IN LONDON

Soviet Government Has Seized Allies Demand for an Armistice.

Paris.—The proposal by the Russian soviet government for a conference in London with all the allies, as reported in Sunday night's dispatches, will be the subject of an exchange of views between France and Great Britain. Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand met Monday for a discussion of the reply to be made to Moscow.

As viewed here, the soviet government has seized the allies demand for an armistice with Poland as a pretext for a return to the soviet campaign for official recognition of the Moscow government, and political circles in Paris regard the maneuver as a skilful one which has placed some of the allies, particularly France, in a delicate position.

It is pointed out that Premier Lloyd George spoke for all the allies, however, when he communicated with the soviet authorities demanding that they stop the forward movement on the Polish frontier and asking them to arrange an armistice to be followed by a conference of delegates from all the countries bordering on Russia.

COAL RELIEF NOW IN SIGHT

Plans Being Formulated by Commerce Commission to Get Coal Moving.

Washington.—Relief from coal shortage—both actual and threatened—for New England and the northwest is in sight. The Interstate Commerce commission indicated it was prepared to issue an order for priority of movement in the shipment of coal to New England states while railroads, under a recent order of the commission, began to move coal to lake ports for trans-shipment to the northwest.

The order providing relief for New England which the commission planned to issue was expected to forbid movement of coal to tidewater unless consigned to New England.

This practically would mean an embargo of exportation, coal men said. Summer coal shipments to the northwest have been less than half enough to insure an adequate supply during the coming winter, the Interstate Commerce commission was informed. Railroads will attempt to dump 4,000 carloads daily at lake ports.

Western Aliens Will Be Deported.

New York.—Thirty-five of the party of the 63 aliens brought to Ellis Island from western and middlewestern cities are to be deported because of their radical activities, Immigration Commissioner Frederick A. Wallis announced Saturday. Four of them, he said, were rushed to an outgoing vessel and sent to their native land. Referring to the remaining undesirables, Commissioner Wallis said he planned "to make quick work of these Bolsheviki deportees."

HOT WEATHER
Hits the Stomach Hardest

Chicago, Ill.—Hot weather upsets the strongest stomach and causes serious trouble for the weak ones, so word is now going out to thousands of eatonic users that they should, during this hot weather, be on the safe side and take one eatonic tablet about half an hour before meals, as well as after eating. Do this and keep the excess acids and poisonous gases from forming in stomach and bowels. Eatonic acts quickly; it will help the appetite and take away the hot-weather, feverish, thirsty feeling from mouth and stomach, because it takes up the excess acids, poisons and gases and carries them out of the body and, of course, when the cause of the trouble is removed, there can be no bad feeling. Eatonic is like a bit of candy, and is recommended to all as a safe, sure remedy these hot days for stomach and bodily troubles, caused from overeating and drinking cold things. Adv.

BIG COAL STRIKE THREATENS TIEUP

Adjustment of Wage May Bring Demands From Other Fields.

PRESIDENT MAY ACT

President of the Illinois Miners' Union Telegraphs Advice to Many Locals to Go Back to Their Jobs.

Indianapolis.—Possibility of a general strike of bituminous coal miners through the central competitive field was revealed in a statement given out here by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, regarding the strike now in progress in the Illinois field.

Any settlement of the Illinois strike which would modify the basic interstate agreement under which the miners of the central field are now working would result in action by the national officers to enforce an immediate shutdown of all the bituminous mines, involving a strike of 210,000 men, Mr. Lewis said, until similar modifications, together with other improvements, are arranged for in the other coal producing states.

Mr. Lewis would not discuss the calling of a general strike, which was indicated. He said he was awaiting further word regarding the attempts made to settle the Illinois strike.

Washington.—President Wilson is considering sending a telegram to officials of the striking workers in the Illinois coal fields, it was learned Saturday.

Just what recommendations or requests the president will make in the telegram, if sent, it could not be ascertained, but it was expected he would make a strong appeal for the men to return to work and remain on the job pending adjustment of their controversy by the department of labor conciliators.

Local union officials ask that the wages of the men, mostly day laborers employed at the mines, be raised approximately $2 per day.

Springfield, Ill.—"Go back to work," was the advice telegraphed to miners' locals Saturday by Vice President Harry Fishwick, of the Illinois miners' union. With department of labor conciliators on the ground, waiting to start conciliation efforts, Mr. Fishwick believes a considerable number of miners will give heed to his order and return to the mines.

INJURED MEN WILL RECOVER

Report of Five Deaths at Drake Was a Mistake.

Minot, N. D.—Andrew Botz, who was seriously injured in the cyclone which demolished his home and killed his wife on Thursday evening, was reported to be getting along nicely at the local hospital here. It is believed that he will recover. A message received from the Harvey hospital where Andrew Stitzer, one of the seriously injured at Anamoose, was taken, states that he is getting along as well as could be expected and the opinion of attending physicians is that he will fully recover. It was found as soon as wire connections could be secured with Drake that the report of five deaths there was a mistake. The town was visited by the terrific wind storm but there were no fatalities.

The property damage in the southeastern part of Ward county has been very heavy and the crop damage, while not as extensive as might have been expected, is heavy. The same is true of the Anamoose country in McHenry county. It is impossible to estimate the damage but the destruction of buildings and killing of livestock will run into thousands of dollars.

U. S. CAPTURES TRANSPORT

Customs Officers Capture Russian Ship After 10-Mile Chase.

San Francisco.—Customs officers, aboard a revenue cutter, after a 10-mile chase on San Francisco bay, Saturday captured the Russian transport Rogday, possession of which had been claimed by rival Russian factions.

The chase was made after representatives of what has been called the Kernsky group seized the vessel early Saturday from the soviet captain. The soviet watchman aboard the boat appeared at a hospital with bullet wounds in both shoulders and said he was shot when the rival faction took possession.

Rome Sees Films.

Rome.—Rome's enthusiasm for moving pictures is enormous. Milan, which is a more densely populated city, patronizes the "movies" less than Rome. The increase in Rome dates from the second half of 1919 when the "sharks" as they call war profiteers, first came to the front. A newspaper writer accused them of going to the picture theaters with their wives and families in order to learn how people in what they imagine to be smart society, dress and move and act.

EXPLORE RED RIVER VALLEY

Another expedition to look for the bones of great phehistoric reptiles in the Red River valley of Alberta is on its way. This time it is under the direction of Dr. W. A. Parks of the University of Toronto, and the Royal Ontario museum. For a number of years these expeditions have been an annual summer journey for three months.

Two years ago the almost perfect specimen of the kritosaurus incurvimanus, which has just been finally chipped free from the rock and presented to the museum, was found, making a distinct addition to the records of science, and giving to Toronto the only specimen of this species yet discovered. Three incomplete skeletons of the kritosaurus and a great horned head of a brontosaurus, 4 feet 6 inches in length, were found by the professor, but have not yet been carved from the rock. It is the hope of Prof. Parks to collect ultimately for the Royal Ontario museum one of the finest exhibits of dinosaurs in existence.

The locality and the method of finding the specimens are described by Prof. Parks. "The river cut right through the flat prairie to a depth of 400 feet, forming a whole lot of broken buttes, and it is among these that the bones are discovered. One of the difficulties in obtaining complete specimens is that the bones cannot be obtained until they are partly exposed by the action of natural deroding causes. Sometimes you are disappointed then, for after exploring you may find only a single bone. You dig down as close as you can and pack the rock in plaster paris for shipment."

The Red River valley 3,000,000 years ago was near the coast of a great inland sea that stretched from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic ocean. "The sand along the shallow, brackish shores of this great body of water formed a splendid preservative for those huge reptiles which inhabited the world at that time. Our kritosaurus was found in what we call the Bell formation of the upper Cretacean system," explained Prof. Parks.

Hats Worth Small Fortunes.

Hats were designed primarily by the ancient peoples for protection, and through the evolution of the centuries new generations have failed to improve upon the ancient types that exist in various climates to prevent exposure either to extreme heat or cold. The sub-arctic people from the frozen tundras wear a snugly-fitting bonnet with earlaps. In India the turban is worn to protect the head against excessive heat, says Asia Magazine. These turbans are made from cloth, 20 to 40 feet long, and wound about the head in endless variety, according to rank and taste. The natives of the Philippines and the South Sea islands wear large sun hats, usually made of palm leaves. In China, in addition to the large, peaked coolie hat, one finds a hat which is emblematic of rank. The social position of a Manchu woman can always be determined by the ornaments on her bonnet, often consisting of precious jewels. Some of these hats cost as much as $10,000. In various climates and countries natives utilize ornamentations they secure from birds and game to make their hats attractive.

Old Japan Disappearing.

Japan is so fast adapting and adopting not only western customs and manners, but western architecture, as well, but the traveler, who wishes to see anything Japanese must get out of the cities and off the beaten track. Standing on the Ginza, Tokio's main thoroughfare, the stranger will be amazed at the variety of fashions that will pass along before him. A gentleman in evening dress is followed by another who wears a frock coat and bowler hat, and by still another robed in native haori and hakama, canopied by a top hat, and sporting an expensive cane or umbrella. Behind these strolls along a man in overalls, followed by one in a yet more mongrel costume—a suit of white cotton underwear, over which is a cotton kimono and no shirt. All this is immensely comical, but the Japanese take it as a matter of course. The Japanese women, however, are free from these Eurasian indiscretions in dress and habit, preserving as yet their graceful native costumes.

Anilin Poisoning From Hair Dyes.

A case of chronic anilin poisoning, manifesting all of the typical symptoms, namely, vertigo, gastritis, diplopia, asthenia and exfoliated dermatitis, is reported by Thompson. The cause of the poisoning was a French hair dye called "Goute Agouti." The type of anilin was paraphenophendiamin, 2 per cent; hydrogen peroxide, 70 per cent, and alcohol, 28 per cent. Thompson points out that the menace of anilin hair dyes has not yet sufficiently been emphasized to be appreciated generally by the medical profession. The fact that personal susceptibility varies as much as in the case of poisoning, for example, from Rhus toxicodendron, only makes it more difficult always to recognize such cases. It is well to be suspicious of artificial Titian red hair and all the darker shades up to jet black.

TAKE BUSINESS MAN FOR THIEF

Killed by Police Who Find Him Locking His Office Safe.

IS SHOT AS HE FLEES

Previous Experiences With Burglars Led Auditor to Believe It Another Visitation—Police Fire Four Shots.

Chicago.—Charles C. Dietrich, forty-seven years old, the auditor and former secretary of the Windsor Furniture company, was killed in the offices of the firm.

A policeman, mistaking him for a burglar, shot him to death.

The Windsor company had felt the need of an inventory. Dietrich, secretary of the firm for ten years previous to January 1, 1920, had been retained as confidential adviser. The new secretary, George Lyons, had asked him because of his long familiarity with the firm's affairs, to "take stock."

Decides to Work Sunday.

With a habit formed in 20 years' employment by the firm, he went to the office to work on Sunday. Throughout the afternoon and early evening he toiled on the books.

Presently along the dark and deserted sidewalk outside came Elmer J. Bradshaw, a watchman for the Chicago Protective agency. Bradshaw paused before the window.

The glass was dirty. The old-fashioned electric bulbs gave only a dim light. And half revealed, half shadowed, Bradshaw saw a man fingering the combination of the old-fashioned safe. He watched him for a moment. Then he turned and softly ran to a telephone and called police headquarters.

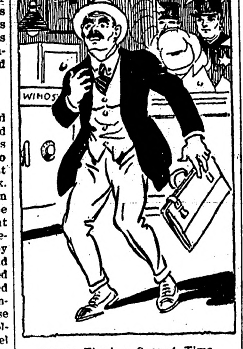
There came a tap on the window. Dietrich looked up. Outside in the gloom were several forms.

The Summons of Death.

"Come out here; we want to talk to you; we're police officers," said Detective Sergeant Frank Lorenz.

Dietrich on another night months ago had observed forms like that while working late. They had been robbers, bent on attacking the safe. But at the moment they had shot at him he had balked them by slamming the door and fleeing toward the rear of the place. And he tried that plan again.

His hand reached for the dangling chain of the light bulb that would plunge the room into darkness. At the same time he sprang to his feet. But his hand never reached the dangling chain. A shot shattered the window, and as Dietrich ran toward the rear door, leaving the light on, Lorenz fired a second time.



Lorenz Fired a Second Time.

Dietrich fell. Two more shots passed through the rear door before his body lay still.

USES BABY AS POLICE SHIELD

Louisville Man, Armed, Holds Off Officers Till House Is Rushed.

Louisville.—Shielding himself behind a month-old baby held in his arms, and brandishing a pistol, according to detectives, Alonzo Sharp, thirty-five years old, kept them from his house, filled with men, women and children, until a squad of police reserves, with drawn pistols, surrounded the place and rushed the front door.

Amid shrieks and cries from the women and children, three of the men were taken into custody. Police began search for five other men.

Detectives Hauler and Ungles had gone to the house to serve two warrants, charging grand larceny against "Jack Ross and Bill Sharp," but were told the men were not known there.

Alonzo Sharp said that he held the baby in his arms for its own protection and that he grabbed the pistol before he knew who the men were.

ASKED TOO MUCH OF TIRES

Small Boy's Comment Appeared to Sum Up the Situation in a Thorough Matter.

Judging from their appearance the two gentlemen who were visiting London from the north of England hadn't been troubled overmuch by food regulations or shortages. More, their bulk suggested profiteering in every direction.

And their wives were not much smaller. Plump didn't really describe them; they were worse than that.

Going along the Strand, the tire of the taxicab which had the job of carrying them suddenly burst with a terrific bang. Of course, the usual crowd collected like magic, and prepared to watch for the free show.

At the request of the driver of the taxi, his four fares descended one by one. As they appeared, the eyes of a small newsboy began to goggle, and when the four of them stood in a row on the curbstone, he eyed them solemnly, and then exclaimed:

"And no bloomin' wonder, either!"—London Answers.

Traveled Far for Wedding.

Before the war, a couple, both hailing from Auckland, New Zealand, came to a little village church in Cumberland to be married. It was the church where the bride's parents had been married just 25 years zefore. The couple had come 13,000 miles to be married in that church, and they set off on their honeymoon back to Auckland.—London Tit-Bits.

Something Gained.

"It strikes me that $100 is a lot of money to pay for a suit like that."

"True enough," said Mr. Glipping, "but I'll have the use of the $100 for at least sixty days longer."

"How so?"

"I had it charged."

Probably Did That

"Naw, I never vote. I never bother with public affairs." "Did you consent to be counted when the census was taken?"

VETERANS OF BIG POW-WOWS

Oldtime Republicans Exchange Reminiscences of Conventions in Which They Were Prominent.

Chauncey M. Depew and Joseph G. Cannon got into an argument as to which had been attending national conventions the longer.

"Now, Joe," said Senator Depew to the former speaker, "you know you are only a comparatively young man in convention history and cannot figure in the same class with me. I was at the convention of 1864 and I know you did not come along until later."

"You're both children," declared former Marshal Louis F. Payn of Chatham, who was doing his regular quadrennial turn as a member of the New York delegation. "I was here in 1860."

"I'd have been here, too," remarked "Uncle Joe" Cannon, "but Abe Lincoln beat me in a lawsuit the week before the convention and I didn't have money enough to pay the $2 a week board bill unless I walked here to save carfare."—New York Morning Telegraph's Chicago Story.

A Foreboding.

"Henrietta and I have had some pretty warm arguments about public questions," remarked Mr. Meekton.

"Married people should not sacrifice their independence of thought."

"Of course not. But I hope they'll never revise the laws so as to grant divorces on the grounds of incompatibility of politics."

HARDING SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE A NEW KEYNOTE

Republican Nominee at Notification Ceremonies Discusses Problems Confronting Nation.

"HOLD HERITAGE AMERICAN NATIONALITY UNIMPAIRED"

Advocates Party Responsibility as Distinguished From Dictatorial and Personal Rule—Referring To League of Nations, Says We Do Not Mean To Shun A Single Responsibility of This Republic To World Civilization—Favors Protective Tariff, Merchant Marine, A Small Army, Woman Suffrage and National Budget.

Marion, Ohio—(Special), Warren G. Harding was officially notified here of his nomination as the Republican candidate for the presidency. His speech of acceptance is, in part, as follows:

Chairman Lodge, members of notification committee, members of National committee, ladies and gentlemen, the message which you have formally conveyed brings to me a realization of responsibility which is not underestimated. It is a supreme task to interpret the covenant of a great political party, the activities of which are so woven into the history of this republic and a very sacred and solemn undertaking to utter the faith and aspirations of the many millions who adhere to that party. The party platform has charted the way, yet, somehow, we have come to expect that interpretation which voices the faith of nominees who must assume specific tasks.

Let me be understood clearly from the very beginning. I believe in party sponsorship in government. I believe in party government as distinguished from personal government, individual, dictatorial, autocratic or what not.

No man is big enough to run this great republic. There never has been one, such domination was never intended. Tranquility, stability, dependability—all are assured in party sponsorship, and we mean to renew the assurances which were rended in the cataclysmal war.

Our first committal is the restoration of representative popular government, under the constitution, through the agency of the Republican party. Our vision includes more than a chief executive, we believe in a cabinet of highest capacity, equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates, in whose councils the vice president, second official of the Republic, shall be asked to participate. The same vision includes a cordial understanding and co-ordinated activities with a House of Congress, fresh from the people, voicing the convictions which members bring from direct contact with the electorate, and cordial co-operation along with the restored functions of the Senate, fit to be the greatest deliberative body of the world.

It is not difficult, Chairman Lodge, to make ourselves clear on the question of international relationship. We Republicans of the Senate, conscious of our solemn oaths and mindful of our constitutional obligations, when we saw the structure of a world super-government taking visionary form joined in a becoming warning of our devotion to this Republic. If the torch of constitutionalism had not been dimmed, the delayed peace of the world and the tragedy of disappointment and Europes misunderstanding of America easily might have been avoided. The Republicans of the Senate halted the barter of independent American eminence and influence, which it was proposed to exchange for an obscure and unequal place in the merged government of the world. Our party means to hold the heritage in American nationality unimpaired and unsurrendered.

The world will not misconstrue. We do not mean to hold aloof. We do not mean to shun a single responsibility of this Republic to world civilization. There is no hate in the American heart. We have no envy, no suspicion, no aversion for any people in the world. We hold to our rights and mean to defend, aye, we mean to sustain the rights of this nation and our citizens alike everywhere under the shining sun. Yet there is the concord of amity and sympathy and fraternity in every resolution. There is a genuine aspiration in every American breast for a tranquil friendship with all the world.

One may readily sense the conscience of our America. I am sure I understand the purpose of the dominant group of the Senate. We were not seeking to defeat a world aspiration, we were resolved to safeguard America. We were resolved then, even as we are today, and will be tomorrow to preserve this free and independent Republic.

In the call of the conscience of America is peace, peace that closes the gaping wound of world war, and silences the impassioned voices of international envy and distrust. Heeding this call and knowing as I do the disposition of the Congress, I promise you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican Congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign.

It is better to be the free and disinterested agent of international justice and advancing civilization, with the covenant of conscience, than be shackled by a written compact which surrenders our freedom of action and gives to a military alliance the right to proclaim America's duty to the world. No surrender of rights to a world council or its military alliance, no assumed mandatory however appealing, ever shall summon the sons of this Republic to war. Their supreme sacrifice shall only be asked for America and its call of honor. There is a sanctity in that right we will not delegate.

Disposed as we are, the way is very simple. Let the failure attending assumption, obstinacy, impracticability and delay be recognized, and let us find the big, practical, unselfish way to do our part, neither covetous because of ambition nor hesitant through fear, but ready to serve ourselves, humanity and God. With a Senate advising as the constitution contemplates, I would hopefully approach the nations of Europe and of the earth, proposing that understanding which makes us a willing participant in the consecration of nations to a new relationship, to commit the moral forces of the world, America included, to peace and international justice, still leaving America free, independent and selfreliant, but offering friendship to all the world. It is folly to close our eyes to outstanding facts. Humanity is restive, much of the world is in revolution, the agents of discord and destruction have wrought their tragedy in pathetic Russia, have lighted their torches among other peoples, and hope to see America as a part of the great red conflagration. Ours is the temple of liberty under the law, and it is ours to call the sons of opportunity to its defense. America must not only save herself, but ours must be the appealing voice to sober the world.

It must be understood that toil alone makes for accomplishment and advancement, and righteous possession is the reward of toil and its incentive.

WARREN G. HARDING

There is no progress except in the stimulus of competition.

The chief trouble today is that the world war wrought the destruction of healthful competition, left our storehouses empty, and there is a minimum production when our need is maximum. Maximums not minimums is the call of America. It isn't a new story because war never fails to leave depleted storehouses and always impairs the efficiency of production. War also establishes its higher standards for wages and they abide. I wish the higher wage to abide, on one explicit condition—that the wage-earner will give full return for the wage received.

I want, somehow, to appeal to the sons and daughters of the republic, to every producer, to join hand and brain in production, more production, honest production, patriotic production because patriotic production is no less a defense of our best civilization than that of armed force. Profiteering is a crime of commission. Underproduction is a crime of omission. We must work our most and best else the destructive reaction will come.

The menacing tendency of the present day is not chargeable wholly to the unsettled and fevered conditions caused by the war. The manifest weakness in popular government lies in the temptation to appeal to grouped citizenship for political advantage.

It would be the blindness of folly to ignore the activities in our own country which are aimed to destroy our economic system, and to commit us to the colossal tragedy which has destroyed all freedom and made Russia impotent. This movement is not to be halted in throttled liberties. We must not abridge the freedom of speech, the freedom of press, or the freedom of assembly, because there is no promise in repression. These liberties are as sacred as the freedom of religious belief, as inviolable as the rights of life and the pursuit of happiness. We do hold to the right to crush sedition to stifle a menacing contempt for law, to stamp out a peril to the safety of the republic or its people, when emergency calls, because security and the majesty of the law are the first essentials of liberty. He who threatens destruction of the government by force or flaunts his contempt for lawful authority ceases to be a loyal citizen and forfeits his rights to the freedom of the republic. No party is indifferent to the welfare of the wage earner. To us his good fortune is of deep concern and we seek to make that good fortune permanent. We do not oppose but approve collective bargaining because that is an outstanding right, but we are unalterably insistent that its exercise must not destroy the equally sacred right of the individual in his necessary pursuit of livelihood. Any American has the right to quit his employment, so has every American the right to seek employment. The group must not endanger the individual, we must discourage groups preying upon one another and none shall be allowed to forget that the government's obligations are alike to all the people.

We are so confident that much of the present day insufficiency and inefficiency of transportation are due to the withering hand of government operation that we emphasize anew our opposition to government ownership. We want to expedite the reparation and make sure the mistake is not repeated.

A state of inadequate transportation facilities, mainly chargeable to the failure of governmental experiment is losing millions to agriculture. It is hindering industry, it is menacing the American people with a fuel shortage little less than a peril. It emphasizes the present-day problem and suggests that spirit of encouragement and assistance which commits all America to relieve such an emergency.

Gross expansion of currency and credit have depreciated the dollar just as expansion and inflation have discredited the coins of the world. We inflated in haste, we must deflate in deliberation. We debased the dollar in reckless finance. We must restore in honesty. In all sincerity we promise the prevention of unreasonable profits, we challenge profiteering with all the moral force and the legal powers of government and people but it is fair, aye, it is timely, to give reminder that law is not the sole corrective of our economic ills.

Let us call to all the people for thrift and economy, for denial and sacrifice if need be for a nation wide drive against extravagance and luxury, to a recommittal to simplicity of living, to that prudent and normal plan of life which is the health of the republic. New conditions which attend amazing growth and extraordinary industrial development call for a new and forward looking program. The American farmer had 120,000,000 to feed in the home market, and heard the cry of the world for food and answered it, though he faced an appalling task amid handicaps never encountered before. Contemplating the defenselessness of the individual farmer to meet the organized buyers of his products and the distributors of the things the farmer buys, I hold that farmers should not only be permitted but encouraged to join in cooperative associations to reap the just measure of reward merited by their arduous toil.

Our platform is an earnest pledge of renewed concern for this most essential and elemental industry and in both appreciation and interest we pledge effective expression in law and practice. We will hail that cooperation which again will make profitable and desirable the ownership and operation of comparatively small farms intensively cultivated, and which will facilitate the caring for the products of farm and orchard without the lamentable waste under present conditions.

America would look with anxiety on the discouragement of farming activity either through the governments neglect or its paralysis by socialistic practices. A Republican administration will be committed to renew regard for agriculture, and seek the participation of farmers in curing the ills justly complained of, and aim to place the American farm where it ought to be highly ranked in American activities and fully sharing the highest good fortunes of American life.

Becomingly associated with this subject are the policies of irrigation and reclamation, so essential to agricultural expansion, and the continued development of the great and wonderful west. It is our purpose to continue and enlarge federal aid, not in sectional partiality, but for the good of all America.

I believe the budget system will effect a necessary, helpful reformation, and reveal business methods to government business.

I believe federal departments should be made more business-like and send back to productive effort thousands of federal employees, who are either duplicating work or not essential at all.

I believe in reciprocative tariff policy and know we will be calling for its saving Americanism again.

I believe in a great merchant marine. I would have this Republic the [illegible] of the world.

I believe in a navy ample to protect it and able to assure us dependable defense.

I believe in a small army but the best in the world with a mindfulness for preparedness which will avoid the unutterable cost of our previous neglect.

I believe in our eminence in trade abroad, which the Government should aid in expanding both in revealing markets and speeding cargoes.

I believe in establishing standards for immigration which are concerned with the future citizenship of the Republic not with mere man power in industry.

I believe that every man who dons the garb of American citizenship and walks in the light of American opportunity must become American in heart and soul. I believe in holding fast to every forward step in unshackling child labor and elevating condition of womans' unemployment.

I believe the federal government should stamp out lynching and remove that stain from the fair name of America.

I believe the federal government should give its effective aid in solving the problem of ample and becoming housing of its citizens.

I believe this government should make its liberty and victory bonds worth all that its patriotic citizens paid in purchasing them.

I believe the tax burdens imposed for the war emergency must be revised to the needs of peace and in the interest of equity in distribution of the burden.

I believe the negro citizens of America should be guaranteed the enjoyment of all their rights that they have earned the full measure of citizenship bestowed that their sacrifices in blood on the battlefields of the Republic have entitled them to all freedom and opportunity all of sympathy and aid that the American spirit of fairness and justice demands.

I believe there is an easy and open path to righteous relationship with Mexico. It has seemed to me that our undeveloped uncertain and infirm policy has made us a culpable party to the Governmental misfortunes in that land. Our relations ought to be both friendly and sympathetic; we would like to acclaim a stable government there and offer a neighborly hand in pointing the way to greater progress.

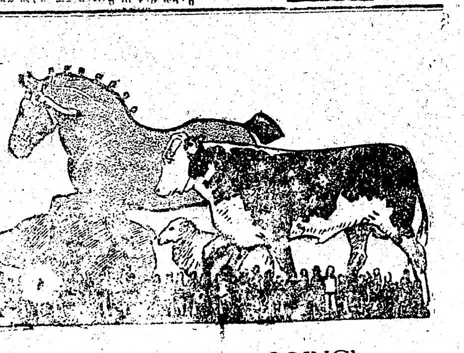
I believe in law enforcement. If elected I mean to be a constitutional president and it is impossible to ignore the constitution, unthinkable to evade the law when our every committal is to orderly government.

The four million defenders on land and sea were worthy of the best traditions of a people never war like in peace and never pacifist in war. They commanded our pride, they have our gratitude which must be genuine expression. It is not only a duty, it is a privilege to see that the sacrifices made shall be requitted and that those still suffering from casualties and disabilities shall be abundantly aided and restored to the highest capabilities of citizenship and its enjoyment.

The womanhood of America, always its glory, its inspiration and the potent uplifting force in its social and spiritual development is about to be enfranchised. In-so-far as congress can go the fact is already accomplished. By party edict by my recorded vote by personal conviction I am committed to this measure of justice. It is my earnest hope my sincere desire that the one needed state vote be quickly recorded in the affirmation of the right of equal sufferage and that the vote of every citizen shall be cast and counted in the approaching election.

And to the great number of noble women who have opposed in conviction this tremendous change in the ancient relation of the sexes as applied by government I venture to plead that they will accept the full responsibility of enlarged citizenship and give to the best in the Republic their suffrage and support.

Ours is not only a fortunate people, but a very common sensical people with vision high but their feet on the earth with belief in themselves and faith in God. Whether enemies threaten from without of menaces arise from within there is some indefinable voice says, "Have confidence in the Republic. America will go on."



SURE, WE'RE GOING!

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

FARMERS DO WELL

Will Get Above 40 Cents Over the Fixed Scale Set—World Looking to the Dominion for Its Grain.

It will be of interest to many readers to learn that their farmer friends in Canada will do so well out of the wheat they grew on western Canada's prairies last year.

There was a fixed price of $2.15 per bushel paid for their wheat last season.

Not knowing the price at which it would be possible to market the crop, the Canadian grain board, which organization handled the whole of the crop last summer, fixed $2.15 as a minimum price for No. 1 wheat, and arranged that each farmer should be given certificates for the quantity of wheat he delivered. The amount received over and above the fixed price which was paid to the farmers when selling their wheat was to be divided pro rata at the end of the season, and the holders of these certificates will, therefore, participate in the extra price received according to the quantity of wheat sold.

The latest advices are that the wheat board will pay at least 40 cents a bushel over the fixed rate of $2.15 a bushel for their wheat of last season. This means that about $40,000,000 will be distributed among the farmers of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. This sum represents the difference in the price at which the wheat crop was sold and the price that was fixed for last season's crop.

Canadian Wheat in Demand.

A declaration that Canadian wheat would in all probability sell this year at between $3 and $5 per bushel, was made recently before a conference of western supporters of the government by Dr. Robert Magill, who was one of a deputation from the Winnipeg grain exchange. Dr. Magill argued in favor of open trading from the aspect of world conditions. He stated that no wheat could be exported from Russia owing to internal troubles.

Roumania would have absolutely none to export, India was prohibiting export, while Australia's acreage would fall from 12,000,000 to 7,000,000. The result would be that Australia would scarcely have enough to feed herself, and there would be absolutely no wheat for Europe, except from the Argentine and North America.

Dr. Magill, according to formal announcement, though it would be impossible to secure as good a price for the producer by control as by the open market. The United States market was now open, and, according to present prospects, there would be mighty little to spare from that quarter. The net result would be that Canadian wheat would undoubtedly go to a record figure.—Advertisement.

Sixty-Year-Old Apple Tree.

In 1858 a Missouri farmer decided that he wanted to take Greeley's advice and go West to do a little growing up with the country. He took with him a tiny apple tree growing on his farm, to see what luck it might bring him. From all appearances he made a wise move, for the tree is still growing and showering apples all over the orchard each year.

BIG CROPS ASSURED IN WESTERN CANADA

Need of Farm Labor Urgently Required for Harvest.

Rains of the past week which have been general throughout all portions of Western Canada, covering MANITOBA, SASKATCHEWAN, and ALBERTA, have placed beyond all manner of doubt the certainty of vast grain crops throughout the entire district.

Reports from all points indicate marvelous and rapid growth. The conditions of a week or so back, which were decidedly less promising and led many to think that there might be a partial failure, have disappeared altogether and now there is a wave of optimism circulating throughout the entire country.

In 1915 there were enormous yields reported from all parts, and it would appear now as if in many places the yields of 1915 would be equaled if not beaten.

What might appear to be a drawback, is the apparent shortage of farm help. The Province of Manitoba through its Employment Bureau in Winnipeg, is asking for 10,000 harvest hands and over, offering from $5 to $6 per day. The Province of Saskatchewan is asking for 15,000 extra hands to take care of the immense harvest that is certain to be reaped in that Province. In Alberta the crop area is somewhat less, the labor conditions somewhat better, and is making request for 5,000 extra farm hands.

Interviewing the officials of the different Governments, they are inclined to the opinion that as the crops in Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Illinois and other Central States are harvested there will be a movement northward that will materially help to take care of the labor situation. With the low railroad rates that may be secured on application to the Employment Offices at Winnipeg and at boundary points, or which may be secured through the Canadian Government Offices at Chicago, Ill.; Detroit, Mich.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Kansas City, Mo.; Omaha, Neb.; Des Moines, Ia.; Watertown, S. D.; St. Paul, Minn., and Grand Forks, N. D., will give to those seeking employment the opportunity to reach the harvest fields at a low cost.—Advertisement.

END OF EIGHT YEARS MISERY

After Ten Years—Eatonic Proves the Best

"I say, God bless eatonic," writes Mrs. Delia M. Doyen. "I can truthfully say, after suffering with stomach trouble for ten long years; that I hava never had anything do me so much good as this one box of eatonic."

We print these grateful words from this dear lady, so that sufferers everywhere may have hope and a little faith—just enough to give eatonic a trial. Why, folks, last year over half a million people used eatonic and found relief.

This is the secret: Eatonic simply takes up the excess acids, poisons and gases, and carries them right out of the body. Of course, when the cause is removed, the sufferer gets well. Stomach trouble causes about seventy non-organic diseases, so, if you are suffering any kind of misery, not feeling well, go right to your druggist today and obtain a big box of eatonic; cost is a trifle. Use it and find quick, sure relief.

Make this test—you will see, and then, if you are not satisfied, your druggist will hand your money back. He does not want one penny unless eatonic pleases you. Adv.

"It must be wonderful to live all your life long in the midst of the 'Land of a Million Smiles,' where the silvery waters purl and plash and the nymphs frolic all the day!" prattled one member of a party of city motorists who had invaded the Ozarks.

SOMETHING NEW TO MOTHER

Dear Old Lady Had a Good Deal to Learn About the Latest Idea in Silk Stockings.

Styles may come and styles may go, but an old-fashioned mother like Bab's can't be expected to keep abreast with the latest creations. She is always looking after the welfare of the family, whether it is preparing father's choice dish or skimping her own needs so that Johnny or Bab may keep up appearances with the twentieth century younger set.

Mother recently was going over the week's washing, putting a patch here, catching a button there and seeing to it that the stockings were carefully mended. She came across a pair of stockings that Bab had purchased the week before. They were the latest thing dictated by fashion, the lisle stocking with lace designs on the sides, which very much resembles the lowly "run."

"And bless you, mother sewed up every one of them," giggled Bab to a friend, a few days later, "and they cost me $8 a pair, too."

MINERS DEMAND RIGHTS OF UNION

Trouble in Eastern Coal Fields Not Over Wage Scale But Over Organization.

BOTH SIDES REVIEWED

President of Mine Workers and Head of Operators Association Discucs Unionization of Important Virginia Sections.

Williamson, W. Va.—An industrial conflict is being waged between mine operators and leaders of the United Mine Workers over the question whether all the bituminous coal miners in West Virginia shall be organized as union men.

Charles F. Keeney, president of district No. 17 of the United Mine Workers, who is in command of the union forces, explains the situation here by saying:

"There are approximately 55,000 organized miners in West Virginia and 35,000 who have not yet been organized. The campaign to organize these miners is well under way and we expect to have it completed before the snow flies.

"The men and the operators could get together and settle this thing if it were not for the mine guards. They are depriving the men of their constitutional rights and that brings about trouble.

"What would happen if an attempt were made to operate the mines here with non-union men? I wouldn't like to say. But in their present temper, these men are not to be fooled with. This situation is a powder mill. The men have no complaint when the law is enforced by the proper authorities. But they will oppose to the last, the use of private armies enlisted by the coal companies."

Harry Olmstead, of the Coal Operators' association of Williamson, gave the other side of the controversy.

Organization the Aim.

"The United Mine Workers want to organize their field," said Mr. Olmstead, "and then move on to larger and more important fields. They will then be in position to enforce the demands formulated at the Cleveland convention last year, and which they could not enforce in the general coal strike last year, because our mines in this part of the state were operating and our men stuck to their posts. We saved the country from suffering then because this field was not organized.

POSTAL CLERKS MAY STRIKE

Campaign for Better Working Conditions Is Censured by U. S.

Chicago.—Pierce E. Butler, president of the Chicago Postal Clerks union, and Harry W. Starr, assistant city prosecutor and a former postal clerk, have gone to Washington to appeal to President Wilson to provide a court of appeals to act on what the clerks term "unfair treatment and too much departmental authority." They also will endeavor to enlist the aid of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and national labor leaders in their behalf.

The delegation's trip to Washington is the result of charges of "unbecoming conduct" sent from Washington against ten Chicago clerks who directed a publicity campaign for "higher pay and better working conditions" in the Chicago postoffice. The men were ordered to "show cause within five days why they should not lose their positions."

Threats of a strike of the 4,000 clerks in the Chicago postoffice, in the event the men are discharged, have been made but no action looking to this step has been taken.

POLISH DELEGATES IN RUSSIA

Plenipotentiaries of Poland and Soviet Russia in Conference.

Warsaw.—Doubt is expressed in diplomatic circles here as to whether an agreement for an armistice will come out of the negotiations between the Polish and soviet emissaries at Baranovitchi. It is thought the soviet authorities are likely to insist upon terms too severe for the Poles to accept.

The Polish delegates have carried with them into the Russian lines a portable wireless outfit which they intended to use for communication with Warsaw. Officials said that it might be days before the negotiations were heard from but later advices were that the Polish plenipotentiaries appointed to negotiate an armistice agreement with representatives of the Russian Bolshevik government had arrived safely at Baranovitchi where the armistice conference will be held.

State Gives Free Radium Treatment

New York—Free radium treatment for sufferers from cancer will be administered beginning October 15 by the state institution for the study of malignant diseases at Buffalo, it is announced here. The treatment has been made possible through a recent appropriation of $225,000 for the purchase of two and one quarter grams of the precious mineral. "Any citizen of the United States will be treated free of charge," said Dr. Harvey R. Gaylord

Some More Truths.

WOULD you use a steam shovel to move a pebble? Certainly not. Implements are built according to the work they have to do.

Would you use a grown-up's remedy for your baby's ills? Certainly not. Remedies are prepared according to the work THEY have to do.

All this is preliminary to reminding you that Fletcher's Castoria was sought out, found and is prepared solely as a remedy for Infants and Children. And let this be a warning against Substitutes, Counterfeits and the Just-as-good stuff that may be all right for you in all your strength, but dangerous for the little babe.

All the mother-love that lies within your heart cries out to you: Be true to Baby. And being true to Baby you will keep in the house remedies specially prepared for babies as you would a baby's food, hairbrush, tootbrush or sponge.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Are You Prepared?

A doctor in the house all the time would be a good idea. Yet you can't afford to keep a doctor in the family to keep baby well or prevent sickness. But you can do almost the same thing by having at hand a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria, because it is a wonderful remedy for indigestion, colic, feverishness, fretfulness and all the other disorders that result from common ailments that babies have.

Fletcher's Castoria is perfectly safe to use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Children cry for Fletcher's Castoria, and mothers recommend it because they have found it a comfort to children and a mother's friend.

If you love your baby, you know how sweet it is to be able to help baby when trouble comes. You cannot always call upon a doctor. But doctors have nothing but good to say of Fletcher's Castoria, because they know that it can only do good—that it can't do any harm—and they wouldn't want you to use for baby a remedy that you would use for yourself.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA.

Chickens and Chickens.

"Do your neighbor's chickens bother you any?" asked an East side gentleman of his neighbor, who lived near a large family.

"No," replied the other, thinking that reference was made to the neighbor's three comely daughters. "They go down town every day, so we don't see much of them."—Columbus Dispatch.

Don't Let Catarrh Drag You into Consumption

Avoid Its Dangerous Stage.

There is a more serious stage of Catarrh than the annoyance caused by the stopped-up air passages, and the hawking and spitting and other distasteful features.

The real danger comes from the tendency of the disease to continue its course downward until the lungs become affected, and then dreaded consumption is on your path. Your own experience has taught you that the disease cannot be cured by sprays, inhalers, jellies and other local applications.

S. S. S. has proven a most satisfactory remedy for Catarrh because it goes direct to its source, and tends to remove the germs of the disease from the blood. Get a bottle from your druggist today, and begin the only logical treatment that gives real results. For free medical advice write to Medical Director, 194 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

County Division Again

Governor Burnquist issued a proclamation Saturday calling for an election to be held on Tuesday Nov. 2nd, 1920, the day of the general election, to vote on the question of dividing Marshall County.

The name for the new county is to be "Liberty" and includes the eastern part of Marshall county, which has always been too large, and the time for dividing it is now ripe.

So much has been said about this matter that we feel justified in stating the facts in the case, as we see them, and as the reader will notice herewith:

Five men are named for temporary county commissioners and the village of Holt for the temporary county seat. It is necessary and according to law to include these on the ballot for dividing the county, otherwise there would be the expense and confusion of another election to choose officers, etc.

In other words, the question to be voted on is one of dividing the county, and not for a county seat.

We have two buildings, in either of which, temporary or permanent quarters can be arranged for county offices at less expense than the lots would cost on which to erect a new building.

Any question of a new court house would have to be submitted to the voters of the county, and no one need to fear higher taxes than we have at present.

A Warren report states that the Governor has deferred action on the rival petitions for county division, pending further advice from the attorney-general, but we somewhat doubt the accuracy of this report.

Good Road Assured

J. A. Sorum was in Warren Monday on official business and and succeeded in getting the county commissioners to make an appropriation of $500.00 for grading the approaches and fixing up the new bridge recently built by Olaus Rodahl. He also induced the board to order an immediate survey of State Road No. 7., so as to get Federal aid for rebuilding and repairing the road. After the survey is completed a resolution will be passed to sell road bonds and if Amendment No. 1, carries, as almost everyone hopes it will, whatever money has been spent on the road will be paid back to the county.

The passage of the ammendment would mean a paved road from Thief River Falls thru Stiner, Holt, Middle River, Strathcona, & Greenbush to Roseau. There is also a strong sentiment favoring this route for the Jefferson Highway.

Everyone is hopeing that the above plans will work out alright and that State Road No. 7 will soon be all it should be, and the villages and farm lands benefited thereby will soon come unto their own.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

ALLIES READY TO AID POLAND

Only Two of American Legation Remain as Red Hordes Sorely Press Polish Capital—Red Cross Workers Stay at Posts.

Warsaw.—All foreign legations in Warsaw have left for Posen on special trains. John Campbell White, secretary, and J. Pierpont Moffat, third secretary of the American legation, and the military attaches will remain in Warsaw for the present, but the rest of the personnel have left the city. American women remaining in Warsaw are a few Red Cross nurses and some Y. M. C. A. workers.

Russian bolshevik attacks apparently have broken the Polish lines near the East Prussian frontier and cavalry patrols have swept forward in a great encircling movement north of Warsaw. In the center of the Polish front the soviet armies also seem to have torn a great gap in the defenses of Warsaw.

Przasnysz, a city 41 miles north of Warsaw, has been occupied by the advance guards of the bolshevik horde, which have passed on and are reported to be approaching Mlawa, to the west, and Ciechanow, to the southwest. The loss of Przasnysz is admitted in an official statement issued from Warsaw and it would seem that the soviet horsemen are advancing almost without serious opposition.

Gain Considerable.

The bolsheviki were last reported fighting the Poles near Myszyniec, near the East Prussia border. When they broke through is not known, but it appears they have gained at least ten miles since then. Polish troops have been entrenching their lines east of Mlawa, which is situated on the railroad line running from Warsaw to Danzig. It is believed they will make a desperate effort to prevent the capture of the city by soviet armies.

Coincident with the bolshevik advance on the north, the Polish lines from the south of Ostrov to west of Brest-Litovsk have been forced back. Soviet troops have forced their way into Sokolow and are reported to be fighting east of Siedlce, the bolsheviki are also said to have taken Piszczac, west of Brest-Litovsk. In this region they are said to have control of the road leading west from Brest-Litovsk to Biala.

Further south there has been serious fighting and important successes are claimed by the bolsheviki.

Great Britain and France are prepared to take instant action against the bolsheviki as a consequence of the latter's refusal to grant Premier Lloyd George's request for a ten-day truce with the Poles. Mr. Lloyd George has conferred with Premier Millerand of France and heads of the British army and navy have been recently closeted with Marshal Foch of France.

After the premiers decided to furnish munitions and technical advice to Poland, Mr. Lloyd George succeeded in getting M. Millerand to consent to withhold application of aid until after the preliminary results of the conference at Minsk between bolsheviki and Polish representatives are known.

Polish plenipotentiaries have crossed the fighting zone east of Warsaw on their way to Minsk, where they will begin armistice and peace negotiations.

MINNESOTA SHERIFF KILLED

Worthington, Minn. — Bloodhounds and scores of citizens, many sworn in as deputy sheriffs, have been searching the countryside for the slayer of Sheriff T. J. McCall of Noble county. Army Wants Newspaper Men.

Washington, D. C.—With the term of service of many men who were in the army during the war ending now and present plans being to retain an army of occupation in Germany, many chances for foreign service are open. Besides the number yet to be recruited for the infantry and field artillery a special call has been issued for newspaper men. Ten men are needed for work on the "Amaroc News," the daily published for the American forces in Germany. The work is standard newspaper work.

BIG CROPS ASSURED IN WESTERN CANADA

Need of Farm Labor Urgently Required for Harvest.

Rains of the past week which have been general throughout all portions of Western Canada, covering MANITOBA, SASKATCHEWAN, and ALBERTA, have placed beyond all manner of doubt the certainty of vast grain crops throughout the entire district.

Reports from all points indicate marvelous and rapid growth. The conditions of a week or so back, which were decidedly less promising and led many to think that there might be a partial failure, have disappeared altogether and now there is a wave of optimism circulating throughout the entire country.

In 1915 there were enormous yields reported from all parts, and it would appear now as if in many places the yields of 1915 would be equaled if not beaten.

What might appear to be a drawback, is the apparent shortage of farm help. The Province of Manitoba through its Employment Bureau in Winnipeg, is asking for 10,000 harvest hands and over, offering from $5 to $6 per day. The Province of Saskatchewan is asking for 15,000 extra hands to take care of the immense harvest that is certain to be reaped in that Province. In Alberta the crop area is somewhat less, the labor conditions somewhat better, and is making a request for 5,000 extra farm hands.

Interviewing the officials of the different Governments, they are inclined to the opinion that as the crops in Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Illinois and other Central States are harvested there will be a movement northward that will materially help to take care of the labor situation. With the low railroad rates that may be secured on application to the Employment Offices at Winnipeg and at boundary points, or which may be secured through the Canadian Government Offices at Chicago, Ill.; Detroit, Mich.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Kansas City, Mo.; Omaha, Neb.; Des Moines, Ia.; Watertown, S. D.; St. Paul, Minn., and Grand Forks, N. D., will give to those seeking employment the opportunity to reach the harvest fields at a low cost.—Advertisement.

But she was delighted to hear the news and questioned him eagerly about it.

"How many clothes closets are there, Henry," she demanded.

"There are six," replied the man, proudly.

"But that's hardly enough, Henry." "What do you want with more than six closets? That's enough to hang your clothes in, is it not?"

"Yes, dear," replied the maiden firmly. "But you'll want part of one for your clothes, won't you, Henry?"

ALLIES READY TO AID POLAND

Only Two of American Legation Remain as Red Hordes Sorely Press Polish Capital—Red Cross Workers Stay at Posts.

Warsaw.—All foreign legations in Warsaw have left for Posen on special trains. John Campbell White, secretary, and J. Pierpont Moffat, third secretary of the American legation, and the military attaches will remain in Warsaw for the present, but the rest of the personnel have left the city. American women remaining in Warsaw are a few Red Cross nurses and some Y. M. C. A. workers.

Russian bolshevik attacks apparently have broken the Polish lines near the East Prussian frontier and cavalry patrols have swept forward in a great encircling movement north of Warsaw. In the center of the Polish front the soviet armies also seem to have torn a great gap in the defenses of Warsaw.

Przasnysz, a city 41 miles north of Warsaw, has been occupied by the advance guards of the bolshevik horde, which have passed on and are reported to be approaching Mlawa, to the west, and Ciechanow, to the southwest. The loss of Przasnysz is admitted in an official statement issued from Warsaw and it would seem that the soviet horsemen are advancing almost without serious opposition.

Gain Considerable.

The bolsheviki were last reported fighting the Poles near Myszyniec, near the East Prussia border. When they broke through is not known, but it appears they have gained at least ten miles since then. Polish troops have been entrenching their lines east of Mlawa, which is situated on the railroad line running from Warsaw to Danzig. It is believed they will make a desperate effort to prevent the capture of the city by soviet armies.

Coincident with the bolshevik advance on the north, the Polish lines from the south of Ostrov to west of Brest-Litovsk have been forced back. Soviet troops have forced their way into Sokolow and are reported to be fighting east of Siedlce, the bolsheviki are also said to have taken Piszczac, west of Brest-Litovsk. In this region they are said to have control of the road leading west from Brest-Litovsk to Biala.

Further south there has been serious fighting and important successes are claimed by the bolsheviki.

Great Britain and France are prepared to take instant action against the bolsheviki as a consequence of the latter's refusal to grant Premier Lloyd George's request for a ten-day truce with the Poles. Mr. Lloyd George has conferred with Premier Millerand of France and heads of the British army and navy have been recently closeted with Marshal Foch of France.

After the premiers decided to furnish munitions and technical advice to Poland, Mr. Lloyd George succeeded in getting M. Millerand to consent to withhold application of aid until after the preliminary results of the conference at Minsk between bolsheviki and Polish representatives are known.

Polish plenipotentiaries have crossed the fighting zone east of Warsaw on their way to Minsk, where they will begin armistice and peace negotiations.

MINNESOTA SHERIFF KILLED

Man Accused of Theft Shoots Officer and Wounds Another; Escapes.

Worthington, Minn.—Bloodhounds and scores of citizens, many sworn in as deputy sheriffs, have been searching the countryside for the slayer of Sheriff T. J. McCall of Noble county. McCall was killed and Jack Foster, an employe of a construction crew was shot and wounded, when they attempted to arrest two men accused of stealing Foster's clothes.

When McCall and Foster encountered the men near Brewster and ordered them to surrender, one of the suspects opened fire, and three bullets entered the sheriff's body, causing instant death. Foster, who was shot in the jaw, is in a local hospital and will recover.

A suspect, arrested at Heron Lake, testified at the inquest that he had joined the man who did the shooting at Brewster, in Noble county, and that they walked to Miloma, in Jackson county. He declared he did not know the name of the other man.

Army Wants Newspaper Men.

Washington, D. C.—With the term of service of many men who were in the army during the war ending now and present plans being to retain an army of occupation in Germany, many chances for foreign service are open. Besides the number yet to be recruited for the infantry and field artillery a special call has been issued for newspaper men. Ten men are needed for work on the "Amaroc News," the daily published for the American forces in Germany. The work is standard newspaper work.

BIG CROPS ASSURED IN WESTERN CANADA

Need of Farm Labor Urgently Required for Harvest.

Rains of the past week which have been general throughout all portions of Western Canada, covering MANITOBA, SASKATCHEWAN, and ALBERTA, have placed beyond all manner of doubt the certainty of vast grain crops throughout the entire district.

Reports from all points indicate marvelous and rapid growth. The conditions of a week or so back, which were decidedly less promising and led many to think that there might be a partial failure, have disappeared altogether and now there is a wave of optimism circulating throughout the entire country.

In 1915 there were enormous yields reported from all parts, and it would appear now as if in many places the yields of 1915 would be equaled if not beaten.

What might appear to be a drawback, is the apparent shortage of farm help. The Province of Manitoba through its Employment Bureau in Winnipeg, is asking for 10,000 harvest hands and over, offering from $5 to $6 per day. The Province of Saskatchewan is asking for 15,000 extra hands to take care of the immense harvest that is certain to be reaped in that Province. In Alberta the crop area is somewhat less, the labor conditions somewhat better, and is making a request for 5,000 extra farm hands.

Interviewing the officials of the different Governments, they are inclined to the opinion that as the crops in Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Illinois and other Central States are harvested there will be a movement northward that will materially help to take care of the labor situation. With the low railroad rates that may be secured on application to the Employment Offices at Winnipeg and at boundary points, or which may be secured through the Canadian Government Offices at Chicago, Ill.; Detroit, Mich.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Kansas City, Mo.; Omaha, Neb.; Des Moines, Ia.; Watertown, S. D.; St. Paul, Minn., and Grand Forks, N. D., will give to those seeking employment the opportunity to reach the harvest fields at a low cost.—Advertisement.

Or an Outside Nail.

He had bought a house. It had been such a bargain that he couldn't risk waiting till his fiancee saw it.

But she was delighted to hear the news and questioned him eagerly about it.

"How many clothes closets are there, Henry," she demanded.

"There are six," replied the man, proudly.

"But that's hardly enough, Henry."

"What do you want with more than six closets? That's enough to hang your clothes in, is it not?"

"Yes, dear," replied the maiden firmly. "But you'll want part of one for your clothes, won't you, Henry?"

Honorable Board of County Commissioners,

Gentlemen:

Referring to the issue of $125,000, 6 per cent Road Bonds of your County to be advertised for sale, dated July 1, 1920, due July 1, 1930, without option of prior payment, both principal and interest payable at the Northwestern National Bank, Minneapolis, Minnesota, we make the following agreement. That we will agree to find you a purchaser for the above described bonds and on date of sale will pay the County par and accrued interest for the bonds; and, for such services rendered the County of Marshall, Minnesota, as their fiscal agent, we are to be paid by said County through its proper sources, the sum of $1250, and in addition thereto the sum of $250.00 to cover the expenses of printing blank bonds and the cost of attorneys services on the issue, all of which are to be taken care of by us as fiscal agent.

The total amount of $1,500.00 is to be paid us when the bonds are issued, taken up and paid for, the County agreeing to advertise these for sale again just as promptly as it can legally be done and it is understood that the bonds are to be legally issued to the satisfaction of our attorney, and the County agrees to deliver to said attorney the necessary certified legal papers, evidencing to his satisfaction the regularity and the legality of the issue.

The Board of County Commissioners further agree to pass such additional resolutions and take such other steps as may be deemed necessary in the approval of the bonds.

Respectfully submitted,

MEANT TO CALL THEM QUICK

Aunt Dinah Had No Idea of Allowing for Misunderstanding When She Rang the Bell.

Aunt Dinah, plantation born and reared, went to a nearby town to "hire out." She was very promptly hired by a young housewife, who, seeing her lack of familiarity with modern households, started to train her.

She showed Aunt Dinah her small silver-service bell—there were no electric bells in the old-fashioned house—and told her that when it was rung she must come into the dining-room. Aunt Dinah said she understood. A few days later the mistress was seated on the broad veranda with a friend when she heard a tremendous clangor from the direction of the kitchen. It came nearer swiftly and soon identified itself as the sound of a large bell.

Puzzled, the housewife entered the hall and there stood Aunt Dinah, swinging a large dinner bell vigorously. "Why, what on earth is the matter, Aunt Dinah?" she gasped. "Why are you ringing that bell?"

"Well, Miss Mary, I thought dat was the way folks called each other in dis here house. Didn't you show me yo' bell the other day? I found dis one in de cupboard and I wanted you right quick in de kitchen, so I rung hit."

Labor Savers.

At a home in North Delaware street the man of the house gathered two or more bushels of nuts last fall and put them in the attic. His wife spends most of her time at the office with him, so the house is empty every day. However, recently the wife remained home one day and heard a terrific noise in the attic. Investigating she found two squirrels rushing around like mad, trying to get out a closed window. They had gnawed a hole in the roof as large as a grapefruit and had disposed of the whole mess of nuts. The owner said they saved him the trouble of feeding them, for he had gathered the nuts for them.—Indianapolis News.

Superstitious Sleuth.

"During the windstorm yesterday afternoon," related Constable Sam T. Slackputter, the sagacious sleuth of Petunia, "a sign board was blown off'm the front of the Right Place store and hit on the head a gent that was coming from the depot to deliver the lyceum course lecture at the op'ry house last night, and knocked him senseless. I d'know as I believe in omens and such things any more than the average person, but I couldn't help thinking that when a circumstance like that happens it is a sign of something.—Kansas City Star.

HAVANA A BABEL OF SOUND

New Yorker Alleges That Metropolis Is Silent in Comparison With the Cuban City.

Havana may not hold the noise championship of the world, but at least little old New York is silent by comparison. Unmuffled motors beyond computation, tram cars that seem far more interested in producing clamor than speed, bellowing venders of everything vendible, are but the background of an unbroken uproar that permeates every nook and cranny of the city. Honest hotel keepers tell you frankly that they can offer every comfort except quiet. Even in church you hear the tumult outside, broken at rare intervals by the voice of the preacher. It is not simply the daytime uproar of business hours, it increases steadily from nightfall until dawn. In olden days the sereno, with his dark lantern, his pike, pistol, bunch of keys, whistle and rope, wandered through the streets calling out the time and the state of weather every half hour. His efforts would be wasted nowadays.

The long-seasoned inhabitants seem to have grown callous to the constant turbulence. I have yet to meet a newcomer who confesses to an unbroken hour of sleep. If you move out to one of the pensions of Vedado, the household itself will keep you constantly reminded that you are still in Havana. The Cubans seem to thrive on noise. If they are so unfortunate as to be denied their beloved din, they lose no time in producing another from their own throats. After a week in Havana we took ferry across the harbor and strolled along the plain behind Cabana fortress. For some time we were aware of an indefinable sensation of strangeness, amounting almost to discomfort. We had covered a mile or more before we suddenly discovered that it was due to the unaccustomed silence.—Century Magazine.

DISHES NOT ALL SHE'D DO

School Teacher Made Her Position Quite Plain to the Man of Her Choice.

She is a schoolteacher, who is anxious to marry, and he is a bashful restaurant owner. For three years she has dined at his restaurant and at some time during every meal he has come to her table to talk to her. But he never suggested any sort of engagement. Yet from the expression in his eyes and his general demeanor she has long been sure that he cared for her. "All he needs is just a little help," her best friend told her the other day.

A few days afterward when she was in the restaurant he came to her table as usual. "I see you'll soon be out of a job," he laughed, and added: "Since your school is going to close Friday you might answer that," and he pointed to a sign on his wall reading "Dishwasher wanted." "Would you wash dishes for me?" he continued.

Back came the reply: "Yes, and cook and sweep and keep house every way."

He took the hint. Also she is going to quit teaching for all time.—Indianapolis News.

Check on the Milkman.

With the aid of an apparatus recently devised by Julius Horvet of the Minneapolis dairy and food commission, it is going to be possible within the space of a very few minutes to state just how long the wily dealer in trick milk has worked the pump handle, or allowed the product of the dairy to remain unprotected in the April showers.

The cryoscope, as the new apparatus is called, works on the basis of the difference in freezing point between water and milk; and it will determine infallibly whether the consumer is receiving pure milk or watered milk, or pure water to which a little milk has been added.—James Anderson, in Scientific American.

Chlorine May Prevent Flu.

Breathing air impregnated with chlorine gas may prove to be a real preventive of influenza. During the recent epidemic, 184 volunteers were subjected to a total of more than 800 treatments at the University of Arkansas. Several children and a nurse engaged in caring for "flu" patients were among the subjects, of whom only one developed a new case, and that evidently had been previously contracted, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The treatment consisted merely of confinement in the chlorine room for five minutes a day, the gas content carrying from 43 to 273 parts in 1,000,000 of air.

One Dozen Giraffes in America.

There are but 12 giraffes in this country—eight with circuses and four others in the zoos of New York and Philadelphia. Four of the 12 were raised by a Belgian named Andrew, in the employ of a circus, who used to be a hunter in Africa. He has made pets of them all, and Mary, who is almost nineteen feet high, responds instantly to his call and is delighted to eat sugar from his hand.

Public Benefactor Dead.

The inventor of the ice-cream soda—Robert McCay Green—recently died in Philadelphia. While exhibiting at the Franklin Institute exposition in Philadelphia two years before the centennial, Mr. Green, to get ahead of a competitor, conceived the idea of mixing the ice cream with the soda, and before the close of the exposition his receipts were more than $200 a day.

FRENCH WATCH GERMAN PLOTS

Will Act Instantly and Forcefully to Enforce Treaty of Versailles.

POLES ARE RETREATING

London Dispatches Claim That Warsaw Was Evacuated Sunday and That Seat of Government Has Been Moved to Cracow.

Paris.—France, acting alone if necessary, is on the verge of sending a stern note to the German government informing it that France will act instantly and forcefully to enforce the treaty of Versailles in its provisions for eastern Europe as well as for the west, and that France can properly take coercive action along the Rhine according to reports in high official circles.

The French government is declared to be convinced that Germany is plotting with the Soviets to nullify the Polish boundaries created by the allies last year and hampering all allied efforts to aid the new republic in a critical period.

Would Provoke Quarrel.

The feeling also is ascribed to the French in official quarters that efforts by certain factions in Germany to provoke an open quarrel between the two countries is approaching a crisis.

Within the past several days all supplies enroute for French troops in the plebiscite area of Upper Silesia have been held up by German rail men and other workers. All of the Saar basin is tied up by a strike and shipments for Poland by way of Germany have been side-tracked or wrecked.

The Communist party of Germany is reported to have ordered its members in East Prussia to extend a welcome to the Bolsheviki, the greatest possible trouble has been stirred up at Danzig, and the recent flag incident at the French embassy in Berlin remains unsettled.

It is declared in official circles that France must show "that the treaty of Versailles is more than a 'scrap of paper'."

United States May Take Action.

With the threatened political and economic collapse of Poland and reactions of similar gravity anticipated in states adjacent to the new republic, officials described the situation as approaching a point where self interest would prompt the United States to take action.

Warsaw.—Military attaches were told at the Polish army headquarters that the Polish line directly northeast of Warsaw had been withdrawn to a position about 80 kilometers (about 50 miles) from the capital. Owing to this withdrawal, which took place below Ostrow, the Poles were out of contact with the Bolsheviki at various points. Hard fighting was reported all along the Bug river, where the Polish resistance was said to be stiffening.

Dispatches from London state that Warsaw was evacuated Sunday by the Polish government and representatives of the allied nations, according to a Berlin dispatch. The report adds that the Polish government will retire to Cracow.

A Monday morning dispatch from London says: The outer forts of Warsaw have been under bombardment since Friday morning, according to a wireless dispatch from Berlin. The Poles are returning the Bolshevik fire and the Bolshevik government has refused a proposition in the British government's last note to conclude a ten days' truce with Poland. The Moscow government has notified the British government that it has been arranged for Polish delegates to cross the Russian front on the evening of August 9 and for armistice and peace negotiations to begin at Minsk August 11.

BIG DROP IN SUGAR PRICES

People from Other States Buying Colorado Sugar for 15 Cents.

Denver, Col.—They're bootlegging sugar out of Colorado.

Sugar is 15 cents a pound here, in the height of the canning season.

In some states it is anywhere from 28 to 36 cents, and you have to bring pressure to bear on the grocer to get a few pounds at that price.

Every tourist who passes through Denver and hears of the 15-cent sugar carries away material for an orgy of fruit canning.

A trainload of business men came here recently on a trade excursion from Kansas City, Mo. At home, they had been trying in vain to get their wives enough sugar at 32 cents to put up strawberries.

Ask Hays' Help.

New York.—A two hour's interview with Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, left a delegation of 33 Connecticut suffragists "not fully satisfied" with the attitude of the Republican party on the Anthony suffrage amendment which they declared they wanted passed by the thirty-sixth state "in time for women to vote in November." Mr. Hays promised to address a personal plea to Governor Holcomb, urging the calling of a session to consider ratification.

TWO GREAT JOKES

Veteran Quips That Undoubtedly Are Centuries Old.

Jests Having to Do With the Mother-in-Law and the Intoxicated Man Always Have Power to Cause a Laugh.

Some one once said that there are only two jokes in the world, the drunken man joke and the mother-in-law joke. There are many variations of the two themes, many ways of presenting the two supremely comic figures, but when we want to make each other laugh we always go back either to the drunken man or to the mother-in-law.

The statement is an exaggeration. There are other jokes. The curate's egg joke, for instance, which has nothing to do either with drunkards or mothers-in-law, and the more recent "better 'ole" joke. But it remains to be seen whether either of these jokes will survive, will amuse generation after generation as the two great jokes do. For the drunken man and the mother-in-law are very old jokes. They have proved their worth by provoking laughter for thousands of years and they are still the most popular jokes there are. A comedian impersonating a drunkard is sure of his laugh, and a public speaker, finding his audience is getting bored, has only to say the words "mother-in-law" to provoke full-throated merriment.

Of the two the drunken man joke seems to be the older. The Spartans knew it, and used to make slaves drunk so that their sons, laughing heartily, might avoid the vice through fear of ridicule. The Jews knew it. Their ancient literature is singularly poor in comedy. There are not half a dozen jokes in the whole Old Testament, but the drunken man joke is there. Isaiah, a grim old puritan of a statesman, made it, and made it in an excellent form. The mother-in-law joke is not so old, but it goes back to classical times.

We find it in Plutarch. "A man once threw a stone at a dog and hit his mother-in-law, 'Not such a bad shot after all,' he said." That is Plutarch's version of the joke. It is so neat and epigrammatic that the joke itself must have been old in his time. He could scarcely have achieved such perfect form unless he had been working on a long familiar idea.

But ancient as these jokes are they have lost none of their freshness for us. Time, it appears, cannot stale their infinite variety. We may fairly suppose that they will last as long as our race does. America may go dry, but the great comic tradition of the drunken man will survive.

The bolshevists may abolish marriage, but men will always remember what marriage was because they will always laugh when anyone says "mother-in-law." We may picture to ourselves the last survivors of our race shivering in icy caves while the sun smoulders to extinction. They will no doubt cheer the desperate hardship of their winter by inventing fresh quips about drunken men and mothers-in-law.

No other joke seems to possess this quality of endurance. Indeed, the path of man's progress through the ages is strewed with the corpses of dead jokes which once were vital enough, but somehow missed immortality. There is the "doctor" joke, for instance. The ancients knew it. "Physician, heal thyself," is a proverbial form of it. The story of the medical man who went out hunting is another version of it. "Today at least," said a friend who met him, "you will kill nothing." It survived down to the middle of the last century, and even in our own time G. B. Shaw has attempted to galvanize it into fresh life. But the joke is really dead. We no longer laugh spontaneously at the thought of a doctor, though in its day the doctor joke was certainly a good one.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

A Sun Volcano.

Not long ago, at the Yerkes observatory, an eruption was observed (and photographed) on the rim of the sun which threw up material to a height of one-half million miles. One cloud of it, which appeared as if floating detached, was reckoned to have some thousands of times the volume of the earth.

We are accustomed to regard great volcanic explosions on the earth as the most appalling of natural phenomena, but they are feeble and trifling disturbances compared with the outbursts which are continually taking place all over the body of the sun.

"Up-to-Date" Bohemian.

Sir William Orpen, the official painter of the peace conference, who recently declined an offer of $5,000,000 to come to America and paint 300 pictures, is the precise opposite in appearance of the popular conception of a great artist. His hair is not long and ruffled; it is short and smooth. He does not wear a flowing collar; he wears a stiff one. He has none of the airs and affections of the bohemian, but impresses one as a typical business man.

Brazil.

Brazil has a total area of 3,290,431 square miles, and so is 263,642 square miles larger than the United States of America, exclusive of Alaska. The population is considerably more than 25,000,000. The republic is made up of 20 states, one federal district and one territory. Brazil produces 75 per cent of the world's coffee and 25 per cent of the world's rubber.

CUTTING DOWN HARBOR THEFTS

HEAVY TOLL TAKEN

New York.—Thousands of dollars worth of loot which used to be almost the nightly toll of New York city harbor motor thieves have now dwindled to a minimum of losses, due to the efficiency of the New York harbor police. The police have jurisdiction over the navigable waters of New York city and their aquatic beat, measured in shore lines, covers a distance of 445 miles.

Speedy motorboats, equipped with automatic rapid fire guns, grappling irons and searchlights, patrol every inch of the distance, day and night. Each member of the sailor police must be able to swim, and swim well. Many of them are former sailors with a technical knowledge of nautical matters which helps them in their present work.

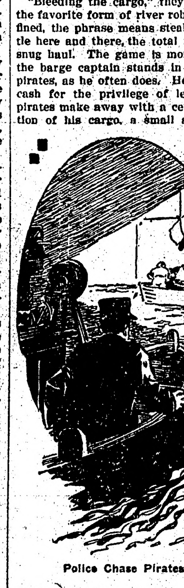
Work During Relieving Hour.

Police and launches work in eight-hour shifts. Immediately following roll call, the launches start off for their post, nearly always close to the pierhead line, and always there at nighttime. The police launches steal along at night without sidelights and now and then flash an inquiring searchlight into the darkest depths of some deserted pier.

For this is the time and place when the motorboat pirate plies his art. He knows the relieving hour, too, and does business very fast during the 30 minutes it takes to change reliefs. In fact, so cognizant is he of the very time and place, that both are changed every fortnight to keep him guessing.

"Bleeding the Cargo."

"Bleeding the cargo," they call it—the favorite form of river robbery. Defined, the phrase means stealing a little here and there, the total making a snug haul. The game is more safe if the barge captain stands in with the pirates, as he often does. He receives cash for the privilege of letting the pirates make away with a certain portion of his cargo, a small supply of sugar, a few bags of coffee or a few yards of rope. Combined, it makes a launch cargo worth considerable money.



Police Chase Pirates.

If it is coffee the thieves are after (already weighed and passed on to the rightful owners) the captain looks the other way while the pirates pilfer a few 100-pound sacks. In 15 minutes it's in the motorboat and off to some "fence" ashore.

The river pirate's vocation is the safest one in the underworld. Nearly all the men have been sailors themselves. They operate under cover of darkness, in speedy motorboats built especially for the work.

CASE TOO MUCH FOR SOLOMON

Charleston, W. Va.—Efforts to follow the example of Solomon in judicial decisions sometimes go wrong. Five witnesses testified that a hen and her brood belonged to Mrs. John Frazier, who had been arrested on a charge of stealing them. Mrs. E. S. Cookham said the hen belonged to her, and six witnesses backed up her claims. Judge Henry Wertz decided to turn the chickens loose at a point half way between the two homes and see if they wouldn't go home to roost. They went to Mrs. Frazier's home. Now Mrs. Cookham's witnesses say chickens recognize as home the last place in which they were fed, and that, of course, they would go to Mrs. Frazier, who was charged with harboring them. "It's a case which even Solomon couldn't handle," says the judge.

Welcome Relief From the Tortures of Rheumatism

Can Come Only From the Proper Treatment.

Many forms of rheumatism are caused by millions of tiny germs that infest the blood, and until the blood is absolutely freed of these germs, there is no real relief in sight.

The most satisfactory remedy for rheumatism is S. S. S. because it is one of the most thorough blood purifiers known to medical science. This fine old remedy cleanses the blood of impurities, and acts as an antidote to the germ of rheumatism.

S. S. S. is sold by druggists everywhere. For valuable literature and advice address Chief Medical Adviser, 107 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

The Mercenaries.

Brander Matthews, the famous critic, discussed at a Columbia tea the American short story.

"The American short story would be better," he said, "if the American short story writer were less mercenary. I'd like him to think more of beauty and less of cash.

"A short story writer read me one of his tales the other day. It wasn't bad, and I told him so.

"'I like the thing,' I said. 'It's realistic.'

"The short story writer beamed.

"'Realistic!' he cried. 'That's the word I want to hear. And how much, Mr. Matthews, do you think it will realize?'"

SPOT DREADED BY SAILORS

Goodwin sands on the English coast, that have a dread record running back to the tenth century, if not further, had a traditional and historic interest, long before the unstable sands became the terror of navigation and the bane of lighthouse builders. They have defied to this day every effort to establish a light. The place was once terra firma, an island with the soft-sounding name Lomea, the property of Earl Godwine—hence Goodwin. By its position at the entrance of Dover strait the islet was subject to furious attacks by the sea, and money was regularly set aside to keep up the fight. But tradition has it that the fund was diverted from this purpose to the erection of a church at neighboring Tenderden and, during subsequent terrible storms, the island of Lomea was overwhelmed and its emplacement transformed into the most deadly dangerous spot on the Kentish coast. It was there that during a terrific hurricane in November, 1703, no less than 13 war vessels went down in one of the greatest marine disasters of all time.

Wonderful.

"I note in my engagement book," the absent-minded professor remarked, "a memorandum—'Tuesday, Miss Classer Wedding.' Evidently Miss Classer is to be married, and I desire to attend, but for the life of me I can't think who it is she is to marry."

"Why, John, you are to marry her yourself!"

"Oh, ah, yes, of course! Wonderful memory you have, my dear sister."

Fooled Him That Time.

"How did you come to put this poem on the back of a Liberty bond?" asked the editor.

"I was tired of hearing you say my poetry wasn't worth the paper it was written on."—Boston Transcript.

Bareback Gowns.

"Why," she cried, "the latest news from Russia is that these curs are selling the very clothes off the women's backs."

Senator Johnson of California looked around the table with a smile. All the ladies' gowns were decollette. In the back this decolletage was especially marked.

"The bolsheviki," he said, "wouldn't find much to sell at a fashionable American dinner party, would they?"

He Didn't Have to Lie.

Dick had been spending the day with a little playmate, and when his mother called for him he hopped in the machine and settled himself comfortably, saying: "Thank heavens that's once I didn't have to tell a lie."

His mother asked what he meant, and he said: "Well, you see Mike's mother wasn't home, so I didn't have to say I had a good time, 'cause I didn't."

Nervous Spells—Near Heart Failure Eatonic Stopped It

Mr. C. B. Loats, writing from his home at Lay, Md., says, "I had been taking medicine from four specialists, but believe me, friends, one box of eatonic has done me more good than all the remedies I have ever tried. I was in awfully bad shape. About half an hour before meals, I got nervous, trembling and heart pressure so bad I could hardly walk or talk. One box of eatonic stopped it."

Eatonic quickly produces these truly marvelous results, because it takes up the poisons and gases and carries them right out of the body. Of course, when the cause is removed, the sufferer gets well.

Everyone that wants better health is told to have just a little faith—enough to try one box of eatonic from your own druggist. The cost is a trifle, which he will hand back to you if you are not pleased. Why should you suffer another day, when quick, sure relief, is waiting for you? Adv.

KNEW WHERE HE WAS GOING

The most conspicuous part of the horse was his prominent ribs. It was certainly an odd-looking animal. Judging by the usual standard of horses, it was not the pride of any one's stables. But the gypsy who led it evidently had hopes of its doing something, for he appeared anxious to make it move.

"Say, guv'nor," shouted an interested spectator, "you're taking the horse the wrong way. The dog kennels lie in the other direction."

"I know my business best," was the retort, "so don't you talk to me. I'm right for the steam laundry, aren't I?"

"Yes, guv'nor."

"Well, I'm taking 'im there, where he'll prove useful as a scrubbing board."

His "Adirondacks."

Following is from the San Diego (Cal.) Union:

"Here is an actual happening at a San Diego home this week. A boy came home and said that the pupils were all examined in his room. His mother asked him what the political M. D.'s said. He replied: 'They told some of them to have their teeth fixed and some to have their Adirondacks cut out.'"

Proof.

"Is he clever?"

"He must be. He never seems to do any work."

You can be sure of this always; the best you can do will be none too good.

Gentlemen:

Referring to the issue of $125,000 6 per cent Road Bonds of your County to be advertised for sale, dated July 1 1920 due July 1 1930, without option of prior payment both principal and interest payable at the Northwestern National Bank, Minneapolis, Minnesota, we make the following agreement: That we will agree to find you a purchaser for the above described bonds and on date of sale will pay the County par and accrued interest for the bonds; and, for such services rendered the County of Marshall, Minnesota, as their fiscal agent, we are to be paid by said County through its proper sources, the sum of $1250, and in addition thereto the sum of $250.00 to cover the expenses of printing blank bonds and the cost of attorneys services on the issue, all of which are to be taken care of by us as fiscal agent.

The total amount of $1,500.00 is to be paid us when the bonds are issued, taken up and paid for, the County agreeing to advertise these for sale again just as promptly as it can legally be done and it is understood that the bonds are to be legally issued to the satisfaction of our attorney, and the County agrees to deliver to said attorney the necessary certified legal papers, evidencing to his satisfaction the regularity and the legality of the issue.

The Board of County Commissioners further agree to pass such additional resolutions and take such other steps as may be deemed necessary in the approval of the bonds.

Respectfully submitted,

MEANT TO CALL THEM QUICK

Aunt Dinah Had No Idea of Allowing for Misunderstanding When She Rang the Bell.

Aunt Dinah, plantation born and reared, went to a nearby town to "hire out." She was very promptly hired by a young housewife, who, seeing her lack of familiarity with modern households, started to train her.

She showed Aunt Dinah her small silver-service bell—there were no electric bells in the old-fashioned house—and told her that when it was rung she must come into the dining room. Aunt Dinah said she understood. A few days later the mistress was seated on the broad veranda with a friend when she heard a tremendous clangor from the direction of the kitchen. It came nearer swiftly and soon identified itself as the sound of a large bell.

Puzzled, the housewife entered the hall and there stood Aunt Dinah, swinging a large dinner bell vigorously. "Why, what on earth is the matter, Aunt Dinah?" she gasped. "Why are you ringing that bell?"

"Well, Miss Mary, I thought dat was the way folks called each other in dis here house. Didn't you show me yo' bell the other day? I found dis one in de cupboard and I wanted you right quick in de kitchen, so I rung hit."

Labor Savers.

At a home in North Delaware street the man of the house gathered two or more bushels of nuts last fall and put them in the attic. His wife spends most of her time at the office with him, so the house is empty every day. However, recently the wife remained home one day and heard a terrific noise in the attic. Investigating she found two squirrels rushing around like mad, trying to get out a closed window. They had gnawed a hole in the roof as large as a grapefruit and had disposed of the whole mess of nuts. The owner said they saved him the trouble of feeding them, for he had gathered the nuts for them.—Indianapolis News.

Superstitious Sleuth.

"During the windstorm yesterday afternoon," related Constable Sam T. Slackputter, the sagacious sleuth of Petunia, "a sign board was blown off'n the front of the Right Place store and hit on the head a gent that was coming from the depot to deliver the lyceum course lecture at the op'ry house last night, and knocked him senseless. I d'know as I believe in omens and such things any more than the average person, but I couldn't help thinking that when a circumstance like that happens it is a sign of something.—Kansas City Star.

HAVANA A BABEL OF SOUND

New Yorker Alleges That Metropolis Is Silent in Comparison With the Cuban City.

Havana may not hold the noise championship of the world, but at least little old New York is silent by comparison. Unmuffled motors beyond computation, tram cars that seem far more interested in producing clamor than speed, bellowing venders of everything vendible, are but the background of an unbroken uproar that permeates every nook and cranny of the city. Honest hotel keepers tell you frankly that they can offer every comfort except quiet. Even in church you hear the tumult outside, broken at rare intervals by the voice of the preacher. It is not simply the daytime uproar of business hours, it increases steadily from nightfall until dawn. In olden days the sereno, with his dark lantern, his pike, pistol, bunch of keys, whistle and rope, wandered through the streets calling out the time and the state of weather every half hour. His efforts would be wasted nowadays.

The long-seasoned inhabitants seem to have grown callous to the constant turbulence. I have yet to meet a newcomer who confesses to an unbroken hour of sleep. If you move out to one of the pensions of Vedado, the household itself will keep you constantly reminded that you are still in Havana. The Cubans seem to thrive on noise. If they are so unfortunate as to be denied their beloved din, they lose no time in producing another from their own throats. After a week in Havana we took ferry across the harbor and strolled along the plain behind Cabana fortress. For some time we were aware of an indefinable sensation of strangeness, amounting almost to discomfort. We had covered a mile or more before we suddenly discovered that it was due to the unaccustomed silence.—Century Magazine.

She is a schoolteacher, who is anxious to marry, and he is a bashful restaurant owner. For three years sh has dined at his restaurant and a some time during every meal he ha come to her table to talk to her. B he never suggested any sort of e gagement. Yet from the expressi in his eyes and his general demean she has long been sure that he car for her. "All he needs is just a litt help," her best friend told her other day.

A few days afterward when she in the restaurant he came to her ta as usual. "I see you'll soon be out a job," he laughed, and added: "Si your school is going to close Fri you might answer that," and he poi ed to a sign on his wall read "Dishwasher wanted." "Would y wash dishes for me?" he continued.

Back came the reply: "Yes, a cook and sweep and keep house every way."

He took the hint. Also she is goi to quit teaching for all time.—Indianapolis News.

Check on the Milkman.

With the aid of an apparatus recently devised by Julius Horvet of the Minneapolis dairy and food commission, it is going to be possible within the space of a very few minutes to state just how long the wily dealer in trick milk has worked the pump handle or allowed the product of the dairy to remain unprotected in the April showers.

The cryoscope, as the new apparatus is called, works on the basis of the difference in freezing point between water and milk; and it will determine infallibly whether the consumer is receiving pure milk or watered milk, or pure water to which a little milk has been added.—James Anderson, in Scientific American.

Chlorine May Prevent Flu.

Breathing air impregnated with chlorine gas may prove to be a real preventive of influenza. During the recent epidemic, 184 volunteers were subjected to a total of more than 800 treatments at the University of Arkansas. Several children and a nurse engaged in caring for "flu" patients were among the subjects, of whom only one developed a new case, and that evidently had been previously contracted, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The treatment consisted merely of confinement in the chlorine room for five minutes a day, the gas content carrying from 43 to 275 parts in 1,000,000 of air.

One Dozen Giraffes in America.

There are but 12 giraffes in this country, eight with circuses and four others in the zoos of New York and Philadelphia. Four of the 12 were raised by a Belgian named Andrew, in the employ of a circus, who used to be a hunter in Africa. He has made pets of them all and Mary, who is almost nineteen feet high, responds instantly to his call and is delighted to eat sugar from his hand.

The inventor of the ice cream [illegible] McCay Green, recently died in Philadelphia. While exhibiting at the Franklin Institute exposition in Philadelphia two years before the centennial Mr. Green, to get ahead of a competitor, conceived the idea of mixing the ice cream with the soda and before the close of the exposition his receipts were more than $200 a day.

FRENCH WATCH GERMAN PLOTS

Will Act Instantly and Forcefully to Enforce Treaty of Versailles.

POLES ARE RETREATING

London Dispatches Claim That Warsaw Was Evacuated Sunday and That Seat of Government Has Been Moved to Cracow.

Paris.—France, acting alone if necessary, is on the verge of sending a stern note to the German government informing it that France will act instantly and forcefully to enforce the treaty of Versailles in its provisions for eastern Europe as well as for the west, and that France can properly take coercive action along the Rhine, according to reports in high official circles.

The French government is declared to be convinced that Germany is plotting with the Soviets to nullify the Polish boundaries created by the allies last year and hampering all allied efforts to aid the new republic in a critical period.

Would Provoke Quarrel.

The feeling also is ascribed to the French in official quarters that efforts by certain factions in Germany to provoke an open quarrel between the two countries is approaching a crisis.

Within the past several days all supplies enroute for French troops in the plebiscite area of Upper Silesia have been held up by German rail men and other workers. All of the Saar basin is tied up by a strike and shipments for Poland by way of Germany have been side-tracked or wrecked.

The Communist party of Germany is reported to have ordered its members in East Prussia to extend a welcome to the Bolsheviki, the greatest possible trouble has been stirred up at Danzig, and the recent flag incident at the French embassy in Berlin remains unsettled.

It is declared in official circles that France must show "that the treaty of Versailles is more than a 'scrap of paper'."

United States May Take Action.

With the threatened political and economic collapse of Poland and reactions of similar gravity anticipated in states adjacent to the new republic, officials described the situation as approaching a point where self interest would prompt the United States to take action.

Warsaw.—Military attaches were told at the Polish army headquarters that the Polish line directly northeast of Warsaw had been withdrawn to a position about 80 kilometers (about 50 miles) from the capital. Owing to this withdrawal, which took place below Ostrow, the Poles were out of contact with the Bolsheviki at various points. Hard fighting was reported all along the Bug river, where the Polish resistance was said to be stiffening.

Dispatches from London state that Warsaw was evacuated Sunday by the Polish government and representatives of the allied nations, according to a Berlin dispatch. The report adds that the Polish government will retire to Cracow.

A Monday morning dispatch from London says: The outer forts of Warsaw have been under bombardment since Friday morning, according to a wireless dispatch from Berlin. The Poles are returning the Bolshevik fire and the Bolshevik government has refused a proposition in the British government's last note to conclude a ten days' truce with Poland. The Moscow government has notified the British government that it has been arranged for Polish delegates to cross the Russian front on the evening of August 9 and for armistice and peace negotiations to begin at Minsk August 11.

BIG DROP IN SUGAR PRICES

People from Other States Buying Colorado Sugar for 15 Cents.

Denver, Col.—They're bootlegging sugar out of Colorado.

Sugar is 15 cents a pound here, in the height of the canning season.

In some states it is anywhere from 28 to 36 cents, and you have to bring pressure to bear on the grocer to get a few pounds at that price.

Every tourist who passes through Denver and hears of the 15-cent sugar carries away material for an orgy of fruit canning.

A trainload of business men came here recently on a trade excursion from Kansas City, Mo. At home, they had been trying in vain to get their wives enough sugar at 32 cents to put up strawberries.

Ask Hays' Help.

New York.—A two hour's interview with Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, left a delegation of 33 Connecticut suffragists "not fully satisfied" with the attitude of the Republican party on the Anthony suffrage amendment which they declared they wanted passed by the thirty-sixth state "in time for women to vote in November." Mr. Hays promised to address a personal plea to Governor Holcomb, urging the calling of a session to consider ratification.

TWO GREAT JOKES

Veteran Quips That Undoubtedly Are Centuries Old.

Jests Having to Do With the Mother-in-Law and the Intoxicated Man Always Have Power to Cause a Laugh.

Some one once said that there are only two jokes in the world, the drunken man joke and the mother-in-law joke. There are many variations of the two themes, many ways of presenting the two supremely comic figures, but when we want to make each other laugh we always go back either to the drunken man or to the mother-in-law.

The statement is an exaggeration. There are other jokes. The curate's egg joke, for instance, which has nothing to do either with drunkards or mothers-in-law, and the more recent "better 'ole" joke. But it remains to be seen whether either of these jokes will survive, will amuse generation after generation as the two great jokes do. For the drunken man and the mother-in-law are very old jokes. They have proved their worth by provoking laughter for thousands of years and they are still the most popular jokes there are. A comedian impersonating a drunkard is sure of his laugh, and a public speaker, finding his audience is getting bored, has only to say the words "mother-in-law" to provoke full-throated merriment.

Of the two the drunken man joke seems to be the older. The Spartans knew it, and used to make slaves drunk so that their sons, laughing heartily, might avoid the vice through fear of ridicule. The Jews knew it. Their ancient literature is singularly poor in comedy. There are not half a dozen jokes in the whole Old Testament, but the drunken man joke is there. Isaiah, a grim old puritan of a statesman, made it, and made it in an excellent form. The mother-in-law joke is not so old, but it goes back to classical times.

We find it in Plutarch. "A man once threw a stone at a dog and hit his mother-in-law. 'Not such a bad shot after all,' he said." That is Plutarch's version of the joke. It is so neat and epigrammatic that the joke itself must have been old in his time. He could scarcely have achieved such perfect form unless he had been working on a long familiar idea.

But ancient as these jokes are they have lost none of their freshness for us. Time, it appears, cannot stale their infinite variety. We may fairly suppose that they will last as long as our race does. America may go dry, but the great comic tradition of the drunken man will survive.

The bolshevists may abolish marriage, but men will always remember what marriage was because they will always laugh when anyone says "mother-in-law." We may picture to ourselves the last survivors of our race shivering in icy caves while the sun smoulders to extinction. They will no doubt cheer the desperate hardship of their winter by inventing fresh quips about drunken men and mothers-in-law.

No other joke seems to possess this quality of endurance. Indeed, the path of man's progress through the ages is strewed with the corpses of dead jokes which once were vital enough, but somehow missed immortality. There is the "doctor" joke, for instance. The ancients knew it. "Physician, heal thyself," is a proverbial form of it. The story of the medical man who went out hunting is another version of it. "Today at least," said a friend who met him, "you will kill nothing." It survived down to the middle of the last century, and even in our own time G. B. Shaw has attempted to galvanize it into fresh life. But the joke is really dead. We no longer laugh spontaneously at the thought of a doctor, though in its day the doctor joke was certainly a good one.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

A Sun Volcano.

Not long ago, at the Yerkes observatory, an eruption was observed (and photographed) on the rim of the sun which threw up material to a height of one-half million miles. One cloud of it, which appeared as if floating detached, was reckoned to have some thousands of times the volume of the earth.

We are accustomed to regard great volcanic explosions on the earth as the most appalling of natural phenomena, but they are feeble and trifling disturbances compared with the outbursts which are continually taking place all over the body of the sun.

"Up-to-Date" Bohemian.

Sir William Orpen, the official painter of the peace conference, who recently declined an offer of $5,000,000 to come to America and paint 300 pictures, is the precise opposite in appearance of the popular conception of a great artist. His hair is not long and ruffled; it is short and smooth. He does not wear a flowing collar; he wears a stiff one. He has none of the airs and affections of the bohemian but impresses one as a typical business man.

Brazil.

Brazil has a total area of 3,290,431 square miles, and so is 263,642 square miles larger than the United States of America, exclusive of Alaska. The population is considerably more than 25,000,000. The republic is made up of 20 states, one federal district and one territory. Brazil produces 75 per cent of the world's coffee and 25 per cent of the world's rubber.

CUTTING DOWN HARBOR THEFTS

HEAVY TOLL TAKEN

New York.—Thousands of dollars worth of loot which used to be almost the nightly toll of New York city harbor motor thieves have now dwindled to a minimum of losses, due to the efficiency of the New York harbor police. The police have jurisdiction over the navigable waters of New York city and their aquatic beat, measured in shore lines, covers a distance of 445 miles.

Speedy motorboats, equipped with automatic rapid fire guns, grappling irons and searchlights, patrol every inch of the distance, day and night. Each member of the sailor police must be able to swim, and swim well. Many of them are former sailors with a technical knowledge of nautical matters which helps them in their present work.

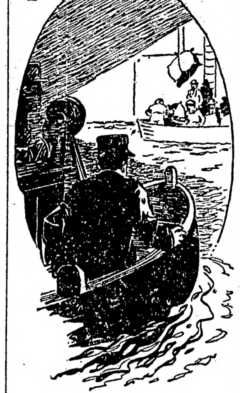
Work During Relieving Hour.

Police and launches work in eight-hour shifts. Immediately following roll call, the launches start off for their post, nearly always close to the pierhead line, and always there at nighttime. The police launches steal along at night without sidelights and now and then flash an inquiring searchlight into the darkest depths of some deserted pier.

For this is the time and place when the motorboat pirate plies his art. He knows the relieving hour, too, and does business very fast during the 30 minutes it takes to change reliefs. In fact, so cognizant is he of the very time and place, that both are changed every fortnight to keep him guessing.

"Bleeding the Cargo."

"Bleeding the cargo," they call it—the favorite form of river robbery. Defined, the phrase means stealing a little here and there, the total making a snug haul. The game is more safe if the barge captain stands in with the pirates, as he often does. He receives cash for the privilege of letting the pirates make away with a certain portion of his cargo, a small supply of sugar, a few bags of coffee or a few yards of rope. Combined, it makes a launch cargo worth considerable money.



Police Chase Pirates.

If it is coffee the thieves are after (already weighed and passed on to the rightful owners) the captain looks the other way while the pirates pilfer a few 100-pound sacks. In 15 minutes it's in the motorboat and off to some "fence" ashore.

The river pirate's vocation is the safest one in the underworld. Nearly all the men have been sailors themselves. They operate under cover of darkness, in speedy motorboats built especially for the work.

CASE TOO MUCH FOR SOLOMON

Charleston, W. Va.—Efforts to follow the example of Solomon in judicial decisions sometimes go wrong. Five witnesses testified that a hen and her brood belonged to Mrs. John Frazier, who had been arrested on a charge of stealing them. Mrs. E. S. Cookham said the hen belonged to her, and six witnesses backed up her claims. Judge Henry Wertz decided to turn the chickens loose at a point half way between the two homes and see if they wouldn't go home to roost. They went to Mrs. Frazier's home. Now Mrs. Cookham's witnesses say chickens recognize as home the last place in which they were fed, and that, of course, they would go to Mrs. Frazier, who was charged with harboring them. "It's a case which even Solomon couldn't handle," says the judge.

Welcome Relief From the Tortures of Rheumatism

Can Come Only From the Proper Treatment.

Many forms of rheumatism are caused by millions of tiny germs that infest the blood, and until the blood is absolutely freed of these germs, there is no real relief in sight.

The most satisfactory remedy for rheumatism is S. S. S. because it is one of the most thorough blood purifiers known to medical science. This fine old remedy cleanses the blood of impurities, and acts as an antidote to the germ of rheumatism.

S. S. S. is sold by druggists everywhere. For valuable literature and advice address Chief Medical Adviser, 107 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

The Mercenaries.

Brander Matthews, the famous critic, discussed at a Columbia tea the American short story.

"The American short story would be better," he said, "if the American short story writer were less mercenary. I'd like him to think more of beauty and less of cash.

"A short story writer read me one of his tales the other day. It wasn't bad, and I told him so.

"'I like the thing,' I said. 'It's realistic.'

"The short story writer beamed.

"'Realistic!' he cried. 'That's the word I want to hear. And how much, Mr. Matthews, do you think it will realize?'"

SPOT DREADED BY SAILORS

Goodwin sands on the English coast, that have a dread record running back to the tenth century, if not further, had a traditional and historic interest, long before the unstable sands became the terror of navigation and the bane of lighthouse builders. They have defied to this day every effort to establish a light. The place was once terra firma, an island with the soft-sounding name Lomea, the property of Earl Godwine—hence Goodwin. By its position at the entrance of Dover strait the islet was subject to furious attacks by the sea, and money was regularly set aside to keep up the fight. But tradition has it that the fund was diverted from this purpose to the erection of a church at neighboring Tenderden and, during subsequent terrible storms, the island of Lomea was overwhelmed and its emplacement transformed into the most deadly dangerous spot on the Kentish coast. It was there that during a terrific hurricane in November, 1703, no less than 13 war vessels went down in one of the greatest marine disasters of all time.

Wonderful.

"I note in my engagement book," the absent-minded professor remarked, "a memorandum—'Tuesday. Miss Classer Wedding.' Evidently Miss Classer is to be married, and I desire to attend, but for the life of me I can't think who it is she is to marry."

"Why, John, you are to marry her yourself!"

"Oh, ah, yes, of course! Wonderful memory you have, my dear sister."

Fooled Him That Time.

"How did you come to put this poem on the back of a Liberty bond?" asked the editor.

"I was tired of hearing you say my poetry wasn't worth the paper it was written on."—Boston Transcript.

Bareback Gowns.

"Why," she cried, "the latest news from Russia is that these curs are selling the very clothes off the women's backs."

Senator Johnson of California looked around the table with a smile. All the ladies' gowns were decollette. In the back this decolletage was especially marked.

"The bolsheviki," he said, "wouldn't find much to sell at a fashionable American dinner party, would they?"

He Didn't Have to Lie.

Dick had been spending the day with a little playmate, and when his mother called for him he hopped in the machine and settled himself comfortably, saying: "Thank heavens that's once I didn't have to tell a lie."

His mother asked what he meant, and he said: "Well, you see Mike's mother wasn't home, so I didn't have to say I had a good time, 'cause I didn't."

Nervous Spells—Near Heart Failure Eatonic Stopped It

Mr. C. B. Loats, writing from his home at Lay, Md., says, "I had been taking medicine from four specialists, but believe me, friends, one box of eatonic has done me more good than all the remedies I have ever tried. I was in awfully bad shape. About half an hour before meals, I got nervous, trembling and heart pressure so bad I could hardly walk or talk. One box of eatonic stopped it."

Eatonic quickly produces these truly marvelous results, because it takes up the poisons and gases and carries them right out of the body. Of course, when the cause is removed, the sufferer gets well.

Everyone that wants better health is told to have just a little faith—enough to try one box of eatonic from your own druggist. The cost is a trifle, which he will hand back to you if you are not pleased. Why should you suffer another day, when quick, sure relief, is waiting for you? Adv.

KNEW WHERE HE WAS GOING

The most conspicuous part of the horse was his prominent ribs. It was certainly an odd-looking animal. Judging by the usual standard of horses, it was not the pride of any one's stables. But the gypsy who led it evidently had hopes of its doing something, for he appeared anxious to make it move.

"Say, guv'nor," shouted an interested spectator, "you're taking the horse the wrong way. The dog kennels lie in the other direction."

"I know my business best," was the retort, "so don't you talk to me. I'm right for the steam laundry, aren't I?"

"Yes, guv'nor."

"Well, I'm taking 'im there, where he'll prove useful as a scrubbing board."

His "Adirondacks."

Following is from the San Diego (Cal.) Union:

"Here is an actual happening at a San Diego home this week. A boy came home and said that the pupils were all examined in his room. His mother asked him what the political M. D.'s said. He replied: 'They told some of them to have their teeth fixed and some to have their Adirondacks cut out.'"

Proof.

"Is he clever?"

"He must be. He never seems to do any work."

You can be sure of this always; the best you can do will be none too good.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

UNCLE SAM WILL SELL BIG FLEET

Gov't Shipping Board Announces Disposal of 1,200 Steel and Many Wood Vessels.

TO BRING BIG REVENUE

Terms of Sale Published While Arrangements Go Forth for Realizing on Enormous Fleet of Wooden Ships.

Washington.—Preparations for the sale of government owned steel merchant ships will begin at once, Chairman Benson of the shipping board, states. Plans for an extensive advertising campaign to place the vessels on the market is under way, he said, and actual disposal of them will start as soon as the necessary details have been completed.

In line with the board's policy for disposing of its entire fleet, it was stated that an active campaign to sell the wooden ships also would be launched. Definite plans for disposition of these craft, however, still are under consideration.

Terms on which the shipping board fleet of more than 1,200 steel vessels, approximating 5,000,000 deadweight tons, is to be sold to private interests under the new merchant marine act, have been announced by Chairman Benson.

Bids for the vessels will be entertained, as they stand, the chairman said, at the minimum of $160 a deadweight ton for coal burners and $170 a deadweight ton for oil burners built on the Great Lakes, to $175 for coal burners and $185 for oil burning vessels over 1,000 deadweight tons.

Terms of sale call for 10 per cent on the purchase price in cash upon delivery, instalments of 5 per cent in six, 12, 18 and 24 months thereafter and the remaining 70 per cent in equal semi-annual instalments.

Purchasers of the ships will be required to deposit all revenues derived from their operation in supervised accounts from which the deferred instalments are to be paid. After payment of current instalments purchasers are permitted to take from the proceeds of operation an amount not exceeding 15 per cent of paid up instalments as a dividend on the investment. On payment of half of the purchase price of the vessel, the buyer will be required to execute a preferred mortgage to the shipping board, after which the vessel will be released from the supervision and control of the board, except as to maintaining its berth and route.

Satisfactory evidence of the financial ability of the buyer to carry out his contract and proof of his nationality will be insisted upon, the chairman stated.

City authorities estimated that the damage to wrecked pavements would run close to $200,000. A number of streets are absolutely out of commission, the block surfacing on one street floating into the lobby of an office building. Damage was heavy to buildings, one collapsing. No casualties are reported.

Miracle of Ingenuity.

The air turbine of I. T. Nedland, a North Dakota artisan, is less than one-twentieth of an inch in diameter and weighs only one-fifth of a grain troy. It has eight parts, the casing being of gold and the motor of steel. The motor, which has six slots, has a diameter of 0.032 inch; the shaft, 0.007 inch. Mounted on a hollow pedestal the turbine is driven at a high rate of speed by a jet of compressed air entering at the bottom. This seems to be the tiniest of all motors, being smaller than the same maker's electric motor and steam engine, each of which is reputed to be the smallest machine of the kind in the world.

The great trouble with the world's idols is that they are all more or less cracked.

POET'S WORD GOOD ENOUGH

A good story is going the rounds of Princeton about Prof. Alfred Noyes, the English poet.

Professor Noyes, it is well known, likes very much to read his works aloud to his friends, and at Princeton, with so many young men under him, he is usually able to gratify this liking to the full.

The other day Professor Noyes said to a junior, who had called about an examination:

"Wait a moment. Don't go yet. I want to show you the proofs of my new book of poems."

But the junior made for the door frantically.

"No, no," he said, "I don't need proofs. Your word is enough for me, professor."

Proper Pride Necessary.

Pride, like laudanum and other poisonous medicines, is beneficial in small, though injurious in large quantities. No man who is not pleased with himself, even in a personal sense, can please others.—Frederick Saunders.

His Favorite Time.

"Wouldn't my little man like to go and visit grandma in the country?" asked his mother.

"Yes, mamma, if the chickens are ripe now," replied the six-year-old.—Boston Transcript.

Puts I Will In You

Easy to Get Strong

Everyone wants more pep and surely needs it this hot weather. Hot weather takes away the appetite and make one feel listless, lifeless, miserable, even when you have a strong stomach, but for those who have weak stomachs, it is really a dangerous, trying time.

Be on the safe side this kind of weather and help nature all you can, by taking an eatonic tablet about half an hour before you eat and one or two an hour after you eat; it will be of wonderful benefit. Eatonic simply takes up the excess acids, poisons and gases, and carries them right out of the body. With the cause of the trouble removed, of course you will feel fit and fine—full of pep all the time. Eatonic will cool feverish mouth and stomach and give you a good appetite, even in hot weather.

Get a big box at your druggist's for a trifling cost and let eatonic help you for a few days; then you will never be without it. Adv.

WAS TO BE MORE YELLING

Safe to Say That Father's Prediction Turned Out to Be Absolutely Correct.

The sweetly peaceful scene in the little sitting room was suddenly disturbed by a loud yell, and the honored guest sprang wildly from the chair into which he had just sunk, while the daughter of the house felt her face grow pale.

She had had hopes from this visit. Alas, poor girl, were they to be blighted?

But father took the matter—and his small son—firmly in hand. With a graceful apology he removed the bent pin from the chair and the aforesaid small boy from the room.

"Now, look here, Charles," he said sternly, in the back yard, "why did you do it?"

"It—it was an experiment, father!" faltered the laddie.

"An experiment!" snorted father. "The only man who has visited your poor sister for years, and you go and drive him away!"

"Well, dad," explained the boy, "he advertises that he is a painless dentist, an' I wanted to find out if it was true, an' it wasn't. You should have heard him yell?"

"Yes," was the father's grim comment. "And some one else is going to hear you yell now?"

YOUNGSTER MADE WORD GOOD

Though, as It Turned Out, It Was at the Cost of Some Personal Discomfort.

Marshall, who is five, lives in a flat building. He is a real boy and although he has a rear yard and a sand pile in which to play, his mother has more or less trouble keeping him off the streets. A neighbor saw him across the street one morning and the next day called his attention to the fact that he was out of the zone mapped for him. He was one of the busy ones about a vegetable wagon. "Yes," he said, "I had to get some sings." The next morning he asked his mother for the market basket. He immediately disappeared and soon returned, accompanied by the vegetable man. In the basket were three pounds of potatoes, a box of berries and two cantaloupes. Mother had to settle whether she needed the goods or not. At any rate, Marshall made his word good with the neighbor that he had to get "some sings." When questioned by the same neighbor about his shopping expedition he said: "Yes, and mother spanked me, too."

HOME RULE SAID TO BE OFFERED

British Finally to Settle Irish Question by the Offer of Dominion Home Rule.

NEW HOPE FOR PEACE

Partial Indeoendence Granted After Months of Factional Disturbances Throughout Ireland Is Notable Concession.

Dublin—It is stated on the highest authority that the British government has definitely offered dominion home rule to Ireland.

The final settlement of the perplexing Irish problem, which has been a source of diplomatic intrigue, riot and bloodshed, appears to be nearly consummated.

Opposition of the Ulstermen to the dominion plan has gradually faded and the final break in their opposition came when a deputation of the Irish Unionist party visited Lloyd George and told the British premier that they were in favor of dominion rule. The full significance of the split in the ranks of Sir Edward Carson, Unionist leader, was not apparent until very recently, when it was learned that the British government had acquiesced in this form of home rule.

Factional Views Divergent.

Heretofore the Ulsterites have held as firmly to their convictions as have the Nationalists and their more vigorous allies, the Sinn Feiners. The Ulsterites have held that those parts of Ireland which want home rule should have it, but that those that do not want home rule should not have it forced upon them.

The Irish home rule bill which passed the House of Commons in its second reading last March has had the enduring and united opposition of all parties. It was denounced by Sir Horace Plunkett, chairman of the Dublin convention, by Herbert H. Asquith, and by leaders of every shade of opinion. Apparently there was not one phase of Lloyd George's scheme, as embodied in that bill, which met with favor.

The measure now proposed of dominion home rule undoubtedly will receive support as the most far-reaching concession Great Britain has ever made in connection with the government of Ireland.

Hope of Peace Seen.

Optimistic views are that it marks the dawn of peace for Erin and holds out the promise of fulfillment of dreams of practical independence she has nursed for many years.

In its fight for home rule, Ireland has not been slow to call upon all aid she could summon and to embarrass the British government whenever the occasion gave promise that it might call the attention of the world to Ireland's cause. In America, land of thousand's of Irish emigrants, emissaries of Nationalists and Sinn Fein made that republic a battleground for Irish political skirmishes, in the hope that the appeal of freedom to a liberty loving nation might swing the support of a majority in that country to Ireland's cause.

OLYMPIC GAMES LAUNCHED

Small Attendance Marks Opening of International Contests.

Olympic Stadium, Antwerp.—The formal opening of the seventh Olympiad of modern times gave illustration of the fact that there are many people who are more interested in the fate of Europe than in sport. Despite advance notices of enormous crowds flocking toward Belgium only a half filled stadium greeted King Albert when he declared the games under way.

But despite the small attendance the crowd there made up with necessary enthusiasm and the parade of several thousand athletes behind the royal tribune was a magnficent and inspiring preliminary to the great, friendly warfare between the 27 nations represented.

The nations followed in French alphabetic order in the parade, the flag of Austria being the first to be dropped before the king. The delegation from Sweden was conceded to have presented the best general appearance.

Japs Reveal Siberian Policy.

Washington.—Japan's reply to the American note protesting against Japanese occupation of the northern part of the Island of Saghalien has been received at the state department. The note was said to have been a lengthy one and it was understood that it went thoroughly into the whole question of the Japanese policy in Siberia.

Grave Disorders in Greece.

Athens.—The news of the attempted assassination of Premier Venizelos in Paris has given rise to unbridled popular indignation here, resulting in excesses such as the wrecking of plants of opposition newspapers and the residence of former Premier Skouloudus, in spite of all precautions taken by the government. Many of the opposition leaders were arrested. M. Iragoumus, former Greek minister to Petrograd, was shot dead while trying to escape from a military escort.

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

OATS BEST CROP

Statistics Show Advantages Over Corn Growing.

On Comparatively Cheap Land in Western Canada Farmers Get Record Yields—Cost Per Acre Much Less Than Corn.

How much more does it cost to grow an acre of corn than to grow an acre of oats? To get a proper comparison it is necessary to take an illustration from a farm on which both crops are grown successfully. An example has just been brought to the writer's attention of the comparative cost of growing corn and oats on a Minnesota farm. It is furnished by Albert Inmer, a well-known farmer in Cottonwood county, Minn., in an article which appeared in the Cottonwood Citizen.

Mr. Inmer says: "I had a curiosity to know how much it would cost to raise an acre of oats and corn. To find out I kept account, during the year, of the time required and the cash expended to grow the above mentioned crops." His figures show that it cost him $31.40 to grow an acre of corn and $18.13 1-3 to grow an acre of oats, or a difference of $13.00 an acre in favor of oats.

Provided the respective crop yields are not altogether out of proportion to the cost of growing the crop, this seems to be a good argument in favor of growing oats. But to grow oats successfully it is not necessary to use $150 or $200 land. In western Canada some of the best oat-growing land in the world can be bought for about $20 an acre. On this land good yields and a high quality of grain is obtainable.

Fifty to sixty bushels to the acre in properly prepared land is a fair average yield for oats in western Canada in a normal season but yields of up to 100 bushels, and even more, to the acre have been frequent in good years. The quality of oats grown in western Canada is attested by the fact that at all the international exhibitions for many years past oats grown in western Canada have been awarded the leading prizes. There is on record oats grown in western Canada that have weighed as much as 48 pounds to the measured bushel, and the dominion grain inspector is authority for the statement that 85 per cent of the oats examined by him in western Canada weigh more than 42 pounds to the measured bushel. The standard weight for a bushel of oats is 34 pounds.

Samples of these oats weighing upward of 45 pounds to the bushel are on exhibition at the Canadian government information bureau, located in various cities in the United States.—Advertisement.

Earthquakes.

The origin of earthquakes has been traced to two principal causes, the first of which is tetonic, and the second volcanic. The former refers to movements in the earth's crust, known as faults, possibly caused by the shrinking of the interior of the earth by reason of cooling.

Terrible Tortures From Itching Skin Diseases

No Sure Relief Until the Cause Is Removed.

When the blood becomes infested with millions of tiny disease germs that attack the skin, then the fiery irritation and intense itching will remain with you until these germs are removed from the blood.

Genuine relief therefore, can only be expected from a treatment that goes right to the seat of the trouble, and strikes at its cause. Such a remedy is S. S. S., the reliable old blood purifier that kills the germs of disease, and sends a new supply of rich red blood coursing through the veins.

S. S. S. has been used successfully in some of the worst cases of eczema and other skin disorders.

English Women in Wit.

One of the best-known women in London's newspaper world, returning from Birmingham by train and endeavoring to make shorthand notes en route, was hopelessly interrupted by a man on the opposite seat who persisted in shouting his political opinions to an acquaintance in the farthest corner, says a writer in the London Evening News. At last he used a phrase containing the word "damn" and turned to apologize to the lady for using such a word.

"Don't mention it," she replied, sweetly. "I have been mentally using the word for the last hour."

And the newspapers of the other passengers rustled through the laughter of their owners.

Why carry a gun when you go hunting for work?

Psychological Moment.

"Do you mean to say that an old-timer like you feels uneasy when called upon to make a political speech?"

"Yes," admitted Senator Sorghum, "though I won't say it's exactly stage fright. You never can tell when everything might have gone your way if you hadn't happened to spring the wrong epigram or funny story."

A Great Improvement.

"Jim's wife can make a tart answer."

"My wife is a lot better than that, for she can make a pie speak for itself."

A Lady Candidate.

"Was the candidate ruffled?"

"No, she wore a severely tailored model."

The meaning of "Dr." depends altogether upon whether it is placed before or after a man's name.

School Notice!

School will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 7. Parents and others are asked to cooperate to help make this year a success and to get all possible benefit from all the money used for the school. A satisfactory school cannot be maintained unless all do their part. Attendance must be regular. Parents should get acquainted with the work and progress of the children and with the work of the the teachers. Parents should get acquainted with the teachers early in the school year.

All children should begin on the first day of the school and attend regularly during the entire year unless prevented by sickness. Those between 14 and 16 years of age may be excused for work as late as the first of November if arrangements are made with the school board. Parents should see the school board at once so we may know who will be absent. There should be no absence during the year without good cause, and in each case the parent is requested to send a written excuse to the teacher.

The school course this year will include the eight elementary grades and the first two years of high school. All who wish to attend high school this year should make arrangements as soon as possible.

As a number of grade pupils from other districts wished to attend our school this year the Board decided to set a monthly charge to cover the cost of books, supplies, equipment, etc. This was necessary as otherwise the high cost of maintaining a school would make it unfair to our district. A similar, (but a higher), charge also was made for all high school students.

A Correction

Having been informed that we made some mistakes in the wedding write up last week, for which we are very sorry, we re-publish it this week with the corrections as requested.

A very pretty wedding occurred at the Synod Lutheran church last Saturday afternoon when one of Holt's popular young ladies, Miss Beatha Nelson was united in marriage to Mr. Reate Werner of near Holt, Rev. Kriedt of Thief River Falls officiating. As the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Esther Werner, pealed forth the wedding party, consisting of the bride, groom, bridesmaid (Ingeborg Nelson), bestman (R. A. Holmgren) and flower girls, little Esther and Beatrice took their places at the altar. The bride was beautifully attired in a lovely white dress and veil and carried white flowers. The bridesmaid was prettily attired in a yellow dress and carried flowers. The color scheme for the decoration of the church was white and yellow.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

DESOLATION AS MURDER RESULT

LISBURN IS BURNED

Assassination of Officer Before His Family Led to Bitter Riot in Which Vast Sinn Fein Properties Were Destroyed.

Lisburn, Ireland.—The business portion of Lisburn presents a scene of ruin and desolation as a result of the burning of shops by loyalists in revenge for the murder of Police Inspector Swanzy here. During the night the sky was lighted up by flames from the shops of supposed Sinn Feiners, the fires also involving a number of loyalist premises. The private homes of Sinn Feiners were burned and the furniture carried into the street and ignited. The military authorities have posted a guard over the Catholic chapel.

William Shaw, a local Sinn Fein councilman, was beaten so severely that he is being detained in the infirmary.

Police Inspector Swanzy, against whom a verdict of wilful murder was given by a coroner's jury in connection with the assassination of Mayor MacCurtain in March, was shot dead while proceeding to his home from church here, to which town he was transferred after the finding of the coroner's jury. The killing of Swanzy was among the most daring of a long series. The congregations were leaving all the Protestant churches at the time and converging on the scene of the shooting. The officer had been with his mother and sister in attendance of the services at Christ church and had reached the corner of Railway street, where he resided.

Here three men, armed with rifles, confronted Swanzy and fired on him in the presence of his horrified family.

Swanzy fell, but to make doubly sure, the assassins discharged their weapons again into his body.

Turning, the assassins ran along Castle street. The congregation was just emerging from the Lisburn cathedral. Captain Woods, commandant of the Lisburn branch of the Ulster volunteers, made a dash for the assassins, although only armed with a stick. The assassins fired on Woods, a bullet shattering the stick in his hand. He was not injured.

The murderers then fired at other persons who had joined in the pursuit.

The crowds were out to burn the house of every nationalist in Lisburn. Boards were wrested from windows that previously had been smashed and fire raiders entered buildings calmly to complete their destruction. The local fire brigade declined to interfere, and the Belfast brigade showed reluctance to respond to calls, as 700 men from Lisburn travel daily to Belfast to work in the shipyards.

The final convention will be submitted for confirmation to the British parliament and the Egyptian assembly.

It is probable the latter body will be asked to pass a new organic law embodying the new agreement and laying down the future constitution and relative responsibilities of the ministry.

Serious Auto Crash.

Fargo, N. D.—Mrs. W. R. Morrison, wife of the Rev. W. R. Morrison, retired pastor of the Methodist church, living at Detroit, Minn., is in St. Luke's hospital in Fargo suffering from a fractured skull with both arms broken and two fractured ribs while their daughter Margaret has a broken nose and numerous other bruises as the result of an accident in which the Ford car in which the family was being driven to Fargo overturned about a mile east of Dilworth. Mr. Morrison and the driver of the car escaped with slight bruises.

Balkans [illegible] "Little Entente"

A treaty described as principally defensive was signed at Belgrade between Czecho-Slovakia and Jugo-Slavia. Winona—The corn crop in southern Minnesota and eastern South Dakota is in excellent condition and a good yield is indicated, according to an official railroad crop report issued here. Naarup store at Luck, Wis., led to the arraignment of Harry Griswold, alias Harry Grossman, in municipal court here, where he pleaded not guilty to the charge of receiving stolen property and was held to the grand jury in $4,000 bail.

Bemidji—J. T. Gardner, owner of several black and silver foxes at the Muskegon, Mich., ranches, is making elaborate plans for the formation of a company here to breed black and silver foxes for furs and for breeding. His co-operators, 15 in number, intend to complete organization of a $150,000 corporation to handle the proposition, and to make final arrangements for the purchase of several fox families.

The girl got over her depth, and after her companions made frantic efforts to rescue her, they obtained the help of Policeman Johnson. He dove to the bottom of the lake and brought the girl. It was only after several hours of strenuous work that her life was restored.

The new crops are of excellent quality with large plump kernels and the yield is said to be exceptionally heavy.

Father and Daughter Get Relief by Eatonic

R. J. Powell, Sweetwater, Texas, says, "Eatonic helped me at once, but it was my daughter who got the marvelous benefits. She could not even take a drink of water without awful misery, but it relieved her; she is feeling much better. All this from one box, so send me four more at once."

Hundreds of people now take eatonic; one or two tablets after each meal keeps them in good health, feeling fine, full of pep. Eatonic simply takes up the excess acidity and poisons and carries them right out of the system. Of course, when the cause of the misery is removed, the sufferer cannot help but get well.

You will find it a quick, sure relief for heartburn, indigestion, sour, acid, gassy, bloated stomach. It costs but a trifle and your druggist will supply you. If you don't feel well, you give eatonic a test. Adv.

FAMOUS OLD BOSTON ABODE

Province House, Once One of the Most Famous Colonial Mansions, Has Been Partially Preserved.

There stands today on Bosworth court in Boston but a portion of the old Province house, a most interesting relic of colonial days; and the rest of the court is lined with modern office buildings. But in 1820 it was considered a very genteel part of town. Oliver Wendell Holmes lived in the old Province house for 18 years.

At the farther end of the court stands an iron-wrought archway, decorative of design, which was used in the early part of the nineteenth century as an entrance to the governor's garden, a part of the Province house grounds. This has been carefully preserved, as have the stone steps which lead to the lower level. The Province house was immortalized by Hawthorne in his "Twice-Told Tales."

The historic staircase now is gone, and only a portion of the exterior of the house is left. It was built in 1697 by Peter Sargent, a wealthy London merchant and was considered one of the handsomest residences in town. During the days of its popularity the governor gave many balls there.

MISTAKEN IN HIS SURMISE

Mr. Brown Somewhat Hasty in Blaming the Gramophone for Those Unearthly Sounds.

Perfect peace reigned in the Browns' household. The head of the family, his day's work over, was reading, in blissful anticipation of the evening meal which Mrs. Brown was busy preparing in the kitchen.

The gentle stillness was suddenly broken by eerie sounds, apparently coming from the next house—a weird moaning, developing into heart-rending walls and harrowing shrieks.

Mr. Brown jumped up.

"It's Mrs. Wood's confounded gramophone playing Tosti's 'Good-by'" he cried. "Lizzie"—to his oldest daughter—"go and implore her to stop it! Tell her I'm ill—tell her we're all ill, anything you like, only make her leave off!"

The child obediently hurried out and two minutes later came rushing back.

"It's not Mrs. Wood's gramophone, dad," she said. "It's the Murphys down the street opening a tin of corned beef!"

Forests to Pay County's Expenses

A scheme has been outlined for a county of Otsego in New York by which forests now existing and those to be planted will pay the operating expenses of the county in the near future. Each of the twenty-four townships in the county will undertake to plant 100 acres of trees and the profits of these tracts will soon be sufficient to take care of the running expenses of the county, so that taxes will be lowered to the minimum point.

REDS AGAIN PRESS POLE ARMIES BACK

Hordes of Prisoners and Much Material Fell to Defenders of Warsaw.

RUSS CHANGE TACTICS

As Outcome of Terriffic Clash on Polish Front Hangs in Balance, Russ General Warns Allies Against Mistake.

Paris.—Executing a gigantic turning movement with the aid of a large number of troops brought up in trains, the red armies are again driving the Poles backward along practically their entire front, say latest advices from Warsaw.

Polish aviators report that the Soviet forces have consolidated their entire front, established communications with their bases, and are receiving strong reinforcements of men, ammunition and guns.

Paris.—In the principal theatre of operations on the Polish front the Poles are debouching from Demblin and continuing their advance. They have reached the valley of the Middle Bug. The prisoners taken by the Poles in the last few days aggregate 19,000. The large amount of war material has not been estimated. Many guns, with their carriages, have been abandoned in the forests.

The chief operations are now going on on the fork of the Narew and Bug rivers, from which the Bolshevik troops, defeated before Warsaw, are retiring hastily. The Polish army advancing in the direction of Ostrolenka has as its objective the cutting of communications between the Bolsheviki center and right. Thus it is between Ostrolenka and Lomza, on the marshy land bathed by the Narew, that the enemy probably will make his last effort before the fate of the red army in the north, the situation of which is extremely grave, is decided.

In imitation of the maneuver executed in 1831 by Nicholas I, the Bolsheviki have withdrawn a strong section of their forces to attack Thorn and Wloclawek, across the Vistula, and cut communications between Danzig and Warsaw. These troops have encountered a fresh Polish army formed in Posnania and Pomerania, which debouched from Graudenz and Thorn. Meanwhile another army, under direction of General Billotte, advancing from Modlin, has attacked them from the south. Finally a third army, under General Hikorski, is defending the Narew river, endeavoring to cut off these troops from their single road of retreat in the north.

Scattered over nearly 100 miles along the frontier of East Prussia, between Strasbourg and Ostralenka, these red forces seem condemned to annihilation, unless they take refuge on Prussian territory.

MAN KILLED BY PUNCH ON JAW

Controversy Over Responsibility for Automobile Accident Ends Fatally.

NECK BROKEN BY BLOW

Man Is Hit When He Makes Uncomplimentary Remark About Woman and Is Dead Before He Hits the Ground—Four Arrested.

Greeley, Colo.—A punch which landed on the jaw killed William Swint of Denver. The blow broke Swint's neck and he was dead before his body hit the ground.

Four men, members of an automobile tourist party en route from Denver to Wyoming, are under arrest as witnesses to the killing of Swint. One of the men, R. H. Blackburn of Wichita, Kan., is said to have struck the blow that killed Swint. The four men with two women, wives of members of the party, left Denver in two automobiles bound for Wyoming, where they intended to look up some homesteads.

Cars in Collision.

Swint and his friend, H. Farrington, also left Denver about the same time intending to do some fishing in the northern part of the state.

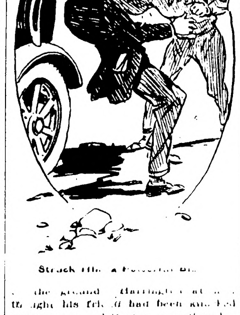
The Swint machine overtook the homestead seekers just south of Fort Lupton, and in trying to pass one of their cars, collided with the one driven by Blackburn. After inspecting the damage Swint agreed to drive to Fort Lupton where he said he would make a money settlement. When they arrived there a controversy arose as to who was to blame for the accident.

Swint, it is alleged, made some uncomplimentary remarks concerning one of the women of the party, whereupon Blackburn struck him a powerful blow on the jaw with his clenched fist, knocking him down.

Caught by Deputies.

The homestead seekers then quickly re-entered their car and drove rapidly northward leaving Swint lying on the ground. Harrington at first thought his friend had been knocked unconscious and it was some time before he realized that he was dead.

Harrington stopped some passing automobiles and asked them to send him assistance, which they did. When it was found that Swint was dead a telephone message was sent to the sheriff at Greeley, who immediately sent deputy sheriffs in different directions looking for the Blackburn party. They were found north of Evans and placed under arrest.



Struck Him a Powerful Blow.

Facts for Sick Women

Reliable Information

All American women know of the great success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in restoring to health women who suffered from ailments peculiar to their sex, yet there are some who are skeptical and do not realize that all that is claimed for it is absolutely true—if they did, our laboratory would not be half large enough to supply the demand, though today it is the largest in the country used for the manufacture of one particular medicine.

The Facts contained in the following two letters should prove of benefit to many women:

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I suffered with organic inflammation and displacement. When lifting I had such pain and bearing down that I was not able to stand up, and it hurt me to walk or go up or down stairs. I was going to a doctor without any results and he said the safest thing would be to have an operation. I met a lady who told me she had three operations and was not well until she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I felt relief after taking two bottles of Vegetable Compound and I kept on with it until I was cured. I always use Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and they are fine. Everything used to turn sour on my stomach and the Liver Pills relieved that."—Mrs. A. Rogers, 593 Fargo Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

Sacramento, Calif.—"I had organic trouble and had such terrible pain and swelling in the lower part of my side that I could not stand on my feet or even let the bed clothes touch my side. I gave up my work thinking I would not be able to go back for months. My mother advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had saved her life at one time, and it put me in a wonderful condition in a couple of weeks, so I can keep on working. I work in a department store and have to stand on my feet all day and I do not have any more pains. I surely recommend your Vegetable Compound to all my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Bertha J. Parker, 3320 M St., Sacramento, Calif.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

WAGE BOOST FOR MINERS

President Approves Increases For Workers in Hard Coal Fields.

$85,000,000 A YEAR

Men Will Also Get $18,000,000 in Back Pay—Increases Will Not Justify Higher Coal Prices, Says Commission.

Washington.—President Wilson has approved the majority report of the anthracite coal commission increasing the wages of contract miners 20 per cent over present rates. The findings, the report said, would fix a minimum rate of 52½ cents per hour for the lower paid men in the anthracite industry.

The president struck out of the report a provision fixing the terms of retroactive payments under the award which he said was outside the commission's jurisdiction. Thomas Kennedy, chairman of the miners' scale committee, had protested this feature of the award, he said.

$18,000,000 Back Pay.

Anthracite mine workers will receive about $18,000,000 in back pay, under the retroactive feature of the award which makes it effective April 1, 1920, and the increase awarded to the 175,000 miners will average, the commission said, "to at least $85,000,000" annually.

The majority report declared that the award "offers no justification for any advance in the retail prices of coal, but on the other hand, is consistent with a decline in prices." Any sharp advance in retail prices, the report added, "could not be charged to the operators, the miners or the award."

Disappointment Unavoidable.

"While the adjudication of any dispute necessarily results in some disappointment," the president said in his letter to the commission, "I am sure that the spirit with which you have acted will receive the commendation of the great bulk of the American people."

The minority's report signed by Commissioner Ferry, while departing from the majority's conclusion, says that officers of the United Mine Workers "will of course accept and carry out this majority award with the utmost good faith."

Miners employed as company men are given an increase of 17 per cent and the same amount is given "consideration miners" and miners, laborers and monthly men.

NEXT CONFERENCE AT RIGA

Poles Resent Practical Imprisonment at Minsk Meeting.

Warsaw.—While Riga has been agreed upon by the Polish and Russian soviet governments as the place for future peace negotiations, it was said at the foreign ministry that no word has been received from the Letvian government regarding the Poles' request for permission to hold the conference in Riga.

A wireless from Minsk says members of the Polish peace delegation and those who accompanied it to the conference with the soviet emissaries, are becoming ill because of the unsanitary conditions under which they are compelled to exist.

Among the sick is Maurice Pate of Denver, a member of the American relief administration. The message states that he is seriously ill. The Denver man accompanied the delegation, together with Herschel Walker of Philadelphia, another relief worker, to discuss with the soviet representatives a proposal for feeding war stricken children.

The message says that conditions grow worse each day. The delegates are permitted to walk only in certain parts of Minsk and only at certain hours. The advisory experts and the newspaper correspondents are virtually interned on the premises occupied by the delegation.

The message states there has been no messenger from Warsaw and tells of damage done to the Poles' wireless plant, which at the time this communication was sent by way of Moscow, had not been repaired.

It is physically impossible for the delegates to continue their work owing to the conditions, according to the message.

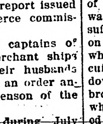
ESCAPED AN OPERATION

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Many Such Cases.



Cairo, Ill.—"Sometime ago I got so bad with female trouble that I thought I would have to be operated on. I had a bad displacement. My right side would pain me and I was so nervous I could not hold a glass of water. Many times I would have to stop my work and sit down or I would fall on the floor in a faint. I consulted several doctors and every one told me the same but I kept fighting to keep from having the operation. I had read so many times of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped my sister so I began taking it. I have never felt better than I have since then and I keep house and am able to do all my work. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."—Mrs. J. R. MATTHEWS, 3311 Sycamore Street, Cairo, Ill.

Of course there are many serious cases that only a surgical operation will relieve. We freely acknowledge this, but the above letter, and many others like it, amply prove that many operations are recommended when medicine in many cases is all that is needed.

The Milk o' Human Kindness

Flows abundantly from the sources least expected. When in a "PINCH" a friend we never knew we had gives us a "LIFT," and we wonder vaguely why we never before realized that he was "A PRINCE OF A FELLOW." Sometimes our best friends are the conveniences that surround our daily lives, rendering us service which we never appreciate. THE

MARTIN GRINDER Is the Farmer's BEST FRIEND

Sturdy, self-reliant, faithful and industrious, it works whether you watch it or not. It will reduce your grinding costs and save you time and money! Its burrs run true, grinding smoothly and rapidly—80 to 100 bushels per hour—without rubbing against each other, or destroying their keen cutting edges in power consuming friction. The MARTIN GRINDER is "A Prince of a Fellow" because it is the GRINDER THAT GRINDS. From thousands of farms in the Northwest comes willing testimony of the durability, efficiency and satisfactory service of Martin Grinders.

This illustrates what a MARTIN GRINDER can do. Fed by gravity with whole grain from the floor above, it will grind for hours with practically no attention so long as free escape is provided for the constant stream that flows from its spout.

The Martin Grinder is made in seven sizes with capacities from 10 to 100 bushels per hour. REMEMBER that MARTIN burrs or grinding plates are not self-sharpened by power-wasting friction, but when dull can be re-sharpened by means of an emery wheel attachment. Sugar From Timber.

Speaking of the suggestion of sawdust sugar, a Ceylon planter says: "While I cannot vouch for the sweetening properties of timber in general, I know there are trees which yield sugar. We might have been sending you considerable quantities from Ceylon had an experiment made then been more efficiently carried out. Palmyra trees which yield a sugary syrup, were tapped, and modern machinery installed to refine the juice, but for some reason the native workers could not be prevailed on to carry the stuff down from the forest to the works. There is still a future for palmyra sugar, when the ill-luck is lived down.

COAST TO COAST AIR MAIL ROUTE

Daily Service Is Inaugurated Between New York and San Francisco.

TRIP IN 60 HOURS

Postoffice Department Gives Striking Details of 3,000 Mile Mail Route in Prospectus of New Service.

Washington.—Air mail service between New York and San Francisco was inaugurated by the postoffice department on Wednesday, September 8, the first plane leaving each terminus at 5:30 a. m. local time that day.

Complete plans and schedules for the coast to coast service, previously announced by the department, show that the mail planes from New York to San Francisco are expected to make the trip in 56½ hours, elapsed time, and the San Francisco to New York planes in 60½ hours elapsed time. Mail sent by train from New York to San Francisco reaches the latter city in about 100 hours and San Francisco mail arrives by train in New York in about 96 hours. Metal monoplanes with a cruising radius of 10 hours at 90 miles an hour will be operated between New York and Omaha, with a single stop for gasing at Chicago. DeHaviland-4 planes with four hours fuel and oil at 80 miles an hour will be used between Omaha and San Francisco. Stations between the two terminini will be Cleveland, Chicago, Iowa City, Omaha and North Platte, Neb., Cheyenne and Rock Springs, Wyo.; Salt Lake City, and Elko and Reno, Nev.

Pointing out that inauguration of the new service will extend the air mail service over 1,463 miles of new territory, the postoffice department in its announcement added:

"With the establishment of the transcontinental air mail there will be at the service of the United States military forces what is probably the greatest system of regularly maintained landing fields and facilities in the world, a system that will enable the movement of air fleets from ocean to ocean with large landing fields and fueling and repair facilities approximately every 200 miles.

"The transcontinental daily air mail will be the most difficult flying project yet undertaken. Not only has it required the working out of details for a daily operation of a route nearly 3,000 miles long, but the actual flying will be under the most trying conditions. At Cheyenne, Salt Lake City and Reno the daily flying with a full load of mail will have to be at altitudes ranging from 12,000 to 14,000 feet above sea level and over high wind swept plateaus with powerful headwinds to cut down the speed of the planes. Intense cold weather will be encountered, as well as snow, and against these contingencies all advance preparations possible have been made. Powerful radio stations for communications with the planes in the mountain sections have been installed at Reno, Salt Lake City, Cheyenne and Omaha."

SHALE FALL FATAL TO THREE

First Accident in Two Score Years in Cave of Winds.

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—Two women and a man were crushed to death and two men were injured when a slide of shale forced out a bridge leading to one of the stairways in the Cave of the Winds, under Niagara Falls. A hundred or more tourists who were in the cave had narrow escapes, many being bruised and cut by the falling rock.

The dead and injured were members of a party of tourists completing a tour of the cave. With a guide leading, the party was in the middle of one of the four bridges in the cave when the slide came, its noise deafened by the roar of the cataract. The guide was not touched.

To recover the bodies it was necessary to take a rowboat from the Maid of the Mist steamer, which had been run up as near as possible to the falls and cave. It was a hazardous venture but the rowboat crew finally brought the bodies out of the pool and regained the steamer.

The accident is the first of the kind in the cave since the first stairway was built in 1883. There have been slides before but only in the winter or early spring.

Those killed were A. Hartman of Brooklyn, his wife, Louise Hartman, and Clara M. Faust, Pittsburgh.

To Settle Commercial Treaties.

Washington.—Responsibility for termination of the commercial treaties between the United States and more than a score of foreign nations, in conformity with the requirements of the shipping act probably will be placed squarely on the other parties to the treaties by the state department. In other words, it will be left to the other governments to say whether they are content to accept the terms of the act

SUB CREW ON OCEAN BOTTOM

Imprisoned Men Owe Their Lives to Telephone Buoy.

BOAT WAS DISABLED

Noise of Newly Invented Device Attracts Passing Vessel and Air Is Sent Suffering Men.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Radio messages flashed from the army transport General Goethals to the Philadelphia navy yard via Cape May told of the rescue of the officers and crew of the submarine S-5, after they had spent neraly two days locked in the disabled vessel beneath the Atlantic ocean, 55 miles south of Cape Henlopen. It was early in the morning when Lieutenant Commander C. M. Cook, who exercised his prerogative of being the last man to leave his vessel, was taken aboard the steamer Alanthus. Nine hours had elapsed since the plight of the undersea boat had been made public through a wireless call picked up by an amateur operator in Farmington, Conn.

Among those who responded to the call of the General Goethals was the steamer Alanthus which with the army transport stood by, the submerged vessel and managed to attach grappling hooks to its stern. Holding the submarine in a vertical position, a hole was bored through her plates and air pumped through to the suffering crew who had almost given up all hope of rescue.

Navy Awaits Report.

Washington.—Informed by wireless that all members of the submarine S-5, submerged off Cape Henlopen, had been rescued, navy department officials await further details of the rescue and a report as to the cause of the submarine's disability.

Word from the army transport General Goethals that the 26 men and four officers, comprising the crew of the S-5 were safely aboard the steamer Alanthus which had been standing with the General Goethals was relayed to the department from the Philadelphia navy yard. Officials were relieved to hear that although the men were in rather bad shape none had been injured.

The submarine, the navy department was informed, was in almost a vertical position.

Owe Lives to New Device.

New York.—The rescued officers and men of the United States submarine S-5, who were submerged for more than 42 hours in their crippled submarine off Cape Henlopen, owe their lives to a hitherto little tested safety device—the telephone buoy—developed during the world war.

The steamer General George W. Goethals, plowing along her course off the cape, caught the insistent clang of a huge gong; sighted a buoy where the mariner's charts showed no buoy ought to be; drew closer and observed that there was a telephone on the mysterious buoy. A few moments later the Goethals had a boat overside and this message came up from the deep:

"The submarine S-5 has been submerged for 35 hours. Air is running short. Machinery damaged. Send for help."

The Goethals wireless flashed the news ashore and within a short time fleet destroyers and other naval craft were rushing to the rescue. The Goethals, in the meantime, got a line about the stern of the S-5 and drawing it to the surface, drilled a small hole through the metal hull through which air was pumped to the suffocating men until the rescuers arrived.

This use of the telephone buoy is said to have been the first critical test to which the apparatus has been put since its development less than three years ago. It has been placed on only a few of the newest submarines, and many naval officers were ignorant even of its existence, until its dramatic entry as the savior of the S-5's crew.

Suspend Rate Raise.

Bismarck.—Increases of 20 per cent in passenger rates and 35 per cent in freight rates on intra-state traffic granted by the board of railroad commissioners last week were suspended by the state supreme court.

The order is being served on all railroads operating in the state. September 10 has been set by the court as the return date of the injunction when the roads must show cause why the restraining order should not be made permanent.

Clean Up War Contracts.

Washington.—Prosecution of 324 contractors, marking the beginning of a move by the government to clean up its war contract controversies, has been ordered by the department of justice. The proceedings will include both criminal and civil action, and involve "millions of dollars," department officials say. Practically all of the cases embraced by the prosecution were turned over by the war department but there were indications that similar cases would be received from other government departments

WEALTH IN WEST

Canadian Farmers Confident of Record Grain Crop.

Boston Banker, Returning From Trip Through the Country, Tells of Rich Yields of Great Northwestern Wheat Fields.

A Boston banker, desiring to recuperate from a season of strenuous work, did what most bankers do, or should do, took a holiday, away from the confines of the city life. Canada was in his mind. He would make the trip, learn something of the country, breathe of its ozone and return exhilarated both in mind and body. On his return a few days ago, he told the reporter of the Wall Street Journal of the richness of the vast fields of golden grain that he saw on his trip through the Canadian West. Doubtless he broke his journey into the Canadian Rockies long enough to make an inspection of them. Who could help it, as from the car window were to be seen miles and miles of golden stooks, ranged row upon row away back to the lines of the horizon? He must have done so, for when he got back to the Hub, he was filled with enthusiasm over his trip and what he saw in Canada, and he had to get it off his mind. It was revealed in this way:

"Canada is getting strong, recovering by leaps and bounds from the depression caused by war. While unrest and lack of co-operation seem to be holding things back on this side of the border, the Dominion to the north faces an era of unprecedented activity and prosperity. One of the basic reasons for this brilliant comeback is the rich yield of the great northwestern wheat fields."

That the crops in Canada, both east and west, are meeting the expectations of the farmers is a satisfying fact, which gives a postive assurance of a yield that will mean millions of dollars to the wealth of the country. There will probably be as much as two hundred million bushels of wheat to export, giving an added wealth to the country of nearly half a billion dollars. In all parts the crop yield promises to be abundant, and with favorable weather from now on there may be expected a harvest that will equal if not surpass that of 1915. It will doubtless be pleasing to the many readers of this paper to know that the friends they have developing their farms in this region of big crops and good prices will participate in this wealth, and what will be more pleasing, is the knowledge of the fact that the wealth in which they will participate comes from big prices for a product produced from land purchased at a cheap price.

Western Canada has never known a failure in crops. There are districts where partial failures have been, but consideration should be given to the fact that the country, that portion of it in which the present grain growing lies, is from seven to eight hundred miles in length by half that distance in breadth.

Because one speaks of the wonderful success of grain growing there, there should not be lost sight of the fact that this is only one item in the wealth-producing possibilities. There is cattle raising, with all the advantages in every way that it possesses anywhere; the dairying industry is assuming remarkable proportions, and a great deal of attention is given to the development of this industry, which is so adaptable to the country, by both federal and provincial governments.—Advertisement.

MERELY MAKING IT WORSE

Tommy Was Naturally Fearful as to the Consequences of Any More Interruptions.

A very junior officer was trying his first case.

"Seven days confinement to camp," he snapped.

"Beg pardon, sir," whispered the company sergeant-major. "You mustn't give a sentence like that. You—"

"All right, then, fourteen days," retorted the sub.

"But, sir," pleaded the sergeant-major, "it's not—"

"'Arf a mo', major," interposed the Tommy. "Don't check 'im again or 'e'll give me twenty-one. 'E ain't a horfficer—'e's a hauctioneer!"—London Tit-Bits.

Problem to Come.

Little Harry, the pride of a Brooklyn household, was one morning engaged in a wriggling and twisting series of maneuvers to get his arms through the sleeve of an undershirt and then get it over his head. After a number of vain attempts he called upon his mother for assistance, remarking:

"Mother, when I get to be an angel and have wings how in the world am I ever to get my shirt on?"

The fearful unbelief is unbelief in thyself.—Carlyle.

HE GOT HIS ROUTES MIXED

Negro Soldier's Amusing Explanation as to How It Was He Got His Wound.

A medical corps officer chanced upon a negro acquaintance of civil life one day in France.

"How do you like the army, Mose?" he asked.

"'S'all right so far, cap'n," replied the negro, "but Ah don' know how I'm goin' to like it when dem Germans shoots at me."

"Don't worry about that," replied the officer. "All you have to do is zigzag." And he demonstrated.

The next time the two met, the negro was in a hospital.

"What's the matter with you, Mose?" asked the officer.

"I ain't sure, cap'n, but Ah think I must have been ziggin' 'bout de time Ah oughta been zaggin'."—American Legion Weekly.

The Social Instinct.

"You don't seem to take the same interest in your work that you did at first," remarked Farmer Corntossel.

"I take as much interest as ever," replied the hired man. "But what's the use of my tryin' to do so much work that I'll get unpopular with the rest of the help?"

HAS NO PAIN NOW

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Mrs. Warner.

Onalaska, Wis.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of stomach I could not lie in bed. I suffered so it seemed as though I would die, and I was not regular either. I suffered for a year and was unfit to do my housework, could only wash dishes once in a while. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women and decided to try it. It surely did wonders for me. I have no pains now and I can do my housework without any trouble at all. I will always praise your medicine as I do not believe there is a doctor that can do as much good in female weakness, and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. LESTER E. WARNER, R. 1, Box 69, Onalaska, Wis.

The reason women write such letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. and tell their friends how they are helped is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives. Freed from their illness they want to pass the good news along to other suffering women that they also may be relieved.

Self-Centered.

"You have always been one of these skeptical people," remarked the reproachful friend.

"I must admit," replied Mr. Growcher.

"You even said the flying machine would not be a success."

"Well, so far as my own comfort or peace of mind is concerned, it isn't."

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

HAD USE FOR HIS MILLION

Zeb Would at Least Employ It to Good Advantage, as Far as It Would Go.

A party of baymen gathered round the stove in a little oyster shack on the Great South bay started the old, old question of what they would do if they suddenly came into possession of $1,000,000. Some bought great ocean-going yachts; others endowed schools, and one even offered to contribute his to help out the government.

The question finally came round to old Zeb Banks, noted as the ne'er-do-well of the fishing neighborhood.

"And now, Zeb, you've been keeping pretty quiet," one of them said. "Just what'd you do if you had a million dollars?"

"Well, I don't know 'zactly," responded Zeb reflectively as he spat at the stove. "I reckon I'd pay it on my debts, 's far as it went."—Saturday Evening Post.

TO MEET THE EMERGENCY

Youngster Had Little Difficulty Making Up His Mind as to What He Would Do.

As the old lady strolled on the cliffs near a seaside town she came across a lad dressed in the well-known scouts' rig.

"What do they teach you in the scouts?" she asked him, with a beaming smile.

"To be manly citizens, and true to king and country," replied the lad promptly.

"And what are you going to be when you grow up, my little man?" went on his self-appointed examiner.

"A soldier, to fight for the king," was the patriotic reply.

"Very brave," applauded the old dame. "Now, suppose you saw the king's coach dashing along, with runaway horses, straight toward the edge of this cliff, what would you do?"

The youngster eyed her in disgust. Evidently she was one of those people who never imagine a boy has any sense. He determined to settle her once and for all, so he replied:

"I'd shut my eyes, and sing, 'God Save the King.'"—London Answers.

"Here, Fido! Here, Fido!"

A man who likes puppies stopped a moment to see what kind of a pet the little girl had.

When the pet made its appearance he exclaimed in surprise:

"Didn't I hear you call it Fido?"

"Yes," the little girl replied complacently. "I know it's a cat, but I am having it for a dog."—Youngstown Telegram.

BRYAN ASSAILS COX AND H. S. CUMMINGS

Calls Choice of Democratic Convention Chairman a 'Tragedy' for the Party.

COX CANDIDACY A DISGRACE

Special to The New York Times.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 13.—William Jennings Bryan turned his political batteries tonight on Homer S. Cummings, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee and Governor Cox of Ohio. In a statement given out here he says:

"The selection of Chairman Cummings to sound the keynote of the Democratic National Convention is worse than a comedy It is a tragedy. It is a melancholy beginning if the Democrats have any intention of making a campaign this year. If the Democratic Party is to be wrapped in a wet shroud, locked up in a Wall Street safe and buried at sea, Cummings is just the person to officiate, but his selection is a serious handicap if the party proposes to appeal to the progressive sentiment of the country"

Mr. Bryan calls the Cox candidacy a disgrace. He says:

"The fact that the Democrats of two dry States, Ohio and Kentucky, have instructed for Governor Cox makes it proper to consider his position on the liquor question. It is becoming every day more and more apparent that he is the man about whose standard the wet forces will gather.

"Governor Edwards is a joke. A drunkard in the last stages of delirium tremens would have sense enough to know that Edwards has no chance of nomination. Senator Hitchcock did not have any chance even before the Nebraska primary, hence he had nothing to lose. Governor Cox is their man and he has fairly won the dishonor that he seeks.

"After disgracing his State he aspires to a position in which he could disgrace a nation. For years the men engaged in the liquor business have been the real anarchists of the country, far more dangerous than the professional anarchists. Governor Cox has become their candidate.

"His nomination would make the Democratic Party the leader of the lawless element of the country and his election, if such a thing were possible, would turn the White House over to those who defy the Government and hold law in contempt.

"There is no likelihood of his nomination and no chance of his election if nominated, but why should any Democrat be willing to support a man whose nomination would insult the conscience of the nation? For the triumph of prohibition is a triumph of the nation's conscience."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

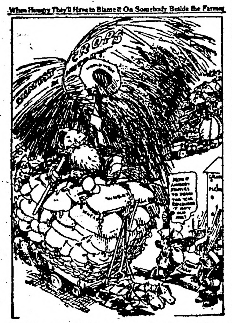
CANADA'S HARVEST IS OVER

Threshing Shows Increase Over Expected Yields.

The Winnipeg Free Press of a few days ago contained a cartoon of which the following is a copy:

When Hungry They'll Have to Blame It On Somebody Beside the Farmer



This probably as much as anything else will give some idea of the state of mind of the Western Canada farmer, as he watches the tally from the thrashing machine while his wheat is being carried to the elevator.

From all sections of the country, the most optimistic reports are received, the local and city papers are filled with reports from twenty to thirty bushels of wheat to the acre, while in some places oats are showing a record of as high as 120 bushels to the acre.

Referring to Saskatchewan, it is confidently expected that the wheat yield will be nearly 125 million bushels. Heavy rains which fell in districts that did not promise so well in July, had greatly improved the prospects there, and there is no question that paying yields will be produced. The yields in the eastern part of the province may not show to the advantage that will those of the western part, but too much cannot be said of this, for it is the results as they come from the machine, and often these prove happily deceptive.

There is now every reason to believe that the wheat crop of the three prairie provinces will approach 250 million bushels.

Alberta will exceed the 70 million bushels that had been looked for. The average yield will be considerably higher than it has been in the province in any of the last four years. The Department of Agriculture in a recent report gave the opinion that it cannot fall below twenty-two bushels to the acre, and that it might easily pass the twenty-five bushel mark. Most of the wheat in the province when the report was written, stood well up to three feet high, and on some fields was still higher. The report goes on that in parts of Southern Alberta forty and fifty bushels to the acre yields will not be uncommon, while there will be a good many yields of from thirty to thirty-five bushels to the acre.

In the northwest part of the province, in the country surrounding Battleford and adjacent to the Canadian National Railway line to Lloydminster, and south the crops are excellent and the yield will be heavy.

A larger than average wheat crop is being thrashed in Manitoba. It has been estimated that the total yield of the three provinces will not be less than 225,000,000 bushels, and it may be that somewhere between 250,000,000 and 300,000,000 bushels will be the final figure.

Oats is a good crop in all three provinces. This crop has also grown rapidly during the last two or three weeks. Excepting from those fields which were sown late for green feed, the yield will be heavy and the grain excellent. Barley and rye are above the average. There was sufficient help to harvest the crop.—Advertisement.

WORKMEN ASK FACTORY SEIZURE

Confederation of Labor Is In Session In Milan, Italy.

INDUSTRIAL CONFLICTS

Workmen's Conference Claims Industrial Situation Has Taken on a Political Aspect in Italy.

Milan.—Immediate convocation of the Italian parliament for the purpose of passing laws under which workmen may take over management of industrial plants has been demanded by the confederation of labor in session here.

Resolutions favoring a compromise of the situation resulting from occupation of plants by workmen throughout Italy were adopted at a stormy session of the confederation, which demanded that the Socialist party assume control of the situation, which, they claimed, had taken a purely political aspect. When the Socialist Democrats were rejected, an additional resolution was passed by the confederation which asked the president of the chamber of deputies and Premier Giolitti to call parliament into session.

"We demand," this resolution read, "immediate convocation of the chamber of deputies in order that the situation may be examined and laws proposed which will bring about radical legislative measures, which, through requisition of industrial plants and participation in their management by workmen, will prepare the way for direct control of workers in the interests of collectivity."

This resolution was telegraphed to the president of the chamber and premier.

Turin, Italy.—Anxiety by the authorities lest the workingmen engaged in the industrial plant controversy here might attempt to take possession of the dynamite works at Avigliana, 13 miles west of Turin, has led to protective measures. The garrison was strengthened with caribineers and troops equipped with machine guns.

Unknown persons fired several rifle shots into the villa of Signor Dibendetto, engineer of the metal works here. The engineer replied with his revolver and killed two persons. The police arrested Dibenedetto. The workmen evacuated the plant.

MEXICO TO SUPPLY OIL?

Government Survey Predicts Future Supply to Come From South.

Washington.—Mexico promises to become the oil reservoir of the western hemisphere, the department of commerce declares in a review of the petroleum industry in the southern republic. With increased consumption in the United States likely to exhaust producing fields in this country within 20 or 25 years, Mexico, the statement said, "offers the most encouragement to the American oil industry, both for present production and geographical situation."

Exhaustion of 40 per cent of the producing fields of the United States, the department's review stated, has caused Mexico to take second place in oil production, although only about 12 per cent of the potential capacity of Mexican wells is being actually produced.

Oil exports from Mexico during the first six months of 1920 totaled 60,000,000 barrels, an increase of 72 per cent over the previous year. At this rate total exports for the year are expected, according to the department, to reach 135,000,000 barrels.

MINOT FIGURES IN BIG RAID

United States Agents Make Big Haul in Well Planned Campaign.

Minot, N. D.—A heavy blow was struck at the illegal liquor business in Minot when 30 U. S. prohibition officers, under direction of P. C. Darby, group chief of Fargo, conducted a general raid on suspected places.

Twenty-five or 30 warrants were issued and about 10 places were raided. Several arrests were made and $6,000 or $7,000 worth of liquor, a five-passenger Overland touring car, and a Chinese lottery gambling outfit were confiscated.

Judge S. L. Nuchols of Fargo, assistant U. S. district attorney, is in the city and the cases came up before R. E. Hopkins, U. S. court commissioner. There was no resistance to the officers during the raid, although in the Sam Loomis place were found two sawed-off 12-gauge shotguns and a box of No. 4 shot cartridges.

Booze Cases to State Courts.

Fargo.—Judge Charles F. Amidon of the United States district court for North Dakota says that hereafter it will be the policy of the federal officers to have nearly all the prosecutions of the national prohibition amendment and the Volstead act conducted in the state courts. "The prohibition amendment," said Judge Amidon, "provides that the law shall be enforced by joint action of the nation and the states and such a provision will be found in no other part of the federal constitution."

MINNESOTA HAS GREATEST FAIR

Receipts of 1920 Exposition Reach the Total of $545,000.

ATTENDANCE 536,155

1920 MINNESOTA STATE FAIR

Attendance, 536,155.

Receipts at outside gates, grandstand and horse show, approximately $420,000.

Receipts from sale of exhibit space, approximately $75,000.

Receipts from concession privileges, approximately $50,000.

Total receipts, approximately $545,000.

Expense of staging fair, exclusive of permanent improvements, $350,000.

Profit, approximately $195,000, which will about replace surplus drawn on to complete the $500,000 cattle barn.

St. Paul.—When Minnesota state fair officials gathered to review the record of "the world's greatest state exposition," their speech was full of superlatives.

"The state fair board considered that the 1920 fair has been the most successful in almost every respect of any heretofore staged," said Frank W. Murphy, president of the fair board, in a statement summarizing the accomplishments and results of the fair.

"A total of 536,155 persons attended this year, and had it not been for rain two days the extraordinary attendance record established in 1919 would have been exceeded easily. We had hoped for an attendance of at least 125,000 persons on the opening Saturday, but the all day rain cut the figures to 51,183. A turnstile record of 90,000 or 100,000 on Saturday would have enabled the fair to have established a new record.

"The fair was under heavy financial responsibilities this year. This is the only fair in the country that has ever attempted to put on a $1,000,000 show. The money actually spent for permanent improvements and producing the exposition this year falls just short of $1,000,000. An appropriation of $300,000 was obtained with which to build a new cattle barn but the extraordinary expense incurred in its erection compelled the management to dig into the surplus for $200,000 with which to complete the structure.

Financial Success.

"From a financial angle the fair has been more successful this year than any of its predecessors. It is estimated by the treasurer that $420,000 was taken in at the outside gates, grandstand, horseshow and attractions operated on a percentage basis.

"The Minnesota state fair is a public institution. Every cent of the money made by it is deposited with the state treasurer, to be drawn on in a manner prescribed for new buildings and fair expense."

Not only in attendance was the 1920 state fair a success, but the exhibit, educational and entertainment features all were on a higher plane than ever before, and there were more sound and practical demonstrations, the influence of which will be reflected in thousands of homes and on thousands of Minnesota farms during the ensuing year.

WANT AIR ROUTE TO ALASKA

North Country Seeks to Profit by Recent Flight to Nome.

New York.—Military and civilian aeronautical experts declare that the completion recently of the trip of four American army aviators from New York to Nome, Alaska, was as epochal in its military and commercial importance as Bleriot's first flight across the English channel, since it opens Alaska to aeronautics.

Reports say that the Alaskans are determined to bring about regular communication through the air, and now look to the government to foster the new project.

As the result of the flight, it is said an aerial route has been photographed and charted diagonally across the United States, Canada and Alaska, with tentative supply and air service sites.

The air board says that the following has been accomplished by the flight:

An effective aerial route to the northwest corner of the American continent and Asia has been established. Inaccessible areas in Alaska which had never been mapped have been charted and photographed.

Usefulness of the airplane as a means of transport for mail, passengers, and freight, has been demonstrated. Necessity of landing fields and service supply stations in the United States and its territories has been shown.

A North Dakota Case

Mrs. V. J. Kardell, Harvey, N. D., says: "My kidneys acted irregularly and when I would sit down and go to rise up a sharp catch would take me across the center of my back. My eyes had puffy sacs beneath them and I felt weak and run down. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking two boxes, the trouble left me."

CATS DISRUPTED THE ZOO

Released to Clean Up Despised Rats, They Terrorized Lions, Leopards and Tigers Alike.

An army of cats, turned loose in the zoo at Highland park, Pittsburgh, Pa., to clean out the rats, has shown the fallacy of many tales of ferocity told of wild denizens of the jungle.

Rats had become so numerous at the big zoo that it was found necessary to take some means of ridding the building of the pests, and the head keeper decided on cats—just the plain alley breed. An advertisement brought them in droves, and they were turned loose in the cages, cellars, supply rooms and lofts.

No sooner had the cages been invaded than pandemonium broke loose. Lions, tigers, panthers, pumas and leopards failed to recognize a distant relationship, and many of them went clear frantic with fear. Other animals, including the elephants, were not so timorous, but hippo and rhino were only a few seconds in making up their minds that discretion was the better part of valor.

HAD HIGH AMBITION FOR SON

Father Wouldn't Be Satisfied Until He Saw Him in a Really Proud Position.

An instructor in the military academy at West Point was once assigned to conduct about the place the visiting parents of a certain cadet.

After a tour of the post, the proud and happy parents joined the crowd assembled to witness evening parade, a most imposing spectacle. The march past aroused the father of the cadet to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

"There!" he exclaimed to his spouse, "isn't that fine? But," he added, reflectively, "I shall not be happy till my boy attains the proud position that leads 'em all." And he pointed in rapt admiration to the drum-major.

"How did you manage those soviets?"

"Easily enough," replied the Russian politician. "I encouraged them all to talk at once till everybody was in a fighting mood and then I put them into the army."

St. Paul—Clarence Schultz of Sleepy Eye won first honors in the club boys' corngrowing contest at the State Fair. Coming from the southern section, consisting of Lincoln, Lyon, Redwood, Brown, Nicollet, Le Sueur, Rice, Goodhue and all counties south, he won first prize for white dent, the sweepstakes for the best samples of white dent and the grand sweepstakes for the best 10 ears.

St. Paul—Nine hundred communities and about 40 flour mills of the state have been listed by state feed inspectors, working under the direction of the state dairy and food commission in connection with the work of enforcing the state law regulating the sale of stock food, according to a report received from Chris Heen, dairy and food commissioner. According to the law, each bag containing stock food must bear a tag on which is printed a list of ingredients.

Brainerd—A tourist taking gasoline at a garage here lit a match to see how much gasoline he had. The garage man shouted a warning, but too late, as the car and tourist already had caught fire. The excited tourist tossed the hose away and the sidewalk blazed up. The garage man used a fire extinguisher and saved the car, tourist and garage. Five automobiles back of the blazing touring car buckled into each other and broke fenders, bumpers and headlights as they backed away.

St. Paul—Fire fighters in Eastern Roseau and Northern Beltrami counties, where peat fires are reported, are using the new fire fighting machinery to good effect and many fires are reported as having passed the danger of spreading, according to a report received by W. North of that town several serious fires are reported among the spruce and tamarack and are being fought by settlers. Fires also are reported as dangerous in the vicinity of Warroad.

Luverne—The death of Mrs. O. T. Berg, aged 98 years, occurred at the home of her daughter here. Mrs. Berg enjoyed the distinction of being Rock county's oldest woman. She resided in this county since 1872.

Canby—A sale of unusual interest in the Hereford cattle circles was negotiated when Ferguson Brothers, local breeders, sold the herd bull Anderson Fairfax 573895 to Mathison Brothers of Toronto, S. D., for $25,000.

Hibbing—That Mitchell and the new forty known as East Hibbing will soon be annexed to Hibbing proper, is the opinion of several local officials, who see in the move an opportunity to add to the population of this village.

Winona—Ellsworth Lowry, head of the training department of the State Normal school here for the last three years, has resigned to accept a position as principal of a Normal school now being organized at Indianapolis.

Minneapolis — A bankers short course, on the lines of the short courses run in recent years for businessmen, has been proposed to the University of Minnesota by members of the Minnesota Bankers association.

Fairmont—That the breeding and raising of horses is being rapidly supplanted by other agricultural pursuits in Martin county is shown by figures obtained from the assessment rolls of 1920. This year, there were but 596 foals assessed in the county, as against 1,075 in 1919 and 1,237 in 1918.

Redwood Falls—If the plans for a number of the leading farmers in the flooded section north of here are carried out, the Minnesota river will be formed into a judicial drainage ditch in the near future in an effort to carry off the flood waters which cause such serious trouble on thousands of acres of farm land. The project comprises reservoirs, clearing the river channel and building dikes and dams.

EATONIC Users—Do This—Get the Greatest Benefits

Chicago, Ill.—Thousands of reports from people all over the U. S. who have tested eatonic, show the greatest benefits are obtained by using it for a few weeks, taking one or two tablets after each meal.

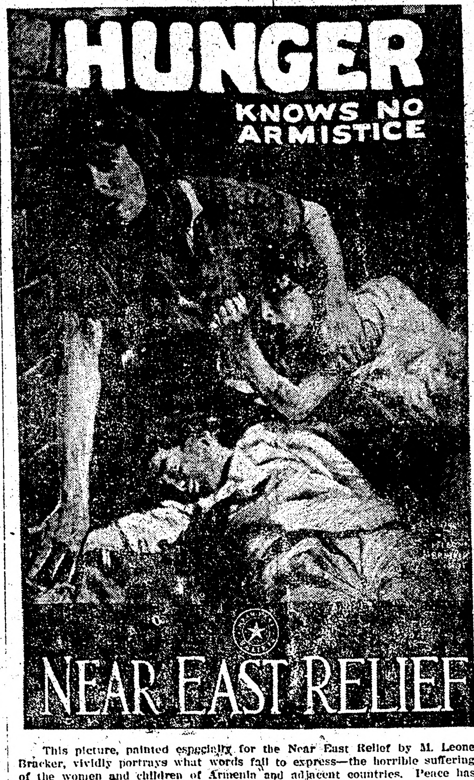
Poster Tells Dramatic Story



This picture, painted especially for the Near East Relief by M. Leone Bracker, vividly portrays what words fail to express—the horrible suffering of the women and children of Armenia and adjacent countries. Peace has blessed Europe and America for more than a year but in Western Asia conditions more frightful than any war time experiences of the martyred populations of Belgium and France still exist. Thousands of women and children escaped massacre by the Turkish soldiers only to face the terrible agonies of death by starvation. At the present time it is estimated that 1,250,000 adults and fully 250,000 orphaned children are completely destitute and in imminent danger of death by starvation and exposure.

The Near East Relief, 1 Madison Avenue, New York, is at present the only organization giving aid to these suffering people and lack of funds still prevents the reaching of more than a small part of the stricken people.

RE-ROUTING JEFFERSON HIGHWAY.

The towns of Steiner, Holt, Middle River, Strathcona, Greenbush and Pelan have an organization and will present their claims in due time to the Jefferson Highway Association for consideration. The re-routing of the Jefferson highway from Thief River Falls north to Hallock, as we have recited in these columns before, is inevitable. Under the new Babcock Road Law, a paved road will be built from Thief River Falls to Warren, wher the road will connect with the Kings Trial from Crookston via Warren to Hallock. A paved road will also be built from Thief River Falls north to Steiner, Holt, Middle River, Strathcona, Greenbush, and from Greenbush two ways; north to Roseau and Warroad and west to Hallock. The present route of the Jefferson Highway positively will be abandoned. It was a make shift route in the beginning and has served its purpose well, but now it is out of date and inadequate in every way. It is fifty miles north from Thief River Falls to a town; the road as now located has no friends and more than a dozen towns on two sides oppose the present location. The present route under the new law will not and cannot be paved. One of these routes will be adopted by the Jefferson. We point to Thief River Falls business men, merchants, bankers, hotel men, auto men, all business men, that this road is going to be changed. The Jefferson Highway is a bi gasset to our city, worth more to us than another railroad would be, much more. The road is going via the north route or by Warren, where the Kings Trail will swallow it up. We have no hesitancy in saying that the north route is one hundred times the best route in every respect so far as roads are concerned. If the road goes north we add more than a dozen towns, with an empire of trade territory and thousands of friends. If the road goes to Warren we put up a trade barrier at the Pembina ridge and possibly we bid the route goodbye entirely. Just as soon as Warren gets the road established via their town to Hallock, we will begin to hear from Crookston, with the possible loss of the road entirely. Wake up right now. Lets put in all we have and let's put it in at the front end where it will do some good.
--T. R. Falls Tribune

It has been common knowledge thru publication in the Thief River Falls and other papers that the Jefferson Highway is to be re-routed between Thief River Falls and Hallock. It was a senseless move in the first place to route it on the Pembineau trail, along which for sixty miles the highway traverses the most unproductive and uninviting section of the country and does not pass a town between a town in Marshall county is on the present route and as a matter of course the people of this county have shown little interest in maintaining the road. The practical route for the highway to take is from Thief River Falls north to Greenbush, thence to Hallock via Halma and Bronson, and possibly Karlstad. By this route the road would pass thru a thriving town every few miles all the way from Thief River Falls to Hallock, which would make the people of these towns and their surrounding territory a unit in its support. Moreover, the entire route would be over roads already designated as state roads. The road from Thief River Falls to Greenbush which is consierably over half the mileage of the proposed re-routing is over a section of the proposed Babcock chain of arterial roads, and an already well established state road, graded all the way and a considerable part of it being graveled and a fine road. This road, as well as the road west and north of Greenbush runs thru a section of country having soil easy to be made into roads and besides gravel can be procured at several places right on the line of it. Another fact that should not be lost sight of is that by this route the highway would connect at Greenbush with the Scenic Highway running to Warroad, and the Lake of the Woods, which is rapidly becoming an objective point for summer tourists.

Representative business men from Middle River, Stratchona and Greenbush recently met at Greenbush and took preliminary steps toward the furtherance of the re-routing of the Jefferson on the above mentioned lines. An organization was effected, of which G. J. Brandt, of Greenbush, is president, E. P. Modin, of Middle River, vice president, H. M. Bishop, of Strathcona, secretary, and B. Dokken, of Holt, treasurer. In furtherance of the project, on Thursday last, Messrs. Brandt and Andersen, of Grenbush, Bishop, of Strathcona, and Modin and Carr, of Middle River, made an auto trip to Hallock by way of the intervening towns along the proposed new route. They met with encouragement all along the line, the men interviewed in all the towns conceding that the change would be for the best interests of all concerned and the country asa whole.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

PLACES BLAME ON ENGLAND

The Dying Lord Mayor of Cork Says His Fate Stains Nation's Record.

WRITES COMPATRIOTS

Representatives of British Government Hold Forth No Hope of a Reversal of the Government's Attitude.

London.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, had a bad night, and was very weak the morning of the 38th day of his food strike, according to a bulletin issued by the Irish Self Determination league. The bulletin stated that Annie MacSwiney, sister of the lord mayor, had just left Brixton prison and declared his condition was unchanged except for the weakness incident to his long fast.

In his report to the home office, the physician at Brixton prison reported that the lord mayor's condition was virtually unchanged.

Lord Mayor MacSwiney on his 38th evening wrote a message to Irishmen throughout the world on behalf of himself and the hunger strikers in Cork jail. After thanking them for their sympathy and prayers, the lord mayor said, according to the London Times:

"If this cold blooded murder is pushed through it will leave a stain on the name of England which has no parallel (even in her history) and which nothing will ever efface. It will rise before the English people whenever they offer another people friendship. We feel singularly privileged at being made instruments of God for evoking such world wide expressions of admiration and support for the cause of Irish independence and recognition of the Irish republic. If we are to die, we are called to that even greater privilege and happiness of entering the company of those who died for Ireland.

"We forgive all those who are compassing our death. This battle is being fought with clean hearts, purely for our country. We have made our peace with God and bear ill will toward no man."

After invoking God's blessing upon all who prayed for the prisoners, MacSwiney concluded by saying:

"I believe God is watching over our country and by his divine decree, her resurrection is at hand. I believe this is her last battle for liberty and that God will crown it with complete victory."

Belfast.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, has informed the magistrates of County Louth that he can hold out no hope that the British government will reverse its decision in the case of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork on hunger strike in Brixton jail. The magistrate recently sent a communication to Sir Hamar, demanding full self-government for Ireland, with powers not less comprehensive than those enjoyed by any dominion, and calling for the immediate release of MacSwiney. The chief secretary's reply to the magistrates say:

"I can hold out no hope of reversal of the decision of the government in the case of the lord mayor of Cork. I can assure you the government is desirous of granting the fullest possible measure of self-government to the Irish people and would welcome an expression of moderate opinions directed to the unfortunate state of affairs."

PLAN ANNUAL GRAIN SHOW

Committee Names January 18-22 as Time for Fargo Event.

Fargo.—Dates for the Tri-State Grain Growers convention to be held at the Fargo auditorium have been fixed for January 18-22.

"The convention this year," said Mr. Randlett, "will be made the largest one in the association's history. We expect an unusually large attendance and we are making arrangements for several prominent speakers. The program for the convention is being worked out and will probably be announced in December."

The contests of the North Dakota Improved Seed Growers association, which will be held during the grain growers' week, will have more entries than ever before, according to plans being made by Mr. Bolley.

No Armistice Likely.

Riga, Letvia.—After a two hour conference between M. Dombski, head of the Polish peace mission, and Adolph Joffe, chief of the Russian soviet delegation, the opinion was expressed by M. Lados, secretary of the Polish mission, that there is little chance of a cessation of the Russo-Polish fighting until preliminary peace terms are agreed upon. Action at the conference on armistice terms between Poland and Russia will be controlled by the military situation

MADE HIS POSITION PLAIN

Visitor Bound to Notify Big-Game Hunter That He Would Not Accompany Him.

He was a big-game hunter and he had inserted an advertisement in a morning paper asking if any man would accompany him to central Africa to shoot lions, rhinos, hippos, etc., the said companion to bear half the cost of the expedition.

Late that night or, rather at two o'clock the next morning, his household was awakened by a violent ringing of the front-door bell and a man was admitted who, to put it mildly, appeared to have been wining.

"Look here," explained the visitor, "I read your 'vertisement this mornin' and I was bound to come to you."

"Well," queried the hunter, "it's a bit late to talk business, but will you accompany me?"

"'Company you?" retorted the visitor. "No, shir. I called to tell you I'd shee you hanged first."

Complications.

"What was the trouble with your singing society?"

"It was a fine society," replied Jud Tunkins, "but the singing was hard to regulate. The wealthy and influential members we depended on to keep it going all happened to have poor voices."

Little boats must keep the shore, large ships may venture more.

Washington's Millionaire Colony.

Washington is becoming a community of millionaires. According to estimates made from income tax returns—the basis being an income of $50,000 or more a year—the District of Columbia contains no fewer than 150 persons worth one million dollars or more. From season to season the number of wealthy Americans who settle in the national capital, mainly attracted by its social opportunities, is perceptibly growing.

Convivial Gentleman Preferred to Buy His Wine Rather Than Comply With Wife's Request.

Three men about town had a very good day at the races. Each vowed that he would go home and cheerfully obey the first request that his wife made him. A bottle of wine depended upon the result.

The following night they compared notes.

"My wife told me, as I slipped on the cat's saucer, to break all the china in the house, so I did," said No. 1.

"I happened accidentally to sit on the piano," said No. 2, and my wife suggested that I should utterly ruin it, so that instrument will be heard no more."

Then No. 3 spoke. "I went for the top step that was not there and fell full length," he explained, "and my wife remarked that she would be pleased to see me break my neck."

"And—?" queried his companions, breathlessly.

"Oh, I am paying."

PREPARE FOR PEACE MEETING

Heads of Polish and Soviet Regimes Confer in Riga.

RUSS ADMIT REVERSES

Success of Polish Forces Notable of Late While General Wrangel Suffers Setback in Naval Clash.

Riga.—M. Dombski, head of the Polish peace mission, and Adolph Joffe, chief of the Russian Soviet delegation, are meeting to fix a date for the beginning of the conference at which an armistice and treaty of peace between Poland and the Russian soviet government will be negotiated.

Pictures of the old Russian czars have been removed from the hall where the peace conference is to be held, this being done at the request of the soviet delegates.

Warsaw.—Lutsk, an important fortified city 40 miles east of Vladimir-Volhynsk, has been captured by the Poles, who have won successes along a front of approximately 240 miles, according to the last official statement issued here.

Polish forces continued to advance east of Vladimir-Volhynski, southeast of Brest-Litovsk and have occupied the towns of Porezkov, and Chorostov. The towns of Kamien and Kaspirski, north of Kovel, have been taken, the Russian soviet armies losing 1,000 prisoners.

The Poles, in their strides from the Pripet region south of the Dneister are reaching eastward. They have pushed the soviet forces back at various points and gathered in great quantities of war materials and hundreds of prisoners.

Northeast of Brest-Litovsk, the Poles have brought within their lines a part of Europe's greatest forest, which for years was the former Russian emperor's hunting grounds, and to the east of Kobryn have gained control of the Gorodetski canal, which connects the Bug, the Pripet and the Dnieper.

Near Pinsk the Poles have encountered bands of "insurgents" who are operating in the rear of the soviet troops.

London.—The latest official communique from Moscow, received by wireless, admits a Russian retirement in the Lemberg region. It says:

"In the region of Lemberg, as a result of fierce fighting, our troops retired to the line of Stanislautchik, Sokolow, Bysly and Kamen villages. The fighting is continuing."

A victory for the soviet flotilla in the Sea of Azov over General Wrangel's naval forces is announced in an official statement from Moscow received here. In the land fighting the soviet forces concede a setback and a retirement in the neighborhood of Oriakhoff. The statement read:

"In the Oriakhoff region, as the result of fierce fighting with the enemy's cavalry, we retired behind the Tokmak-Pologu railway, where the fighting is counting.

"On the Sea of Azov our flotilla defeated the enemy's flotilla, consisting of seven ships, sinking one destroyed and damaging two others."

EVIDENCE IS ACCUMULATING

Prominent Detectives Confident of Unravelling Bomb Plot.

New York.—Confidence that the "American anarchist fighters," who are believed to have caused the disastrous bomb explosion in Wall street last Thursday, will be brought to justice, is expressed by William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice.

Chief Flynn, who has charge of the federal investigation under the personal supervision of Attorney General Palmer, said he was certain from the similarity of circulars found in a mail box near Wall street at the time of the explosion, to those found at the scene of various bomb explosions in June, 1919, that the same crowd of terrorists was responsible for both outrages.

"We had solved the mysteries of last year's bombs but were frustrated in bringing the criminals to justice when Alfredo Salesedo, whom we were detaining in the New York office of the bureau, jumped from a 14-story window and committed suicide," said Flynn. "That tipped our hand, and the crowd got safely out of the country before we could nab them. Now we have much more to work on at the start. The similarity of the circulars makes available all our knowledge of the gang who committed the outrages last year

We even established the identity of one anarchist who was killed by his own bomb in last year's explosion, with much less evidence than we have in the present case. Torn bits of pink paper were all the evidence we had last year. Now we have whole circulars dropped into a mail box, presumably by the man who set off the bomb, half an hour after a letter carrier had emptied the box. In addition there are the horse and the broken bits of the wagon on which the bomb was placed.

HOLY CITY AS IT IS TODAY

Redeemed but Waiting to Be Clothed in Raiment That Is but Her Just Due.

It is well, as we leave the gentle allurement of flowers in the Garden of Gethsemane and turn toward the city, that our hearts have first been filled with serene joy, writes William D. McCracken in Asia magazine. We regard the fearfully tried city with something of the compassion that the Master felt for it. Seventeen times destroyed—bitterly hated—anxiously sought—how desperate a history since Nebuchadnezzar captured it more than twenty-five centuries ago. And only the other day, it seems, at Christmas time in 1917, Jerusalem was captured again, this time by its friends, the British after an agreement with the Turks that the city itself should not be bombarded. There was some fighting on the Mount of Olives, and reconnoitering airplanes dropped a bomb or two in and about the Garden of Gethsemane. But Jerusalem had been captured for the last time, and the last offensive was devoid of evil.

Redeemed today, but in her nakedness, Jerusalem waits to be clothed. She has as yet no grace, no covering for her ugly wounds. Some day her sides will glisten with the brightness of a heavenly radiance; she will be washed and anointed like a bride waiting for the bridegroom.

In Proportion.

"Why, is this your full stock of wedding rings?" the young man asked in surprise. "Only half a dozen—not enough to permit of any choice at all. Odd, when you have a couple of hundred engagement rings there in the case."

"Not odd—experience," the jeweler replied "It'll take all those diamonds to work off these plain bands."

Most men are qualified to occupy apartments in a lunatic asylum—and they can prove it

SOMETHING JOB NEVER DID

Possibly an Experience Like Mr. Brown's Would Have Shattered His Reputation for Patience.

Filled with pride, Mr. and Mrs. Brown started out for a drive in their new motorcar. Mrs. Brown was hoping the neighbors were watching, but her husband was too busy steering to hope about anything.

Alack! Before they reached the end of the road the car stopped, and stayed that way with a mule-like persistency. Mr. Brown tried every lever and handle in turn. Then he got down from his seat and began to investigate.

Presently he lay down and crawled underneath the car until only his number nines were left visible. In a few moments the car gave a sudden jolt and then stopped, and a terrible flow of language, more forcible than polite, became audible.

"Oh, John," exclaimed the wife, in horrified tones, "don't swear so! Have patience, like Job did."

"Job," shrieked Mr. Brown, in a stifled voice. "Job would have sworn, too, if he'd been underneath this beastly car with his mustache caught in a cogwheel."

A Wild, Open-Air Life.

Postmaster General Burleson said at a San Francisco luncheon, apropos of a political dispute:

"Our opponents put up a very warm but very unsatisfactory defense. They remind me of the chorus girl.

"A young divine met in Broadway a chorus girl from his home town. In the course of their conversation the divine said:

"'And don't I too?' the chorus girl protested hotly. 'Every evening after the show I get my supper on a roof garden.'"

Naturally.

"How does the poker scene go in your new Western play?"

"We always get a hand on it."

"Our plan," explains Mr. Harrison, "provides for thrift organization from national headquarters down to the individual effort of a member of a local savings committees.

Two Big Objects in Sight.

"There are two impeling motives behind the savings movement: first, to strengthen our national financial situation, and second, to promote individual prosperity. To win the first objective we might make 'work and save' the national anthem. And individuals everywhere must hold their government securities and buy more, they must strive to produce more and to invest. In doing his part to gain this national aim, the individual will gain the second objective.

"The National, district and county organizations is the same as that which made the Ninth district the best organized district in the United States during the War period.

"The county chairman is an important cog in the organization machinery and these chairmen are now being selected for the 1920 work.

Local Committees Important.

"The local thrift committee is the most important element in the entire Savings organization. Upon this committee rests the responsibility of establishing the study and practice of thrift. To transform an extravagant nation into a nation of savers, into a nation whose people think before they spend; spend intelligently and invest wisely—that is the mission of the local thrift committee.

"Banks, natural financial agents of the Treasury; postoffices, where thrift stamps and war savings stamps and general information may be obtained, schools, training camps of tomorrow's citizens; women, who spend three-fourths of the nation's income; the press, whose co-operation is so essential to the onward sweep of the savings movement, fraternal societies, labor unions—all these agencies and more, will, the governments hopes, be amalgamated into a powerful army which will inspire economy, encourage production, strengthen loyalty and smite the high cost of living."

Hobbs Did It—Can You?

Franklyn Hobbs lives in Chicago.

For more than 26 years he has been recording on the first of each month the average price of more than 400 commodities.

That is one reason why they call Hobbs a statistician and economist.

About five years ago he began keeping a close and, you may be sure, accurate account of his household expenses.

And what do you suppose happened in the Hobbs household in the merry silk shirted, isn't-it-dreadful-how-much-everything-costs year of 1919!

Well, let Hobbs say it in his own words and then you'll know it is gospel. Says Hobbs:

"Although enjoying everything sensibly needed, our household expenses show a decrease for the year 1919 and are lower than they were five years ago."

How did Hobbs do it?

By planning his expenditures intelligently and systematically and by seeing to it that none of his dollars loafed on the job when he sent them to market. He says anyone else can do the same thing; too—all it needs is determination.

"My shoes cost me $6.85 because I sought shoe values and found them. First find your values, then buy. We find it pays substantial dividends."

Incidentally, Mr. Hobbs believes the farmer the wisest spender of all and that it is due to this fact that the wealth of the nation has steadily gone forward."

There is something else that Mr. Hobbs has to say concerning the farmer:

"The average wage paid city labor is 90 cents an hour; the average wage paid for farm [illegible] is 31 cents and this includes the farmer himself. There are 22,000,000 men in this country who work with their hands and one-half of this number are employed on the farms."

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME
With the Soldiers

There remain in army hospitals throughout the country more than 26,000 soldiers still being treated for wounds received overseas. Red Cross workers give them the same sort of friendly aid—only more of it—that was given during the war. Furthermore, the Red Cross is teaching these lads occupations at which they can later make a living and is keeping in touch with their home folks in order that no dependents may suffer for lack of funds.

SALIENT POINTS IN SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

"I pledge fidelity to our country and to God and accept the nomination of the Republican party for the presidency of the United States. The human element comes first, and I want the employers in industry to understand the aspirations, the convictions, the yearnings of millions of American wage earners."

"The constitution contemplates no class and recognizes no group. It broadly includes all the people, with specific recognition for none."

"We approve collective bargaining."

"Gross expansion of currency and credits has depreciated the dollar. We will attempt intelligent and courageous deflation."

"When competition—natural, fair impelling competition—is suppressed, whether by law, compact or conspiracy we halt the march of progress, silence the voice of aspiration and paralyze the will for achievement."

"I promise you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign."

"I can hear the call of conscience an insistent voice for largely reduced armaments throughout the world."

"Our vision includes more than a chief executive. We believe in a cabinet of highest capacity, equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates, in whose councils the vice-president, second official of the republic shall be asked to participate."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

SIX MONTHS I COULD NOT WORK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Me Strong and Able to Work—I Recommend It To All My Friends.

Bayonne, N. J.—"I had pains in back and legs so that I could not stand caused by female trouble. I felt so tired all the time, had bad headaches, and for six months I could not work. I was treated by a physician and took other remedies but got no relief. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has helped me very much. I am well and strong and now able to do my work. I cannot thank you enough and I recommend your medicine to my friends who are sick."—Mrs. SUSIE SACATANSKY, 25 East 17th St., Bayonne, N. J.

It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for over forty years, and today hold a record for such wonderful success as does Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person

BOMB PLOT IN CORK

Explosion Wrecked Sinn Fein Store While Guerilla Warfare in Belfast Resulted Fatally to Several.

Cork.—A violent explosion shook this city about two o'clock one morning. It was followed by the rattle of rifle fire in various parts of the business district. When the townspeople ventured forth later in the morning, after the curfew had expired, they found the main thoroughfare, Patrick street, littered with glass and the front of a large department store, which is said to employ a large number of Sinn Meiners, completely wrecked as if by bombs.

At military headquarters it was said there were no military patrols near the wrecked store when the explosion occurred, but that the troops were hastened to the scene. They were fired on by snipers from the roof of the store, according to reports, and the soldiers returned the fire with several volleys. A military guard has been stationed at the store.

It is understood the theory of both the military and police is that a bomb was placed in a show window from the inside, but this is controverted by the owner. A half dozen employees sleeping upstairs were not hurt. Intense excitement prevailed throughout the city.

Cold Blooded Murder.

London—Three men have been slain, apparently in cold blood, at Belfast, following the murder of one policeman and the wounding of two others. Dispatches received here indicate the assassination of these three men was deliberately planned.

Serious rioting has occurred in Belfast, and it is said a number of wounded persons have been received in hospitals there. Large forces of troops with armored cars are on duty in that city.

Sniping in Belfast.

Belfast.—Shooting by snipers and others in the center of Belfast caused a panic among the crowds on Royal avenue, the city's main artery, after church hours. The disturbance followed shooting the day before, in which one policeman was killed and two others were wounded, followed by the assassination of three civilians, by masked men, in reprisal.

Snipers in the Sinn Fein quarters fired into North street which crosses Royal avenue. A tram car came into the line of fire. The passengers, terrified, crouched on the floor until the car turned into Royal avenue. Tram car traffic was diverted to another route.

The rush from the streets caused the crowd in Royal avenue to swell to large proportions, and a stampede was created when volleys suddenly rang out, apparently from the Sinn Fein side streets at the top of North street. As the crowd raced in disorder along Royal avenue shots were discharged in Rosemary streets, on the southern side of the avenue, creating a panic about the Castle street junction, the most crowded spot in the city.

PRICE FALL IS IN BEGINNING

Chicago Retailer Cites Instances of Steady Decline.

Chicago.—A general reduction in food prices is predicted by Sol Westerfield, president of the Retail Grocers association, who declares all articles of food, with the exception of eggs and butter, are due for a steady decline. The unwillingness of banks to lend money at high interest rates has resulted in producers cutting prices to move their goods, Westerfield said.

"Reductions have been felt all over Chicago," he said. "Potatoes are selling at 45c to 55c a peck, the lowest in years. I expect they will reach less than two cents a pound.

"Tomatoes are selling at 10 to 15 cents for two and one-half pound baskets. Sugar has dropped to 15 cents and will go lower when the new crop comes in.'

"The canned goods being packed will have to be sold cheaply to move it, despite high wage costs,' Westerfield said, because the banks will not loan canners enough money to carry the stock.

Real Suffering Not Feared.

Fargo.—Although there will be a coal shortage in the northwest this winter which may put anthracite in the luxury class, there will be no actual suffering in North Dakota for lack of coal, in the opinion of Fargo dealers. Reports from the twin cities and Duluth that "people are going to freeze to death in the northwest this winter because of the lack of fuel," are believed to be exaggerated, as far as the North Dakota situation goes, as plenty of lignite is available in this state.

"LAND OF PLENTY"

Western Canada a Country of Marvelous Fertility.

Literally Hundreds of Miles of Wonderful Grain Fields Delight the Eye —Yields Will Run Well Over a Billion Dollars.

A trip through the wheat fields of Western Canada may lack the inspiration, such as one may find working insidiously through his being as he traverses the mountain areas of Canada, rich in the variety of color and depth of shades that they cast, wonderful in their magnitude, their grandeur, restful, even although the streams that flow from their sides come down with a swish and a swash creating a noise that makes one's eardrums beat their last beat. Then as we rest beside the lakes in the clouds and see the calm and peace which they enjoy in the midst of nestling hills, we wonder if there's another world. Care has vanished; all we want is to dwell upon the scene. But it was not the intention to speak of mountain scenery, roaring torrents, placid lakes, and restful haunts. Rather, we were about to speak of the other kind of inspiration that is aroused as one traverses Western Canada's immense plains, gridironed with railroads and splendid highways, along whose borders and away back are to be seen the most wonderful grain fields. The crops of wheat, oats, barley, flax, and corn—yes, corn—have just been harvested, the threshing machines are busy, the elevators are ready—the thirty and forty thousand-bushel elevators, with three, four, and five and more at nearly every station along the thousand miles of railway that serve this immense new area of agricultural land. There is not a more inspiring sight than these grain fields. They lead one to pause and reflect, get one into a mental arithmetic strain, and the mind wanders as it gathers the great length of figures that represents the Western Canada grain crop of 1920. A pencil and paper are needed, for the value will run into and over a billion dollars. At least, that is what those who profess to keep themselves posted as to values believe.

The wheat crop alone will run over 250,000,000 bushels, and if you figure this at $2.80 per bushel, the price it is selling at as we write, there you have $700,000,000 alone. Then there is the oat crop, with a yield of one hesitates to say the quantities in bushels, for the threshers are reporting yields of 110 and 120 bushels per acre, where but 80 and 90 bushels were expected, but their value, apart from that of barley and rye and flax, will carry us over the billion dollar mark.

Of course all this means—but we had almost forgotten to speak of the cattle and horses, the sheep and the pigs, the dairy and many other farm products, the increase and production of which this year will bring in many more million dollars—all this means that there will be a rush of buyers to Western Canada this fall, during the winter, and next spring.

A certain amount of satisfaction is derived by those "back home here," whose friends are writing them indorsing the statements that are appearing in the press of wheat yields of thirty, forty, and fifty bushels to the acre; of oats yielding anywhere from sixty to 120 bushels per acre. Districts have not been specially favored. Travel anywhere, eight hundred miles east and west, four hundred miles north and south, and it is the same story, splendid yields, good acreage, excellent prices, easy marketing, but labor a little scarce.—Advertisement.

ALL DRUGGISTS SELL IT

Look Out for Rheumatism As Winter Approaches

So many cases of Rheumatism come from a tiny disease germ that infests the blood, that physicians are beginning to realize that this source of the disease is becoming quite prevalent. Of course a disease that has its source in the blood cannot be reached by local remedies applied to the surface.

One remedy that has given splendid results in the treatment of Rheumatism is S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that has been sold by druggists for more than fifty years. S.S.S. acts by driving out of the blood the disease germ that causes Rheumatism, thus affording real relief.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME

Aiding Poland

But for the work of American Red Cross agents in all regions of Poland during the last twelve months, hundreds of thousands of people in that tragic country today would be under the sod, victims of hunger, disease and exposure. The job in Poland is one of tremendous proportions and cannot be abandoned for many months to come. Here is a typical scene: A Red Cross worker "at the throttle" of a soup kitchen where hundreds of undernourished women and children are fed daily.

WATCH YOUR STEP!

Peter Rabbit's Near Blunder Described in Thrift Story Written Expressly for Government Savings Organization.

By Thorton W. Burgess.

(Copyright, 1920, by Thornton W. Burgess. All rights reserved).

"WATCH your step, Peter Rabbit! Watch your step!" shouted Happy Jack Squirrel excitedly as he leaned down from a branch of a hickory tree and jerked his tail as if he were trying to break it off.

Peter Rabbit stopped short and sat up with a most surprised look on his face. "Why should I watch my step?" he demanded, and stared all about him to see what could have so excited Happy Jack. "Why should I watch my step? What ails you anyway, Happy Jack Squirrel?"

Seeing that Peter had stopped, Happy Jack gave a little sigh. "Thank goodness," said he, "you didn't do it."

Life Tree in Danger.

"Didn't step on that little tree I planted for my great-great-ever-so-great grandchildren," replied Happy Jack promptly. "If you had stepped on it I'm afraid that would have been the end of it. This is a queer world. No matter how thrifty a person may be, the carelessness of someone else may make that thrift useless."

While Happy Jack was talking Peter Rabbit had continued to stare about him more puzzled than ever. "I don't see any tree that I could possibly step on," said he. "Are you crazy, Happy Jack?"

"No, I'm not crazy," retorted Happy Jack. "Look right down in front of you under your nose. Do you see that little green plant coming up through the dead leaves?"

Peter looked down and nodded. "Yes," said he. "I see it. What of it?"

"That's a young hickory-tree," declared Happy Jack. "I planted a hickory-nut there last fall. I planted it for my great-great-ever-so-great grandchildren. Some day, if careless people like you don't step on it, that will be a big tree like the one I am sitting in, which was planted by my own great-great-ever-so-great grandfather.

Must Think of the Future, Too.

Peter turned up his wobbly little nose scornfully. "Do you mean to tell me, Harry Jack Squirrel, that you are worrying about a tree that you won't live to see grow up, and from which you won't get so much as one lonesome nut?" he demanded.

"Didn't I just tell you that it is my great-great-ever-so-great grandchildren I am thinking about?" retorted Happy Jack sharply. "The trouble with you thriftless people is that you never look ahead. You think only of the present, and that is pure selfishness. You don't give a thought to those who will come after you. You think only of yourself, and your children and their children will have to scramble for a living and take what they can find. My great-great-ever so-great grandfather planted this very tree I am sitting in and a lot of others that I and my family might be sure of having plenty to eat. My grandfather and my father planted trees, and each fall I do the same thing. That sort of thing is thrift, Peter Rabbit."

Again Peter Rabbit scratched a long ear with a long hindfoot and the puzzled look returned to his face. "I thought," said he, "that thrift is just saving things."

The Best Kind of Thrift.

"That is one kind of thrift. That is, it is if the things saved are to be used later," replied Happy Jack. "But the best kind of thrift is saving a thing and then putting it where it will increase. That is an in-vest-ment. I saved that nut last fall and planted it. Already it has begun to grow, and some day there will be thousands of sweet hickory-nuts from just that one. That is, there will if you don't step on it."

"I won't," interrupted Peter hastily, and backed away a little farther.

"That nut was an in-vest-ment," added Happy Jack.

"In-vest-ment," repeated Peter rolling his tongue around the big word as if he enjoyed it. "In-vest-ment. I never have known the meaning of that word until now."

"Probably you never heard it before," said Happy Jack drily.

He Learns of Thrift Stamps.

"I have too heard it before," retorted Peter. "I heard it this very morning. Farmer Brown's boy was over by the dear old Briar-patch and I heard him tell another boy that Thrift Stamps, whatever they are, are the best in-vest-ment in the world for boys and girls, and that he hoped that every boy and girl in the whole country would buy at least one Thrift Stamp every week. He said they ought to for their own good and the good of their country. I don't know anything about Thrift Stamps, but if they are an in-vest-ment it must be that they grow. Anyway, Farmer Brown's boy was terribly in earnest."

Happy Jack Squirrel chuckled happily. "Of course they must grow," said he. "For myself I prefer hickory-nuts, but probably that's because I am a Squirrel. So there are Thrift Stamps! That is the best news I've heard for a long time. If they keep on some day these humans will be as wise as a Squirrel. Thrift Stamps! That's great! I hope every boy and girl will buy a Thrift Stamp. Well, I can't stop to gossip any longer. So long, Peter. And for goodness sake do watch your step!"

This is the time to divide Marshall county, get the JH and a potato house.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

SUSPECT HELD IN BOMB CASE

Arrest Made in Pittsburgh May Develop Valuable Lead.

EX-MINER IN CUSTODY

Department of Justice Agents Hold Florean Zelenaka Because of Suggestive Remarks He Made About Catastrophe.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Information obtained from Florean Zelenaka of Brooklyn, recently arrested with dynamite in his possession, may lead to a solution of the Wall street explosion, according to police and government agents.

Zelenaka was taken at a hotel after a fight with police. He had been en route from Cincinnati to New York and his remarks on the train brought about his arrest.

Authorities were reticent about their questioning, but it was claimed clues Zelenaka furnished may lead to scores of arrests in Brooklyn and New York.

He is alleged to have remarked to a train companion:

"Tell them I will have the stuff there tomorrow." Another remark attributed to him as he was being placed in his cell was:

"See what we did in Wall street. Next time it will be bigger and more terrible. The last was only a start."

They expressed the opinion that Zelanaka, who formerly worked in the mines of West Virginia, had obtained his dynamite there.

Steam Fitter Gave the Tip.

New York.—Leon Konkel, a steam fitter, the man who gave the Pittsburgh authorities the information which led to the arrest here of Florean Zelenaka of Brooklyn in connection with the Wall street bomb explosion, has arrived here from Pittsburgh to tell his story to the federal authorities.

Konkel told the agents of the department of justice that while he was traveling from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh with Zelenaka the latter informed him he had explosives and gloated over the Wall street explosion. Konkel said he had him arrested after he had seen dynamite in his suitcase at a Pittsburgh hotel.

If Konkel's information leads to solution of the New York mystery, he is eligible for the $20,000 reward offered for tips leading to arrest of the guilty parties.

After questioning Konkel, a New Yorker, at length, officials of the department of justice declared he had been able to give them no information that tended directly to connect Zelenaka with the Wall street explosion.

Renewed Energy in Search.

New York.—Renewed vigor was instilled into the investigation of the origin of the mysterious Wall street explosion on September 16, as a result of the arrest at Pittsburgh of Florean Zelenaka. Department of justice agents said they attached special significance to the arrest.

On learning of Zelenaka's arrest in Pittsburgh where a suit case filled with dynamite was found in his room, federal agents visited the Brooklyn address he gave when arrested and established these facts:

That Zelenaka left his room at 470 Cleveland street in the foreign section, an hour or more before the disaster.

That he carried a reddish-yellow bag; that he formerly was employed by the Hercules Powder company; that he left in his room a large quantity of alleged radical Russian literature.

Tracing Russian Gold.

Washington. — Inquiry into the source of the recent shipment of Russian gold to the United States has been ordered by the department of justice. Belief exists at the department that the gold may be a part of the Russian bolshevik propaganda fund.

FLOUR PRICES GO SKIDDING

Chicago and Minneapolis Markets Develop Notable Weakness.

Chicago.—Drastic cutting of prices have taken place in the wheat market. In some cases as much as 11½ cents a bushel was slashed from values, the December delivery at one time bringing only $1.96 as against $2.07 to $2.07½ at the finish the week before. Increased liquidation by holders was in progress, especially from rural sources.

Acute depression developed at the last and the market closed semi-demoralized, at the lowest price of the day, showing a net decline of 11½ to 12½ cents with December $1.95 to $1.95¼ and March $1.91 to $1.91½. In the final trading the leading feature was not as much aggressive efforts to sell as the nearly complete absence of buying.

PROSPECTS FOR PEACE BRIGHTEN

Soviet Russia Said to Be Much Worried Over Recent Reverses.

AMERICANS ARE HELD

Growing Sentiment Against Bolsheviki Throughout Russia Leads to Promising Negotiations Among Many Factions.

Paris.—Reports received here from Russia represent Premier Lenine and Foreign Minister Tchitcherin disturbed over the successes of the Poles and General Wrangel. The soviet government, it is declared, has issued an appeal signed by General Brussiloff to all officers of the former imperial regime urging them to join the soviet army for the defense of Russia.

Turn From Reds.

London.—An anti-bolsheviki wave is sweeping over Russia and consternation is reigning in Moscow, according to a dispatch received from Helsingfors. A majority of the factory workers in Petrograd were reported to be on strike ostensibly because of the food shortage, but with the real object of overthrowing the red regime.

Soviet troops in the west are said to have held mass meetings demanding immediate peace. It is recalled that just such demonstrations immediately preceded the overthrow of the Kerensky regime.

Quit Vilna Drive.

Riga.—The military attaches of the Polish peace delegation here state that the Poles have abandoned their drive in the direction of Vilna, the Lithuanian capital, owing to the progress of the negotiations with the Lithuanians and the assurances of the Lithuanian government at Krovno that it would not countenance a bolshevik invasion of Lithuanian neutrality.

The abandonment of the Vilna campaign may be the forerunner of a change in the entire military policy which would brighten the prospects of peace.

Reach Agreement.

Riga.—The Poles have reached a temporary agreement with the Lithuanians at Suwalki and military operations have been arrested, according to the latest Polish official statement, which adds that the Polish forces now occupy the river Ulla region northeast of Grodno.

American Engineer Released.

Riga, Letvia.—Dr. Alfred Wood Stickney, the American mining engineer who has been held in jail at Moscow by the Russian authorities, has arrived here. The reason given for his imprisonment was that he was being held pending identification. He was released within a fortnight.

Other Americans reported to be at Moscow include Alfred Boni of New York, formerly of Boni & Liveright, publishers; Royal C. Keeley, engineer, Estes and John Flick, moving picture men charged with entering Russia without soviet permission; Frank Sambro of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Xenophon B. Kalamatiano, formerly of Racine, Wis., and Chicago.

Through the efforts of foreign Red Cross organizations the American prisoners have been receiving additional food allowances.

The bolsheviki apparently have adopted the policy of allowing only one or two Americans to leave Russia at the same time.

EMPLOYMENT GROWS SCARCE

City Employment Bureaus Warn Rural Men to Shun Cities.

New York.—Reports made public here by the employment agencies of both the Salvation Army and the Knights of Columbus indicate that jobs soon will be scarce in cities.

Equalization of labor supply and demand during the last few weeks was reported by the five employment offices in this city conducted by the Salvation Army. For the first time in two years as many men were found seeking work as there were jobs available.

William J. McGinley, supreme secretary of Knights of Columbus, after a three-months survey of Knights of Columbus employment bureaus, warned young men from agricultural districts to keep away from the cities in their quest for employment.

Republican Leader Dead.

Dalton, Mass.—Winthrop Murray Crane, former United States senator, former governor of Massachusetts, a leading figure for many years in the Republican party, in the affairs of the nation, and active head of a great paper-making industry, died at his residence, Sugar Hill, in this town. He passed from life quietly in an attack of sleeping sickness which followed an illness of seven weeks, due, according to his physician, to encephalitis, or inflammation of the brain.

PROVED TRUE TO HER WORD

Fair Autoist Had Said She Would Be Back Promptly, and It Was Even More So.

On one of my first excursions in our new car, writes a correspondent. I stopped at the grocery with my car parked with the back toward the store door. I gave my order and told the clerk that I would be back to get my things in a very few minutes.

As I stepped into the car, my best "beau" came down the street, and anxious to show him how well I could drive, I hurriedly threw into gear. I raced the engine and let the clutch out to get a quick pickup.

It proved to be a wonderful one, as I had thrown into reverse and found myself in the doorway of the grocery store. I had gone over the curbing and all, breaking the window as I bumped into the store.

The grocer hurried out, and when he saw who it was, "Well," he said, "you have proved yourself a woman of your word, but it will cost you the price of a new show window."

MILK AND MEAT AS RIVALS

Rising Prices May Yet Force People to Turn to the Fluid to Sustain Life.

As the price of meat soars upward, many people are forced to be part-time vegetarians. Thus the old question. "Is meat essential to human well-being?" arises again. The committee on food and nutrition of the National Reserach council has issued an interesting report on the relative value of meat and milk.

Eighteen per cent of the protein and energy of grain used in feeding a cow goes into the milk, and is therefore recovered for human consumption; whereas only 3½ per cent is recovered in beef. As for the mineral elements in hay and grain, not much is stored in the tissues, but a great amount goes into milk.

Beef profiteers, beware! The hard-pressed public may decide to let milk take the place of beefsteak.—Popular Science Monthly.

Mother and Daughter Helped.

Middleburg, Pa.—"I am glad to state that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did me much good when I was 35 years old. I was run down with female trouble and was not able to do anything, could not walk for a year and could not work. I had treatment from a physician but did not gain. I read in the papers and books about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. The first few bottles gave me relief and I kept on using it until I got better and was able to do my work. The Vegetable Compound also regulated my daughter when she was 15 years old. I can recommend Vegetable Compound as the best medicine I have ever used."—Mrs. W. YERGER, R. 3, Box 21, Middleburg, Pa.

Fall River, Mass. — "Three years ago I gave birth to a little girl and after she was born I did not pick up well. I doctored for two months and my condition remained the same. One day one of your little books was left at my door and my husband suggested that I try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I started it immediately and I felt better and could eat better after the first bottle, and I continued taking it for some time. Last year I gave birth to a baby boy and had a much easier time as I took the Vegetable Compound for four months before baby came. On getting up I had no pains like I had before, and no dizziness, and in two weeks felt about as well as ever."—Mrs. THOMAS WILKINSON, 363 Columbia Street, Fall River, Mass.

Hart-Parr Tractor!

This is practically the best Tractor on the market to-day. In the event that you are in the market for a Tractor, do not fail to call on me. I have a Hart-Parr on exhibition here at Holt and shall be glad to show it to you.

If you wish to buy a moderately priced tractor on terms to suit you, then do not fail to inspect the Hart-Parr before buying from anybody else.

The agency at Warren sold nearly 100 Hart-Parr Tractors, which in itself should be good proof that the Hart-Parr is the right tractor to buy.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME

Teaching First Aid

Every person mentally and physically able to do so should take the American Red Cross instruction in First Aid Treatment. It's a life-saver and a pain-saver on the farm, in the factory, on the street, at the office, in the home, wherever accidents may occur. Here's a young wife who inexpertly wielded a can-opener and received an ugly gash across her wrist from the jagged can lid. Mother was there, however, with the First Aid kit and Red Cross instruction, and probably prevented a case of blood poison by giving prompt and proper treatment before the doctor arrived.

Junior Red Cross

Invented in 1589.

The knitting frame was invented in 1589 by William Lee, a graduate of Cambridge university and a native of Woodborough, near Nottingham, England. So perfect was the invention in every detail that to this day the essential features of the machine continue in use for the class of work to which Lee applied it.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Candidate For Representative

Marshall County

To My Friends:

Being a Candidate for Representative from Marshall County, I respectfully ask the good will, vote and influence of all my friends and acquaintances. I have been a resident of the county for a good many years, and I have had my share of the troubles and problems connected with the farming game. I am no dreamer and have no new experiments to try out, but pledge myself if elected to give my best efforts to further the agricultural interests of the county and of the state.

Sick kidneys are often to blame for this unhappy state. You must act quickly to prevent more serious trouble. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy recommended everywhere by grateful users. Ask your neighbor!

A Minnesota Case

Mrs. Louie Libra, Glencoe, Minn., says: "I noticed a dull pain in my back. When I tried to sweep or pick up anything sharp pains shot through me and I could hardly straighten. BRITISH WILL SINK RED SUBS Warning Sent By Foreign Secretary to the Soviet Minister.

STATE OF WAR EXISTS

Several Notes Pass Among British and Red Governments Anent Operations of Submarines and Alleged Murders.

London.—Any Russian submarines encountered on the high seas will be attacked on sight by British naval forces, according to a note sent by Earl Curzon, British foreign secretary, to M. Tchitcherin, the Russian bolshevik foreign minister, on October 2, which is published along with other correspondence recently exchanged between Great Britain and soviet Russia.

Earl Curzon points out that he previously sent a communication regarding a submarine launched in the Black sea, in which he said that in view of repeated declarations of leading members of the soviet that their government considered itself in a state of war with Great Britain and in view of the impossibility in these circumstances of waiting to ascertain whether the intentions of the submarine controlled by the soviet government were hostile or not, there was no alternative but to issue order to British ships to attack the submarine should it be encountered on the high seas.

Upon hearing rumors that submarines of the bolshevik fleet had put to see in the Baltic, Earl Curzon sent his note of October 2. To it M. Tchitcherin replied that Leonid Krassin, soviet representative in London would receive instructions in the matter.

Earl Curzon also demanded compensation for the widow and son of Charles Frederick Davidson, who is alleged to have been "murdered in cold blood with no charge preferred against" by the soviet authorities in January last.

Concerning the use of Danzig for the transmission of munitions, Earl Curzon asserts this was an obligation imposed upon the Allies by the Treaty of Versailles. Should Great Britain give to General Wrangel the kind of assistance indicated in the Russian reply, he said, the position of southern Russia would be different from what it is at present.

He charged the soviet with trifling with the question of the return of British prisoners and with sending troops to Persia to open violation of its promises.

Earl Curzon also charges the soviet with having engaged in a military conspiracy which it assisted by the dispatch of considerable numbers of bolshevik troops to operate with the Turkish Nationalist party in Asia Minor, the movement ostensibly being directed against British interest; with threatening an invasion of Khorrassan, in Persia on the Russian trans-Caspian border; with having created a great organization in Tashkent, for marshalling the forces of central Asia in an attack on British territory and British interests; with having brought about a revolution in Bokhara with the same object; and with having maintained envoys in Afghanistan in an attempt to conclude a treaty with the Amir openly aimed at inciting a tribal rising on the Indian frontier.

FOREST FIRES ARE RAGING

Northern Minnesota Is in Grip of Destructive Holocaust.

Duluth.—Twenty-eight miles north of Duluth on the Miller Trunk road and two miles to the east of it, 150 men have been fighting the largest fire known to be burning in northern Minnesota, a three-mile slashing fire.

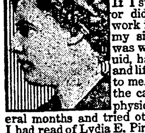
Between 75 and 100 brush fires are now marked down as burning in widely separated parts of northern Minnesota. While the situation is considered grave, there is nothing in it at present to terrify the people in this section of the state, H. G. Weber, state fire supervisor, now in Duluth, announces. There are no fires within a radius of 25 miles of Duluth, he said.

"Minnesota is threatened with a fire on a 25 mile front along the Wisconsin state line, but this series of brush fires is being watched by a large crowd of men under the direction of Percy Vibert of Cloquet, former fire ranger," Mr. Weber said.

C. A. Dahlgren, federal supervisor of the Superior National forest reserve, who is here, reported three fires, one at Wanless in Cook county, another northwest of Winton, and a third six miles northeast of Ely.

Bank Robber Confesses.

Fargo.—To obtain money for the purchase of Canadian liquor is believed by Clay county authorities to have been the motive for the daring daylight robbery of the State bank of Georgetown, and the shooting of Peter Stennes, the cashier. This came to light in the arrest of Thomas O'Leary, laborer, formerly employed by a Fargo wholesale fruit house, whom Clay county officers suspect as the unmasked and lone bandit who entered the Clay county bank about 5 p. m. and shot the cashier in the head.



LIFE WAS A MISERY TO HER

Says this Woman Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to dozens of my friends and shall always recommend it."—LILLIAN THARP, 824 S. 6th St., Carrollton, Ky.

Keep Your Blood Pure Nature Will Do the Rest

Did you know that ninety per cent of all human ailments depend upon the condition of your blood?

Nature gives her warnings in various unmistakable ways, so that when the appetite fails, and you become weak and listless and a general run-down condition seems to take possession of the whole body, it is an unfailing sign that impurities will steadily accumulate until your general health will be seriously affected. You should recognize the importance, therefore, of very promptly cleansing out the system, and keeping the blood supply pure and robust.

COMMON ERROR IN GRAMMAR

Words "Begun" and "Began" Are Wrongly Used by Those Careless in Their Speech.

It is quite common to hear some one say, "I begun to do that work yesterday," "the battle begun between the two armies," etc. This use of "begun" to express the past tense (sometimes called the preterit) of "begin" is not incorrect, according to some authorities on the uses of words, but there is a fairly general agreement that the better word to use is "began." If you wish to safeguard yourself against possible criticism, say "I began to do that work yesterday," "The battle began between the two armies," etc., not "begun."

Richard Grant White, in "Words and Their Uses," a high authority, criticizes and condemns the use of "begun" instead of "began" to express the past.

Of course, it is incorrect beyond any doubt to say, "I have began" to express the perfect tense of "begin." Say, "I have begun," never "I have began."—Columbus Dispatch.

WHERE TOMMY MADE A POINT

Remarkable That School Teacher Had Never Noticed That Quite Simple Truth Before.

Arithmetic, according to the average small boy, was simply invented in order to give teachers a good excuse for punishing their unhappy pupils. And certainly little Tommy Smith found it the unpleasant feature of his young life.

"Now, Tommy Smith," said the school teacher one morning, during the usual hour of torture, "what is the half of eight?"

"Which way, teacher?" asked the youngster cautiously.

"Which way!" replied the astonished lady. "What do you mean?"

"Well, on top or sideways, teacher?" said Tommy.

"What difference does that make?"

"Why," Tommy explained, with a pitying air, "half of the top of eight is nought, but half of it sideways is three."—London Answers.

Additional Routes.

Whenever, either by reason of the creation of a new county, or by reason of the change of the county seat of any existing county, any city or village not a county seat at the time of the adoption of this amendment is lawfully constituted the county seat of any county, the legislature is authorized to add to the trunk highway system such additional routes connecting such newly constituted county seats with other county seats and other points in the state.

When after at least seventy-five (75) per cent of the total number of the miles of the routes embraced in the trunk highway system hereinbefore specified shall have been constructed and permanently improved, the legislature shall have authority to add new routes to such trunk highway system; provided, however, that no such new routes shall be added until and unless the funds available for the construction, improvement and maintenance of such additional routes shall be sufficient therefor in addition to the construction, improvement and maintenance of the several routes hereinbefore specifically described.

Section 2. There is hereby created a fund which shall be known as the trunk highway sinking fund. Said fund shall consist of the proceeds of any tax imposed on motor vehicles as herein authorized. The moneys in said fund shall be used for the payment of the principal and interest of any bonds which may be issued under the authority of this article; and any moneys in excess of such requirements shall be transferred to a fund which is hereby created and which shall be known as the trunk highway fund. The trunk highway fund shall be used solely for the purposes specified in Section 1 of this article, and when duly authorized by legislative enactment to reimburse any county for the money expended by it subsequent to February 1st, 1919, in permanently improving any road hereinbefore specifically described, in accordance with plans and specifications therefor approved by the commissioner of highways.

Section 3. The legislature is hereby authorized to provide, by law, for the taxation of motor vehicles, using the public streets and highways of this state, on a more onerous basis than other personal property, provided, however, that any such tax on motor vehicles shall be in lieu of all other taxes thereon, except wheelage taxes, so-called, which may be imposed by any borough, city or village. Any such law may, in the discretion of the legislature, provide for the exemption from taxation of any motor vehicle owned by a non-resident of the state, and transiently or temporarily using the streets and highways of the state. The proceeds of such tax shall be paid into said trunk highway sinking fund.

Section 4. The legislature may provide by law for the issue and sale of the bonds of the state in such amount as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of section 1 of this article, provided, however, that the amount of bonds which may be issued in any one calendar year shall not exceed, in the aggregate, ten million dollars, par value, and provided, further, the total amount of such bonds issued and unpaid shall not at any time exceed seventy-five million dollars, par value. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be paid into the treasury of the state and credited to the trunk highway fund. Any bonds so issued and sold shall be for a term not exceeding twenty (20) years. They shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest and shall not bear interest at a greater rate than five per cent per annum. In case of the trunk highway sinking fund shall not be adequate to meet the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds authorized by the legislature as hereinbefore provided, the legislature may provide by law for the taxation of all taxable property of the state in an amount sufficient to meet the deficiency, or it may in its discretion, appropriate to such sinking fund moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Section 5. Any and all provisions of the constitution of the state of Minnesota inconsistent with the provisions of this article, are hereby repealed, so far, but only so far, as the same prohibit or limit the power of the legislature to enact laws authorizing or permitting the doing of the things hereinbefore authorized."

PURPOSE AND EFFECT OF AMENDMENT.

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to establish and provide for the construction and maintenance of a system of roads and highways in the state of Minnesota to be known as "The Trunk Highway System." The effect of the proposed amendment, if adopted, will be to establish and authorize the enactment of laws, providing for the construction, improvement and maintenance by the state of the highways described in a general way in the amendment, which highways are to be more specifically and definitely located in a manner to be prescribed by law, but any such law must provide that in fixing a definite location of the various routes there shall not be any deviation from the starting point or termini described in the routes set forth in the amendment, nor shall there be a deviation in the fixing of the routes from the various villages and cities named in the amendment, and through which the routes are to pass.

If the amendment is adopted, the legislature will be thereby authorized to provide by law for the issuance and sale of the bonds of the state to raise money for the creation of a "Trunk Highway Fund" to be expended for the construction of the roads embraced in the trunk highway system. The legislature cannot, however, issue bonds in any one year exceeding in amount of the par value thereof the sum of $10,000,000, nor can the aggregate of all outstanding unpaid bonds ever exceed $75,000,000. Bonds cannot be sold for less than par or bear interest at a greater rate than five per cent per annum.

The adoption of the amendment will also confer on the legislature authority to levy a tax on motor vehicles, using the public streets and highways, on a more onerous basis than other personal property is taxed. The proceeds of such tax will be credited to the Highway Sinking Fund, which is to be used to pay bonds issued as above; any surplus in the Highway Sinking Fund not needed for the retirement of bonds to be transferred to the Trunk Highway Fund. Motor vehicles taxed by any law passed by the legislature under the amendment, will not be subject to any other tax, except that a wheelage tax may be imposed on such vehicles by any borough, city or village, if they see fit to do so.

In case the tax on motor vehicles is not sufficient to pay the principal and interest of the bonds issued, the legislature, in case of the adoption of the amendment, will be empowered to provide by law for the taxation of all the taxable property of the state in an amount sufficient to meet the deficiency, or it may, in its discretion, appropriate to such Highway Sinking Fund any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 2.

Chapter 531, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1919, proposes an amendment to section 7 of article VI of the constitution of the state of Minnesota. Said section now reads as follows:

"Section 7. There shall be established in each organized county in the state a probate court, which shall be a court of record, and be held at such times and places as may be prescribed by law. It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of two years. He shall be a resident of such county at the time of his election, and reside therein during his continuance in office, and his compensation shall be provided by law. He may appoint his own clerk where none has been elected; but the legislature may authorize the election, by the electors of any county, of one clerk or register of probate for such county, whose powers, duties, term of office and compensation shall be prescribed by law. A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the estates of deceased persons and persons under guardianship, but no other jurisdiction, except as prescribed by this constitution."

The amendment simply proposes to substitute the word "four" for the word "two" so that the sentence prescribing the duration of the term of office of probate judges will, if the amendment is adopted, read as follows:

"It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of four years."

The purpose of said amendment and its effect, if adopted, will be to make the term of office of judge of probate four years instead of two.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 3.

Chapter 532 Session Laws of the state of Minnesota for the year 1919, proposes an amendment to Section 1 of Article IX of the constitution of said state. Said section now reads as follows:

"Section 1. The power of taxation shall never be surrendered, suspended or contracted away. Taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects, and shall be levied and collected for public purposes, but public burying grounds, public school houses, public hospitals, academies, colleges, universities and all seminaries of learning, all churches, church property, and houses of worship, institutions of purely public charity, and public property used exclusively for any public purpose, shall be exempt from taxation, and there may be exempted from taxation personal property not exceeding in value $200, for each household, individual or head of a family, as the legislature may determine: Provided, that the legislature may authorize municipal corporations to levy and collect assessments for local improvements upon property benefited thereby without regard to a cash valuation, and provided further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect, modify or repeal any existing law providing for the taxation of the gross earnings of railroads."

If amended said section will read as follows:

"Section 1. The power of taxation shall never be surrendered, suspended or contracted away. Taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects, and shall be levied and collected for public purposes, but public burying grounds, public school houses, public hospitals, academies, colleges, universities, and all seminaries of learning, all churches, church property, and houses of worship, institutions of purely public charity, and public property used exclusively for any public purpose, shall be exempt from taxation, and there may be exempted from taxation household goods, wearing apparel, agricultural products in the possession of the producer thereof, tools, implements and machinery and all real and personal property owned by county agricultural societies and used for holding agricultural fairs, to such an extent and in such manner as the legislature may determine. Taxes may be imposed on incomes, privileges and occupations which taxes may be graduated and progressive and the exemption of a reasonable amount of income from taxation may be provided, and such taxes may be in lieu of taxes on any class or classes of personal property as the legislature may determine: Provided that the legislature may authorize municipal corporations to levy and collect assessments for local improvements upon property benefited thereby without regard to a cash valuation, and, provided further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect, modify or repeal any existing law providing for the taxation of the gross earnings of railroads."

The purpose of said amendment is to empower the legislature to enact laws, to such an extent, and in such a manner, as it may determine, exempting from taxation household goods, wearing apparel, agricultural products in the possession of the producer, tools implements and machinery, and all real and personal property owned by county agricultural societies and used for holding agricultural fairs; and to authorize the imposition of graduated and progressive taxes on incomes, privileges and occupations.

The effect of the amendment, if adopted, will be to accomplish the purpose above indicated, to-wit: to authorize the enactment of laws by the legislature:

FIRST: Providing for the exemption from taxation, to such an extent and in such manner as the legislature may determine, of household goods, wearing apparel, agricultural products in the possession of the producer, tools, implements and machinery, and all real and personal property owned by county agricultural societies and used for holding agricultural fairs.

SECOND: Providing for the imposition of graduated and progressive taxes on incomes, privileges and occupations.

PROPOSED LAW RELATING TO THE TAXATION OF RAILROAD PROPERTIES.

Chapter 533, Session Laws of the state of Minnesota for the year of 1919, proposes an amendment to section 2226, General Statutes Minnesota 1913, and provides that said amendment shall be submitted to the people of this state for approval or rejection at the 1920 general election. Said section now reads as follows:

"Section 2226. Every railroad company owning or operating any line of railroad situated within, or partly within this state, shall, during the year 1913, and annually thereafter, pay into the treasury of this state, in lieu of all taxes and assessments, upon all property within this state, owned or operated for railway purposes, by such company, including equipment, appurtenances, appendages and franchises thereof, a sum of money equal to five per cent of the gross earnings derived from the operation of such line of railway within this state.

On or before August 15, 1913, and annually thereafter, each such railroad company shall make, according to law, a true and just return of all such gross earnings for the six months ending June 30th, next preceding, and the said tax of five per centum thereon shall become due and be payable to the state of Minnesota in manner provided by law, on September 1st, next thereafter.

On or before February 15, 1914, and annually thereafter, each such railroad company shall make, according to law, a true and just return of all such gross earnings for the six months ending December 31st, next preceding, and said tax of five per centum thereon shall become due and payable to the state of Minnesota in manner provided by law, on March 1st, next thereafter; and the payment of such sums at the times hereinbefore set forth shall be in full and in lieu of all other taxes and assessments upon the property and franchises so taxed; provided nothing in this act shall be construed as modifying any agreement entered into between any municipality within the state and any railroad company relating to the payment of local taxes or assessments.

The lands acquired by public grant shall be and remain exempt from taxation until sold or contracted to be sold or conveyed as provided in the respective acts whereby such grants were made or recognized."

If amended as proposed it will read as follows:

"Section 2226. Every railroad company owning or operating any line of railroad situated within or partly within this state, shall, during the year 1913 and annually thereafter, pay into the treasury of the state, in lieu of all taxes upon all property within this state owned or operated for railway purposes, by such company, including equipment, appurtenances, appendages and franchises thereof, a sum of money equal of five per cent of the gross earnings derived from the operation of such line of railway within this state.

On or before August 15, 1913, and annually thereafter, each such railroad company shall make, according to law, a true and just return of all such gross earnings for the six months ending June 30th, next preceding, and the said tax of five per centum thereon shall become due and payable to the state of Minnesota in manner provided by law, on September 1st next thereafter.

On or before February 15, 1914, and annually thereafter, each such railroad company shall make, according to law, a true and just return of all such gross earnings for the six months ending December 31st next preceding, and said tax of five per centum thereon shall become due and payable to the state of Minnesota in manner provided by law, on March 1st next thereafter; and the payments of such sums at the times hereinbefore set forth shall be in full and in lieu of all other taxes upon the property and franchises so taxed.

The lands acquired by public grant shall be made and remain exempt from taxation until sold or contracted to be sold or conveyed as provided in the respective acts whereby such grants were made or recognized."

Under the present law the gross earnings tax paid by railroad companies is in lieu of all other taxes and assessments, upon property owned or operated for railroad purposes. Under the proposed amendment such tax will be in lieu of taxes only and railroad companies will become subject to assessments for local improvements in the same way that private persons and corporations, not paying a gross earnings tax, are subject to such assessments.

The purpose of said amendment is, and its effect, if adopted, will be to subject railroad companies, paying gross earnings taxes, to the payment of assessments for local improvements.

Yours respectfully,

CLIFFORD L. HILTON,
Attorney General.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL MAKES PLAIN U.S. THRIFT CAMPAIGN

Minnesota Student Shows Need of Saving and Tells How it is Encouraged.

2 BILLIONS WASTE STOPPED

Sale of Securities and Fixing Individual Financial Responsibility Objects Sought.

Are the facts clear in your mind regarding the Government savings movement?

As an answer to this question, the Ninth District Government Savings Organization points to an essay written by Miss Winifred Fisch of the Montevideo high school and here is the essay:

The thrift and savings movement under the auspices of the United States Treasury department is being conducted for the purpose of inculcating in the minds of the people the simple principles of thrift and savings, with special emphasis on how to save, how to spend and how to invest money.

Miss Winifred Fisch.

Why Thrift Is Needed.

To show that such a movement is essential in America we need only to be reminded that there was reclaimed in 1918 almost two billion dollars worth of waste material; that there are a million and a quarter dependent people in America being fed and cared for out of the incomes of others; that out of an average of 100 men who start in life at 25 with like prospects, it is found that at the age of 65 one is rich, three are well to do, six are still working for a living, 53 are dependent upon relatives or charity, while during the 40 years 36 have died.

"The object of this movement is to encourage people to save and not to sacrifice; to encourage wiser spending and not to discourage spending; to enlarge the independence of the individual and not to restrict the sane and worth while pleasures of life.

How to Spend and How to Save.

"Through the channels existing, educational and other agencies, the purpose is to take to every child in the school, to every workman, in the factory, to every clerk in the store, to every manufacturer, merchant and banker in his business, to every farmer in the field, to every housewife in the home, these simple principles of how to save and how to spend and how to invest money wisely.

"Many people have interpreted this movement as merely a method of raising revenue for the government through the sale of Thrift and Savings Stamps. On the other hand, some have interpreted it as essentially an educational campaign and inferred that the Treasury Department is not concerned with the sale of Savings stamps.

Cannot Be Separated.

"The truth is that the thrift educational movement and the sale of Thrift and Savings stamps cannot be separated in their objects. They are simply two elements of one fundamental purpose. One cannot be said to be more or less important than the other.

"If conducted on a high educational basis this movement will help to eliminate waste and thoughtless use of money, increase the number of investors in government securities, change the economic habits of the people, and make America a nation of savers.

Quieting National Unrest.

"There is probably no better way to stabilize the citizenship of this country in these days of readjustment and unrest than for everyone who can afford it to have some investment in the securities of his own Government.

"The Treasury Department needs money and wants to sell every possible Thrift stamp, Savings stamp and Saving certificate that can be sold to every individual who can afford to buy, not by coercion and forced sales but by the salesmanship that will create a normal demand. But the movement must do more. It must improve the financial condition of the people.

The Machinery Used.

"The machinery which the Treasury department has established for carrying out its part of this movement consists of:

1.—The Savings Division of the Treasury Department at Washington.

2.—A Saving Organization in each of the twelve Federal Reserve districts and connected with the Federal reserve banks, located at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Richmond, Atlanta, Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Mo., Dallas and San Francisco.

3.—State and county savings organizations in many states and counties.

4.—A local savings committee and a local savings director in each community.

Of and for the People.

"This movement is being conducted in the interest of and for the lasting benefit of the people. For this reason school authorities and leaders of women's organizations, labor groups, commercial organizations, agricultural interests, churches and fraternal societies are accepting their part of the responsibility of establishing the practise of thrift as a service to the public."

VERYBODY HAPPY AND NOBODY HURT

ort Punchy Version of Long, Long Story—It's Different.

Women voters, as well as men, may read with interest this brief explanation of a vitally important subject that is taking much space in newspapers:

Road funds of $16,682,000 were spent last year by Minnesota counties and towns. From 65 to 80 cents of every dollar—probably more than $10,000,000 of the total—was used to maintain and improve main highways. Not more than $7,000,000 and possibly nearer $5,000,000 was spent on the local or farmers' roads.

Minnesota proposes to get more than $26,000,000 of road money next year and more each succeeding year, all without increasing taxes or issuing bonds. Here are the approximate figures:

Tax receipts	$17,000,000
Automobile license fees	6,800,000
Federal aid	2,840,000
Total	$26,140,000

The state proposes next year to take over the main highways and with license funds and federal aid money to maintain and improve them as traffic, availability of materials and other conditions demand. The fund provided will be ample, officials state, in view of the scarcity of labor and materials and because liberal appropriations made by local authorities, sometimes at the expense of the other roads, have put many main roads in good condition.

Counties and towns will be left $17,000,000 of tax funds for upkeep and improvement of local roads, without main highway demands to take three-fourths of it as before. They will concentrate all efforts and have far greater funds for the building of the best lateral roads.

Every road will be a good road—everybody happy and nobody hurt, for automobile and truck owners who must pay the extra cost favor the plan because of the big savings on car upkeep, tires and gasoline that good roads make possible.

But more than half the men and women voters must vote 'yes' on Amendment No. 1 on the pink ballot at the November 2 election to put the new plan into effect. Otherwise, Minnesota probably will stay stuck in the mud, and also, may be forced to raise road taxes and sell bonds to keep from becoming completely interred.

NEW PAVING IN HADES

A story is told of a Minnesota man who died before he got to vote 'yes' for Good Roads Amendment No. 1. He was a good booster for good roads and wanted to pay the higher license fee to help build them in Minnesota. He took his car along, however, and while ferrying across the Styx, learned there were good roads down below. There he found the roads dry and smooth. "Good roads are what brought me here and I think I'll stay." he announced. "Where's the nearest filling station?"

"We have no gas down here," the guard answered.

"No gas?"

"No, that's the hell of it."

* * *

RELIEVED OF BIG BURDEN

Counties and townships will be relieved of the burden of improving and maintaining main highways which are taking from 60 to 85 cents of every road dollar. But they will continue to receive all state aid and tax funds—more than $15,000,000 a year—and spend every cent on the other roads. All provided, of course, that Minnesota voters adopt proposed Good Roads Amendment No. 1.

* * *

FACTS OR MERE RUMORS

The Legislature of 1919 representing all parties and sections went on record almost unanimously as being convinced that Amendment No. 1 offers the best plan for good roads. A decision based on careful study and investigation is to be preferred to rumor or hearsay. That means to vote 'yes' on Amendment No. 1 on the pink ballot Nov. 2.

* * *

SAVE $1,500,000 EVERY YEAR

Enough 'yes' vote for Good Roads Amendment No. 1 will mean that Minnesota will get its full allotment of $2,840,000 a year in federal aid. Too few votes will mean that more than half will go to other states with modern road plans. And $1,500,000 or more is worth saving.

* * *

MUD, MUD, MUD!

Mud, mud, mud! Pull Minnesota out of it! Be sure to vote 'yes' for Good Roads Amendment No. 1. That means all roads will be good roads. The extra cost will be met with savings on automobile upkeep, tires and gasoline.

* * *

LET'S LET 'EM

Let automobile and truck owners pay for good main highways with savings on car upkeep, tires and gasoline and give the counties and towns three times as much to improve local roads. Just vote 'yes' on Good Roads Amendment No. 1 on the pink ballot Nov. 2.

* * *

COUNTIES AND TOWNS GAIN

All additional funds needed are provided for state trunk highways by Amendment No. 1 and that leaves counties and towns three times as much for use on local roads. Votes 'yes' will "make every road a good road."

* * *

STICK TILL YOU'RE RIGHT

Keep on inquiring about Good Roads Amendment No. 1 until you make up your mind to vote 'yes' and then only will you have the proposal right.

About all we got out of the war, thanks to the Democratic administration, is an increased tax all along the line.

COUNTRY'S FIRST CORN MILL

Recent Discoveries Establish Its Site at a Point on the St. Croix River, Eastport, Me.

The site of what undoubtedly was the first tidewater mill on the American continent has been discovered at Red Beach, Me., where Low's brook empties into the St. Croix river at a point nearly opposite the southern end of Dochet's island, where De Monts and his men settled in the year 1604, three years before the settlement of Jamestown. In excavating for a fish pond near his summer home, R. S. McCarter of Cambridge, Mass., unearthed the unmistakable remains of an ancient dam of stone and timbers. Comparing the site with the original map of the island, authorities agreed that it must have been the site of the water mill mentioned in the old records as employed by Sieur De Monts and his men to grind their corn, being the largest stream within an area of several miles on either side of the river.

Over fifty years ago a young physician practiced widely in a rural district and became famous for his uniform success in the curing of disease. This was Dr. Pierce, who afterwards established himself in Buffalo, N. Y., and placed one of his prescriptions, which he called "Golden Medical Discovery," in the drug stores of the United States so that the public could easily obtain this very remarkable tonic, corrective and blood-maker. Dr. Pierce manufactured this "Discovery" from roots and barks—a corrective remedy, the ingredients of which nature had put in the fields and forests, for keeping us healthy. Few folks or families now living have not at sometime or other used this "Golden Medical Discovery" for the stomach, liver and heart. Over twenty-four million bottles of this tonic and blood remedy have been sold in this country.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Doctor Cupid

That love sometimes cures disease is a fact that has been called to the attention of the public by a prominent physician. Love is not, however, the cure for all women. Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dragged down and worn out for no reason that she can think of.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives new life and new strength to weak, worn-out, run-down women. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is now sold by all druggists in the United States in tablets as well as liquid form.

MANKATO, MINN.—"I have three daughters who are all strong and healthy today due, I am sure, to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When they were in their teens they were all very delicate. I always gave them this medicine and it never failed to give relief.

"I am in hopes that this will be the means of aiding some who are suffering."—MRS. MARY GOODRICH, 218 West Rock Street.

BUSINESS TIED UP IN STRIKE

Some Disorders In Great Britain Already Reported and the Trouble Grows.

CURRENCY WEAKENED

Coal Strike Sends Pound Sterling Down and Nation Eagerly Awaits Outcome of Several Important Conferences

London. — Disorders occurred in Whitehall in connection with the coal miners' strike, during a demonstration by unemployed men who had sent a delegation to Premier Lloyd George in Downing street. Several persons were injured in attempts to break through a police cordon and others were hurt when some stone work from a window on the treasury building fell.

One effect of the coal strike upon financial London has been the weakening of the pound sterling, which has dropped to $3.44 on buying orders to cover actual and prospective coal shipments from United States to Europe. The effect has already been seen on continental exchange, all of which moved against Great Britain late last week and which is again slightly weaker.

Persistent reports of efforts to settle the strike have partially relieved the spirit of anxious uncertainty of the British nation. For the moment, these reports seem to have greater basis in hope than in actual information.

John Robert Clynes, former food controller, and one of the most moderate of labor leaders, has expressed confidence in a settlement within a week if both sides could be brought together to discuss calmly the controversy. He advocates as a basis of agreement the granting to the miners of half their demands and the submission of the remainder to an impartial tribunal.

J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the National Union of Railway Men, also has made moderate statements, and both these men are relied upon to do their utmost to shorten the strike.

The position of the government regarding the strike is entirely different from that of 1912, when it intervened between owners and miners to settle the dispute. The government, as a result of the war, has been placed in the position of the directorate of the mining industry, the finances of which it controls, and consequently it is interested in the prosperity of the coal trade, which is yielding a large sum to the exchequer.

It is estimated the government wholly supports the premier's intimated readiness to explore every avenue toward settlement, and will facilitate almost any movement toward the reopening of negotiations. Such a movement, it is suggested, may be started at a meeting of the parliamentary committee of the trade union conference, with next executive committee of the Labor party and labor leaders in parliament.

Demand Loan Interest High.

Washington.—"Unjustifiable interest exacted on demand loans" by New York city banks has been an active contributing cause of the "huge shrinkage" in all security values during the last year. Comptroller of the Currency Williams declares in a formal statement. He charged that call money rates in New York are highest in the world, and that "renewal" rates fixed daily by a small "coterie" of stock exchange brokers govern "the interest charged on brokers" loans in nearly all New York banks."

"The raising or lowering of the 'renewal' rate on the exchange," he said, "is frequently accompanied by upward or downward movements in stocks and securities; and those responsible for the fixing of the rate therefore have the opportunity, whether exercised or not, of profiting largely by operations on the stock market, which is so often and directly affected by the call money situation. I do not, of course, undertake to say that this informal 'money committee' does take improper advantage of their fore knowledge but there are critics who generally censure the existing arrangements. Certainly all prudent and thinking business men will agree that there is danger in the concentration of such opportunity and power in the hands of a few persons. Temptation to use this power for individual profit must arise, and human nature is not changed by higher position in the financial world."

Seek a World Revolution.

Halle, Germany.—Two district revolutionary parties, one pledged to the dictatorship of the proletariat through an alliance with the third internationale, the other working toward "proletarian comradeship" in opposition to Moscow, have developed out of the wreck of the independent socialists. The left majority, under the leadership of Danvig, Hoffman and Otto Bass, have attempted an agreement with Moscow for a world revolution, and directed the district leaders to prepare for a strike.

Rheumatism Comes From Tiny Pain Germs

First of all, get it firmly fixed in your mind that all the liniments in the world have no effect whatever on Rheumatism.

A very common form of Rheumatism is caused by millions of tiny disease germs which infest the blood. The one and only sensible treatment, therefore, is one which cleanses the blood of these germs, and routs them entirely out of the circulation.

This is why S.S.S., the greatest known blood purifier is so successful in the treatment of Rheumatism. It is a powerful cleanser of the blood, and will remove the disease germs that cause your Rheumatism, affording relief that is genuine.

S.S.S. is sold by all druggists. Free literature and medical advice can be had by writing to Chief Medical Adviser, 154 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

WAR AGAINST THE BELUGA

French Oceanograph Society Starts Fight on Enemies of the Fishermen.

A campaign against the beluga or white whale was recently started from Douarnenez to Concarneau, in Brittainy, by the French Oceanograph society, in which nets and poison tubes were used. The beluga, pest of the fishermen, is generally cream white in color, feeds mainly on marine fish and commits ravages among the shoals. The average length of the adult male is about 18 or 20 feet. To hunt down the white whale a net 1,100 yards long was set up at Dournenez, while another was placed in a suitable position by the fishermen at Concarneau. Furthermore, the skippers of the sardine boats used 4,000 Yves deluge poison tubes against the belugas.—Indianapolis News.

Doing His Bit.

"You are charged with bigamy."

"I guess I'm guilty, your honor."

"Well, sir?"

"I'm a victim of war statistics, your honor."

"What do you mean?"

"I read some figures to show that because of the number of men killed in the war there are now six women to every man, and I tried to get my six."

The Autocrat.

"Do you and your wife talk politics at home?"

"Never," replied Mr. Meekton. "We have a perfectly good cook."

"What has that to do with it?"

"We are afraid she might get into the conversation and tell us both how we'll have to vote to keep her from leaving."

Wrong Party.

Harry Carey, the picture star is about as affable a chap as one would care to meet, but once in awhile he does get peeved and this is most likely to occur when the company is on location and is in a hurry to get the work done and return to the studio.

Not so long ago the Carey company was on location in the north country, but instead of finding sunny weather, it was cold and cloudy.

This was bad enough, but the explosion came in the tiny restaurant when the chatty waiter remarked:

"The rain will be here in a minute or two, sir."

"Who'n'ell wants rain?" thundered Carey. "I didn't order any. I'm waiting for eggs—sunny side up!"

Iron Ores Formed by Bacteria.

Geologists are realizing more fully as they extend their studies the magnitude of the work done by plants and animals in building up and tearing down parts of the crust of the earth. Even microscopic organisms perform a large part of this work. Pasteur long ago showed us the deadly power of bacteria in disease and their efficiency in promoting fermentation, but their influence on the fertility of soil and their work in expediting rock decay are still subjects of scientific study.

The Housewifes Burden

When a woman is almost distracted from overwork, her home is in disorder, crying children, and on top of all is suffering from backache, bearing down pains, or some other form of feminine ills, then she should remember that hundreds of women in just her condition have been restored to health and regained their youthful strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and not rest until she has given it a fair trial.

Proof that it Restored the Health of These Two Women

Cairo, Ill.—"Some time ago I got so bad with female trouble that I thought I would have to be operated on. I had a bad displacement. My right side would pain me and I was so nervous I could not hold a glass of water. Many times I would have to stop my work and sit down or I would fall on the floor in a faint. I consulted several doctors and every one told me the same but I kept fighting to keep from having the operation. I had read so many times of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped my sister so I began taking it. I have never felt better than I have since then and I keep house and am able to do all my work. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."—Mrs. J. R. MATTHEWS, 3311 Sycamore Street, Cairo, Ill.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby came when I could no longer keep up. It strengthened my back and relieved me of the ill effect which so often develops at such times. That was my first experience with the Vegetable Compound. Years afterwards I took it during the Change of Life and got along so well I scarcely ever had to lie down during the day and seldom had dizzy, fainting spells. I am now well and strong, can do all my housework with perfect ease and it is a comfort to me to be able to say to other suffering women 'take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and be strong.' I will be glad to have you use my name if it will be the means of helping any one."—Mrs. R. A. FAIRBURN, 606 Orchard Knob Ave., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Ouch! Such Pain!

It takes you right in the back! Sometimes in the arm, hip or foot. It's all due to an over-abundance of that poison, called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking the advice of Doctor Pierce, which is, "keep the kidneys in good order." Avoid too much meat, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water, before meals, and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking 'Anuric.' This can be obtained at any drug store, in tablet form.

John D. Rockefeller Enters Mean Man He Once Knew in the Championship Stakes.

John D. Rockefeller once said to a New York reporter:

"The poorest way to wealth is the mean way. In Richford, where I was born, we had a mean man, a very mean man; yet the fortune he left was a small—you might say a mean one.

"At a church supper one night this man cut the corner of his lip with his knife. All searched their pocketbooks, but nobody had any court-plaster. What was to be done? The cut was bleeding.

"Finally the parson produced a two-cent stamp and said:

"'Put this on the cut, squire. It will stop the hemorrhage, I believe.'

"'Thank you,' said the squire gratefully, and taking out his wallet, he placed the two-cent stamp in it, extracting at the same time a one-cent stamp of his own, which he proceeded to stick on the cut.

"'Thank you, parson,' he repeated. 'A penny saved is a penny earned.'"

MILL GIRLS MARRY YOUNG

A village without an old maid sounds somewhat like a fairy tale, but several such places exist down below the Mason and Dixon line.

"All the women get married in the mill villages of South Carolina, and at an early age," says a Y. W. C. A. industrial secretary stationed at Greenville, where she works among the girls in 15 mills.

Perhaps economic independence has something to do with it, as marriage is not looked upon by the girls as a meal ticket, but as a fifty-fifty proposition. The wives do not give up their jobs but keep right on working.

That the textile industry in South Carolina absorbs a large number of women as well as men workers is not surprising, considering the fact that there are as many as 15 mills in 29 counties. With the population of the state estimated at 1,500,015 people, 62,904 are mill workers, and 190,268 are dependents on mill pay. The valuation of the mills is $75,000,000 and the weekly pay roll is $1,000,000.

Additional Routes.

Whenever, either by reason of the creation of a new county, or by reason of the change of the county seat of any existing county, any city or village not a county seat at the time of the adoption of this amendment is lawfully constituted the county seat of any county, the legislature is authorized to add to the trunk highway system such additional routes connecting such newly constituted county seats with other county seats and other points in the state.

When after at least seventy-five (75) per cent of the total number of the miles of the routes embraced in the trunk highway system hereinbefore specified shall have been constructed and permanently improved, the legislature shall have authority to add new routes to such trunk highway system; provided, however, that no such new routes shall be added until and unless the funds available for the construction, improvement and maintenance of such additional routes shall be sufficient therefor in addition to the construction, improvement and maintenance of the several routes hereinbefore specifically described.

Section 2. There is hereby created a fund which shall be known as the trunk highway sinking fund. Said fund shall consist of the proceeds of any tax imposed on motor vehicles as herein authorized. The moneys in said fund shall be used for the payment of the principal and interest of any bonds which may be issued under the authority of this article; and any moneys in excess of such requirements shall be transferred to a fund which is hereby created and which shall be known as the trunk highway fund. The trunk highway fund shall be used solely for the purposes specified in Section 1 of this article, and when duly authorized by legislative enactment to reimburse any county for the money expended by it subsequent to February 1st, 1919, in permanently improving any road hereinbefore specifically described, in accordance with plans and specifications therefor approved by the commissioner of highways.

Section 3. The legislature is hereby authorized to provide, by law, for the taxation of motor vehicles, using the public streets and highways of this state, on a more onerous basis than other personal property, provided, however, that any such tax on motor vehicles shall be in lieu of all other taxes thereon, except wheelage taxes so-called, which may be imposed by any borough, city or village. Any such law may, in the discretion of the legislature, provide for the exemption from taxation of any motor vehicle owned by a non-resident of the state, and transiently or temporarily using the streets and highways of the state. The proceeds of such tax shall be paid into said trunk highway sinking fund.

Section 4. The legislature may provide by law for the issue and sale of the bonds of the state in such amount as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of section 1 of this article, provided, however, that the amount of bonds which may be issued in any one calendar year shall not exceed, in the aggregate, ten million dollars, par value, and provided, further, the total amount of such bonds issued and unpaid shall not at any time exceed seventy-five million dollars, par value. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be paid into the treasury of the state and credited to the trunk highway fund. Any bonds so issued and sold shall be for a term not exceeding twenty (20) years. They shall not be sold for less than par and accrued interest and shall not bear interest at a greater rate than five per cent per annum. In case of the trunk highway sinking fund shall not be adequate to meet the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds authorized by the legislature as hereinbefore provided, the legislature may provide by law for the taxation of all taxable property of the state in an amount sufficient to meet the deficiency, or it may in its discretion, appropriate to such sinking fund moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Section 5. Any and all provisions of the constitution of the state of Minnesota inconsistent with the provisions of this article, are hereby repealed, so far, but only so far, as the same prohibit or limit the power of the legislature to enact laws authorizing or permitting the doing of the things hereinbefore authorized."

PURPOSE AND EFFECT OF AMENDMENT.

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to establish and provide for the construction and maintenance of a system of roads and highways in the state of Minnesota to be known as "The Trunk Highway System." The effect of the proposed amendment, if adopted, will be to establish and authorize the enactment of laws, providing for the construction, improvement and maintenance by the state of the highways described in a general way in the amendment, which highways are to be more specifically and definitely located in a manner to be prescribed by law, but any such law must provide that in fixing a definite location of the various routes there shall not be any deviation from the starting point or termini described in the routes set forth in the amendment, nor shall there be a deviation in the fixing of the routes from the various villages and cities named in the amendment, and through which the routes are to pass.

If the amendment is adopted, the legislature will be thereby authorized to provide by law for the issuance and sale of the bonds of the state to raise money for the creation of a "Trunk Highway Fund" to be expended for the construction of the roads embraced in the trunk highway system. The legislature cannot, however, issue bonds in any one year exceeding in amount of the par value thereof the sum of $10,000,000, nor can the aggregate of all outstanding unpaid bonds ever exceed $75,000,000. Bonds cannot be sold for less than par or bear interest at a greater rate than five per cent per annum.

The adoption of the amendment will also confer on the legislature authority to levy a tax on motor vehicles, using the public streets and highways, on a more onerous basis than other personal property is taxed. The proceeds of such tax will be credited to the Highway Sinking Fund, which is to be used to pay bonds issued as above; any surplus in the Highway Sinking Fund not needed for the retirement of bonds to be transferred to the Trunk Highway Fund. Motor vehicles taxed by any law passed by the legislature under the amendment, will not be subject to any other tax, except that a wheelage tax may be imposed on such vehicles by any borough, city or village, if they see fit to do so.

In case the tax on motor vehicles is not sufficient to pay the principal and interest of the bonds issued, the legislature, in case of the adoption of the amendment, will be empowered to provide by law for the taxation of all the taxable property of the state in an amount sufficient to meet the deficiency, or it may, in its discretion, appropriate to such Highway Sinking Fund any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 2.

Chapter 531, Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1919, proposes an amendment to section 7 of article VI of the constitution of the state of Minnesota. Said section now reads as follows:

"Section 7. There shall be established in each organized county in the state a probate court, which shall be a court of record, and be held at such times and places as may be prescribed by law. It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of two years. He shall be a resident of such county at the time of his election, and reside therein during his continuance in office, and his compensation shall be provided by law. He may appoint his own clerk where none has been elected; but the legislature may authorize the election, by the electors of any county, of one clerk or register of probate for such county, whose powers, duties, term of office and compensation shall be prescribed by law. A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the estates of deceased persons and persons under guardianship, but no other jurisdiction, except as prescribed by this constitution."

The amendment simply proposes to substitute the word "four" for the word "two" so that the sentence prescribing the duration of the term of office of probate judges will, if the amendment is adopted, read as follows:

"It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of four years."

The purpose of said amendment and its effect, if adopted, will be to make the term of office of judge of probate four years instead of two.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT NO. 3.

Chapter 532 Session Laws of the state of Minnesota for the year 1919, proposes an amendment to Section 1 of Article IX of the constitution of said state. Said section now reads as follows:

"Section 1. The power of taxation shall never be surrendered, suspended or contracted away. Taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects, and shall be levied and collected for public purposes, but public burying grounds, public school houses, public hospitals, academies, colleges, universities and all seminaries of learning, all churches, church property, and houses of worship, institutions of purely public charity, and public property used exclusively for any public purpose, shall be exempt from taxation, and there may be exempted from taxation personal property not exceeding in value $200, for each household, individual or head of a family, as the legislature may determine: Provided, that the legislature may authorize municipal corporations to levy and collect assessments for local improvements upon property benefited thereby without regard to a cash valuation, and provided further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect, modify or repeal any existing law providing for the taxation of the gross earnings of railroads."

If amended said section will read as follows:

"Section 1. The power of taxation shall never be surrendered, suspended or contracted away. Taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects, and shall be levied and collected for public purposes, but public burying grounds, public school houses, public hospitals, academies, colleges, universities, and all seminaries of learning, all churches, church property, and houses of worship, institutions of purely public charity, and public property used exclusively for any public purpose, shall be exempt from taxation, and there may be exempted from taxation household goods, wearing apparel, agricultural products in the possession of the producer thereof, tools, implements and machinery and all real and personal property owned by county agricultural societies and used for holding agricultural fairs, to such an extent and in such manner as the legislature may determine. Taxes may be imposed on incomes, privileges and occupations which taxes may be graduated and progressive and the exemption of a reasonable amount of income from taxation may be provided, and such taxes may be in lieu of taxes on any class or classes of personal property as the legislature may determine: Provided that the legislature may authorize municipal corporations to levy and collect assessments for local improvements upon property benefited thereby without regard to a cash valuation, and, provided further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect, modify or repeal any existing law providing for the taxation of the gross earnings of railroads."

The purpose of said amendment is to empower the legislature to enact laws, to such an extent, and in such a manner, as it may determine, exempting from taxation household goods, wearing apparel, agricultural products in the possession of the producer, tools implements and machinery, and all real and personal property owned by county agricultural societies and used for holding agricultural fairs; and to authorize the imposition of graduated and progressive taxes on incomes, privileges and occupations.

The effect of the amendment, if adopted, will be to accomplish the purpose above indicated, to-wit: to authorize the enactment of laws by the legislature:

FIRST: Providing for the exemption from taxation, to such an extent and in such manner as the legislature may determine, of household goods, wearing apparel, agricultural products in the possession of the producer, tools, implements and machinery, and all real and personal property owned by county agricultural societies and used for holding agricultural fairs.

SECOND: Providing for the imposition of graduated and progressive taxes on incomes, privileges and occupations.

PROPOSED LAW RELATING TO THE TAXATION OF RAILROAD PROPERTIES.

Chapter 533, Session Laws of the state of Minnesota for the year of 1919, proposes an amendment to section 2226, General Statutes Minnesota 1913, and provides that said amendment shall be submitted to the people of this state for approval or rejection at the 1920 general election. Said section now reads as follows:

"Section 2226. Every railroad company owning or operating any line of railroad situated within, or partly within this state, shall, during the year 1913, and annually thereafter, pay into the treasury of this state, in lieu of all taxes and assessments, upon all property within this state, owned or operated for railway purposes, by such company, including equipment, appurtenances, appendages and franchises thereof, a sum of money equal to five per cent of the gross earnings derived from the operation of such line of railway within this state.

On or before August 15, 1913, and annually thereafter, each such railroad company shall make, according to law, a true and just return of all such gross earnings for the six months ending June 30th, next preceding, and the said tax of five per centum thereon shall become due and be payable to the state of Minnesota in manner provided by law, on September 1st, next thereafter.

On or before February 15, 1914, and annually thereafter, each such railroad company shall make, according to law, a true and just return of all such gross earnings for the six months ending December 31st, next preceding, and said tax of five per centum thereon shall become due and payable to the state of Minnesota in manner provided by law, on March 1st, next thereafter; and the payment of such sums at the times hereinbefore set forth shall be in full and in lieu of all other taxes and assessments upon the property and franchises so taxed; provided nothing in this act shall be construed as modifying any agreement entered into between any municipality within the state and any railroad company relating to the payment of local taxes or assessments.

The lands acquired by public grant shall be and remain exempt from taxation until sold or contracted to be sold or conveyed as provided in the respective acts whereby such grants were made or recognized."

If amended as proposed it will read as follows:

"Section 2226. Every railroad company owning or operating within or partly within this state, shall, during the year 1913 and annually thereafter, pay into the treasury of the state, in lieu of all taxes upon all property within this state owned or operated for railway purposes, by such company, including equipment, appurtenances, appendages and franchises thereof, a sum of money equal of five per cent of the gross earnings derived from the operation of such line of railway within this state.

On or before August 15, 1913, and annually thereafter, each such railroad company shall make, according to law, a true and just return of all such gross earnings for the six months ending June 30th, next preceding, and the said tax of five per centum thereon shall become due and payable to the state of Minnesota in manner provided by law, on September 1st next thereafter.

On or before February 15, 1914, and annually thereafter, each such railroad company shall make, according to law, a true and just return of all such gross earnings for the six months ending December 31st next preceding, and said tax of five per centum thereon shall become due and payable to the state of Minnesota in manner provided by law, on March 1st next thereafter; and the payments of such sums at the times hereinbefore set forth shall be in full and in lieu of all other taxes upon the property and franchises so taxed.

The lands acquired by public grant shall be made and remain exempt from taxation until sold or contracted to be sold or conveyed as provided in the respective acts whereby such grants were made or recognized."

Under the present law the gross earnings tax paid by railroad companies is in lieu of all other taxes and assessments, upon property owned or operated for railroad purposes. Under the proposed amendment such tax will be in lieu of taxes only and railroad companies will become subject to assessments for local improvements in the same way that private persons and corporations, not paying a gross earnings tax, are subject to such assessments.

The purpose of said amendment is, and its effect, if adopted, will be to subject railroad companies, paying gross earnings taxes, to the payment of assessments for local improvements.

Yours respectfully,
CLIFFORD L. HILTON,
Attorney General.

AMERICAN RED CROSS TO GIVE RURAL HELP

Program for Public Health and Community Welfare Is Now Well Under Way.

Rural communities and towns of less than 8,000 population benefit in a very large part by the public health and community welfare work of the American Red Cross. Almost all of the 3,600 Red Cross chapters have some rural sections in their territory. Therefore the Red Cross Rural Service.

Briefly, the purpose of Rural Service is to assist people to get out of life more health, wealth and happiness. In this purpose public health instruction and general educational progress of both children and adults play a big part.

Recreation is found to be one of the biggest needs in rural life. There is lack of sufficient play-life for the children and social life for the adults. Picnics, pageants, debating clubs, baseball leagues, community singing and other social events which bring the people of surrounding communities together have been organized and carried on under the guidance of Red Cross rural workers to great advantage. In many instances solving recreational problems and getting people together proves to be the awakening of the community to other conditions which may be improved by united action.

As a result of community organization, townships in which there had been neither plans nor interest in community progress have been organized to work together with the unified purpose of bringing their community up to the most enlightened standards. Lecture and musical entertainment courses have been started as a result of community meetings, as well as circulating libraries, Red Cross schools of instruction in Home Nursing, Care of the Sick and First Aid. In the larger towns the need for restrooms and public comfort stations is being met. Playgrounds for the children have been established and recreational activities worked out for the year.

In order that there may be concerted effort in carrying on the programs of the various welfare agencies in the rural districts, Red Cross Rural Service helps the organizations already on the ground. The main object of the service is to lend a hand everywhere and take the lead only where necessary.

JUNIOR RED CROSS ACTIVE IN EUROPE

Garden seeds for Polish orphans, milk for anaemic Greek babies, carpenters' tools for Czecho-Slovakian cripples—these are only a few of the gifts that young Americans are sending to the war-crushed children of the Old World.

Through the Junior Red Cross the boys and girls of the United States are giving a fresh start in life to little war orphans scattered all over Europe. They have set up orphans' homes in France, school colonies in Belgium and Montenegro, and day schools in Albania.

They are sending dozens of young Syrians, Montenegrins, and Albanians to American colleges in Constantinople and Beirut, and maintaining more than a hundred orphans of French soldiers at colleges and trade schools. In orphanages and farm schools up and down the peninsula of Italy there are nearly 500 wards of American Juniors.

Last winter a thousand French children from the inadequate shelters of the devasted regions were sent by the Junior Red Cross to spend the cold months in warmer parts of France. At the same time five thousand little Belgians were having a hot lunch every day at Junior Red Cross school canteens.

American school children have already raised something like a million dollars for these enterprises, and they are still hard at work.

RED CROSS RELIEF IN CENTRAL EUROPE

But for timely assistance of the American Red Cross during the last year, a large proportion of the 20,000,000 population of the Balkan States might have starved or perished from disease or exposure. Six million dollars worth of food, clothing and medical supplies have been sent to the Balkans—Roumania, Bulgaria, Albania, Montenegro, Serbia, Bosnia and Greece—since the beginning of Red Cross relief operations in Central Europe, while millions of dollars worth of food alone has been sent to the needy in these states.

The money expended by the Red Cross in this stricken portion of Europe has been used to set up hospitals, orphanages, dispensaries, mobile medical units and to help in the general reconstruction of devastated areas. American tractors and other farming implements have been sent to the agricultural regions where aid has been given in plowing the land.

By the last of this year probably all American Red Cross agencies administering relief in Central Europe will have withdrawn. By that time, it is believed, the people will have approached a normal state of living and will be able through their own agencies which the Red Cross has helped set up to provide for themselves.

SILK SHIRTS TO COST MORE

$25 Garment Here, Says Dealer Who Has $6,000,000 Orders.

Silk shirts are going up. Louis B. Tim, secretary of a big New York shirt manufacturing company, at a recent meeting of the Ohio Retail Clothiers and Furnishings Association, said that "the $25 silk shirt is at hand" and that his company alone had orders for $6,000,000 worth of silk shirts. "Never has there been such a craze for silk shirts," he said. "Ten years ago we sold virtually no silk shirts. Many men think they have to have silk but the prudent buyer has learned that other weaves give better service."

LA CROSSE LAD CHUMMY WITH CABINET OFFICER

A LaCrosse, Wisconsin, ten year old boy, is getting chummy with David F. Houston, Secretary of the Treasury. The lad having purchased some Government Savings securities, felt that the personal touch had been established and wrote the secretary as follows:

LaCrosse, Wis., Mar. 12, 1920.
Dear Secretary Houston:

Well, we are all well and hope this will find you the same. And so it has been pretty cold so far. I want you to know I have four of your War Savings stamps. So goodby.

Edward Kersten,
504 Milwaukee Street,
LaCrosse, Wisconsin."

Secretary Houston, according to officials of the Ninth Federal Reserve District Savings Organization, was as proud to receive the letter as the LaCrosse lad was to write it.

AMERICANS ABROAD IN RED CROSS WORK

Among the most enthusiastic and energetic members of the American Red Cross are those citizens of the United States who live outside the continental boundaries of their country—sons and daughters of the Stars and Stripes residing at the far corners of the earth.

These people compose the Insular and Foreign Division of the parent organization, generally known as the "Fourteenth" Division, which has jurisdiction of all territory outside the country proper; that is, Alaska, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Virgin Islands, the Philippines, Guam, and even the island of Yap, which came under our flag as a result of the world war. For the year 1920 this division reported 30,808 paid up members.

The main object of this division is to give our citizens everywhere the opportunity to participate in the work of the organization which stands for the best national ideals. Americans in far places intensely loyal and patriotic, treasure their membership in the Red Cross as the outward expression of their citizenship. It is another tie to the homeland and to each other. There are chapters of this division in Argentine, Bolivia, Brazil, Canal zone, Chile, China, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, England, France, Guam, Guatemala, Haiti, Hawaii, Honduras, Japan, Manchuria, Netherlands, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Porto Rico, Siberia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Syria, Turkey, Uruguay, Venezuela and Virgin Islands.

During the war these scattered members of the Red Cross contributed millions in money, and millions of dollars' worth of necessary articles for the men in service, and sent many doctors and nurses to France. At the same time they carried on an excellent Home Service in their respective communities for the families of those who had gone to war, and in some regions gave large sums of money and immeasurable personal service to the relief of disaster and disease victims.

The division is now establishing service clubs in foreign ports for the benefit of sailors in the American Merchant Marine, making plans to aid Americans in trouble in foreign lands and completing arrangements for giving immediate adequate relief in case of disaster.

RED CROSS ASSISTS DISABLED VETERANS

The American Red Cross is carrying on a wide program of service for the disabled World War veterans receiving treatment in United States Public Health hospitals, and those being trained through agencies of the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

In each of the Public Health Service hospitals Red Cross workers devote their time to the general welfare of the service men from the day they enter the receiving ward until they are discharged. After the soldier's discharge the Red Cross continues its friendly service through the Home Service Section in his own community.

The Red Cross maintains a convalescent house at all of the hospitals, where patients can amuse themselves after they are well enough to be up and around. Parties and picture shows in the wards are also furnished, with occasional excursions when convalescence comes.

Great service has been rendered by the Red Cross in mental cases in identifying those who have appeared in state hospitals for the insane, and helping them secure compensation due from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

In the Federal Board's various district offices the Red Cross worker, acting with the Home Service Section, makes necessary loans to the men, arranges suitable living conditions, helps collect evidence and supply facts to the Board, assists in "appealing cases" and settles various personal difficulties for the men. The workers also follow up and aid all men who discontinue training.

The Red Cross agents find men "lost" to the Board, help clear up delayed cases and aid the college counselors in their friendly work with the men. Many Red Cross chapters have set up recreation facilities, and in some instances living clubs, so these victims of war may have attractive surroundings and the fun which must go with effective school work.

To the American Red Cross Institute for the Blind near Baltimore, Md., more than half of all the Americans blinded in the World War have come for training. The Institute, through the Red Cross, long ago conducted an exhaustive industrial survey to determine the vocations for which blind men could be fitted. As a result it is putting forth well trained men equipped to meet the social, civic and economic requirements of their respective communities.

NURSING SERVICE IS RAPIDLY EXPANDING

This American Red Cross Work Flourishing in Small Towns Throughout Country.

More than 37,000 graduate nurses have been enrolled in the American Red Cross to date and its department of nursing is daily increasing this enrollment.

The department of nursing has been authorized to maintain an adequate reserve of nurses for the army and navy. It will continue to supply the needs of the United States Public Health Service to which it has assigned more than 1,000 nurses in the last year.

It will assist in establishing proper nursing service in foreign countries where the American Red Cross has organized hospitals, dispensaries and schools for nurses. Courses in home hygiene and care of the sick have been started for thousands of women who have never received any education in this direction. Rural nursing which was in its infancy a short while ago has been put ahead at least a decade through the work of the department of nursing and local Red Cross chapters.

Public health nursing has been extended to many rural communities and now flourishes actively in hundreds of small towns and counties. Nearly a thousand efficient nurses have already been assigned to this kind of work.

The department of nursing is uniting with other organizations in a year's campaign in recruiting nurses for training schools, in educating the general public as to standards of nursing education and in showing communities their responsibility toward schools of nursing. It will endeavor to meet all these needs as well as to continue the enrollment of dietitians who will be utilized as instructors in home dietetics, in developing nutritional clinics, and in supplying dietitians for the United States Public Health Service and the civilian hospitals.

The Nursing Service will continue to offer to women and young girls the opportunity of securing instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick in every community in the country. This instruction has not only laid the foundation for public health but in some places has given impetus to the establishment of hospitals and community school houses.

"As a community profits by the work of the nurse," says Miss Clara D. Noyes, director of the department of nursing, "it is logical that the community should be aroused to its responsibility. The American Red Cross stands ready to help in a general campaign of recruiting and must have the support, sympathy and understanding of the medical profession as well as the intelligent co-operation of the people at large."

HOME SERVICE FOR EVERYBODY IN NEED

Do you know what the present day Home Service of the American Red Cross is?

Many people do not know that, besides completing the work for ex-service men, especially the disabled, it provides the same neighborly service to families in general that it formerly gave families of soldiers, sailors and marines.

"Home Service covers a wide and varied field," says Frederick C. Munroe, general manager of the American Red Cross. "It gives aid to families in solving such problems as budget planning, marketing, tiding over times of financial stress, keeping children in school, helping crippled children, widowed and deserted mothers, children backward in school and children in conflict with the laws. It renders service to the homeless and transient, to the illiterate, to tenement dwellers, to the unemployed, and gives friendly assistance and advice to foreign speaking groups."

In addition to helping families in the solution of their own problems, Home Service helps in strengthening the weak spots in the social life of communities. It joins hands with others to make communities safer, healthier and happier.

Organizing action along lines in which the community is already interested is one of the objects of Home Service. It has established community meetings, patriotic celebrations, pageants and picnics. Rest rooms, recreation facilities, play supervisors and moving pictures have been provided. Through Home Service other agencies are influenced to bring about improved commercial amusements and better school facilities and to promote traveling libraries as well as to secure county agricultural and home demonstration agents.

If you need assistance at any time, go to the secretary of the nearest Red Cross chapter and describe the situation. Your confidence will be sacredly respected and every possible effort will be made to aid you.

American Red Cross Roll Call.

The Fourth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross will be held this year from Armistice Day, November 11, to Thanksgiving Day, November 25, inclusive. During this period the men and women of the United States will pay their annual dues and renew their membership.

NATIONWIDE FIGHT AGAINST DISEASE

American Red Cross Will Have Health Centers in All Parts of United States.

The American Red Cross has launched upon a nation wide campaign of fighting disease and physical defect among the American people. A new and unique health institution has come into being as the result of several months' study by the Red Cross Health Service Department at National Headquarters.

Officials in charge of the department predict that before long this new health activity will be in actual operation all over the country, and that the sign—"American Red Cross Health Center"—will become as familiar to the people everywhere as are now the signs of the telegraph companies.

Busy Long Before War.

The interest of the American Red Cross in the fight against disease is not, however, of recent origin. Long before the war the organization began this health service through its medical units in disaster relief work and its department of Town and County Nursing. During the war and following the armistice thousands of American Red Cross officials have been fighting disease in the war-stricken countries. At the same time tens of thousands of local Red Cross officials have been engaged at home fighting disease, notably during the influenza epidemics.

The American Red Cross has determined that all this valuable experience in health service abroad and at home shall not go to waste. So long as there are a half a million people dying yearly in this country from preventable causes, and so long as more than one-third of the American children and young people are victims of physical defects, the Red Cross recognizes the urgent need for continued Red Cross health service at home.

How Organization Works.

The Red Cross Health Center is governed by business principles, applies business methods, and, in its more simple form, can be established and conducted by lay people.

It proceeds upon the demonstrated fact that health is a commodity that can be bought and sold like brooms and soap. Therefore, it establishes itself in a storeroom in the principal business section of the community. It displays its goods in the form of attractive health exhibits in its show windows. It advertises constantly and extensively. And it uses every business and social device to attract customers.

The Red Cross Health Center is of service to the sick in that it gives out reliable and complete information about existing clinics, hospitals, sanatoria and other institutions for the sick and the defective; about available nurses, both trained and practical; about when to consult a physician and why to shun the quack and his nostrums.

Teaching Disease Prevention.

The Red Cross Health Center is, however, of even greater service to the well. It teaches people how to prevent sickness and disease. This is done in many interesting and attractive ways—first of all, by the distribution of popular health literature and through health lectures illustrated with lantern slides or with health motion picture films. Then special exhibits are given, one after the other, on various health subjects. Practical demonstrations are made; also health playlets by children to interest and instruct themselves and their elders. Classes are organized in personal hygiene, home care of the sick, first aid and in food selection and preparation. Health clubs, both for younger and older people, are formed; also Little Mothers' Leagues. Nutrition and growth clinics are conducted for children.

Already more than a hundred of these Red Cross Health Centers are in actual operation throughout the country. Many of them also conduct medical clinics, but the one chief, outstanding feature of the American Red Cross Health Center is its health education service which teaches well people how to keep well.

FRENCH PRAISE FOR OUR RED CROSS WORK

Lauding the work accomplished by American philanthropy for war-stricken France, Andre Tardieu, former high commissioner from that nation to the United States, in a recent article widely commented on throughout the French press, says:

"The American Red Cross has accomplished a work which calls for the heartfelt gratitude of every true Frenchman. In 1918 this great relief organization spent in behalf of France nearly 87,000,000 francs, and in 1919 its expenditures on charitable projects in our country attained the tremendous total of 171,000,000. It has recently turned over to the French relief organizations huge stocks of supplies whose value must be counted in the hundreds of thousands of francs.

"Fifteen million American boys and girls, banded together in the Junior Red Cross of America, are back of a movement to establish the closest ties between themselves and France's younger generation through the charitable works they have financed, and are now carrying out among our little war sufferers.

"The bonds of friendship between France and America is cemented with mutual admiration, respect and gratitude."

PROFITS MELT FOR PACKERS

Steady Decline in Hog Market Sends Big Houses Scurrying for Financial Aid.

MARKETS UNSTEADY

Law of Supply and Demand Secondary to a Peculiar Psychological State in Sending Stock Prices on Downward Route.

The decline in hog prices the past week eclipsed all other features of the livestock trade, and probably holds the record for a drop in livestock values in so brief a time.

A few years ago a decline of 25c in hog prices over night provoked an outburst from producers. Any day the past week a 25c decline would have been regarded as modest; most days hogs were down 50c and one day as much as 75c. The total decline for the first five days was $2 and $2.50.

The law of supply and demand had little to do with this break in prices. The receipts of hogs at western markets were somewhat larger than the previous week, but not heavy enough to bring on any such decline as occurred. Demand was not active, but there was only one day here when many hogs were carried over unsold. It probably is true that packers do not want to carry large stocks of pork and pork products laid in at present prices, but a total of 325,000 hogs at the seven most important markets is not too heavy a week's supply for them to absorb handily.

Everybody connected with the livestock business has been thinking lower hogs, talking lower hogs and hoping for lower hogs, and when the drop started and gained momentum last week most people seemed inclined to give it a helping hand. Nobody around the market here thinks the bottom has been reached and few expect to see hog prices ever recover much of the loss they have experienced in the past week.

Referring again to the packers' position in this period of descending livestock prices, this year does not promise to be a very prosperous one for the business as a whole. It is commonly reported by those well posted on packing affairs that the big meat firms are not going to make profits this year that will make them liable to prosecution. Armour & Co., indicted last week for profiteering in New Zealand lambs, said in reply that their sheep business as a whole is showing a loss and this statement is not doubted by those familiar with present livestock conditions.

The fact that one of the big packing companies has within the present month gone into the open market and offered 7½ per cent for money to carry on its operations shows that they are no better off than the farmer or small business man when it comes to getting financial aid.

London.—Fresh proposals to end the coal strike were discussed for two hours among Lloyd George, Bonar Law, and other members of the British cabinet and delegation of coal miners, headed by Robert Smillie, at Downing street.

It is understood that the premier has adhered to his refusal to increase the wages of miners unless they guaranteed an increased coal output.

But a settlement has been rendered much more likely because, at the same time, he yielded to the miners' view that they alone cannot send more coal to the surface unless the mine owners are prevented from restricting the work. This difficulty seems easy of settlement. Parleys with the government are in progress this week.

TOWN TRAVELS THREE MILES

Pompey's Pillar, Mont., Crosses Prairie to Get Site on N. P. Railroad.

Billings, Mont. The town of Pompey's Pillar is going to move. Within the next few weeks all buildings will travel three miles across the prairie to a more advantageous position on the main line of the Northern Pacific railroad. Articles of agreement were signed here by the business men of the village.

The new town will be but half a mile distant from the rock pillar which lends the name, where Pompey, negro servant of Captain Clark, was buried when a section of the Lewis and Clark expedition passed the spot.

Idaho Has Record Crop.

Boise, Idaho.—Idaho has completed harvesting a spring wheat crop of 15,456,000 bushels, the largest ever produced in the state. The winter wheat crop is estimated at 5,908,000 bushels and the total of 21,364,000 bushels compares with 18,750,000 grown last year. These figures were made public by Julius H. Jacobson, statistician for the Idaho crop reporting service. The oat crop totals 8,360,000 bushels. The average yield was about forty bushels an acre. The crop was grown on 209,000 acres.

Skin Sufferers Do Not Want Mere Temporary Relief

Of course, if you are content to have only temporary relief from the terrifying itching and burning of fiery, flaming skin diseases, then you are satisfied to remain a slave to ointments, lotions and other local remedies applied to the surface of the skin.

Real genuine relief from eczema, tetter, scaly eruptions or any other form of skin irritations cannot be expected until you free your blood of the germs which cause these disorders. And for this purpose there is no remedy that gives more satisfactory results than S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that goes down to the source of every blood disorder and routs out the germs which cause the trouble.

S.S.S. is sold by all druggists. Begin taking it today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice without charge. Address Chief Medical Adviser, 155 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

AT LEAST ONE GIRL SORRY

The moon was full, the summer night was balmy, the hammock was built for two, and it seemed a shame to break it all up.

"Jack," she asked, "was there a girl in France who was sorry to see you go?"

"I'd rather you didn't ask me that question, dear," he said.

"But I must know. We're engaged and you should tell me everything," she insisted.

"Dear, I don't like to talk about it—"

"Oh, Jack, how could you when all the time you were engaged to me!"

"Listen a minute and I'll give you the whole story," he said in desperation. "She was—"

"Well?"

"She was my laundress I owed her 12 francs."—Boston Globe.

Origin of Dollar Mark.

Some claim that it is a modification of the English symbol (£) for the pound. Another explanation is that it came from the letters U. S. written one over the other. Yet another theory is that the two upright marks represent two pillars of brass before the temple of Solomon, which early appeared on our coins and became intertwined with a scroll.

Mixed Speech.

"There goes a fellow who's a high flyer." "You don't say! What's his altitude record?"

LEAD WORLD IN TELEPHONES

Americans, With Their Business Instinct, Have Naturally Taken Kindly to the Instrument.

The telephone is an American invention, and we Americans have learned to use it better than any other people. Four-fifths of the world's telephones are in the United States. No other country has the exchange system developed to give such convenient service. In some of the most progressive European countries the exchange system is so cumbersome that it usually requires ten or fifteen minutes to get a connection.

The telephone in this country has expedited the transaction of business. Without our efficient telephone service, the work of most of our great industries would be slowed up and made more expensive. No other country has a rural system that compares with ours. The telephone has definitely affected and molded our business methods and our social and domestic life.—Alfred Westfall, Colorado Agricultural College.

Dilemma.

"Are you afraid a very large campaign fund will impair confidence in your party?"

"Yes," answered the willing worker, "but too small a campaign fund will do the same thing."

Was the longevity of the ancients due to the scarcity of medical college graduates? Certainly not!

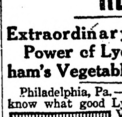
REMARKABLE RECOVERY

Extraordinary Curative Power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.



Philadelphia, Pa.—"I want to let you know what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I had organic troubles and am going through the Change of Life. I was taken with a pain in my side and a bad headache. I could not lie down, could not eat or sleep. I suffered something terrible and the doctor's medicine did me no good at all—my pains got worse instead of better. I began taking the Vegetable Compound and felt a change from the first. Now I feel fine and advise any one going through the Change of Life to try it, for it cured me after I had given up all hopes of getting better. You can publish this and I will tell any one who writes to me the good it has done me."—Mrs. MARGARET DANZ, 743 N. 25th Street, Phila., Pa.

It hardly seems possible that there is a woman in this country who will continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, proving beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other medicine in the world.

The Farm Bureau is like a horse harnessed and ready for work. All that is required is for the local farmer to hitch the Farm Bureau to his job, whether it be a marketing problem, soil, crop or livestock problem.

M. L. Werner in charge of Marshall County Farm Bureau Membership Drive, reports 600 members were secured the first three days of the drive. Reports indicate 95 to 100 per cent of farmers are becoming members of the Farm Bureau.

The voters should remember the the good roads amendment, in order to carry, must have a majority of all the votes cast; so a failure to vote on the amendment is really a vote against it. The ladies should be sure to vote right on the question.

FAINTING AND DIZZY SPELLS

The Cause of such Symptoms and Remedy Told in This Letter.

Syracuse, N. Y.—"When I commenced the Change of Life I was poorly, had no appetite and had fainting spells. I suffered for two or three years before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the Liver Pills which I saw advertised in the papers and in your little books. I took about twelve bottles of your Vegetable Compound and found it a wonderful remedy I commenced to pick up at once and my suffering was relieved. I have told others about your medicine and know of some who have taken it. I am glad to help others all I can."—Mrs. R. E. DEMING, 437 W. Lafayette Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Moreover this reliable remedy contains no narcotics or harmful drugs and owes its efficiency to the medicinal extractives of the native roots and herbs which it contains.

Pleasant way to break up colds-

Poppy as Memorial Flower.

The poppy seems fated to go down into history as the "memorial flower of the American Legion." It was the common scarlet variety of that flower that grows so freely in waste places that won the regard of the men overseas, for it bloomed on, about them, and often the flower was the only beautiful thing the soldiers saw for days upon days.

The poppy is one of the oldest flowers in the world's literature, and has been sung in verse and mentioned in holy books by all races. The Oriental poppies are of orange-crimson with black centers and large seed bags which burst and scatter the seed in all directions. Other famous varieties include the slender Iceland poppy, the yellow California variety and the big double flowers. None of them have any perfume, but depend upon their beauty of form and color to attract and hold the senses.

HARDING ELECTED BY BIG MAJORITY

CONGRESS SAFE FOR REPUBLICANS

Fine Weather, Enthusiasm and Women's Votes Roll Up Unprecedented Ballot in National Election---Harding Celebrates Fifty-Fifth Anniversary---Candidates Calm Over News.

WEDNESDAY MORNING'S REPORT

At 3:30 o'clock Wednesday morning the election of Harding and Coolidge appears to have been accomplished by little short of a landslide. New York goes into the Republican column with a plurality of more than a million votes. Previously doubtful states, such as Ohio, Indiana, New Jersey and and California are Republican by decisive majorities. Not only have the northern and western states gone practically solid for the Republican nominees, but a number of the border states, ordinarily Democratic, may be found in the Harding-Coolidge column when the votes are all in, Republican newspaper men believe.

The election of a Republican senate and house of representatives is conceded on all sides, the latter body giving promise of an increased majority for the party.

Tuesday, November 2, fifty-fifth anniversary of the birthday of Warren G. Harding, was commemorated as no other American's birthday anniversary has ever been, for on that day the voters of the nation declared Mr. Harding their choice for president of the United States. The election of the Republican presidential nominee and his running-mate, Calvin Coolidge for the vice-presidency, was conceded at an early hour Tuesday evening; and press reports throughout the night constantly increased their apparent lead.

Returns Very Incomplete.

Returns, which were necessarily very incomplete from all states, are judged upon their strongly increased proportional gains for the Republicans. The total vote, owing to generally favorable weather conditions and the addition of women's votes, will be far in excess of that cast at any previous American election. Early estimates placed the total number of votes cast at probably 30,000,000.

Cox Supporters Concede Defeat.

Early Tuesday evening the election of the Republican nominees was conceded by the New York World, leading Democratic newspaper of the metropolis, and at eleven o'clock Governor Cox's own newspaper, the Dayton, Ohio, Daily News, also conceded the election of the Republicans. Chairman White of the Democratic national committee, too, issued a statement acknowledging the defeat of his party's candidates, as the returns from the west, which had given President Wilson his victory four years ago, began to roll up with totals indicating Republican landslides.

A Republican Congress.

With details of the congressional election almost wholly lacking, it is nevertheless conceded by Democratic authorities that congress will be unquestionably Republican in both its branches.

Harding Spent Quiet Day.

Surrounded by members of his family and a circle of neighbors and personal friends, he received quietly at his home here the tribute of the millions who had voted him president of the United States.

The smile of confidence he has worn for weeks broadened as he read the early returns and began to receive a flood of congratulatory messages hailing him as president-elect. He deferred any formal comment, however, until the result should have been established beyond all doubt.

During the day he outwardly had concerned himself very little with the pending national decision. With Mrs. Harding he voted during the morning and then made off for a 40-mile automobile ride and a game of golf near Columbus.

Returns on the election were delivered to the senator in his home.

Electoral Vote by States.

The states which early press dispatches conceded to the Republicans, include the following, with a total of 329 electoral votes, of which 266 would be required to assure election:

California	13
Colorado	6
Connecticut	7
Delaware	3
Idaho	4
Illinois	29
Indiana	15
Iowa	13
Kansas	10
Maine	6
Massachusetts	18
Michigan	15
Minnesota	12
Nebraska	8
New Hampshire	4
New Jersey	14
New York	45
North Dakota	5
Ohio	24
Oregon	5
Pennsylvania	38
Rhode Island	5
South Dakota	5
Vermont	4
West Virginia	8
Wisconsin	13

Alabama	12
Arkansas	9
Florida	6
Georgia	14
Louisiana	10
Mississippi	10
North Carolina	12
Oklahoma	10
South Carolina	9
Tennessee	12
Texas	20
Virginia	12

Governor Cox Unaffected.

Governor Fox, in his private office at Dayton, received the election returns quietly, in the midst of his family. Reporters who called found the governor smoking. He showed no emotion, an attitude he had maintained throughout the evening, following a day spent quietly at his home near here. Friends who visited him during the evening said the candidate realized his defeat long before the appearance of his newspaper extra. Mrs. Cox also seemed unaffected as did the governor's daughter, Mrs. D. H. Mahoney.

Apparently the most consoling news of the evening for the candidate was unofficial returns, showing in 33 of the 265 precincts in Montgomery county, including Dayton, that Governor Cox led his opponent, 5,218 votes to 5,000.

CALVIN COOLIDGE

The county Democratic headquarters, however, reported that Harding carried Carrmonte, the governor's own precinct, by twelve votes.

The governor was not yet prepared to make any personal statement.

News Received at White House.

President Wilson, after hearing early returns at the White House, including unfavorable results from his home state, retired by nine o'clock without giving out any public statement. His physician, Admiral Grayson, who was with him until after his retirement, said the president did not appear particularly stirred by the result of the election and had fallen asleep promptly after retiring.

Makes a Good Breakfast.

A two-pound white perch is a big one, says the American Forestry Magazine, and, as a rule, they do not run more than half that weight to the catch. They are easy to capture, for they largely take the right sort of bait, and few kinds make a better breakfast for the hungry woodsman.

The extreme maximum was 125 degrees, recorded on the last day of July. On July 10, 1913, the temperature there reached 134 degrees Fahrenheit, the highest officially recorded air temperature in the world.—From the Bulletin, American Meteorological Society.

Matrimonial Boom in Japan.

Japanese find a close connection between money and marriage by reading the lessons of the financial depression in Japan. The passing of easy money-making has caused a rush to the Japanese matrimonial agencies and women are leading in the rush. In prosperous times the agency customers are men looking for wives, but now, say matrimonial managers, the old order is reversed. In view of the approaching "hard times" women seem to be seeking safety in the protection of husbands. One result of the feminine advances is a marked increase in marriages.

That some grown-ups find it hard to understand a healthy child's need for constant physical activity is shown by a story that comes from New England.

Beauty Secrets for Women

A woman's fondest hope is to stay young. She often resorts to paints, powders and cosmetics to hide her years. Some women pay large sums to so-called "Beauty Doctors" in the belief that money will buy youth. Others wear girlish dresses, thinking they can fool the world about their age. But no one is deceived. The more you try to hide your age, the more it shows.

There is but one thing that holds old age back, and that is health. Sickness and weakness bring old age early in life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a building-up medicine for women. It makes them healthy and strong when they suffer from women's troubles. It keeps them looking young by keeping them well. It is a woman's tonic for the frail, the delicate and those who are nervous, dizzy and who have backache and dragging pains. Favorite Prescription is altogether vegetable and without a particle of alcohol. It is safe to take. Try it now. No Possible Question of a Future Reconciliation Between Mabel and Her Former Fiance.

"I am glad I broke my engagement with Tom," Mabel observed indignantly. "He's no real gentleman."

"Why, I have always thought him one," Tess commented in surprise. "What has he done?"

"Well, I sent him back his presents—that is, all except the diamond ring and a few other things that I thought I was really entitled to, considering how many times he had taken dinner at our house and all, and asked him to return mine."

"Well, did he refuse?"

"He did not. He not only sent back a box of cigars, unopened, and a pen wiper and a knit necktie, but he sent also five boxes of face powder, saying that he estimated that to be about the quantity he had taken away on his coat during the time we were engaged."

Speakers Would Do Well Indeed if They Matched the Work Credited to the Painters.

John Brookbank, commander-in-chief of the 330 Richmond business men who are soliciting money for the $500,000 endowment of Earlham college, was speaking to the men at the daily noon luncheon held in the basement of the Grace M. E. church. He was congratulating them on their good work and exhorting them to greater efforts in the future. He said:

"To gain success in this enterprise, as in any, we must make it real and lifelike. . . . something that people can see is worth while and vital and living. Why, we must do as good as the painter who drew a picture of a cat so lifelike that ten minutes after he hung it on the wall there were fleas on it."

President Edwards arose and said:

"Or we must do as well as the other painter who drew a picture of a hen. This painter threw the drawing of the hen in the waste basket, but it was so life-like that it just lay there."—Indianapolis News.

PREUS LEADS IN EARLY RETURNS

Victory for Anti-League Ticket Predicted But by No Means Certain.

NORTH DAKOTA CLOSE

Early Returns Show Republican Landslide on National Issues and Remarkably Close Contest in State and Local Fields.

St. Paul.—With J. A. O. Preus (R) running well ahead of Dr. Shipstead (N), and with Kvale leading Volstead in the most hotly contested congressional fight, returns from the 3,220 Minnesota precincts are coming in rather slowly.

A total of 258 precincts out of the state showed, at an early hour the morning following election, a lead of almost two to one for Preus, who had polled 45,132 votes to 27,699 for Shipstead and 9,984 for the Democratic candidate.

One hundred twenty-eight precincts give Harding a practically three to one lead over Cox, the vote standing 32,123 for the Republican candidate and 8,891 for the Democratic candidate.

Local Republican headquarters were confident in their predictions that this lead would be maintained throughout the returns and that the state will return a three to one majority for the G. O. P. candidate.

St. Paul.—J. A. O. Preus is believed to have won the governorship of Minnesota in Tuesday's election by a majority of approximately 50,000. Returns available at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning gave Preus a lead that indicated a complete victory not only for himself but for the entire Republican ticket, including Clifford Hilton, candidate for attorney general, and Louis Collins, candidate for lieutenant governor, who were opposed by Nonpartisan league candidates running in the independent column.

Fargo.—With ideal weather conditions prevailing thorughout the state and the polls open 12 hours, from nine a. m. to nine p. m., and with the women of the state for the first time registering their political choices on an equal basis with the men, the election Tuesday was in every way a fair test of the strength of the opposing parties. The total vote will approach 225,000.

Early returns showed O'Connor far in the lead for the governor's chair, while Dr. E. F. Ladd was well in advance of Perry for senator. The Nonpartisans said early in the race that Ladd was leading their ticket.

Harding a wide majority.

Claims were made from the receipt of the first returns, which, naturally, came from the cities and larger towns of the state, that the women were going to decide the election for O'Connor. The supporters of Frazier, however, comparing the showing made by Langer in the primaries with that made by O'Connor this fall, contended that the city gains made by Frazier insured his victory when totaled with the rural majorities they are confident he will poll.

Meagre figures were available on the presidential race, but it was certain from the outset that the state went strongly Republican, giving

The race between Baer and Burtness for congress from the First district seemed closer on the face of early returns than many had predicted it would be, the former congressman polling large votes not only in the few rural districts but in the cities. At 7 a. m., Wednesday, Burtness' victory by 6,000 votes was practically assured.

Unofficial figures for Fargo showed Frazier 2,227, O'Connor 4,692. On the basis of a comparison between this showing and that made in primaries, predictions were made by the Frazier supporters that he would lead the state race by somewhere around 40,000 votes.

One night they were questioning him, and his sister said: "Birch, if you were to go down to the store to buy nine apples and the grocer told you they were 7 cents apiece, what would you say?"

Birch answered immediately: "I'd say, 'Nothin' doin'; I won't pay it.'"—Indianapolis News.

Shameful!

More than once has comment been offered on the prevailing ignorance of the Bible. Things are credited to the Bible which are distinctly not scriptural either in idea or in phrasing; and quotations from the holy book are sometimes queerly misplaced. In this relation one is reminded of the lady giving her address at a dry goods counter.

"Pocahontas avenue."

"How do you spell it, ma'am?"

"Young man, you ought to know your Bible better. The idea!"

Farm Land at $15 to $30 An Acre

—land equal to that which through many years has yielded from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre—grazing land convenient to good grain farms at proportionately low prices. These lands have every rural convenience; good schools, churches, roads, telephones, etc., close to live towns and good markets.

If you want to get back to the farm, or to farm on a larger scale than is possible under your present conditions, investigate what Western Canada has to offer you.

WM. J. BRYAN SAYS FILIPINO WON THE HONORS

(In a signed, copyrighted article written from the Democratic convention hall at San Francisco for the International News Service, William J. Bryan paid the following remarkable tribute to Jose P. Melencio, the young Filipino who is in charge of the Philippine Independence Publicity campaign in the United States:)

By WILLIAM J. BRYAN.

The greatest personal victory yet won in this Democratic convention was scored by a young Filipino by the name of Jose P. Melencio. He has charge of the Philippine Publicity Bureau at Washington.

He is only twenty-six years old and received his education in the public schools of the Philippines—under American teachers, as he proudly boasted—and at Georgetown, D. C. He is a remarkably promising young man.

Speaking with grace, using the best language and without a trace of embarrassment, he presented the claim of the Filipinos to independence. The audience was astonished at the strength of his argument, the skill with which he marshaled his facts and the high tone of his speech. He captivated everyone and committeemen and visitors paid him the compliment of rising and cheering when he concluded his plea.

When one of the committee asked him some questions he returned to the platform and answered them with as much logic and precision as if he had taken weeks to prepare his answer. It was a remarkable triumph.

As one who began twenty-two years ago to fight for the promise of independence I was proud of this illustration of what the Filipino is capable.

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE PHILIPPINES

The University of Santo Tomas is 25 years older than Harvard.

The Filipino people number 10,350,640, of which 9,495,272 are Christians and only 9 per cent non-Christians.

They have been Christians for 300 years and have a culture and refinement that will compare very favorably with that of other nations.

There are only 3,684 Japanese in the Philippines. There are about 100,000 Japanese in California alone, or 15 times as many as in the entire Philippine archipelago.

English is taught exclusively in the Philippine public schools. Two million natives now speak English fluently, and there are 700,000 English speaking children in the public schools. It is destined to be the national language.

Seventy per cent of the inhabitants of the Philippines over ten years of age, according to a census just completed, are literate. This is a higher percentage of literacy than that of any South American country, higher than that of Spain and higher than that of any of the new republics of Europe whose independence is being guaranteed by the Allies.

The Filipino people are unanimous in their desire for independence. Whenever they are called upon to deposit their ballots they have always ratified this aspiration. At every session before adjournment their representatives in the Legislature reiterate their faith in the principles of liberty and the independence of the Filipino people.

The Filipinos declare they have no grudge or grievance against the American people. Their appeal is accompanied by a message of friendship and gratitude for all that America has done for them. They point out that Uncle Sam gave independence to Cuba, and they hope that they, too, will receive that boon without which, they declare, no civilized and patriotic people can enjoy the maximum of happiness and self-respect.

A special delegation of Filipinos, officially representing the Filipino people, attended the Republican and Democratic National conventions, seeking an indorsement of the Filipino desire for independence in the two platforms. Their arguments, briefly stated, were as follows:

First.—That the American Declaration of Independence declares that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed;

Second.—That the American Congress, in the Jones law, solemnly promised the Filipinos independence upon the establishment of a stable government, and that their claim that the said stable government is now in existence in the islands has been officially confirmed by America's own representatives there; and

Third.—That America went before the world in the recent war as the avowed champion of "self determination," American soldiers having been told it was one of the things they were fighting and dying for.

LEGION ATTRACTION AT THIEF RIVER FALLS NOV. 12

The Bel Canto Quintette, featuring Ida Hagen Pitman, will appear in this city on Friday, November 12, under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion.

The quintette is composed of high grade artists who have been giving universal satisfaction in every city they have appeared in and are given credit for being one of the best on the road today.

With each person a true artist and an unusual combination of beautiful instruments, the Bel Canto Quintette offers a musical program par excellence. Ida Hagen Pitman, pupil of Oscar Seagal, is a dramatic soprano destined to take her place among the truly great singers. She has her own accompanist and is ably assisted on the program by Vera Andrus, who plays her flute with consummate skill and ease; Edna Lee, whose violoncello has aroused the emotions of many an audience, and Fern Van Bramer, a harpist of splendid technic and ability. The tension of a purely musical program is relieved by Hazel Bryngelson, whose strong dramatic readings are long remembered by those who hear her.

Four of the members are Scandinavians and will give a few numbers in the Scandinavian language. Remember the date, November 12 and plan to attend this high class musicale.

Prices, $1.00, 75c and 50c. Send seat reservations to Lambert's Drug Store, Thief River Falls.

"There is no probability that this majority against division will be overcome in the balance of the territory of the proposed new county, hence the Holt schemers' hopes have all gone glimmering."

We wonder if Holt is the only one that has schemers on the above question? People that live in glass houses should'nt throw stones.

Middle River gave 13 votes for county division and thirteen is an unlucky number.

PERSHING BUSY FOR FOUR DAYS

WELCOMED BY MILLIONS

Hundreds of Thousands of School Children Join in Welcoming General Home from Battlefields of France and Belgium.

New York, Sept. 8.—Official plans for the reception and entertainment of General Pershing from his arrival here this morning until his departure for Washington on Thursday, leaves the commander-in-chief of the American expenditionary forces scarcely a minute to himself, except for the few hours allotted for sleep.

Impressive Naval Parade.

Hundreds of peace and war craft, including submarines, and scores of seaplanes, will go down the harbor to greet the general upon his arrival on the transport Leviathan, and will escort the vessel to her berth at Hoboken.

Vice-President and Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, Secretary of War and Mrs. Newton D. Baker and a score of high military officers, headed by General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, will be on board the welcoming ships.

Welcome by Governor and Mayor.

From Hoboken General Pershing will be brought to the Battery on a police boat and escorted to the city hall, where he will be welcomed officially by Governor Smith and Mayor Hylan.

From that moment the mayor's welcome committee will pilot General Pershing from reception to luncheon, to dinner, to theater, to supper, waiting only for morning to begin operations again, until he leaves on Thursday for Washington.

Millions of people, including hundreds of thousands of school children, will join in the welcome to the general.

Wednesday Is Pershing Day.

On Wednesday, "Pershing Day," the general will ride down Fifth avenue at the head of a spectacular military pageant. Plans have been made to have members of the general's family accompany him to Manhattan. Federal, state and military officials joined in the welcome.

MEXICO ADOPTS NOVEL PLAN

Americans Must Sign Release of Responsibility to Visit Oil Region.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Apparently convinced that the United States is in earnest in demanding proper treatment of Americans in Mexico, the Carranza government has adopted a novel expedient in an attempt to relieve itself of responsibility.

Americans going to the Tampico region, hereafter, will be compelled to sign a formal release of the Mexican government's responsibility for what may happen to them. If they refuse, Mexican officials will refuse to vise their passports.

The condition raises a peculiar situation, for under international law a government may refuse travel permission to foreigners into a region where it may not be prepared to guarantee their safety.

This release is not only required of workmen who are American citizens, but also of American citizens in the United States holding passports from the state department authorizing them to visit the Tampico region.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS TO 7,500

Airplanes Meet and Escort Executive's Special to Des Moines.

Des Moines, Sept. 8.—Making his second address of the day, the president spoke in the Des Moines Coliseum, said to seat 7,500. Every chair was taken and many were standing. Earlier in the day he had spoken at Kansas City, Mo., more than 300 miles away.

An escort of airplanes dropped flowers on the president's special train as it approached the city and he was cheered during an automobile ride through crowds that packed the downtown streets. When he entered the Coliseum he was cheered again.

The meeting was opened with an inovation and Mr. Wilson was introduced by J. B. Weaver, president of the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce, who spoke on the outstanding figure in the life of the world today. Mrs. Wilson sat on the platform.

Austrians' Acceptance Assured.

Berne, Sept. 8.—The Austrian cabinet, after discussing the treaty, has decided to recommend its acceptance. This information is conveyed in a dispatch received from Prague today.

U. S. Launches Big Submarine.

Quincy, Mass., Sept. 8.—The fleet submarine AA-2, latest word in undersea boat construction, was launched Saturday at the Fore River yards of the Bethlehem Steel corporation from designs of the Electric Boat company. She is 300 feet long and said to be the fastest Diessel engine boat afloat, with surface speed of 18 knots an hour and 13 knots submerged, according to the designers. She is intended to operate with the battle fleets and has a cruising radius estimated at 7,000 miles.

YANKEE FINEST SOLDIER OF ALL

Greatest Achievement Was Cutting Lines at Sedan After Hindenberg Line Was Broken.

GENERAL STILL ON DUTY

Pershing on Strenuous But Pleasant Duty of Being Entertained, With Very Little Time to Himself for Rest.

New York, Sept. 9.—The American doughboy is the finest soldier in the world, and it didn't take the Germans long to find it out, declared General Pershing, in an interview granted newspaper men today at the Waldorf Astoria.

"We boasted a little probably of the peculiar qualities of the American fighting man, but his aggressiveness, initiative and devotion as a member of the American expeditionary forces gives us every right to boast and to be proud of him," the commander said.

"I suppose it is because of the way the American boy is raised, due to the fact that he is encouraged to develop his initiative and that he feels at any crisis of his life, that he is master of his own destiny."

Unwilling to Discuss Plans.

The interview brought about in the hope that the general might be willing to express his own views on such subjects as the league of nations, the situation in Europe and in Mexico, what he intended doing when he entered civil life, when he expected to retire from the army and similar questions, was preceded by a general handshaking all around.

"I am still on duty," he said. "It is a pleasant duty, but very strenuous." The general had just finished luncheon after a little rest to refresh himself after the arduous hours of the morning, and he said that while he was glad to meet all the newspaper men he could answer only such questions as properly came within his profession.

His Biggest Achievement.

The questions asked were:

"General, what do you consider the crowning achievement of your service abroad?"

To which he replied:

"Cutting the German lines at Sedan on November 6."

"Was that a more difficult operation than cutting the Hindenburg line?" he was asked.

"Cutting the Hindenburg line was a start toward cutting the line at Sedan. It was hard to tell what might have become of it under difficult circumstances. It followed the effort of the Germans to force their way through, but their armies were beaten before they started."

MEXICAN QUESTION IS UP

Washington, Sept. 9.—Existence of an organized propaganda movement in the United States calculated to counteract any step toward armed intervention in Mexico was established at the first hearing today of the senate foreign relations sub-committee investigating the situation.

Dr. Samuel Guy Inman, an officer in the League of Free Nations association and a former neighbor in Mexico of President Carranza, admitted under sharp cross examination that his association had sent out literature aimed to quiet any demand for intervention by the United States. Dr. Inman told the committee that American oil companies were expending large sums of money in an attempt to obtain intervention.

Dr. Inman, in opening his testimony, told the committee that in his opinion President Carranza was a man of honor and integrity and that he had a strong faith in the ability of Mexico to work out its own problems. He deprecated intervention, adding that it would stunt the growth of the Pan-American idea.

OLD STORY CONTRADICTED

Paris, Sept. 8.—Colonel Blanton Wuenschip, judge advocate general, and also head of the requisitions and claims department of the American expeditionary forces, finally disposed of the old story that the French people claimed rentals for the ground occupied by the trenches at the front, in his testimony today before the committee of the American congress which is investigating war expenditures.

He testified that no such claim had ever been made against the American expeditionary forces and that the only claims of this nature were for the use of ground in the training area which was cut up and damaged in order to familiarize the men with conditions at the front.

Police Chiefs to Help Soldiers.

As a result of a letter to all the police chiefs in the United States, Colonel Arthur Woods, assistant to the secretary of war, has added many thousand men to his field forces who are finding positions for returned fighting men. The assistance and co-operation of policemen generally is now promised, in order to help place the few soldiers yet to be demobilized as well as the scattering number who have not yet satisfactorily readjusted themselves to civil life.

WILSON CHEERED BY ST. LOUISANS

President Discusses Peace Treaty at Length in Two Addresses.

COLISEUM IS PACKED

Speaker Is Introduced as "The Father of World Democracy"—Cheered Lustily at Both Addresses.

Coliseum, St. Louis, Sept. 6.—In two addresses here today President Wilson discussed at length disputed points of the peace treaty.

The president's first address was at a chamber of commerce luncheon, after he had been cheered along the route of a seven-mile automobile ride and stopped at Washington university to visit several members of the faculty who were school chums of the executive.

Returning, the executive was driven through the residential section of the city. He and Mrs. Wilson had supper privately.

At 8 o'clock sharp the presidential party started for the coliseum and arrived there at 8:12.

Great Convention Hall Packed.

The coliseum, where many national conventions have been held, was packed, and when the president arrived the crowd arose and cheered more than four minutes.

The president was introduced by Governor Frederick D. Gardner, who said the people of Missouri never had been more sincere in a welcome to any visitor. At that the crowd cheered again.

When the governor introduced Mr. Wilson as "the father of world democracy," there was more cheering.

SENATE PASSES DRY BILL

One Vote Only Is Cast Against Proposed Measure.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The prohibition enforcement bill was passed by the senate today without a record vote and virtually in the form it came from the committee. The measure now goes to conference for discussion of amendments inserted in the house bill by the senate.

The only material change made in the bill in the senate was the adoption by amendment of the liquor and drug prohibition act for the Panama canal zone. This measure has not been acted up by the house.

An eleventh hour attempt by Senator Shields, Democrat, Tennessee, to render ineffective the whole section of the measure relating to enforcement of war time prohibition, failed, his own vote being the only one cast in favor of it. His amendment would have limited the operation of the war time law to the six states in which demobilization camps are located.

As it passed the senate and goes to conference the bill defines as an intoxicant any beverage containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol. The senate modified, however, some of the most rigid provisions of the house bill, including that affecting private stocks of alcoholic beverages held for personal use.

SEES END OF RISING PRICES

Federal Reserve Board Thinks Reaction Has Now Set In.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Reaction from the high price level established during the war has set in, says the federal reserve board's review of business conditions in August.

Not only are some foodstuffs declining in cost to the consumer but the price of wearing apparel, such as textiles and shoes, also has been affected, the review says. Business continues at an "extremely high level" and confidence of a satisfactory solution of the wage and price problems was reported from all sections of the country.

"During August factors which had not hitherto arrested much attention exercised great influence on the business situation, the board's statement said. "Reference is made, of course, to the problem of commodity prices, in particular those going to make up the cost of living, and to the consequent condition of labor unrest. Whereas previously, emphasis had been placed on the great activity displayed by business, the problem of price, readjustment and the difficulties connected with it now bulk largest. Discussion in connection with this readjustment is particularly centered on the problem of the relation of wages and prices.

Alleged Counterfeiters Arrested.

Fargo, Sept. 6.—Four men are under arrest in Fargo suspected of being counterfeiters, after two molds for coining silver dollars were unearthed by Fargo police.

SECREARY REDFIELD RESIGNS

Resignation of Secretary of Commerce Has Been Accepted.

Washington, Sept. 6.—William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce in the cabinet since the beginning of the Democratic administration in 1913, resigned today, announcing that he was returning to private business.

President Wilson has accepted the resignation, to be effective November 1. There was no official hint given with the announcement as to who would be

Need Help to Pass the Crisis Safely—Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Can be Relied Upon.

Urbana, Ill.—"During Change of Life, in addition to its annoying symptoms, I had an attack of grippe which lasted all winter and left me in a weakened condition. I felt at times that I would never be well again. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it did for women passing through the Change of Life, so I told my doctor I would try it. I soon began to gain in strength and the annoying symptoms disappeared and your Vegetable Compound has made me a well, strong woman so I do all my own housework. I cannot recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly to women passing through the Change of Life."—Mrs. FRANK HENSON, 1316 S. Orchade St., Urbana, Ill.

Women who suffer from nervousness, "heat flashes," backache, headaches and "the blues" should try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

HEADACHE

Often Caused by

Acid-Stomach

Yes, indeed, more often than you think. Because ACID-STOMACH, starting with indigestion, heartburn, belching, food-repeating, bloat and gas, if not checked, will eventually affect every vital organ of the body. Severe, blinding, splitting headaches are, therefore, of frequent occurrence as a result of this upset condition.

Take EATONIC. It quickly banishes acid-stomach with its sour bloat, pain and gas.

It aids digestion—helps the stomach get full strength from every mouthful of food you eat. Millions of people are miserable, weak, sick and ailing because of ACID-STOMACH. Poisons, created by partly digested food charged with acid, are absorbed into the blood and distributed throughout the entire system. This often causes rheumatism, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble, ulcers and even cancer of the stomach. It robs its victims of their health, undermines the strength of the most vigorous.

If you want to get back your physical and mental strength—be full of vim and vigor—enjoy life and be happy, you must get rid of your acid-stomach.

In EATONIC you will find the very help you need and it's guaranteed. So get a big 50c box from your druggist today. If it fails to please you, return it and he will refund your money.

Reporting a Crime.

"First you talk of a jewel robbery," said the policeman, "and now all you have to say is that you have lost your cook."

"Well," exclaimed Mr. Crosslots, "that cook was a jewel and some of the neighbors came around and stole her."

THE MEN IN CLASS A1

A sound, healthy man is never a back number. A man can be as vigorous and able at seventy as at twenty. Condition, not years, puts you in the discard. A system weakened by overwork and careless living brings old age prematurely. The bodily functions are impaired and unpleasant symptoms appear. The weak spot is generally the kidneys. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you will generally find yourself in Class A. Take GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules periodically and your system will always be in working order. Your spirits will be enlivened, your muscles supple, your mind active, and your body capable of hard work.

Don't wait until you have been rejected. Commence to be a first-class man now. Go to your druggist at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They are made of the pure, original, imported Haarlem Oil—the kind your great-grandfather used. Two capsules each day will keep you toned up and feeling fine. Money refunded if they do not help you. Remember to ask for the imported GOLD MEDAL Brand. In three sizes, sealed packages.—Adv.

SMALL CHANCE TO GET AWAY

As It Happened, the Old Gentleman Was Placing the Blame Where It Didn't Belong.

"I don't know what the young men of today are coming to," said Mr. Smith. "In my young days there wasn't any need for all this courting. The girls then—"

But he was cut short by the coal-scuttle which Mrs. Smith accidentally dropped on his toes.

"I was only going to say, my dear," he remarked, when he had recovered his composure, "that I wish the young fellow who is calling on Christabel would go away and let us get the house shut up. It's past midnight!"

At that moment there entered the small boy of the household. He had been, for the last hour or so, behind the draught-screen in the drawing-room, and vowed that he had enjoyed himself better than if he had been at a movie show.

"It isn't his fault, pa," said the heir of the Smiths. "He can't go; Christabel's sitting on him!"

Tumultuous.

"Don't you admire Wagnerian music?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Cumrox, "only don't you think some of it is what you might call slightly over-jazzed?"

BRIGHT SCHEME DIDN'T WORK

Overly Frank Criticism Caused Bride to Drop Her Deaf-and-Dumb Pose Suddenly.

A newly married couple hit upon the idea of pretending to be deaf and dumb whilst on their honeymoon.

At the station they started talking on their fingers and over heard the following remarks:

"It's a newly married couple," said a lady. "The poor things are deaf and dumb. Isn't it awful?"

"What do you suppose he saw in her?" asked the other. "She is positively ugly."

"And I believe her hair is dyed," said the first woman.

"Her dress wrinkles in the back," said the first.

"She's thirty-five if she's a day; and she looks as if she had a frightful temper."

At this point the bride found her tongue, and her remarks to those two women left no doubt about her having that important article that women are supposed to exercise so freely.

Utilization.

"Our friend Dustin Stax seems embarrassed sometimes, in spite of his fortune."

"Yes," observed Miss Cayenne; "he is like a friend of mine who thinks that because she inherited a fine grand piano she is under obligations to try to play on it."

Vain Hope.

"Mayme was flushing this morning when she saw me, so I must have made an impression." "Don't flatter yourself. That was only four-flushing."

Trommald.—The special election held at Trommald by Independent School District No. 110, on the proposition to bond the district for $10,000, carried by more than four to one. The bonds will pay for the building of an addition to the Trommald school building.

St. Paul.—Armistice day, November 11, will be proclaimed a legal holiday in Minnesota by Governor Burnquist. The American Legion, during its convention in this city, received the governor's intentions to that effect in a message, in which he urged the greatest demonstration in the history of the state on that date.

Roseau.—Hans Trandem has a half acre on his lots on North Riverside Avenue from which he has without doubt harvested the biggest money return for an equal tract of land in the county, if not in the state. The half acre is in raspberries and when the picking is finally completed the gross returns will be close to $300.

Minneapolis.—The veteran wearers of the blue and the gray will be present at the American Legion national convention to take place November 10, 11 and 12, on the invitation of the local Legion officers and of T. Semmes Walmsley, president of the Louisiana branch of the Legion, who sends out the call to all veterans in his state.

St. Paul.—Rush D. Simmons, post-office inspector in charge at St. Paul, was informed that the postoffice at Sanborn, Minn., was robbed of $500. Postmaster Herman E. Kemp of Sanborn reported that his safe was cracked by burglars and $500 in cash taken. Postoffice Inspectors M. R. Ryan and Fred R. Bell went to Sanborn to investigate.

Warren.—Levi Hawkins was sentenced to the St. Cloud reformatory on his plea of guilty to the indictment returned by the last grand jury charging him with forgery in the second degree. Hawkins was cashier of the Farmers' State Bank of Gryla, whose manager, C. E. Jallard, wrecked that institution and is now serving time. Hawkins but recently returned from service in the United States army.

Red Lake Falls.—Rev. Charles E. Bronson, D.D., pastor of Westhope Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia for the past nineteen years, returned here last week after an absence of thirty-six years and preached in the Presbyterian church which he founded here in 1883. Dr. Bronson came here from Crookston in a lumber wagon in 1883 with Dan Patterson of St. Hilaire, a Mr. Thibeau who came to start a saloon, and a Mr. Morris who was to start a bank.

St. Paul.—The 1920 convention of the Minnesota American Legion will be held in Duluth, that city having been selected by the state convention here. The convention selected delegates to the national convention to be held in Minneapolis November 11 and 12, and elected officers. A feature of one session was the address of Lieut.-Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who outlined in part the program which will be discussed at the national convention in Minneapolis in November.

Minneapolis.—Delegates from all over the state were here when H. J. Merdicnk of Ely, president of the Minnesota division, Woodrow Wilson Way Association, opened the annual meeting which was devoted largely to committee reports and recommendations looking toward state development through betterment of its highways. The "Way" extends from Ely, in the northeast corner of Minnesota, thence over the Shakopee bridge, southwest to Albert Lea and Des Moines. Its southern terminum is El Paso, Tex.

St. Paul.—Extra precautions against fire in a pine forest along the Northern Pacific Railroad south of Moose Lake, which is rated an extraordinary fire hazard as the result of a severe hail storm, have been ordered by W. T. Cox, state forester. The hail stripped the needles and the bark from the pines, leaving them to dry and make an unusual fire danger, the forester said. Special crews were sent into the district and will be kept there for a few weeks until the menace is over. Reports are asked as to the area of timber damage.

Little Falls.—The 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richter, a farmer living near here, was accidentally hanged when he tried to get into an iron bed. The little tot climbed from a chair to the bed at the foot and in trying to get through the framework, slipped and was accidentally caught.

Mankato.—Ole Nelson, a merchant here, killed himself by suffocation. Nelson placed his head under a tin cupola in the rear of his shop and held a blow torch in such position that he forced himself to inhale the fumes from the lighted torch which caused his death.

Dilworth.—Shopmen of the Northern Pacific here have voted to stay on the job 90 days in accordance with President Wilson's plea.

Brainerd.—The Northern Potato Company, in which local business men are interested, has shipped three cars of potatoes and has two more to ship soon.

Hibbing.—Local schools are crowded, the enrollment being over 4,200, an increase of several hundred over last year's opening enrollment. There are 183 teachers.

Lake City.—Mrs. John Meyer, 61 years old, was instantly killed when struck by a Milwaukee mail train here. Besides her husband, she is survived by seven children.

Bemidji.—Compilation of the results of the recent membership drive by the Bemidji Civic and Commerce Association, by Secretary H. Mayne Stanton, shows the actual membership to be 404.

Clarissa.—Officials of the State Bank of Clarissa, which recently was robbed of Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps and cash, have announced that their check of the loss indicates that the robbers obtained about $20,000.

Minneapolis.—The first convention of full blooded Indians Minneapolis has ever had will convene Oct. 2, when 200 delegates, Society of American Indians, assemble in the city hall for the seventh annual convention.

Winona.—Lieut. Edmund Clemenski of Winona, who has been chosen for the consular service of the United States and will work with the military attache of the American legation at Sofia, Bulgaria, has left for his new post.

Virginia.—Unless local restaurants and cafeterias keep all flies out, they will be closed up, Dr. C. W. Miller, health officer, reported to the city council, and declared that the health board may be forced to close one or two restaurants.

Winona.—Rt. Rev. Patrick R. Heffron, D.D., bishop of the diocese of Winona, has started on a two weeks' trip throughout the diocese in the interest of the campaign for raising of a fund of $1,000,000 for a Greater St. Mary's College in Winona.

St. Paul.—Resolutions demanding punishment of profiteering as a felony and barring of alien slackers and conscientious objectors from the homestead right were adopted by the Minnesota convention of the American Legion with a thunderous cheer.

International Falls.—Miss Phyllis Sullivan is now principal of the South International Falls school. She formerly taught there, but during the past year was engaged in training as a nurse in the army service and was discharged but a few months ago.

Hibbing.—The St. Louis County Fair closed here after the largest attendance in the history of the exposition. Horse racing, automobile speed contests and aerial exhibition flights marked the three days' program. The fair drew visitors from over the entire range.

Pipestone.—The city council and county commissioners met in joint session here and officially accepted the gift of $50,000 recently made by Oscar E. Ashton for a city and county hospital to be located here. The donation of Mr. Ashton is made as a memorial to his late father, R. W. Ashton.

St. Cloud.—The seventh annual fair of the Benton County Agricultural Society registered the biggest attendance and was said to be one of the best fairs ever promoted by the society. Only one auto theft was reported at the fair grounds during the fair days and that auto was recovered twenty minutes after the theft.

Grand Rapids.—Itasca county came into its own at the Minnesota state fair this year, word being received that it won first prize for the best county exhibit from the northern part of the state and tied Bemidji with 195 points out of a possible 200, on its potato exhibit. A silver cup and a large cash prize goes with winning the best county exhibit.

Thief River Falls.—The body of Miss Heggie Jorde, aged about 50, was discovered by a friend when she called at her room over the Thief River Falls creamery office, located in a former residence, across the street from the creamery. Death evidently was due to apoplexy two or three days before. Miss Jorde lived alone and was quite well off, having been very frugal all her life.

Pipestone.—When the Pipestone public school opens for the fall and winter term, all departments will be housed under one roof for the first time since the fire which destroyed the school building in April, 1918. Work on the $350.000 structure, which has been under way for many months, has progressed so far that certain portions of it will be ready for occupancy at the opening of the school year.

Spooner.—The Collins flour mill caught fire and was burned to the ground. The origin is unknown. The Cloverleaf creamery was saved after a hard fight, several streams of water being thrown on this plant which adjoined the mill site. The oil house and storehouse of the mill were also saved. The loss is estimated at about $20,000, with insurance of $16,000. J. W. Collins, the owner, plans to rebuild as soon as matters can be arranged.

Duluth.—Receipts of coal at Duluth and Superior docks fell off during August as a result of the strike of dock operatives. Arrivals of anthracite for the month were 62,100 tons as compared with 197,200 tons during July, and bituminous receipts were 510,500 tons, against 1,327,400 tons during July. The movement of anthracite this way up to September 1 aggregated 662,700 tons, a falling off of 121,000 tons from the corresponding period last year, and 5,002,000 tons of bituminous came in, an excess of 430,500 tons as compared with the same period in 1918.

How Pat Won Out.

Anxious to travel for a big English firm in the ham line, an Irishman obtained an interview with the proprietor.

"What experience have you had?" the Irishman was asked.

"Eighteen months," was the answer.

"Eighteen months!" scornfully repeated the proprietor. "What could you learn about bacon in that time? Why, I've been studying for forty years, and don't know half enough about it yet."

"Bedad," exclaimed Pat, with a confident smile, "if I had been studying it for forty years, I'd know how to make a pig!"

He got the job.

Right Hen, Wrong Tack.

Lucile was visiting auntie in the country. It was the joy of the four-year-old to hunt for eggs in the barn. One day she brought in a very small one, presumably laid by a bantam.

"Auntie," said the little maid, showing it, "the hen that laid this egg didn't have the right recipe."—Terre Haute Tribune.

A SUMMER COLD

A cold in the summer time, as everybody knows, is the hardest kind of a cold to get rid of. The best and quickest way is to go to bed and stay there if you can, with a bottle of "Boschee's Syrup" handy to insure a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning.

But if you can't stay in bed you must keep out of draughts, avoid sudden changes, eat sparingly of simple food and take occasional doses of Boschee's Syrup, which you can buy at any store where medicine is sold, a safe and efficient remedy, made in America for more than fifty years. Keep it handy.—Adv.

Not Hard to Satisfy.

There were two plates of cake on the table and the hostess asked Arthur which he preferred, chocolate or cocoanut. "Oh, I'm not pertickler like some, folks is," said the little chap; "an' so I'll just have a piece of each kind."

The Reason.

"I heard Nellie tell that rich crank the other day that he was sweet enough to eat."

"That was her way of hinting he was a dough nut."

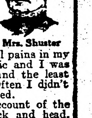
HAD TO GIVE UP

Was Almost Frantic With the Pain and Suffering of Kidney Complaint. Doan's Made Her Well.



Mrs. Shuster

Mrs. Lydia Shuster, 1838 Margaret St., Frankford, Pa., says: "A cold started my kidney trouble. My back began to ache and got sore and lame. My joints and ankles became swollen and painful and it felt as if needles were sticking into them. I finally had to give up and went from bad to worse.

"My kidneys didn't act right and the secretions were scanty and distressing. I had awful dizzy spells when everything before me turned black; one time I couldn't see for twenty minutes. Awful pains in my head set me almost frantic and I was so nervous, I couldn't stand the least noise. How I suffered! Often I didn't care whether I lived or died.

"I couldn't sleep on account of the terrible pains in my back and head. Nothing seemed to do me a bit of good until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. I could soon see they were helping me; the backache stopped, my kidneys were regulated and I no longer had any dizzy spells or rheumatic pains. I still take Doan's occasionally and they keep my kidneys in good health."

Two Cynical Poilus.

"The French," said Dr. Sidney E. Mezes of New York, the brilliant director of the American peace delegation's experts—"the French are terrible cynics about love. They don't believe in its durability. They claim it never lasts.

"Two French poilus were discussing love in an estaminet.

"'I hold,' said the first poilu, 'that if you fall in love with some ravishing beauty, the only way to cure yourself is to run off.'

"The second poilu took a sip of wine.

"'Yes, that'll cure you, all right,' he agreed, 'provided you run off with the ravishing beauty.'"

They Should Have.

A Terre Haute (Ind.) librarian had a new book which two boys were very anxious to take out for the next week. They argued and argued, and then came to the point where blows were imminent. A little girl, who had been listening to the discussion, turned to the librarian and saw the anxiety on her face. Then she became angry. She spoke to the boys: "Ain't you two got any suspect for Miss H—— to keep you all from fightin' in her libery?" she demanded.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

Frederick S. Kolle, M. D., Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says that weak, nervous people who want increased weight, strength and nerve-force, should take a 5-grain tablet of Bitro-Phosphate just before or during each meal.

This particular phosphate is the discovery of a famous French scientist, and reports of remarkable results from its use have recently appeared in many medical journals.

If you do not feel well; if you tire easily; do not sleep well, or are too thin; go to any good druggist and get enough Bitro-Phosphate for a two weeks' supply—it costs only fifty cents a week.

Eat less; chew your food thoroughly, and if at the end of a few weeks you do not feel stronger and better than you have for months; if your nerves are not steadier; if you do not sleep better and have more vim, endurance and vitality, your money will be returned, and the Bitro-Phosphate will cost you nothing.

The Health Clinic

Nutritional Clinics were held last week at Warren, Stephen and Holt, conducted under the anspices of the Marshall County Public Health Assn., in cooperation with the State and the County Nurse.

Ninety children were examined by Dr. Stewart of the University Pediatric Dept., who conducted the clinic, assisted by the County Nurse and a corps of volunteer workers in each of the three cities.

The usual number of defects were found such as defective teeth, eyes, hearing, diseased or enlarged tonsils, or glands, adenoids, etc. Quite a number of the children were found to be under-weight for their age and heigth. A few were overweight. There were a few cases of scabies (itch).

Most of these defects were not of a serious nature but a few of them are quite serious. Practically all of them can be removed if the parents will follow the advice given by the specialist and have the proper treatment given by their family physician. If they are not corrected, they are almost sure to cause greater trouble as the child grows older.

These clinics are for all classes of people, rich and poor alike. They are conducted free of charge to the public and are made possible by the sale of Christmas Seals.

Help That Aching Back!

Back giving out? Tortured with dull, nagging backaches and stabbing pains? Does the least exertion leave you "all played out?" Likely your kidneys are to blame. Headaches and dizziness may come, too, and perhaps annoying kidney irregularities. Help the overworked kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. PREUS ELECTED GOVERNOR BY A BIG PLURALITY

Entire Republican State Ticket Assured of Election By a Wide Margin.

HODGSON RUNS THIRD

Harding Carries State by An Overwhelming Majority Running Far in the Lead of the State Ticket—Road Amendment Carries.

St. Paul—With only 153 out of the 3,220 precincts in the state missing, the lead of J. A. O. Preus, governor-elect, over Dr. Henrik Shipstead, Townley candidate, now is 132,267.

The constant increase of the Preus lead has been one of the striking features in the gathering of returns in last Teusday's election. The Shipstead managers have ben hoping for some real Shipstead strength to develop, but it did not show up, and the precincts yet to report are all small ones.

The vote in 3,067 precincts is: Preus, 394,390; Shipstead, 262,123; Hodgson, 77,475.

Indications are that the total vote in Minnesota will run above 750,000. Rosy estimates had placed the possible total at 700,000, and it really was not expected that it would pass 650,000.

The Harding lead over Cox in Minnesota is 357,523 in 3,040 out of the 3,220 precincts. It is believed that in proportion to population this is the largest vote given by any state to the president-elect.

For supreme court justice, closest of the state races, 2,013 precincts give: Dibell, 335,807; Siegel, 240,806. This is a plurality for Dibell of 95,001. It was increased several thousand when returns came in, virtually complete, from St. Louis county, Dibell's home.

Preus Carries 54 Counties.

Apparently Preus is certain to carry fifty-four counties and has a good chance to carry fourteen more. In the primary election June 21 Preus carried but thirty-two of Minnesota's eighty-six counties while Shipstead carried fifty-four.

Figures in Other Contests.

For lieutenant governor, 2,528 precincts give: Collins (Republican), 360,998; Mallon (Independent), 178,921; McDonnell (Democrat), 68,499; Hubbell (National), 5,819; Friedman (Socialist), 7,542.

For secretary of state, 2,402 precincts give: Holm (Republican), 336,870; Anderson (Farmer-Labor), 144,380; Burmaster (Democrat), 59,887; Hirt (Socialist), 18,434; Copeland (National), 5,391.

For treasurer, 2,468 precincts give: Rines (Republican) 356,893; Wagner (Farmer-Labor) 146,981; Lueders (Democrat) 53,176; Phelps (Socialist) 15,440.

Road Act Wins by 92,000.

For railroad and warehouse commissioner, 1,582 precincts give: Jacobson, 208,098; MacKenzie, 84,192; Robinson, 31,541; May, 7,529. These are from seventy-three counties.

For Amendment No. 1, Good Roads Amendment, 963 precincts out of 3,220 give: Yes, 146,045; no, 53,826. These returns are from sixty-seven counties.

Returns Come in Slow.

Returns from Tuesday's election in Minnesota came in much slower than in previous years, and this was attributed by various county correspondents to the augmented vote caused by woman suffrage.

In many counties, the county contests, such as county commissioner races were counted first or at the same time as the preliminary count was made on president and governor, and this tended to delay the count on other state offices.

Rob Dakota Bank of $2,000.

Fargo, N. D.—Masked daylight robbers entered the Brantford State bank, at Brantford, N. D., and obtained about $2,000. Walter Prall, president of the institution, was alone at the time and the robbers covered him with a gun. Telephone wires leading out of the village having been cut previous to the holdup.

Warden and "Trusty" Killed.

Mount Holly, N. J.—Deputy Warden King of the Burlington county jail and Charles Vernon Bartlett, a "trusty" were beaten to death with a stove poker in the jail by Harry Asay, a prisoner, who was suffering from delirium tremens.

Kills Wife; Then Suicides.

Minot, N. D.—Following reverses which have extended over a period of two years, Patrick Dowling shot and killed his wife, Edna, here in a rooming house and then took his own life, according to the police. There were no witnesses to the double tragedy.

Lenin Admits Food Shortage.

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—"For the last twenty years I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery at times, as a general tonic, with excellent results. One bottle in the spring, and one in the fall, is usually sufficient. It has given me added strength and endurance and has greatly aided me in following a strenuous life. I have also found Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets very beneficial and mild in action.

"I have been through Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., and have found everything as represented. The pictures of their buildings are genuine."—JOHN W. MCLAIN, No. 188 Wisconsin Street.

Over fifty years ago Dr. Pierce manufactured this "Discovery" from roots and barks—a corrective remedy, the ingredients of which nature had put in the fields and forests, for keeping us healthy.

Few families have not at some time or other used this "Golden Medical Discovery" for the stomach, liver or blood. Over twenty-four million bottles of this tonic and blood remedy have been sold by druggists in this country.

VOLSTEAD HOLDS LEAD

Present Incumbent Ahead With Few Precincts Missing.

Plurality of 27,939 Votes Given Newton in Fifth District Declared Phenomenal.

St. Paul—With only 18 small precincts out of 380 in the seventh congressional district missing, Andrew J. Volstead, Republican, has a lead of 2,236 votes over the Rev. O. J. Kvale, Townleyite. Volstead's election now seems assured.

The eighth congressional district fight between W. L. Carrs, Democrat and incumbent, and O. J. Larson, Republican, is still in doubt although Larson has a lead of 339 votes, with 21 more precincts to be heard from.

The vote accorded Walter H. Newton, Republican, in the fifth congressional district is nothing short of phenomenal. With complete returns Newton has a lead of 32,053 over Lynn J. Thompson, Socialist member of the school board. Newton's majority over all three candidates who ran against him is 14,400.

Congressional Results.

This table shows the available returns from the Congressional districts are divided:

Third district—263 precincts out of 270 give Davis (Republican) 39,947; Millett (Democrat) 15,503; Pomadt (Independent) 10,851.

Fifth district—Complete returns give Newton (Republican) 54,410; Dahl (Democrat) 8,167; Thompson (Farmer-Labor) 22,357; Lundeen (Independent) 9,486.

Tenth district (with only a few missing precincts) vote is: Schall (Republican), 46,316; Finlayson (Democrat), 6,261; Soltis, 16,551.

New York Re-elects Socialists.

New York—Louis Waldeman and August Claessens, Socialists, who were twice expelled from the New York legislature, were re-elected. Waldeman, from the Eighth Manhattan Assembly district and Claessens from the Seventeenth. Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr, who also were expelled by the Legislature last winter and when reseated this fall after they had been re-elected and who subsequently resigned, were again elected from the Third and Fourth Bronx Assembly districts, respectively.

Harding Carries Michigan 3 to 1.

Detroit—Harding's majority in Michigan, on face of returns, was three to one over Cox. The state Republican ticket won by better than 2 to 1. The anti-parochial school amendment, which would force all children between the ages of 5 and 16 to attend public school, has been apparently defeated by a large majority.

"Uncle Joe" Returned to Congress.

Danville, Ill.—"Uncle Joseph" Cannon is to be back "among 'em" in the United States House of Representatives next year. The voters in the Danville district so decreed when they pilled up a big majority for the veteran representative.

Harding Moved With Emotion.

Marion, Ohio—When a committee of employes of he Marion Star called on the senator to present him with a printer's gold make-up rule, and he came out and with his voice choking with emotion thanked them for their devotion. "I don't know of any call," he said, "that has aroused emotions more than this. I have worked with you and I have tried to be honest with you, and God knows if I am called to responsibility I am going to be honest with everybody in the world."

EMPEROR FRIEND OF LOWLY

Napoleon III Declared to Have Had Genuine Regard for the Humbler of His Subjects.

The friendly feeling of Napoleon III for the toilers is dwelt upon by Agnes Carey in her "An Empress in Exile," in the Century magazine, and she gives as her authority Empress Eugenie, wife of the last of the emperors. "Whatever his failings toward her had been," the author says, "she professed a warm admiration of his love of hard work, his pluck and his great kindness of heart and thoughtfulness for every one. The emperor genuinely loved the poor and humble among his subjects. with no thought of policy. He was too good and generous for his people's understanding. Had he been tyrannical and made use of them and trampled them down like some other sovereigns, they would have behaved better toward him, she (Eugenie) said.

"Napoleon was a dreamer and spent much of his time to the serious thinking out of schemes for the benefit of his people, and all mankind. His life's ambition was to better their lot. He had great magnetism, especially with the working classes. The empress charmed every stranger, but the emperor was really more personally and deeply loved by his entourage than was his consort."

What She Preferred.

Of the wit of Miss Marie Tempest, who is paying London a visit, many stories have been told. This is one of the latest.

At a party some one mentioned in her presence that a certain girl who had refused an earl had recently married a very wealthy young manufacturer.

"Oh," said Miss Tempest, without a moment's hesitation, "she very wisely preferred a business plant to a family tree."

BEADS PREFERRED TO BREAD

People of the Levant Set Great Stock on Colored Glass of Every Description.

Beads are more necessary than bread to the Levant. Men, women and children wear and carry beads to ward off ill luck. Even the horses and donkeys have strands of beads about their necks "to baffle the evil eye," and the long horns of the work oxen are decorated with blue-and-white beads to keep them from falling prey to diseases.

In Athens, Constantinople, Tiflis, Smyrna and other cities of the Levant men of all classes carry short strands of fidget beads, which they play with while walking in the street, riding in street cars and trains just as nervous men in the West finger their watch-chains. Bead shops abound everywhere in the larger cities and general stores and market stalls sell them in the smaller places. Peddlers hawk them in the streets everywhere.

Light-colored amber beads of large size are the latest thing in beads for women. Meerschaum beads are also popular, and for the moment plain beads of all sorts have displaced highly ornate carved beads of the type which Syrians produce in great quantities for exportation.—Washington Post.

Heaps of People There.

A little boy who visited a large city for the first time, was amazed at the number of people on the streets.

When he returned home to the country his mother asked him what he thought of the great city.

"Oh," said he, "there were heaps of people there! I think there must have been a fair on!"

Cause for Transfer.

Mincepin received the information that he was being transferred to another government department with rather bad grace.

"What's the cause?" he blustered. "Is it because I occasionally fall off to sleep?"

"It's because you snore, and that awakens the minister," came the reply.—La Balonette (Paris).

GREETINGS THAT TELL MUCH

All Have a Character and to the Initiated Are Like an Open Book.

"Chawmed"—One dance with this type. They always talk about the thatness of the that or G. B. Pshaw's latest.

"How do you do?"—Not a question—a statement. Probably accompanied by a smile. This class works slowly, but is sure to get you in the end.

"Deelighted"—With giggle and invitation from baby-blue eyes. Must never be trusted.

"Very glad to know you, I'm suah"—She is not sure, but it seems best to say so. Last season's deb. Expects to be bored and it is best to live up to expectations.

"Oh, Mr. Stover, I'm so glad to know you. I've heard," etc.—Football hero stuff. Must use skill and ingenuity to escape this type.

Mere nod—Possibilities, but, oh, man, you'll have to work.—Yale Record.

Paradoxical Requiting.

"Why did you turn your late guest out?"

"Because he took me in."

"That was a rare feat."

"Sure, and it was also well done."—Baltimore American.

No, Luke, you can't convince a woman that any man who has proposed to her is a fool.

Date and Score Mixed.

Greene—Why, no. It's comparatively new.

"When was it laid out?"

"About 1917."

"Are you sure?"

"Oh, yes; positive."

"Why, I heard a man say the other day that he went around it in '85."—Yonkers Statesman.

GOT REPORT THAT COUNTED

Coffee Dealer a Little Too Enthusiastic in His Praise of Goods He Had Condemned.

"Have you any of Blank & Co.'s coffee?" the stranger asked.

"Plenty of it, sir! How much would you like?" the dealer responded briskly.

"Do your customers generally like this coffee—I would want only something really good," the customer observed cautiously.

"Never had a more popular brand—it is fine—use it regularly on my own table," the dealer assured him.

"Well, I am glad to hear you speak so well of it now. You wrote me a while back that the goods were so unsatisfactory that you would have to return them unless you were given a further special discount. I'm Blank, you know. Good day!"

Sparing Their Feeling.

"Why do you call this fire a 'conflagration?'" asked the crusty city editor. "According to your story the damage done didn't amount to $1,000."

"There were fully 10,000 people present to watch it," said the facetious reporter.

"Well?"

"I didn't want to make it appear that they were wasting their valuable time."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The Fitting Way.

"How do the Irish meet the 'black-and-tans'?" "I guess it is with dogged determination."

There is one place in Abbeville, La., where McInhenny has grown a grove that towered to 70 feet in 19 days. Women of Middle Age

Owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change in her life without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, smothering spells, fainting spells, nervous troubles and irregularities are symptoms that should have prompt attention. These two letters prove what a successful remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for women at this time of life.

These Two Women Helped During Change of Life.

Taunton, Mass.—"I could not eat or sleep for six months, had fainting spells and could not walk without help for three months, caused by female trouble. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the Change of Life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk one mile to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for it."—Mrs. SUSAN C. STAPLES, 157 B School St., Taunton, Mass.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I want to let you know what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I had organic troubles and am going through the Change of Life. I was taken with a pain in my side and a bad headache. I could not lie down, could not eat or sleep. I suffered something terrible and the doctor's medicine did me no good at all—my pains got worse instead of better. I began taking the Vegetable Compound and felt a change from the first. Now I feel fine and advise any one going through the Change of Life to try it, for it cured me after I had given up all hopes of getting better. I will tell any one who writes to me the good it has done me."—Mrs. MARGARET DANZ, 743 N. 25th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Declares Filipinos All Want Independence

Former Illinois Congressman, Back From Philippines, Gives Interesting Views on Island Affairs.

By FORMER CONGRESSMAN CLYDE H. TAVENNER.

Clyde H. Tavenner.

The 10,500,000 inhabitants of the Philippines are practically unanimous in their desire for independence.

This is the strongest impression that I have brought back with me after touring the islands from one end to the other, and after having come in contact with all classes of the people.

I found, however, that the viewpoint of Americans in the Philippines, and Americans in the United States, on the subject of independence, is not the same.

The attitude of the American government, and the great mass of the people of the United States, is to consider the Philippine question from the unselfish viewpoint of what is best for the Filipino people. Ninety-five per cent of the opposition to independence emanates from American investors in the islands who are quite naturally more interested in the size of their dividends than the freedom of an alien people.

The unfortunate feature of the situation is that the opponents of independence, in order to convince the people of the United States that the Filipinos should not be granted their independence, find it necessary to libel an entire race. To tell a sensitive Christian people that they shall not have their promised independence because they are not fit for it will in the end prove a mistaken policy. It will only make their demand for independence the stronger.

At the present time, however, the masses of the Filipino people still have absolute confidence in the good faith of America. Their loyalty and gratitude to Uncle Sam has not as yet been impaired by the misrepresentations of the retentionists. Their leaders are intelligent enough to distinguish between those Americans who oppose their aspirations to independence for purely selfish reasons, and the great mass of the American people whom they know desire this government to do by the Filipinos only that which is just and right.

In this connection, it is interesting to review the development of the present friendly relationship between the Filipino and American peoples.

Previous to 1916 the Philippine-American relationship is declared to have been not of the best. But with the passage in that year of the Jones law by practically both the Republican and Democratic memberships of Congress, a better feeling developed. This "better feeling" has now grown into a very strong bond of sympathy and affection.

The happy attitude of the Filipino people toward America is due not principally to the fact that Americans have shown the Filipinos how to make their country a better place to live in; not principally to the fact we have superintended the implanting in the Philippines of one of the finest educational systems in the world; nor to the building of high class roads, bridges and public works—but is due principally to the fact that in the Jones law America gave the Filipinos her word of honor that as soon as a stable government could be established we would withdraw our sovereignty from the Philippine Islands.

It might, at first thought, seem strange that in their sincere appreciation of all that we have done for them the Filipino people should place most emphasis on the promise to grant them their independence. For it cannot be successfully denied that on the whole the United States has treated the Filipino people better than any nation ever treated a dependent alien people in all the days since the curtain rose on the dawn of civilization. If we do not spoil it, it is a record that we can be proud of.

But it really isn't so strange that the Filipino should love us more for our promise to give them sovereignty over themselves than for our other good works, for which, after all, outside of army and navy expenditures, the Filipinos have been taxed, and properly so, for every cent of the cost. If we but reverse the situation, and place ourselves in the shoes of the Filipinos, which cannot be said to be an unfair way of getting at the other fellow's viewpoint, we shall see that it is not strange.

Suppose that Great Britain or any other power that you can think of by referring to your geography or history, should impose its sovereignty upon us against our will and then give us an infinitely better government than we now enjoy? Could any such foreign power ever succeed in convincing us that it had our welfare more at heart than we have ourselves.

But to return to my story, the Filipinos heartily thanked us for the Jones law, considering it a sort of a covenant between the Filipino and American peoples, and immediately applied themselves to the task of setting up the prescribed stable government. And they set it up. It is in the Philippines now. America's own representative in the islands, the governor general, officially reports it is there, and recommends that since the Filipinos have earnestly fulfilled their part of the agreement, America should be as prompt in carrying out its part of the contract.

So that, in a few words, it is not the Philippines that now are on trial, but the United States.

There is but one answer. America will carry out its agreement. And since we are going to do it, we cannot afford to quibble and split hairs and hesitate until our tardiness robs us of half the glory of our achievement. Let us act with a promptness and willingness really worthy of America.

And when the people of the United States set up the Philippine Republic as the first Christian democracy of the Far East, they will be building a monument to themselves that will stand throughout eternity. On that day the beacon light of hope, humanity and justice will flash around the world. Such an example by America will accomplish more for the weak and struggling peoples of the earth than the four year world war, with all its cost in life and treasure.

As people are not expected to work on holidays and as Thankgiving comes on press day, we will be one day late with our paper next week.

A MISREPRESENTED RACE.

The Filipino people are a much misrepresented race. The frequent publication of pictures of semi-naked Mindanao Moros and Igorotes has caused a great many Americans to believe they are typical of the inhabitants of the Philippines. Such is far from the case, however. Of 11,000,000 inhabitants of the islands, 10,500,000 are a Christian, civilized people with a culture and refinement that will compare very favorably with that of other nations. The Filipino women are exceptionally modest. A street flirtation in Manila, so far as a Filipino woman is concerned, is something that is almost unknown, as any American that has visited Manila will testify.

It takes money to run a newspaper but maybe some folks don't believe that or they would pay for their paper when we ask for what is past due us.

NEAR EAST IS LEAGUE SUBJECT

United States Is Asked to Take the Mandate for Armenia.

GERMANS IN PROTEST

Committee Likely to Be Formed to Examine Into Possibilities of Ending Turk-Armenian Hostilities.

Geneva.—A resolution presented by M. Viviani, inviting the council of the League of Nations to confer with the various powers with the view of constituting a force sufficient to put an end to hostilities in Armenia, which was joined to Lord Robert Cecil's resolution along the same lines was adopted by the assembly of the league.

Germany's protest against the method of distributing mandates by the allies among themselves, has been distributed among the delegates to the assembly of the League of Nations. The text of this protest has been withheld from the press, but it seemed probable it would be brought before the assembly shortly, and would be referred to the committee on mandates without debate.

The Greek delegation has been reduced to one, as a result of the political upheaval in that country. Demetrius Caclamanos, Greek minister in London, and M. Rebedgy have withdrawn leaving M. Politis, former minister of foreign affairs as the sole representative of Greece.

The order of business called for a discussion of resolutions introduced during the debate on the report of the council of the league. These comprised a demand for intervention by the league in Armenia. A number of delegates were prepared to demand that the league ask the powers to organize a sufficient force to prevent the wiping out of the Armenian nation.

The possibility of American aid for the Armenians, was touched upon in debate by the assembly of the League of Nations on resolutions demanding intervention by the league in Armenia.

Supporting Lord Robert Cecil's demand that the assembly appoint a committee to examine into means for ending the hostilities between the Turkish nationalists, and the Armenians, M. Spalkjovitch of the Serbian delegation recalled that the United States senate at one time had approved the use of the American fleet to succor the Armenians. It was recalled here in this connection that Senator Harding was the senator who reported the resolution.

(A resolution requesting the president to send marines to Batum was adopted by the senate May 13, last. It was offered by Senator Harding on behalf of the foreign relations committee.)

A. J. Balfour of Great Britain, speaking on the resolution said that if the United States had been willing to take the mandate for Armenia, she had the men, money and spirit to make her an ideal mandatory. The league has been unable to accomplish anything with regard to the Armenian situation, Mr. Balfour admitted, because the condition of Armenia, he argued, was not such as the league was organized to deal with.

Mr. Balfour said an appeal must be sent to the forty-one states of the league for a united effort to save Armenia.

Rene Viviani of France, following Mr. Balfour, said all was agreed that compassion would no longer suffice for Armenia.

"It is not the fault of France if the league today is disarmed before the situation in Armenia is righted," said M. Viviani. Virtually the entire assembly applauded this statement. It was noted, however, that the British delegation did not applaud.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS HALTED

Warsaw.—Negotiations looking to a permanent peace between soviet Russia and Poland have been broken off by the former at Riga, where the delegations have been in conference.

Great soviet armies are being gathered to crush General Balakovitch, commander of "irregular" forces which have been operating east of the armistice zone between Poland and Russia proper and other bolshevik legions are pursuing shattered Ukrainian armies which are fleeing from the region west and northwest of Kiev.

All along the southeastern frontier of Poland there is pouring in a perfect rabble of refugees, civilian and military, who are seeking safety before the advancing wave of bolshevik armies.

Railroads Contest Fares.

St. Paul.—Five railroads operating in North Dakota, which began a suit in equity against the taxing officials of North Dakota restraining them from collecting a privilege tax on the capital stock of the railroad companies, amounting to $109,402.61, here, asked the United States district court of North Dakota for an interlocutory injunction. Judge Walter H. Sanborn, Judge Wilbur F. Booth, Minneapolis, and Judge Joseph W. Woodrough of Nebraska, are sitting in the case.

No Court of Appeal for Judge.

A great many folks in the District of Columbia do not know the judges of the Supreme court, hence these dignitaries sometimes are treated just like other mortals.

Recently Justice McReynolds started to board the front end of a street car, and the motorman, who had opened the front door merely to talk to a friend, shouted:

"Hey, there, you; don't try to get on this front platform! Go back to the rear!"

The justice calmly obeyed the order of the higher court, the motorman muttered, clanged his bell viciously and the car passed on.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

JOKE ON AMATEUR FARMER

He Still Has Something to Learn About the "Enormous Profits" Made by Agriculturists.

A federal official at Washington has discovered that he has still something to learn touching agriculture.

Now, he purchased a farm as a summer home for his family, and finds special delight in walking about the place, commenting on the condition of the crops and in many ways showing his interest in his possessions.

One evening during the summer he was strolling over the farm. The hired man had cut the grass during the day —a very thin crop—and left it on the ground to dry. The official saw it and, calling his man, said:

"It appears to me that you are very careless. Why haven't you been more particular in raking up this hay? Don't you see that you have left dribblings all around?"

For a moment the hired man stared, wondering whether his boss was quizzing him. Then he replied:

"Dribblings? Why, sir, that's the crop!"

Setting Him Right.

He—"Darling, I dream of you as my own." She—"But dreams, you know, go by contraries."

Those who seek to get the best of it, generally do. The meek inherit the leavings.

BEAUTY MARSHALED FOR CZAR

Russian Monarch Selected Bride From the Prettiest Maidens of Land Over Which He Ruled.

In Russia, in the Sixteenth century, the choice of a bride for the czar was made from all the pretty girls of the country. Ivan, who ruled 1530-1584, being ready for a wife, ordered all the beautiful girls in the country to come to Moscow. Preliminary contests were held in each province, and candidates selected. In the majority of cases the contestants were delighted with the chance to go to Moscow, and still more delighted with hope of becoming ruler of Russia. An immense hall was built and, on the day of the choosing, 1,500 of the most beautiful girls in Russia were ready to contest for Ivan's favor.

Accompanied by an aged courtier, the czar strolled through the hall, all the girls smiling shyly or openly at his highness as he passed them. After a process of elimination was gone through with, Anastasia, daughter of an ancient but poor family, was chosen, and was made empress of 50,000,000 people forthwith.

DISLIKE SONS TO GROW UP

Few Mothers Welcome the Time When Their Boys Go Out Into the Hard World.

Almost every mother keeps her boy in "knee pants" just as long as she can; she hates to see him becoming a man, for she feels that he is getting away from her.

A mother sees only with reluctance the boy pass from the love and care and peace with which she has surrounded him, out into the world of pitiless endeavor in which he must play his part.

The mother's selfish fondness discloses itelf in the ludicrous child's garment and the wornout, home-bred horse with which she sends forth the would-be knight. These are to the modern analytical mind painfully symbolic of the unconscious interference on the part of parents with the proper adult equipment of their children for an independent life. Their apparent fondness conceals the unconscious wish that the child will find himself unequipped for the greater world and compelled to turn back to the shelter. —New York Medical Journal.

Millions for a New Stomach

One of the greatest American millionaires said to his physician, "A million dollars, Doctor, spot cash and no grumbling, for a new stomach," and then the sick man groaned and turned away. All his wealth could not make him happy or contented, for happiness largely depends upon digestion. Without health where does happiness come in? After all the stomach plays a great part in everyday life. Without a healthy stomach and good digestion our blood is thin, watery and poor, our heart action is weak, our liver does not do its duty, and man is miserable and unhappy. Prevent disease by putting the house in order and strengthening the system against the germs of disease.

Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., years ago understood diseases and their prevention, and he discovered certain roots and herbs which were nature's remedies, and succeeded in putting them up in a form that could be easily procured at the drug store (liquid or tablets). This he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This Discovery gives no false stimulation because it contains no alcohol or any narcotic. It helps digestion and the assimilation of such elements in the food as are required for the blood. It gives to the blood the food elements the tissues require. For over fifty years it has enjoyed the confidence of the American public. Try it now!

A PHILIPPINE TRAVELOGUE

THE ROMANTIC ISLANDS OF THE FAR EAST. PICTURES OF THEIR NATURAL BEAUTY AND HISTORIC SPOTS—BECOMING A MECCA FOR TOURISTS AND A POPULAR WINTER RESORT.

The Zigzag on the Way to Baguio, Summer Capital of the Philippines.

All aboard! Let's go! We're starting from Manila, the great picturesque, Americanized Oriental city, and will travel by automobile 200 miles to the north to Baguio, the summer capital of the Philippines. The trip can also be made by train.

We have ahead of us one of the most scenic, spectacular and thrilling automobile trips in the world. We will have excellent roads all the way. The Philippines are, in fact, a paradise for autoists, possessing 3,500 miles of fine macadamized roads.

The first part of the trip is through typical small towns and then across the central plain of Luzon and through several rich and fertile provinces, where tropical vegetation is seen at its best. Here one is impressed with the great agricultural wealth of the Philippines, which represents one of the East's greatest producing areas, with the advantage of immense natural resources for the development of further production. It is regrettably true that even in the United States there is far from any real understanding of the potentialities of the islands.

At some points rice fields, looking in the distance like the greenest of green lawns, stretch away as far as the eye can see. If you want color, if you want to feel the romance and mystery of an Oriental twilight, pass this way as the red eyed sun at the end of the dying day is slowly sinking behind the unending expanse of green fields. At first you cry out in ecstacy at the gorgeous scene. But as you ride along, your eyes fastened on the panorama of tints and colors, and with the impenetrably black Oriental night coming on fast, you become enthralled. You no longer try to express your feelings. You cannot. You realize that those now fast changing, colorful masterpieces in the heavens and on the landscape are pictures that no man can adequately describe nor human hands duplicate. So what's the use of trying?

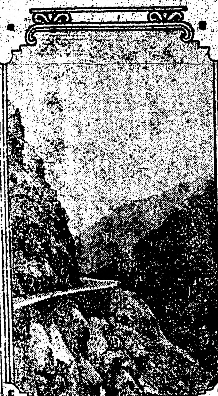
True, these are but impressions, but the traveloguer considers himself justified in mentioning them, for they are a part of the trip to Baguio and return. Indeed, the gorgeous sunsets in all parts of the Philippines leave an impression on the mind of the tourist that is everlasting.

We leave the palms and tropical foliage and enter the zone of rugged pine. We pass from the soft, incense laden air of the warm lowlands to the crisp, invigorating ozone of the temperate zone, all within a few hours' time.

For mile after mile the road now follows the tortuous course of a river, the road lying in the bottom or on the rocky sides of a granite canyon.

The Philippines are rich in hydroelectric possibilities. This power is the cheapest power on earth. And it is everlasting. Your traveloguer is neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, but he predicts that one day there will be innumerable Philippine government owned hydro-electric plants in this canyon we are now passing through. Think of the possibilities of such a project! Today the trip from Manila to Baguio is too expensive for the average Manila worker and his family, many of whom may live and die without beholding the wondrous beauties of their own island of Luzon. Think of what a blessing it would be to Filipino mothers and children to feel upon their fevered brows the cool, invigorating breezes of the mountain tops, now so near and yet so far! With the Philippine government owning its own electric railways and hydro-electric plants it would be possible to bring the trip to Baguio within the means of hundreds of thousands of Filipinos. Not only is there sufficient power in this river to electrify a line from Manila to Baguio, but to operate the street railways of Manila, light the city and furnish power for manufacturing concerns.

But we have now arrived at Camp One. From this point the scenery rapidly changes as the elevation increases. We are traveling over the famous Benguet road, the construction of which through the mountains is a most remarkable engineering triumph. At places the road is blasted out of the solid granite. Riding on the edge of a 100 foot precipice makes one feel like he is on the rim of the world. Some of the turns are so sharp it is impossible to see 20 feet ahead, and we seem to be perilously near the jumping off place. We wonder if it is safe to lean out and peer into the canyon far below, and when we do we are perfectly satisfied we are flirting with death. Yet the trip is a safe one, providing our driver has better nerves than our own.



"At times we seemed perilously near the jumping off place."

All too soon we reach the outskirts of Baguio, a city among the clouds, and are rather surprised at the modern city we find it to be. In ten years Baguio has grown from a village of huts to the now justly famed mountain resort of the Philippines, sometimes called the Philippine Simla. It is undoubtedly destined some day to become a large city.

Baguio ranges in elevation from 4,500 to 5,500 feet and is surrounded practically on all sides by high mountain ridges and "hogsbacks" towering into the skies at a height of almost 8,000 feet.

Aside from the scenery, which is noteworthy, the great blessing of Baguio is its temperate climate, which is indeed a godsend to those impoverished by the tropical temperatures of the lowlands. Not only is the mountain air rich in ozone, but it has been demonstrated to be extraordinarily free from germs of all kinds.

Each year during the hot season the school teachers of the entire archipelago are enabled by the government to spend a month at the teachers' camp in Baguio for recreation and conference on school work. American army officers and their families also go to Baguio for the hot months.

And now that your traveloguer has you in Baguio, he believes he will leave you there, for there are many interesting side trips to take, and, besides, Baguio is the most delightful place for a vacation in the entire Orient.

Help That Bad Back!

Why be miserable with a "bad back?" It's time you found out what is wrong! Kidney weakness often causes much suffering from backache, lameness, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and kidney irregularities. Neglected, it may lead to dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease, but if taken in time it is usually easily corrected by using Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands.

A Minnesota Case

Every Picture Tells a Story

Mrs. Wm. Berg, Granite Falls, Minn., says: "My back ached all the time and I felt run down. I often became dizzy and specks appeared before my eyes. Mornings I was lame and sore and my kidneys were out of order. I was told to try Doan's Kidney Pills and purchased some. Doan's removed the backache and regulated my kidneys."

CARTER'S ITTLE IVER PILLS

Small Pill—Small Dose—Small Price

He Was No Gambler.

Tommy, a small Presbyterian, was being examined in the catechism by the visiting minister.

"What is meant by regeneration?" asked the divine.

"Why, it's just being born again," replied the victim, with some maternal prompting.

"And wouldn't you like to be born again?"

No reply to this, even under parental pressure, until finally, in desperation, the truth came out: "I ain't taking no chances on being a girl!"—Judge.

Mrs. Grag—"Does your husband expect you to obey him?" Mrs. Grig—"Oh, no! He's been married before!"

50 Years Ago

a young man who practiced medicine in a rural district became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. This was Dr. Pierce who afterward moved to Buffalo, N. Y. He made up his mind to place some of his medicines before the public, and he put up what he called his "Favorite Prescription," and placed it with the druggists in every state in the Union.

For fifty years Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has sold more largely throughout the United States than any other medicine of like character. It's the testimony of thousands of women that it has benefited or entirely eradicated such distressing ailments as women are prone to. It is now sold by druggists in tablet form as well as liquid.

WAUKESHA, WIS.—"About eighteen years ago I was ill, doctor's medicine did not seem to give me the relief I thought I should have so I began taking Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it cured me in a short space of time. I have never had any return of my ailment."—MRS. MINNIE STENSLOFF, 739 Pleasant Street.

CAT HAS NEVER SERVED MAN

Only One of All the Beasts That Remains Unconquered and Refuses to Obey Commands.

Why does the dog, by nature, wage mortal warfare on the cat?

A writer gives the following reason: He is tolerant of other domestic animals. The cat is not a domestic animal. When man conquered the world, he gave beasts the choice of serving him or of being driven to the jungle. Such animals as refused to own man's sway were either exterminated or else banished to the uttermost wilds. All except the cat. The cat refused to be driven into the wilderness. Also she refused to serve man, except for killing mice, which is her sport, not her labor.

Still unconquered, loyal only to herself and scorning work or service, the cat chose the warmest corner of the hearth and proceeded to annex all the benefits of civilization without paying any of its penalties or taxes.

A LETTER FOR WOMEN

From a Woman Whose Serious Illness Was Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Garnett, Kas.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a complete nervous breakdown following the birth of my oldest child. I got up too soon which caused serious female trouble. I was so weak that I was not able to be on my feet but very little and could not do my housework at all. I had a bad pain in my left side and it would pain terribly if I stepped off a curb-stone. One day one of your booklets was thrown in the yard and I read every word in it. There were so many who had been helped by your medicine that I wanted to try it and my husband went to town and got me a bottle. It seemed as though I felt relief after the second dose, so I kept on until I had taken five bottles and by that time I was as well as I could wish. About a year later I gave birth to a ten pound boy, and have had two more children since and my health has been fine. If I ever have trouble of any kind I am going to take your medicine for I give it all the praise for my good health. I always recommend your medicine whenever I can."—MRS. EVA E. SHAY, Garnett, Kansas.

Felt Himself Wanting.

"I've often been struck by the extreme hauteur of salesladies. Don't you suppose merchants suffer from it?"

"I know one who does. He tells me he feels like sneaking in the rear door of his establishment because he suspects that his personal appearance does not meet with the approval of his clerks at the front door."

A New Log Saw

A new improved power log saw, now being offered, outdoes all other log saws in cutting wood quickly and at little cost. A new 4-cycle, high power motor equipped with Oscillating Magneto—no batteries to fail you—makes the saw bite through logs faster than other log saws. It finishes its cut and is ready for another before the ordinary saw is well started. This log saw—The Ottawa—has a specially designed friction clutch, controlled by a lever, which starts and stops the saw without stopping the engine. Others have imitated, but no other power log saw has this improvement just like the Ottawa. The Ottawa Log Saw sells for less money than any power saw of anything like its size.

Strictly a One Man Outfit
Patent Applied For

The Improved Model, 4-H. P. Ottawa Log Saw.

One man wheels this outfit from cut to cut and log to log like a barrow. Separate attachments cut down trees and cut up branches. Extra power lets the engine do heavy work of all kinds. Owners of the Ottawa Log Saw laugh at coal shortages and are making big money with ease, the machine doing the work. 35 to 50 cords cut any day, rainy or dry, by one man, are normal figures. And wood is approaching $20 a cord! The Ottawa is compact, simple and durable. It sells for cash or easy payments and is guaranteed. If you have wood to cut the Ottawa Log Saw will be the most satisfactory machine you've ever owned. We suggest that you write the Ottawa Mfg. Co., 2724 Wood St., Ottawa, Kas., for their complete new illustrated book and prices, sent free to all readers of this paper.

Remember This.

There are many stories told against Irishmen of ripe and full age, but not so many about them when they are young. Still, here is a proof that they are Irishmen even before they are breeched.

It was a classroom in a village school in Ireland and the teacher was giving a lesson on salt.

"Now," she said at the conclusion of her rather long and inclusive lecture, "I want some one to give me a good definition of salt."

"Shure, teacher," said Micky, a bright, blue-eyed youngster, "It's the stuff which makes potatoes taste nasty when you boil them and don't don't put any in."

There could be no better testimony of the value of this remedy for these troubles than the fact that its use for the last fifty-four years has extended into many thousands of households all over the civilized world and no indication of any failure has been obtained in all that time where medicine could effect relief. Famous Fish Family.

Pickerel is diminutive for pike, and is applied to the smaller species of the pike family and to the young of the larger species. It is most often applied to the banded pickerel, which seldom exceed 12 inches in length. The muskellunge is a very large species of pike, sometimes attaining a length of eight feet. It is found in northen fresh waters of North America, and is a famous game fish.

New Definition.

It was at the end of Elizabeth Ann's first month at school. She had come proudly home with her perfect attendance card and with the information that there had been five absent-minded children this month. On being asked what she meant she replied: "Why, that five children forgot to come to school."

Many forms of Rheumatism are caused by a tiny disease germ in the blood, and in such cases the only logical treatment is to search out and remove these germs from the blood.

PLOT CHARGED TO SINN FEINERS

British Declare Documents Seized in Irish Raids Indicate Conspiracy

MURDERS CONDEMNED

Sporadic Outbreaks Throughout England and Ireland Mark Further Activities of Irish Radicals in Freedom Fight.

London.—Half a dozen men who were preparing to set fire to a large lumber yard in the district of Finsbury, an important section of the city of London, less than a mile north of London bridge, were surprised by a policeman. This attempt was almost coincident with the breaking out of incendiary fires in Liverpool.

The policeman challenged a loiterer, who immediately attacked the officer and shouted for help. Five men, with revolvers answered his call, emerging from behind some empty wagons and rushing the policeman, who was compelled to liberate the man he had seen. All the men escaped. Searching behind the wagons, the policeman found that cotton waste soaked with gasoline had been pushed through a gateway of a lumber yard, and he also discovered two revolvers and 100 cartridges. One of the supposed incendiaries was later arrested.

The capture during raids in Ireland of Sinn Fein documents alleged to give details of a conspiracy for damaging government buildings in England was said in police circles to be the cause of the erection of the formidable barricades which have been put at the entrances of Downing street and King Charles street.

American "gunmen" are said to have made their appearance in Londonderry, Ireland. The presence of these mercenaries in Dublin and other Irish cities has previously been reported. The military authorities of Londonderry are taking all precautions in the event of attempted assassinations.

Dublin.—A party of the military was ambushed three miles from Fermoy last week and two soldiers were killed and three wounded.

The Drapery stores on St. Patrick's street, Cork, were burned following bomb explosions. The damage is estimated at 50,000 pounds.

Reports allege "black and tans" prevented the fire fighters operations and ordered all the volunteer helpers from the scene.

In Tipperary the Sinn Fein club rooms were burned.

LEGION WILL CUT RED TAPE

Practical Ultimatum Delivered to Non-functioning Bureaus.

Washington. — Representatives of the American Legion have informed officials of the war risk insurance bureau, the federal board for vocational education, and the United States public health service that the Legion proposes to urge measures designed to cut red tape in the bureaus and "to compel the government to function" in its dealings with discharged and disabled service men.

The Legion representatives who met here with the heads of the three bureaus to discuss a plan to combine the work of the [illegible] made the position of the Legion clear declaring that it proposed to press for legislation consolidating functions of the three government agencies and doing away with "long winded talk about co-operation and co-ordination." John Sherburne of Boston, a member of the Legion committee, admonished the government conferees that if the proposed consolidation destroyed their present organizations, "it would simply have to go ahead and destroy."

RUNNERS MAKE LAST TRIP

Cleverest Swindle in Crime Annals Is Perpetrated in Big Deal.

Estevan, Sask.—American whisky runners made their final trips to the Canadian border and towns on this side of the line during the past week and carried back approximately 1,000 cases of whisky having a wholesale value of $50,000 in Canada and a retail value of nearly $200,000 in the United States, which they secured gratis by carrying out one of the cleverest swindles ever executed in this section.

Worthless cashier checks made payable to fictitious names and drawn on banks in and over South Dakota and at Dunseith, N. D., which existed only in the imagination of the whisky runners, were given by the Americans in payment for their cargoes. To safeguard themselves against criminal prosecutions the runners tricked Canadian wholesalers to deliver a part of the whisky across the Canadian line in North Dakota and thereby violate the dry laws of the United States.

New Federal Securities Out

Washington.—Two new treasury savings securities, a $1 treasury savings stamp and a $25 treasury savings certificate, will be issued during the coming year, Secretary Houston announces. They will complete the line of government savings securities, and place operations on a peace time basis. The $1 savings stamp will be non-interest bearing and will carry the portrait of Alexander Hamilton, first secretary of the treasury. The $25 certificate will be similar to the $100 and $1,000 certificates.

WHEAT HOLDING IS NOT ILLEGAL

Federal Law Against Trusts Does Not Apply to Agricultural Bodies.

DO NOT SEEK EVIDENCE

Special Assistant Nebeker in Trust Prosecutions Declares Department of Justice Has No Quarrel With Farmers Union.

Washington.—Because farmers' co-operative organizations are exempt from application of anti-trust laws, the department of justice has given no consideration to the campaign for the withholding of crops from the markets until prices advance, it was said by Frank K. Nebeker, special assistant to the attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions.

Mr. Nebeker's explanation of the department's attitude followed the recent statement of Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' union, that he understood that federal agents were attempting to obtain evidence for prosecutions in Kansas, Iowa and other middle western states.

May Seek Fair Profit.

The Clayton anti-trust act, Mr. Nebeker said, expressly provides that agricultural organizations, not having capital stock or conducted for profit, cannot be construed as conspiracies in restraint of trade. Withholding of crops from markets for personal profit, Mr. Nebeker asserted, probably would not be held as organization profits.

Mr. Nebeker also explained that the limitations on the appropriation act for the enforcement of the anti-trust law would seem to preclude action against the farmers, inasmuch as the act specifies that no part of the appropriation shall be expended for the prosecution of farmers who co-operate to obtain a fair and reasonable price for their products.

Unfair Price Not Legal.

The construction as to what is a fair price for the various farm products, Mr. Nebeker declared, would, however, probably govern in any specific case that might arise, as it would seem that since the present law forbids prosecution where the effort is to obtain a fair price, conversely attempts to obtain unfair and unreasonable prices would be contrary to the law.

ENGLAND IS INVADED

Sinn Feiners Carry Counter Reprisals Into Mother Country and Terror Spreads Rapidly.

London.—The firing of eighteen warehouses and vast tracts of timber, causing enormous destruction, means that Sinn Fein has opened its campaign of counter-reprisals in England.

Despite statements of Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, in the house of commons, that plots of outrages had been discovered in Lancashire, the public was thrilled with surprise when the newspapers announced that wholesale incendiarism had begun. The news was spread under streamer heads reading: "Sinn Fein Opens War in England."

A fierce red glow hung all night long over the north and south ends of Liverpool and the suburbs of Bootle, as fire fighters from city and neighboring towns battled desperately with a chain of conflagrations. The firebugs worked with thoroughness. With special apparatus they cut or burned out locks and bolts of the warehouses and then having made an entry, poured gasoline on the vast stocks and applied a torch.

PROBING THE DENVER RIOTS

Church Body Investigates Shootings Occurring Last August.

Denver, Colo.—Men brought to Denver to break the strike of Denver tramway employes last August were supplied with rifles and ammunition which were the property of the state of Colorado, according to a report prepared by investigators for the commission on the church and social service of the Federated Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the department of social action of the National Catholic Welfare council and a Denver church commission.

The most serious rioting of the strike occurred on the night of August 6 at the east division car barns where strike breakers were quartered. A crowd gathered outside.

"As in all other instances where shooting occurred the tramway officials' company bulletin charges shots were fired first from the crowd. We are convinced that this did not occur," the report says.

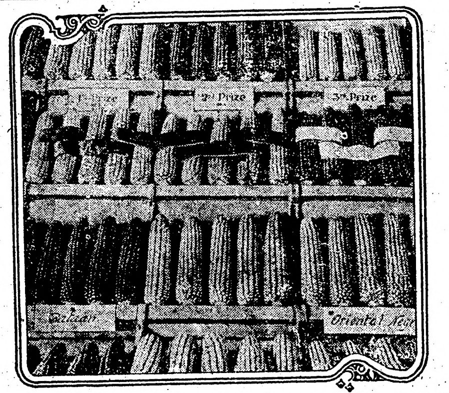
How Would You Like to Harvest Two Crops of Corn a Year as They Do in the Philippines?

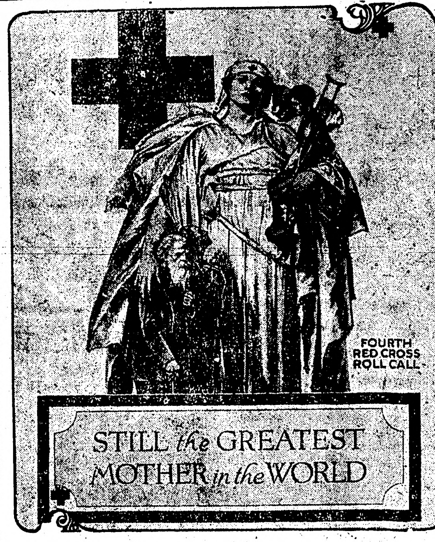


No, reader, this corn was not grown by one of our local farmers! It wasn't grown in the United States, even. It was grown in the faroff Philippine Islands by Filipino schoolboys. Two fine crops of corn a year are produced in the Islands.

The Philippines are doing some wonderful things in the agricultural line. The Philippine government has fine agricultural schools throughout the islands, and the Philippine legislature, composed entirely of Filipinos, is each year making larger and larger appropriations for this important work.

The staple food of the islands is rice, but corn is coming right along in popular favor. Its use was given great impetus in the last year because of a rice shortage. Other important Philippine crops are hemp, sugar cane, cocoanuts, coffee, tapioca and pineapples. Lumber is also an important industry.

There are hundreds of thousands of acres of land lying idle in the Philippines, which have a greater area of fertile land than Japan—this in spite of the fact that the population of the Philippines is 11,000,000 while that of Japan is around 55,000,000. There is every reason to believe that some day the Philippines will have a population as large as that of Japan today. The Filipinos are the only Christian people in the orient, and their young men are working night and day to prepare themselves for the responsibility of citizenship in the Philippine Republic, which they believe to be near at hand.



FOURTH RED CROSS ROLL CALL
STILL the GREATEST MOTHER in the WORLD

The "Greatest Mother" concept which was visualized in the famous art poster used by the American Red Cross in its second war fund campaign has had its symbolism adapted to the Red Cross works of the post-war era and will illuminate the main poster to be used in the Fourth Roll Call November 11-25. This adaptation will bear the title "Still the Greatest Mother in the World." Everyone is familiar with the original "The Greatest Mother in the World," the effectiveness of which has been shown in part by the fact that it has furnished a synonym for Red Cross that has come to almost a household term. More than any other symbol, except the red cross itself, the public has made it the trademark of the American Red Cross.

Bold Bank Robbery

Gatzke Bank Robbed

Last Friday afternoon a little after three o'clock the Farmers' State Bank of Gatzke was robbed by two men of about $800.00 in cash. The two men entered the bank with drawn revolvers while the third one was on the lookout in their auto. They cut the telephone wire but that was soon repaired and a pretty good description of the men and their auto, was sent to all the near by villages and banks.

They were first heard of at Marsh Grove where they stopped at the store at about 7 o'clock after gasoline. They had a flat tire but seemed to be in too big a hurry to fix it and were apparently headed for Canada, via the Jefferson Highway.

The next report came that they had been shot at near Donaldson and had returned the fire.

Retraction

On the 6th day of January, 1919, Christ Norbeck assisted me in hauling a load of flax to Holt, Minnesota, and whereas I was of the opinion that I was not given full credit for all flax delivered to the elevator, I made the statement to various parties that, "Christ Norbeck stole some of my flax."

I have fully investigated the matter and find that I was entirely wrong in making this statement, and in order to set Mr. Norbeck right before the public, I hereby make a public retraction, fully realizing that said statements were untrue. I regret very much that this should have happened

HIGH TARIFF IS G.O.P. PROPOSAL

President-Elect Harding and Congress Leaders Now Conferring on Matter.

CABINET IS DISCUSSED

Some Change in Pre-War Tariffs Necessitated by Different Status in Which United States Now Finds Itself.

Washington.—In the discussions that will shortly begin at Marion, O., between Senator Harding and the leaders of political thought summoned there to take council with the president-elect on the domestic and foreign policies facing the next national administration, the tariff of course, will be very much to the front.

On this subject the majority of the Republican leaders take the old-fashioned party view. They want a high tariff, and they want it very high and very quick and there is even talk of an embargo on some farm products like wheat and wool.

High Tariff Favored.

There can be no question that opinion among the Republican leaders is in favor of high tariff. But there is a smaller number of Republican leaders—and they are the more studious ones—who believe that the results of the war have put the United States into a different relation to the world. They question whether a tariff policy which was adapted to conditions preceding 1914 is possible or desirable now.

The old-fashioned protectionists are unwilling to even inquire whether anything has happened to affect American tariff policies since 1914. The more thoughtful leaders say it must be conceded that something has happened and that a good deal of study of just what has happened and its more intricate bearings on our economic life is necessary before an intelligent tariff policy can be laid down for the future.

The fact that the United States has become an exporter of goods to an enormously greater degree than before and has become an exporter of money where before it was wholly an importer of money must necessarily suggest some change from pre-war conditions as to what is now desirable in the field of tariffs.

No one knows whether Senator Harding is going to ask his callers for advice about his cabinet appointments.

If he had been through the experience that almost any newspaperman has had during the past few weeks he would probably avoid advice and make his appointments out of his own head. In the discussions that have taken place privately and publicly, a good many prejudices have arisen, a good many commitments have been made, a good deal of partisanship has been created for some men and a good deal of opposition to others.

There will be those who will tell him that Senator Root is the only man for secretary of state, and others who will tell him that Senator Root would be the greatest of all possible mistakes, there will be those who will tell him that Senator Root is the best equipped man in America for foreign affairs, and others who will tell him that if he takes Senator Root in the cabinet the secretary of state will outshine the president, much as James G. Blaine overshadowed President Harrison.

WAR BODY MAY BE RESTORED

Remedial Legislation for Farmers Will Be Pushed in Congress.

Washington.—First steps toward remedial legislation for farmers at this session of congress will take the form of a concurrent resolution directing a restoration of the War Finance corporation. This has been made clear in statements by Senators Harrison, Mississippi, and Heflin, Alabama, and Representative Byrnes, South Carolina.

The necessity of action by the president would be avoided, it was contended, by making the resolution concurrent in form and it would become effective on adoption.

"We intend during the first week of this session of congress," Senator Harrison said, "to adopt a resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to revive the War Finance corporation so that our agricultural products may be marketable."

"The south and west have votes enough in the house and senate to pass such a measure next week," said Senator Heflin. "The conference of the southern senators, and the joint meeting of the house and senate committees of agriculture which brought together representatives and senators from the south and west, in my judgment, will result in speedy action by congress in granting the necessary relief."

Lehigh Valley Loses Suit.

Washington—The government won its anti-trust suit against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company and affiliated corporations. The Supreme court in a decision read by Associate Justice Clarke, sustained charges of monopoly and violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. Redistribution of the stock of the company was ordered by the court upon the government's contention that common stock ownership officers and directors constituted restraint of trade prohibited by the Sherman

SENATOR HAD DONE MUCH

Surely Any Fair-Minded Man Would Admit He Had Been Reasonably Busy in Good Work.

Mayor Lunn of Schenectady said at a luncheon:

"The machine candidate, the machine politician—why do we always support him?

"A machine candidate got elected to the senate. Six months went by. Then John Citizen met one morning the boss who had put the machine candidate in.

"'Senator Swank,' sneered John Citizen, 'promised us great things if we'd elect him, but what's he done? I ask you—what's he done?'

"'What's he done?' yelled the boss. 'Why, he's got himself made special counsel for the railroad trust, the light trust and the food trust, he's bought himself a town house and a country seat, and he's started in collecting old masters. That's what he's done, darn it—and all in six months, too.'"

First Oil Refinery.

France is engaged in developing her oil industry, which has long been neglected. It is said that the very first efforts to refine petroleum were made at Pechelbronn. These commenced four centuries ago. To a great extent they were failures, but it is positively stated that for 180 years a refinery has been in operation at that place.

WANTED ONLY MINOR CHANGE

Youth Had No Desire to Interfere With the Existing Chronological System, Only—

Ten p. m. There was a lot to do at the office, and, despite the lateness of the hour, the staff still at work.

The head of the firm looked sternly at the young man over his gold-rimmed glasses. Then:

"So you've a complaint to make, have you?" he asked fiercely.

"Not exactly a complaint, sir," said the other, "but there's just one little matter about which I should like to speak to you."

"I gave you more money the other day," growled the chief. "What's it you want this time? Shorter hours—eh?"

"Oh, no—no sir! I do not feel it incumbent on me, I assure you, in any way to tamper with our present quite excellent chronological system. For my part, I am perfectly content that the hours should retain their present length. All I wish is—er—fewer of them as applied to my daily period of work."—Houston Post.

'PEACEFUL SAM' TURNS BERSERK

Mild-Mannered Chicago Tailor Has Interesting Encounter With Hold-Up Man

IS TAPPED ON HEAD

Then, O Boy! Just Drop Below and Read of the Divers and Sundry Things This Caveman Did to Those Burglars.

Chicago.—For so many years that loop folk have come to regard him as an immutable institution, Samuel Goodman has been plying his needle and pushing his tailor's goose in the little shop at 5 East Congress street.

Gazing at the humped figure, squatting crosslegged on the old, worm-eaten workbench—sewing new affinities for widowed button holes, snipping a frayed cuff, rehabilitating a shiny elbow—the compassionate philosopher would have seen a symbol of the crushing pace of modern civilization. And would have observed that Mr. Goodman was far—very far—removed from our jungle forebears of prehistoric times.

Two Husky Callers.

"Peaceful Sam," as his customers call him with patronizing geniality, received two callers one night—husky young men, who leered as they closed the front door and asked:

"Well, what have you got?"

Mr. Goodman uncrossed his legs, climbed down from the work bench, smiled apologetically, bowed, and, raising his arms to a level with his breast, palms up, thumbs horizontal, shrugged his shoulders and said:

"Ah, my friends, I have some fine woolens in the window. I will make you a suit with two pairs of pants for $35."

"Don't kid us, old top," said one of the visitors. "We want your jack. Put 'em up," and he prodded Mr. Goodman with a revolver.

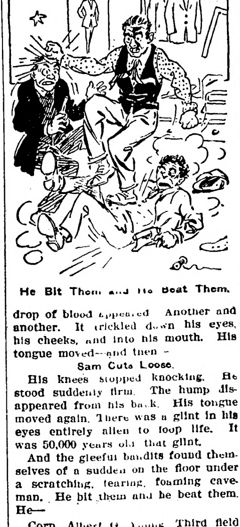
"Don't shoot, my friends. I will give you everything."

The visitors laughed. It was a good joke, so good that the one with the gun deftly turned it about in his hand and rapped Mr. Goodman jovially on the head. The old man staggered. A drop of blood appeared. Another and another. It trickled down his eyes, his cheeks, and into his mouth. His tongue moved—and then—



He Bit Them and He Beat Them.

Sam Cuts Loose.

His knees stopped knocking. He stood suddenly firm. The hump disappeared from his back. His tongue moved again. There was a glint in his eyes entirely alien to loop life. It was 50,000 years old that glint.

And the gleeful bandits found themselves of a sudden on the floor under a scratching, tearing, foaming caveman. He bit them and he beat them. He—

Corp. Albert G. Young, Third field artillery, Camp Grant, was attracted by a tapping on the window at 5 East Congress street. A little old man with a blood-stained face beckoned to him. Mr. Young entered to find two men lying on the floor.

"Will you call the police, please, sir?" said Sam. "I got to finish this vest, and it's late."

And when the Harrison street patrol arrived, "Peaceful Sam," plying his needle and pushing his goose, smiled apologetically. The two battered captives gave their names as Jack Shaw and Claude Udvin.

KISSES PART OF THEIR LOOT

Chicago Holdup Men Take Money, Overcoat and Watch as Well

Chicago—Kisses have been stolen before now, but never in the recorded history of Chicago's criminal operations have they been listed as part of the loot in a holdup until recently.

Three men stopped James Skerrett, resident of the Hyde Park Y. M. C. A., and Miss Edna Robinson. They took Skerrett's watch, overcoat and $20 and from the girl several kisses and $12.

HEARTS OF GOLD

By Otillia Frances Pfeiffer

(©, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

THERE had come a great change over Judson Marsh during the brief space of a year and Cedar Grove marvelled. Marsh had usually made the holidays a wild, riotous occasion of revelry, such as "shooting up the town," distributing time and money squanderingly in games of chance, indulging in a fist fight daily, generally maintaining a terrorizing influence. Always had he disdained the gentle cheer of Christmas and the good pledges of New Year's, but this especial Yuletide period he had remained quietly on his ranch, had donated freely to charity and only his eagle eye had flashed and his lips became stern and firm as some derisive pal of the past sneeringly intimated that he had reformed and had taken "the goody, goody pledge!"

No one could trace the cause of the remarkable alteration in manner and deed except Marsh himself and he was a close mouthed man. Perhaps Gladys Revere suspected, but if so she said nothing. She had come to the crude, wild settlement to teach school.

The Marsh ranch was ten miles from the settlement and there was no school in its immediate vicinity. Its owner was a young man not over twenty-five years of age, but he maintained quite an establishment. His widowed sister had lived with him until she died, leaving a shy, puny little girl, Madeline, who was idolized by Marsh.

"I have come to see you about my little niece, Miss Revere," spoke Marsh, and his face and manner did not belie what she had heard of his being a well educated member of a prominent Eastern family. "She is lonesome where we live; never has any young companions. I have heard of your kindly care for these little ones. Won't you find her a good boarding place in the town and sort of look after her?"

"She shall be as an own sister," replied Miss Revere spontaneously, taking the shy, reticent child in a tender embrace, and the result was that little Madeline became an occupant of the home where Miss Revere boarded.

Once a week Judson Marsh called to pass half an hour with Madeline. Upon each succeeding visit it pleased him to note the change for the better in the child. Her devotion to her teacher was something pathetic. This was the period when Judson Marsh changed his course of life. A time too when the merest passing word with Miss Revere seemed to cause him to lift his head higher, and the influence of a worthy resolve was noticeable in his bronzed, impressive face.

It was about a month before Christmas when the settlement was visited by Marsh on horseback. There was something about him that reminded of his old time briskness and forcible, imperative ways. In turn he visited twenty of the leading men and presented to each his proposition. Time was when anything Marsh suggested was carried out from motives of policy. In the present instance he found willing auditors, interested and sympathetic.

"It's about a Christmas present for Miss Revere," said Marsh. "I understand she is a proficient musician, and there isn't a piano in the place. She has been royally good to all of our children, little Madeline among them. I'll head the subscription list."

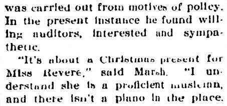
"Oh, I'll go to the city and attend to that. You can trust me, boys," answered Marsh readily. "I was something of a player myself years ago. Now then, this is to be a secret until Christmas."

That was agreed upon. Also it was arranged so that on Christmas Eve the scholars gave a concert in honor of their devoted teacher. The piano had been smuggled into the home at dusk while she was at the schoolhouse.

She came home alone as it was planned that she should. She noticed a light in the house as she neared it. As she fitted the key to the door a stream of pretty music met her ear. The next moment she stood at the parlor threshold.



There at the piano sat Judson Marsh. He was softly playing "Love's Old Sweet Song." Gladys noted a wreath on the piano holding a card board disc reading:

"Merry Christmas. A token of love from the people of Cedar Grove."

"Oh! it is impossible—" began Gladys, and broke down from emotion. And then as the hand of Judson Marsh gently clasped her own, with downcast eyes and happy, happy heart she listened to his fervent avowal of the love that had made him a better man.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME

Disease Prevention

Through its Health Service the American Red Cross has begun a nation-wide concentrated effort in co-operation with established organizations to reduce greatly the amount of preventable disease and physical defects found among the country's 100,000,000 population. Education is its most powerful tool. Special attention is devoted to children, and this picture shows a typical Red Cross welfare clinic where little ones are treated and mothers instructed in the proper care of them.

Here's indisputable evidence that the Filipino people have been Americanized! The great American game of baseball is the rage in the islands. This photograph shows a parade which preceded one of the big games in Manila. Baseball is played from one end of the archipelago to the other, and, as in other branches of athletic sports, some classy players have been developed.

Lengthen the Life of Your Machinery

It has been proven that 75 per cent of the depreciation of farm machinery is due to weather exposure—only 25 per cent is due to wear and tear.

This means that rust destroys your machinery three times faster than use.

You can't save your machines from wear, but you can save them from rust. Build a shed. Keep your machines in it when not in use.

A machine shed is very simple to build. It doesn't cost much—in fact, is cheaper than paying for new machinery or new parts. Build it now. We have the necessary cement, lumber, shingles, roofing, etc., and will be glad to help you with the plans. Let's talk it over. This puts you under no obligations.

Another line from Friend Sorter in which he says they are now in the land of roses and verdant hills. The scenery thru which they passed from Montana to Oregon is wonderful. The Portland harbor is full of steamships, big liners and battleships, most of the time and it was their privilege to visit the latter with its big guns and torpedoes.

How Airmen Use Oxygen.

When the airman ascends to heights greater than 20,000 feet, he is sure to use oxygen. He carries it in liquid form in a vacuum tank provided with a mechanism to control the evaporation.

The liquid may be electrically heated to accelerate evaporation; or a heated rod of copper or aluminum in the liquid may be used; or the liquid may be siphoned out into an evaporating chamber from which the gas is conducted through tubes to the airman's mouth. — Popular Science Monthly.

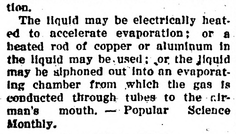
When Run-Down



FOND DU LAC, WIS.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a very good medicine. When I was a girl going to school I got all run-down and weak due to hard studying. I was coming into womanhood and this medicine built me up in fine shape in just a short space of time. I also took it about seven years ago during expectancy and it helped me wonderfully. I had practically no suffering and my baby was strong and healthy and has always been. The 'Prescription' has done wonders for me. I think it the only medicine for weak women."—MRS. SENATE REVIVES FINANCE BODY

Resolution Affords Relief for Agriculturists and Provides Liberal Credits.

YOUNG HAS MEASURE

Final Vote in Upper House Registers 47 to 16 in Favor of the Reestablishment of the War Finance Corporation.

Washington—The senate has passed the agriculture committee resolution directing revival of the war finance corporation as a measure of affording relief to farmers.

The second section of the resolution, which as introduced would have directed extension of liberal credits to farmers by the federal reserve system, was amended to make the desirability of such a course only an expression of opinion of the congress.

The amendment making the change in the section of the resolution relating to the federal reserve system was proposed by Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, and was accepted 47 to 16.

Another change made in the resolution broadened the duties of the finance corporation to include the financing of exportation of products other than those produced on the farm. Amendments to make the rate of discount on loans to farmers 5 per cent, and to make cotton factories paper eligible for discount were rejected. A substitute for the resolution presented by Senator Spencer, Republican of Missouri, met a similar fate.

Final action on the resolution was without a record vote. The measure now goes to the house where a number of similar farmer relief measures are pending.

The section of the resolution directing revival of the war finance corporation, as adopted, reads:

"The secretary of the treasury and members of the war finance corporation are hereby directed to revive the activities of the war finance corporation, and that said corporation be at once rehabilitated with the view of assisting in the financing of the exportation of agricultural and other products to foreign markets.

"It is the opinion of congress that the federal reserve board should take such action as may be necessary to permit member banks of the federal reserve system to grant liberal extensions of credit to the farmers upon the security of agricultural products now held by them, by permitting the rediscounting of such notes of extension at a fair and reasonable rate o interest."

The senate agricultural committee today continued its hearings with a view to framing other measures looking to the relief of the farmers from conditions resulting from falling prices

The house received an addition to its collection of relief measures in a bill offered by Representative Young, Republican of North Dakota, proposing an embargo on imports of grain and grain products, livestock and their products, for one year.

He also introduced a bill establishing a permanent schedule of import duties upon these items after one year embargo, as follows:

Wheat, 50 cents a bushel; rye, 30 cents; corn, 30 cents; barley, 30 cents; flax, 50 cents ad valorem, but not less than 50 cents per bushel; sheep, $2.50 per head; horses, $50 per head.

WAR TIME LAWS REPEALED

House Votes Unanimously Against Practically All War Measures.

Washington—Repeal of most of the wartime laws was voted today by the house which adopted the Volstead resolution for that purpose after two hours of debate.

The vote on adoption of the resolution was unanimous, 323 votes being recorded as favoring it, with none opposed. The house, before taking the final vote, accepted an amendment providing for inclusion of the Lever food control among the laws which the resolution would repeal.

MILITARY RULE IS PROPOSED

Military Commission Will Study the Danzig Problem.

Geneva—Military control of Danzig by Poland has been recommended to the council of the League of Nations in a report from the military commission. This recommendation, should it be adopted, would be in line with a request from the Polish government some time ago, it being alleged at that time military control of the port of Danzig was necessary to insure the transport of food, munitions and raw materials to Poland.

Holland and Slavs Disagree.

The Hague.—Diplomatic relations between Holland and Jugo-Slavia have been broken off, it is stated here.

Holland has recalled her minister from Belgrade and has dismissed the Serbian charge d'affaires at The Hague. The action was taken as the result of what the Dutch foreign office terms "a long series of insults to the Dutch government."

The beginning of the difficulty was the arrest in the early part of the war, without notification to Holland, of the Dutch consul at Belgrade

CANADA BIG WINNER

Captures Many Prizes at Leading American Fairs.

Remarkable Showing Made at International Live Stock Show at Chicago—Carried Off Sweepstakes for All Wheat.

Something that lends emphasis to, and affords definite proof of, the generosity of the soil and climate of western Canada, is shown by the numerous exhibits made by both the government and individual farmers and stock raisers of that country, at many of the leading state and county fairs in the United States this season. Particularly is this the case with regard to exhibits made at the International Live Stock Show recently held at Chicago.

First and foremost to the average farmer will appeal the fact that Canada carried off the sweepstakes for all wheat, and that out of a total of twenty-five prizes, Canada took twenty. In oats the Grand Championship was won by a farmer living in the Province of Alberta. Canada also was awarded the championship for Durum wheat, while for Flint Corn out of a total of ten prizes, Canada took first, second, third, sixth and seventh.

Not only in grains did Canada prove her right to rank as a first-class agricultural country, but she carried off many prizes for cattle, horses, sheep and hogs, a partial list of which follows:

Cattle, Canada was awarded the championship for Grade Shorthorns; also in the College Special class, Canada gained first, fourth and sixth prizes.

Horses, Grand Championship for Clydesdale stallion, also Grand Championship for American bred mare, as well as first for three-year-old Clydesdale stallion, first for one-year-old Clydesdale stallion, and second for the aged class.

In the Belgian class, Canada obtained first and reserve for Championship Belgians, as well as second for Aged stallion.

Sheep, Canada obtained Championship for block, male and female, in addition to first prize in all group prizes.

Hogs, in the Yorkshire class Canada was very prominent, taking the Championship for pen of Yorkshires, and championship for best single barrow, as well as over twenty first, second and third prizes in other classes of Yorkshires.

With regard to the live stock shown it must be borne in mind that these have not been fed on corn, on which the average western farmer places his reliance, but on the wonderful oats and barley grown in western Canada, supplemented by the native grasses, of which a most artistic display was made by our neighbors to the north.

Canada has conclusively proved that not only can she take prizes for the grain she raises, but can also take prizes with the animals to which these grains have been fed, and this in open competition with the world. —Advertisement.

ANSWERS CALL OF FRIEND

Deer's Remarkable Attachment to Man Who Had Cared for It in Its Helplessness.

A two-pronged buck deer answers the calls of Jerry Shine, employed by the municipal water district at Alpine dam, near San Raphael, Cal.

Long ago Shine one day came upon a dead doe in the trail of the forest, and standing beside the mother was a fawn. It was miles to Shine's cabin, but he carried the fawn home with him, fed it and gave it the name of Billy. After a time Shine left the district. He returned several days ago and asked his fellow workers the whereabouts of his deer. They laughed at him; the deer had gone back to nature, they said.

Shine mounted the parapet of the dam and called for Billy. The deer, now the proud possessor of two-pronged horns, bounded out of the forest. A photograph was taken of the man and the animal, as the latter rested his forefeet on the shoulder of Shine.

ALASKA APPEALS TO YOUTH

Newspaper in Great Northern Territory Promises Fortune to the Young and Adventurous.

The sage advice of Greeley was never more applicable than it is today in Alaska, observes the Alaska Capital. What the country needs is the optimism of youth, coupled with an adherence to the advice of Doctor Kilgor of Trinity college, North Carolina, when he said: "Young men, the sages will tell you to be prudent; prudence belongs to the daring of youth—the spirit of adventure that will develop individuality."

Reduce this philosophy to Alaskan terms, and we find that the territory just now needs youth to finish the structure upon the foundation laid by those wonderful pioneers whom we reverence and admire. The raw materials are here, materially and ethically all that is needed is for the next generation succeeding the pioneers to step into the trails blazed for them and finish the job.

"There!" said the old lady. "That's the very first time that man has hit the net with the ball, and he has had hundreds of tries!"

A CHRISTMAS HAVEN

By T. B. Alderson

(©, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

AN OLD man sat dreamily gazing into the fireplace of a richly furnished room. It was Christmas eve and Marvin Hughes was looking back over the years of his life and was grave and saddened as he realized that he had neither chick nor child of his own, as the echo of music and the voices of rollicking children in the apartment overhead were borne to his ears.

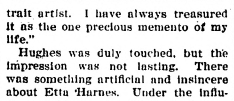
The recognition of the fact that he was getting old, that he was missing something in life that might make him better and happier, appealed to him powerfully this Christmas eve. He had mechanically distributed the usual Christmas largesse at the office. Homeward bound he had neglected no appeal from the street mendicant. This was not soul-satisfying, however. It had dawned upon him that he had brought his isolation upon himself; that there were at least two persons in the great city who were of kith and kin and he set to summing up the duty he owed them.

"I have been no closer to them than if I were an utter stranger," he soliloquized. "It is my fault, I suppose, for I have encouraged neither; for years I have simply sent them the usual holiday check. When I am through with what I have it must go to others. Which of the two deserves recognition—Etta Harnes or Alberta Norris?

The first named was a widow and second cousin. Hughes had supplied the capital to start her in a boarding house at her urgent request and she had managed to make a living out of it. For a time he called and she had put herself out to make upon him an impression of admiration of his successful business record, of gratitude for his financial co-operation, of her love and devotion for him, the last near relative she had in the world.

Then, too, she had appealed to him in a strong way. Once she had taken him to a draperied niche off the sitting room, and had showed him a life-sized oil painting of his dead mother.

"She was like a sister to me," said Mrs. Harnes pathetically, "and you know brother Willis was quite a portrait artist. I have always treasured it as the one precious memento of my life."



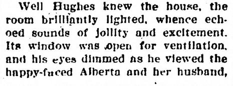
Hughes was duly touched, but the impression was not lasting. There was something artificial and insincere about Etta Harnes. Under the influence of his present emotions, however, his softened spirit, longed for loyal companionship.

"I'll do it!" spoke Hughes. "I shall call upon Mrs. Harnes and Alberta. One or the other I will endow with fortune and I hope to trace out some real affection for me; a genuine gladness to welcome me as a member of their household during my remaining few years."

An hour later he entered the home of Mrs. Harnes. He was told that she was out on an errand and was shown into a sitting room. Involuntarily memory directed him to the niche where he had viewed his mother's portrait. It was not in place. Then as he glanced into the room beyond Harnes saw it lying across two chairs, used as an ironing board. The shock drove him to his feet. He had fathomed the insincerity of this unworthy relative. He was half-minded to return home. A memory of the last time he had seen Alberta, her husband and children, however, influenced him to follow out his prescribed plan.

They had always lived humbly, but respectably. From the day that Alden Norris had married Alberta he had but one thought in his mind—her comfort and contentment and that of the little ones who came to them as the years passed on.

Well Hughes knew the house, the room brilliantly lighted, whence echoed sounds of jollity and excitement. Its window was open for ventilation, and his eyes dimmed as he viewed the happy-faced Alberta and her husband, the two little girls, and a baby crawling about, cooing with animation.



"Keep Marvin away from the candles, Alden," he heard Alberta speak, and his heart thrilled This last child then was his namesake!

He came into the house to receive the usual earnest welcome always bestowed upon him. "Alberta," he said, "I am lonely and unhappy. I have resolved to seek some congenial haven where love and sympathy will bring me peace and contentment. Is it here?"

With open arms she greeted him, and amid Christmas cheer and the loving tenderness of true, honest souls, that Christmas eve Marvin Hughes was awarded the longing desire of his heart is as profitable as grain growing. Successes as wonderful as those from growing wheat, oats, barley, and flax have been made in raising Horses, Cattle, Sheep and Hogs. Bright, sunny climate, nutritious grasses, good water, enormous fodder crops—these spell success to the farmer and stock raiser. And remember, you can buy on easy terms

Stock Raising in WESTERN CANADA

Farm Land at $15 to $30 An Acre

—land equal to that which through many years has yielded from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre—grazing land convenient to good grain farms at proportionately low prices. These lands have every rural convenience; good schools, churches, roads, telephones, etc., close to live towns and good markets.

If you want to get back to the farm, or to farm on a larger scale than is possible under your present conditions, investigate what Western Canada has to offer you.

BALL PLAYED BY PRISONERS

Eastern Penitentiaries Have Teams That Put Up Good Exhibitions of the National Game.

Many prisons and penitentiaries have baseball teams composed of inmates, and the national sport has done much to revive the health and spirits of prisoners. These baseball teams are uniformed and play a regular schedule of games, but of necessity these games are always played on the prison home grounds.

One of the best known prison teams is that of Sing Sing. It is known as the Mutual Welfare league team, and last season it won more than 95 per cent of games played with visiting nines. The prison baseball field has a splendidly graded surface, and there are bleachers for spectators. The team plays, Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Visiting teams come from New Jersey and Connecticut. The prison team has won from some of the best semi-professional nines in these states. The Eastern penitentiary in Philadelphia has long maintained a baseball team, and has developed many good players.

HAD ANOTHER SHOCK COMING

Modern Young Woman Able to Promise Auntie a Further Surprise for the Coming Evening.

"Young girls nowadays," said Miss Mary G. Kilbreth, the well-known anti-suffragette, "are flippant and totally indifferent to the opinions of their elders. Woman suffrage is to blame.

"On a bathing beach last summer a beautiful young girl appeared in a bathing suit that was extremely daring.

"'Sylvia,' said the aunt, 'I consider that costume absolutely shocking.'

"'Oh, you do, do you?' the girl replied indifferently. 'Well, wait till you see me in my new evening gown.'"

Tommy—Out of a job?

Jimmy—Yes. The boss said he was losin' money on the things I was making.

Tommy—Wasn't there anything else you could do around the place?

Jimmy—I think not. Anyhow, he said, I didn't seem to be able to do anything else.

Tommy—And what was you makin'?

Jimmy—Mistakes.

"There's a Reason"

About Overdrafts---

Overdrafts are not good for you nor for the bank. There are plenty of reasons why you should'nt overdraw your account.

You have no right to do business that way. It hurts your credit with the banker. An overdraft is in fact a forced loan without security. Your overdraft may sometimes be honored but it gets you in bad all over. Our bank tries to be accomodating but we do not desire overdrafts--unsecured loans that ruin your credit, injure our own standing and endanger the interests of our depositors. Don't overdraw.

Holt Wins Game

Big Basket Ball Victory

The Woodman hall was crowded Tuesday night to witness the basket ball game between the Middle River and Holt teams.

The Holt team seemed to be on the job from the commencement of the game, at any rate the ball didn't seem to have much trouble about falling into their basket, but their opponents rarely had a chance to make a basket.

At times the game was hard fought, but was a little too much one sided to arouse much anxiety on the part of Holt as to the outcome, which was 43 to 2.

The State Farm Bureau is not a commercial organization, but a Federation of the County Farm Bureaus, and its work is to investigate, guide and assist the County Bureaus by giving the farmers through their County Bureaus direct representation to all State and National activities. It will be the aim of the Federation to conduct all its business with the doors open to the public. They do not try to create legislation benefical to agriculture, that would be detrimental to the rest of humanity.

The two Gatzke bank robbers plead guilty in district court and received life sentences. The bank was robbed Friday afternoon and they were captured about midnight near Hallock by the Kittson county Sheriff and turned over to Sheriff Hanson and soon landed in the jail at Warren. A week later a special grand jury indicted them. Saturday they were in court and on Sunday started for Stillwater. In less than ten days they commenced paying the penalty of their crime. If justice was always as swift there would be fewer criminals.

FORDNEY BILL ON HARD ROAD

SENATE TAKES TIME

Minority Report in House Shows That All Is Not Clear Sailing for Measure Designed to Relieve Rural Credit Situation.

Washington.—Presentation of the Fordney emergency tariff bill in the house and decision of its supporters to call it up for consideration again this week was followed by expressions of open antagonism in the house and senate. The opposition, hitherto only slightly manifest was intensified by the filing of minority views by Representative Rainey, Democrat, of Illinois, denouncing the measure and by decision of the senate Democratic steering committee to resist hasty enactment.

The report declared remedial legislation was urgently necessary to correct a situation described as rapidly becoming worse and likely to bring ruin to the agricultural industry.

Legislation Necessary.

The filing of the committee's report disclosed that the measure had been made applicable for a period of ten months from passage instead of one year as previously fixed. Chairman Fordney submitted with the report estimates of the treasury department showing that on the basis of available import figures, approximately $130,000,000 in revenue would be derived from the duties to be imposed under the measure.

Commodities enumerated in the bill now produce less than $5,000,000 annually.

As finally approved and reported to the house, the bill carries import duties on commodities which together with the rate agreed to in committee and the estimated revenue to come therefrom, follow:

Wheat, 30 cents bu., $2,109,520; wheat flour, 20 per cent, $657,900; corn, 15 cents bu., $137,625; beans, 2c pound, $3,091,760; peanuts, unshelled, 3c per pound, $642,540; peanuts, shelled, 3c per pound, $4,405,410; potatoes, 25c bushel, $1,560,000; onions, 40c bushel, $787,040; rice, cleaned, 2c per pound, $2,900,660; rice, uncleaned, 1-14c pound, $235,550; flour meal and broken rice, ½c pound, $5,037; rice, unhulled, ¾c pound, $70,672; lemons, 1¼c pound, $881,250; oils, peanuts, 26c gallon, $4,333,420; oils, cottonseed, 20c gallon, $2,479,400; oils, soya bean, 20c gallon, $3,837,000; cattle, 30 per cent, $5,851,500; sheep, $2.00 a head, $102,484; lambs, $1 a head (no estimate); mutton and lamb, 2½c a pound, $1,656,792; wool, unwashed, 15c pound, $9,900,000; wool, washed, 30c pound, $28,500,000; wool, manufactured, 45c pound, $11,250,00; wool, scoured, 45c pound, $45,000,000.

FORMULATE MARKET PLAN

Nine Grain Handling Centers Named by Agricultural Conference.

St. Louis.—Preliminary arrangements for launching a national system of co-operative markets and financial institutions designed to rehabilitate the farming industry in this country, were completed here at the concluding session of the agricultural conference inaugurated by the national board of farm organizations.

The conference endorsed a plan to establish nine grain handling centers and will seek the united support of all farmers co-operative grain marketing organizations in carrying out the project, which is designed to eliminate the middleman and speculator.

These terminals are to be located in Kansas City, Chicago, Omaha, Sioux City, Oklahoma City, Minneapolis, Seattle, Buffalo and St. Louis.

WAR MEASURE TO PRESIDENT

Congress Passes Resolution on War Finance Board, May Be Vetoed.

Washington.—Legislative enactment of the resolution, directing revival of the war finance corporation as a measure for relief for farmers against falling prices was completed when the senate, without a record vote, concurred in house amendments eliminating the section suggesting that the federal reserve board extend liberal credits to farmers.

The resolution now goes to the president. Senators and representatives were divided in their opinion as to a possible veto. Some believe the president still would veto, while others were inclined to the belief that with the elimination of advice to the federal reserve board, approval would be given.

Picked on Wrong Woman

Chicago.—Out of thousands of shoppers who thronged State street in the heart of the loop, Stanley Zepecki, a purse snatcher, chose Mrs. W. A. Middleton, aged 50, as a victim. Zepecki did not know that Mrs. Middleton is a teacher of physical culture. After demonstrating a few jiu-jitsu tricks on the man and taking her purse away from him, Mrs. Middleton surrendered the astonished pickpocket to the police. The judge completed the record with a fine of $100 and costs and six months in the house of correction.
